DECLARATION OF DAVID J. MOLTON
IN SUPPORT OF THE FOREIGN REPRESENTATIVES' OPPOSITION TO THE HSBC

DEFENDANTS' SUPPLEMENTAL MEMORANDUM OF LAW IN OPPOSITION TO PLAINTIFFS' MOTION FOR LEAVE TO AMEND AND IN SUPPORT OF DEFENDANTS' MOTION TO DISMISS AND IN FURTHER SUPPORT OF FOREIGN REPRESENTATIVES' MOTION FOR LEAVE TO AMEND COMPLAINTS

- I, David J. Molton, do hereby declare, under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States of America, that the following is true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief:
- 1. I am a member of the law firm of Brown Rudnick LLP, counsel for Kenneth Krys and Charlotte Caulfield, (together, the "Liquidators" or "Foreign Representatives"), in their capacities as the duly appointed Liquidators and Foreign Representatives of Fairfield Sentry Limited (In Liquidation), Fairfield Sigma Limited (In Liquidation), and Fairfield Lambda Limited (In Liquidation). I submit this Declaration in support of the Foreign Representatives' Opposition to the HSBC Defendants' Supplemental Memorandum of Law in Opposition to Plaintiffs' Leave to Amend and in Support of Defendants' Motion to Dismiss and in Further Support of the Foreign Representatives' Motion for Leave to Amend in the above-captioned action.
- 2. Additional information regarding the HSBC Knowledge Defendants' knowledge of the Madoff fraud has come to light in a recent proceeding before the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands, styled Primeo Fund (in Official Liquidation) v. Bank of Bermuda (Cayman) Ltd. & HSBC Securities Services (Luxembourg) SA (the "Primeo Case"). In the Primeo Case, the Liquidators of the Primeo Fund brought claims against HSBC Securities Services (Luxembourg) SA ("HSBC SSL"), one of the moving HSBC Defendants here, and Bank of Bermuda (Cayman) Limited n/k/a HSBC Bank Bermuda in connection with HSBC SSL's role as custodian of the Primeo Fund, a fund that invested all or substantially all of its assets in BLMIS. The Liquidators have recently obtained and provided the Liquidators' U.S. counsel, Brown Rudnick, with a transcript of evidentiary testimony from the Primeo Case given in November and December of

10-03635-jpm Doc 296 Filed 04/12/17 Entered 04/12/17 18:15:42 Main Document

2016. That testimony provides additional facts concerning the HSBC Knowledge Defendants' bad faith that were not previously available to the Liquidators.

3. Attached as Exhibit A are certain excerpts of the transcript of testimony provided in the Primeo Case.

4. Attached as Exhibit B is a true and correct copy of the revised proposed Third Amended Complaint in Fairfield Sentry Limited et al. v. HSBC Securities Services (Luxembourg)

SA, Adv. Pro. No. 10-3630 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y.), which contains certain additional factual allegations (in red-line) based on the testimony and evidence provided in the Primeo Case and recently obtained by the Liquidators.

5. Attached as Exhibit C is a true and correct copy of the revised proposed Third Amended Complaint in Fairfield Sentry Limited et al. v. HSBC Private Bank Suisse SA et al.,

Adv. Pro. No. 10-3633 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y.), which contains certain additional factual allegations

(in red-line) based on the testimony and evidence provided in the Primeo Case and recently obtained by the Liquidators.

6. Attached as Exhibit D is a true and correct copy of the revised proposed Third Amended Complaint in Fairfield Sentry Limited et al. v. Zurich Capital Markets Co. et al., Adv.

Pro. No. 10-3634 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y.), which contains certain additional factual allegations (in

|---|-----------|---|
| Tuesday, 8 November 2016 | 1 | MR SMITH: Exactly, that's the intention. So one's got |
| (10.00 am) | 2 | the key versions. For example, 1993 and 1996. There's |
| Housekeeping | 3 | then a change in 2001, and then of course one sees |
| MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: Morning. | 4 | the change when one gets to the Herald transfer. |
| MR SMITH: Good morning, my Lord. | 5 | In 2007 as well. But we will come to those. |
| yesterday. The first was your Lordship asked me who was | 7 | My Lord, I think that takes us to where we were at |
| responsible for preparing the semi-annual financial | 8 | 5 o'clock yesterday and I was showing your Lordship |
| statements and I said I thought we'd seen a document | 9 | a document at $\{N/606/2\}$, which is in tab 103 of the core |
| that said the responsibility for that rests with | 10 | bundle. |
| Bank of Bermuda. The document I had in mind is | 11 | This was an email of Mr Young of Bank of Bermuda to |
| $\{N/19/3\}$, which was the engagement letter between | 12 | Mr Fielding of 19 September and this followed the visit |
| Bank of Bermuda and Primeo, of 21 December 1993. This | 13 | Mr Fielding had made to BLMIS in July 2002. And |
| was the schedule to the engagement letter. | 14 | Mr Young is then writing to Mr Fielding saying: |
| What I had was the third bullet point down | 15 | "On the basis that you are responsible for GFS due |
| underneath the heading, "The services covered by the | 16 | diligence in relation to Madoff as Sub-Custodian for |
| above fees are". | 17 | assets, we would like to ask you if you could please |
| And then it's: | 18 | look into the following" |
| "The preparation of semi-annual and annual financial | 19 | Then he raises specifically the need for independent |
| statements including bookkeeping functions." | 20 | verification of asset segregation. He says: |
| So the responsibility for preparing those statements | 21 | "Would it be possible to get independent |
| was with Bank of Bermuda, and that's consistent with | 22 | verification that the assets of [the Fund] are |
| the duties imposed on them under | 23 | segregated from other assets held by Madoff? This could |
| the Administration Agreement to maintain the books and | 24 | come ideally come from the auditor or be |
| records. That was the first point. | 25 | independently requested on behalf of Bank of Bermuda. |
| Page 1 | | Page 3 |
| The second point of housekeeping is that we have | 1 | While we have the Dec 01 report from |
| prepared a hard copy bundle of the Offering Memoranda, | 2 | Friehling & Horowitz" |
| which it might be helpful to have. I've got a copy of | 3 | Which I think is the internal control report which |
| that which I can hand up to your Lordship. It's | 4 | we looked at yesterday, but it's not specific on this |
| bundle G. | 5 | point. And then he goes on to raise some points on |
| (Handed). | 6 | the audited financial statements: |
| It's just we may look at them from time to time and | 7 | "a) Is the audit certification in the accounts we |
| I think it's more convenient to have a hard copy rather | 8 | received standard wording? |
| than try to flick through the pages on the screen. So | 9 | "b) Do we know of the standing of the audit firm, |
| we will refer from that from time to time. It's | 10 | Friehling & Horowitz? |
| obviously got the Offering Memoranda from 1993 and 1996 | 11 | "c) Is it possible to get a more complete set of |
| in, which we looked at yesterday. | 12 | audited accounts" |
| MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: So there are 20 separate editions? | 13 | So those are the questions he puts to |
| MR SMITH: That's right. And obviously some of the changes | 14 | MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: I'm just looking here at my |

15 are relatively minor, and what we will do is look at the Offering Memoranda from time to time where there's 16 17 a significant change of some type, such as where

Primeo Select was launched in 1996. So, my Lord, I think that takes us to where we were yesterday --MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: The purpose of some of these is probably just to reflect changes in directorships. MR SMITH: Exactly, and some more minor changes like that. MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: We can look at some particular ones at key dates.

MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: I'm just looking here at my dramatis personae, he's described as "credit and risk manager". Which office is he based in? MR SMITH: I think he's based in Dublin, because I think he's writing specifically in relation to Thema, and he's writing to Mr Fielding who is in Luxembourg, and as I understand it, it's written to him on the basis that Mr Fielding has assumed this role that performing "due diligence" for Bank of Bermuda in relation to BLMIS, and he's therefore addressing that to Mr Fielding, as you will see really from the first sentence of the email. Then you get Mr Fielding's response back a page at 1 {N/606/1}. He says to Mr Young, also copied to various we're going to have to ask him about, frankly, because 2 2 other people, including Mr Wilkinson and Mr David Smith: it seems very strange for Ernst & Young to have told 3 3 Mr Fielding that Friehling & Horowitz were known for "I have co-ordinated the due diligence of Madoff in 4 relation to the managed accounts he runs for funds their audit work of US broker-dealers. Clearly that 5 served by the bank. These have been placed for a number 5 wasn't the case. So that's something we're going to 6 6 need to explore. of years." 7 So there you see Mr Fielding had assumed this role MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: And were BLMIS's financial 8 of being responsible for the due diligence in relation 8 statements publicly available? 9 9 MR SMITH: I don't know the answer to that off the top of my to BLMIS. In relation to the first point, you will see 10 10 head. We'll check. I don't know if they were. I mean, he then says he agrees: 11 "... it makes sense for each fund with Madoff to 11 BLMIS was registered with the SEC as a broker-dealer at 12 this point, so presumably the financial statements would 12 have audit certification of those assets run by Madoff 13 13 where they are material in the portfolio." have been provided to the SEC. 14 MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: That doesn't necessarily mean they 14 And his suggestion, it appears, is that that is 1.5 something that ought to be done by the fund auditor. 15 were available to the public. 16 16 MR SMITH: No. it doesn't. We'll check that and then we Now, we'll come back to that, because others within 17 Bank of Bermuda take a different view about that, but 17 will try to find out what the answer is and let 18 that's his suggestion at the moment. 18 your Lordship know. 19 19 Then, just skipping down the page, you will see he Then you see, my Lord, in relation to the point (c), 20 20 which was Mr Young's request to get a more complete set then deals with the second set of points made by 21 Mr Young in relation to the financial statements. He 21 of audited accounts, for instance including an operating 22 22 statement of P&L, he says: 23 23 "This was discussed ... with [Mr May] and "The wording and in fact the level of financial 24 24 [Mr Wilcockson] and we decided not to request this so information provided in the annual and semi-annual 25 financial statements was compared to other US 25 far. Page 5 Page 7 1 broker-dealers. It is very similar and in some regards 1 His closing shot is to say: 2 2 the Madoff audit reports go further ..." "The review is finished and signed off for this year 3 Now that's something we may need to ask Mr Fielding 3 and I do not intend to do more unless the GFS Board 4 about, because actually, the BLMIS financial statements 4 supports it, risk versus cost versus relationship, etc." 5 5 are very brief indeed, they run only to a very small So he says he's got going to do any more. 6 number of pages and really consist of little more than 6 If your Lordship is interested, just so we can see 7 7 it while we are here, there's a copy of BLMIS's audited a balance sheet and a profit and loss account. But 8 8 that's something we will be able to ask him about no financial statements at {N/574/23}. I'm not suggesting 9 9 doubt we spend any time on it, but just so you can see. 10 10 Then secondly there's a rather odd comment, because Unfortunately one of the problems with BLMIS's financial 11 11 he goes on to say: statements is bizarrely it was printed in white type on 12 12 "We enquired about Friehling & Horowitz and were black paper, which makes it very, very difficult to see. 13 told that they are a known, reputable firm though not 13 Whether that was deliberate or not, I couldn't 14 large, and that they are known for audit work of US 14 possibly comment on, but the reality is it's very 15 15 broker-dealers." difficult to see, and if we just flick the pages, just 16 Now, that is a very strange comment, because the one 16 so your Lordship can see, one can I think just make out 17 thing Friehling & Horowitz weren't known for was their 17 there there's a statement of assets. 18 18 audit of US broker-dealers. They didn't audit Then over the page you see there's then, "Available 19 US broker-dealers. As your Lordship knows, in fact this 19 Member's Equity", with an audit certification at the 20 was a two-man firm on a strip mall in upstate New York 20 bottom of the page. 21 21 Perhaps if we can just keep flicking through, that wasn't known for anything. It certainly wasn't 22 22 there's then effectively some text. known and reputable and certainly wasn't known for its 23 audit work of US broker dealers. 23 MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: So this is standalone financial 24 Now, Mr Fielding in his witness statement now says 24 statements of BLMIS? 25 25 MR SMITH: Yes, exactly. he was told this by Ernst & Young, but that's something

| 2 | of due diligence we have on Madoff." | 2 | MR GILLIS: Do you mind just going back to the bottom to |
| 3 | Now this a very strange thing for Mr Fielding to be | 3 | 112, just explain the bottom: |
| 4 | writing because he knows that at 31 October the GFS | 4 | "Dear All. |
| 5 | board has identified the problem and has said: what we | 5 | "I spoke with Ed Gomez" |
| 6 | need to do is to get independent audit confirmation. | 6 | MR SMITH: Well, I'm going to leave Mr Gillis to go to |
| 7 | He goes on to say: | 7 | the further documents. He can use his time for that. |
| 8 | "I would mention that when Fergus and I visited | 8 | MR GILLIS: All right. |
| 9 | Madoff in July year we had him complete a due diligence | 9 | MR SMITH: The bottom of the page is to do with, I think, |
| 10 | questionnaire based on the one used by | 10 | some issue about fees on leverage to funds. It doesn't |
| 11 | FIG/Thomas Murray. The completed questionnaire was | 11 | seem to be particularly relevant. But then what one |
| 12 | reviewed by Chris and Michael May. Not to say we should | 12 | gets at the top of the page is Mr Smith coming in with |
| 13 | not do more, but perhaps we could use the upcoming | 13 | his comment: |
| 14 | NY visit to arrange for you to meet Madoff as a prelude | 14 | "I need you to take control of Madoff. I don't |
| 15 | to sending any further questionnaires or requests for | 15 | think Bill Jones should visit them without you." |
| 16 | information." | 16 | And then the next page, {N/651/1}, Mr Fielding comes |
| 17 | So they seem to have forgotten about, or at least | 17 | back on that to Mr Smith, this time on 24 December: |
| 18 | are not pursuing the decision of the GFS board to obtain | 18 | "Paul seems hellbent on irritating Madoff with FIG, |
| 19 | independent audit confirmation and what Mr Fielding is | 19 | I will take them but not until next year as I need to |
| 20 | suggesting here is: actually, we shouldn't do any more, | 20 | preserve the relationship with Bank Austria." |
| 21 | we'll just use the New York visit to arrange for | 21 | So you see there is this tension within |
| 22 | Mr Smith to meet Madoff and basically leave it at that. | 22 | Bank of Bermuda which appears to be really between |
| 23 | So one sees, in our submission, pressure within | 23 | Mr Paul Smith on the one hand, Mr Wilkinson as well, and |
| 24 | Bank of Bermuda not to follow through on what they | 24 | on the other hand Mr David Smith and Mr Fielding, who |
| 25 | themselves decided they need to do. | 25 | are much less keen for due diligence to be done. |
| | · | | Ç |
| 1 | What Mr Smith's response to that, however, | 1 | Going on, just to complete that sequence in tab 114 |
| 2 | your Lordship will see at the start of the page, is to | 2 | of the core bundle, {N/652/1}, Mr Smith comes back: |
| 3 | say well, actually: | 3 | "Yes, I agree with your observation on Madoff. |
| 4 | "If Madoff is to be our sub-custodian, we need | 4 | Silly but there is nothing I can do about it." |
| 5 | FIG to do a full review. We do not have authority to | 5 | So Mr David Smith's view is it's all a bit silly but |
| 6 | prove Madoff as a sub-custodian. Only FIG can do this. | 6 | there's nothing we can do about it, and actually one |
| 7 | We need to put this in the hands of FIG." | 7 | sees the divergence of approach between Paul Smith on |
| 8 | Which I think is the Financial Institutions Group. | 8 | the one hand, the head of GFS, who has effectively said, |
| 9 | And there's no evidence that that was ever done either. | 9 | "There's a major issue here, you need to go and get |
| 10 | So they're simply not following through in any way | 10 | independent audit confirmation", and David Smith and |
| 11 | the decision of the GFS board that they need to obtain | 11 | Nigel Fielding on the other hand who are effectively |
| 12 | audit confirmation. And in fact, if you go over in | 12 | soft pedalling on this, and actually it's never ever |
| 13 | the next tab of the core bundle to 112, there's | 13 | carried out. |
| 14 | a further email $\{N/648/1\}$, a further email from Mr Smith | 14 | As I said, the decision to obtain independent audit |
| 15 | to Mr Fielding, this time of 18 December. He's now | 15 | confirmation of the assets was something that was never |
| 16 | saying: | 16 | pursued. There's never been any explanation, so far as |
| 17 | "I need you to take control of Madoff. I don't | 17 | I'm aware, as to why that was not done. |
| 18 | think Bill Jones should visit them without you." | 18 | MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: Well, the conventional way of |
| 19 | Now, Bill Jones was the Head of Legal and Compliance | 19 | doing it would be for the Fund's auditors to rely upon |
| 20 | at Bank of Bermuda, as we will see, but Mr Smith | 20 | the BLMIS auditor, and obviously the BLMIS auditor, in |
| 21 | certainly seems to be saying to Mr Fielding at this | 21 | the ordinary course, would have done substantial |
| 22 | point that he needs to be involved and certainly that he | 22 | completeness testing and had direct confirmation |
| 23 | needs to be participating in any visit which Bill Jones | 23 | from DTC. |
| 24 | is undertaking to Madoff. | 24 | MR SMITH: Yes. |
| 25 | If we follow that through on the next tab, 113, | 25 | MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: That's how that audit would have |

So you see, my Lord, at the bottom of this page, 1 1 appear, fatal." 2 2 this is an email which goes out from Mr Fielding to Interesting to see he says that: 3 3 AFS country heads, copied to Ms Coe. AFS is Alternative "Clearly I am not suggesting that GIS/HSBC should 4 Fund Services, which is the division within HSBC 4 ignore their fiduciary responsibilities, however, we 5 5 Securities Services which was now responsible for funds should all be aware of the potential fall-out." 6 6 Now, that was addressed to Mr Smith, and that such as Primeo, and you'll see the heading of that. 7 7 unsurprisingly appears to have prompted some enquiry on It's headed, "Non standard sub-custodians". 8 And if we go over to page 2 you can see what 8 the part of Mr Smith, because he then asked Mr Fielding 9 9 Mr Fielding asked: what on earth was going on. And one sees that at 10 10 "Please advise any sub-custodians your location has {N/1183/2}, tab 185 of the core bundle. It's all part 11 appointed outside the standard network, ie like Madoff." 11 of the same strand of emails, a few emails on now, and 12 Now your Lordship may want to compare that with 12 you'll see there's an email in the middle of $\{N/1183/2\}$: 13 13 "Paul, partly I think this is a matter of getting the evidence he is proposing to give in these 14 proceedings that they never thought Madoff was their 14 the correct spin. All sub-custodians are subject to 15 sub-custodian. Clearly at the time it was understood 1.5 periodic review and this is our call as we appoint 16 16 that Madoff was the sub-custodian. sub-custodian, it is not client specific." 17 Now, you'll see {N/1144/1}, Mr Birgen's response: 17 And then this, again very important: 18 18 "As I recall, Madoff holds assets as our 19 19 "Apart from Madoff, we only have one additional sub-custodian for funds promoted by Genevalor, sub-custodian which was appointed more by error than 20 20 Bank Austria, Bank Medici and Square One." 21 anything else ..." 21 So again, he clearly and unequivocally thinks that So he understands as well that Madoff is 22 22 BLMIS is sub-custodian, including for the funds promoted 23 23 by Bank Austria, which of course is Primeo and, by this sub-custodian. We're talking here about individuals in 24 24 the Luxembourg office, so Mr Birgen's head of GFS in stage, Alpha. 25 25 Luxembourg and he's looking at the position in relation He goes on to say: Page 161 Page 163 1 1 to Luxembourg funds such as Primeo and Lagoon. He "Also, we provide credit to nearly all these funds 2 2 understands that Madoff is sub-custodian. relying on collateral rights over the assets. These 3 If we then go on $\{N/1177/1\}$, core 186 which is in 3 clients asked us to be custodian and take that risk in 4 4 volume 3 of the core bundle. It appears that part of addition to providing credit and they wanted us to 5 5 the reason for identifying who the sub-custodians were appoint Madoff as our sub-custodian; they can't expect 6 was that HSBC, or at least Ms Coe, wanted to carry out 6 us to do no due diligence or review." 7 7 a review, no doubt for lending purposes, and you'll see What I think he's referring to here is there was 8 8 at the bottom of $\{N/1177/6\}$, if we can go on to that some pressure from Genevalor Benbassat, where Mr Smith 9 page, within tab 186 of the core bundle, there's an 9 had now become a director, not to carry out the review, 10 email from Mr Wilkinson to Mr Smith. So 1177/6, please. 10 and the point he's making here is to say, well, they 11 11 Your Lordship may have it in the core bundle. He said: can't resist the review because they wanted BLMIS 12 12 appointed as sub-custodian and therefore we've got to "Paul, as you are aware [X] is one of our biggest 13 clients in Dublin. The sponsor of the fund is [X]. 13 review it. But what is absolutely clear is that 14 "Following on from a recent board meeting in Dublin 14 Mr Fielding fully understands that BLMIS is 15 15 [someone] has tabled several issues with Barry O'Rourke. sub-custodian, and indeed that HSSL is the custodian in 16 The two issues which are causing us the most concern are 16 relation to these assets. 17 17 And again, your Lordship may want to compare that to 18 18 "1. During the trustee review, it was suggested by the evidence which he's now proposing to give in these 19 the trustee that GIS (HSBC) would be visiting Madoff to 19 proceedings 20 undertake a full sub-custodial review, (as is normal 20 Now, what then happened was Ms Coe then decided to 21 21 practice).' send Mr Pettitt, who was head of network management for 22 And then over the page there's then a redacted 22 HSBC, to meet Mr Madoff to do the review. And as 23 23 a precursor to that, Mr Pettitt met with Mr Fielding and 24 "The consequence of the trustee review of the 24 others in Luxembourg. And your Lordship will see that 25 sub-custodian Madoff will be both painful and, it would 25 at tab 193 of the core bundle $\{N/1202/1\}$. It's

1 a relatively detailed meeting note, but your Lordship 1 which is checked against the Madoff supplied reports and 2 2 will see first of all the purpose of the meeting: Appendices 11 and 12 ... show the end of December 3 3 "Discuss special 'sub-custodian' relationships and positions ..." 4 credit collateral for specific former BoB 4 Which presumably are similar if not the same as 5 5 relationships." the reports which were provided to Ernst & Young as part 6 6 of the custodian confirmation. They then identify on the first page the funds 7 7 they're looking at, so Primeo, Herald, Alpha Prime, So, you see, that's what HSSL does and it 8 Hermes, Thema, Square One, Optima, which I think is 8 essentially records trade information from BLMIS as and 9 9 probably a reference to Optimal, but they are the funds when it's received. 10 10 they've identified. So this is, if you like, an information gathering 11 Then if we move on, please, straight away to page 3, 11 visit, I think undertaken by Mr Pettitt to Luxembourg, 12 $\{N/1202/3\}$, there's a section: 12 and you can see what he's told about the position. 13 13 "Due diligence issues arising: Moving on to tab 194, there's then an email from 14 "NF believes Madoff has only one account at the DTC 14 Mr Wilcockson who writes to a Tanya Nystrom, and 1.5 which, if true means that they may be mixing client and 1.5 Tanya Nystrom is someone from the US office of 16 proprietary trading assets. We need to identify the DTC 16 Bank of Bermuda who is going to accompany Mr Pettitt on 17 numbers ... Madoff will certainly be regulated as 17 the visit to BLMIS. But again, your Lordship will see 18 a broker/dealer but we need to understand whether they 18 the second paragraph -- sorry, this is {N/1206/1} for 19 19 are audited and regulated as a custodian." the screen. Again, your Lordship will see the second 20 Which of course they weren't: 20 paragraph, this is coming from Mr Wilcockson who was 21 "There is clearly 'key-man' risk for the fund ..." 21 the senior individual within Bank of Bermuda 22 22 And he goes on to refer to the requirements for net (Luxembourg) 23 23 "In the case of two locations - Bermuda and capital. 24 Over the page, {N/1202/4}, there's quite an 24 Luxembourg - there are sub-custody agreements where 25 interesting section under "Operational", where they 25 the bank appoints Madoff as sub-custodian." Page 165 Page 167 1 1 discuss how it is that information from BLMIS is So again, he clearly understands that 2 2 recorded and reported on HSBC's systems. Now, Bank of Bermuda has appointed BLMIS as sub-custodian: 3 unfortunately, the appendices haven't been discovered 3 "It is these appointments that Brian is looking at 4 4 to us by the defendants, so your Lordship doesn't have most as Madoff is outside the bank's standard 5 5 the benefit of those, but what you do have is sub-custody network. This is further complicated by the 6 the description, and you'll see he says: 6 fact that some of the funds have credit facilities, 7 7 mostly FX lines, and of course the assets are not "All information regarding the activity on the funds 8 8 is updated on HSSL systems retrospectively. Madoff strictly in our control." 9 9 There's then a reference to Madoff's strategy and he provide reports and trade tickets usually on the 10 10 Wednesday of the week following the activity. All info 11 11 is sent by post! Appendices 3 and 4 provide examples of "We do get trade tickets for each deal he does for 12 12 the Statements of Net Assets provided by the reporting our clients and monthly position statements." 13 system known as 'Geneva' ..." 13 And then: 14 14 Then there's reference to examples of trade tickets: "The conflict issue is that he effectively acts in 15 15 "Appendix 6 shows an Investment Price Variance 3 capacities for our client funds - investment manager, 16 Report ... 16 broker/dealer and sub-custodian. He only takes income 17 "Appendix 7 shows position checks ... 17 as a broker/dealer; he does not charge for investment "All customers of Madoff see the trade tickets and 18 18 management or custodian. These arrive 2 or 3 days 22 Well, I'm not sure that was in fact true: 23 23 "He runs the [investment management] business and into the next month. 24 24 "Appendix 9 shows the Madoff options trades ... others run the broker/dealer bit." 25 25 "Appendix 10 provides the HSSL transaction record But anyway, he's clearly identified the conflict

1 O. Thank you. 1 Q. So probably, when we look at that, rather than reading 2 2 Now, just looking on in this same document, if we go that as "business development", it would be more correct 3 3 to page 40, please. {N/737/14}. As I understand it, to say the "business of GFS"; is that right? 4 this is then setting out the organisation of GFS within 4 A. That's correct. Business development would be within 5 5 Luxembourg; is that right? that, but you're correct. 6 6 Q. Okay, thank you. A. That's correct. 7 7 If we go back to $\{N/737/14\}$, I assume it follows Q. And Mr Birgen was Head of GFS in Luxembourg; is that 8 correct? 8 from what we've just been discussing that this in effect 9 9 A. That's correct. only shows Mr Birgen's side of the business structure; 10 10 Q. As I understand it, at this stage there were, in effect, is that correct? 11 two heads of HSSL; is that right? Mr Birgen, who was on 11 A. Actually, when I look at it, I'm wondering about 12 the business development side, and Mr May, who was in 12 Fiona O'Brien, whether she was doing compliance for charge of operations, risk and compliance; is that 13 13 the whole entity. So she may also have had a line to 14 correct? 14 15 15 A. Maybe it would help if I can explain to my Lord how Q. Right. So it's possible we should also read in Mr May 16 16 in here as well as being responsible for some but a regulated bank in Luxembourg is required to be 17 structured. It's required to have two managing 17 probably not all of these operations? 18 directors. We call them "four eyes". Their exact 18 A. I would say for all the others, he wasn't responsible. Compliance and possibly legal. Those would be the only 19 19 titles may vary from managing director but they are 20 authorised managers of the entity. They are both there 20 two. 21 to be responsible, and part of the idea is if one is 21 Q. I think we know he's responsible for risk, don't we? 22 22 absent, the other can cover, but within that, they then A. There wasn't a risk function -- a separate risk function 23 23 have to split and they have to tell the regulator on at that time. 24 24 a day-to-day how they split their activities. So Q. So when we go --25 25 Mr Birgen ran the business of Global Fund Services, A. As I recall --Page 109 Page 111 MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: This chart is as at December 2002; 1 Mr May, as I recall, at that time would have had all 1 2 is that correct? I think that's what this document 2 the kind of support functions, so human resources, 3 finance, legal, and there were some other businesses in 3 savs. 4 Bank of Bermuda or HSSL, private banking, treasury, they 4 A. This chart was prepared in --5 5 MR SMITH: So which chart is your Lordship -- this is would have reported to Mr May. 6 Q. So Mr Birgen and Mr May were the two managing directors; 6 the one at N --7 7 MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: This is {N/737/14}. 8 8 MR SMITH: Yes, this presentation was made in May 2003, so A. I think that's the best way to describe them, Authorised 9 Managers, Managing Directors is a good title. 9 my understanding was that this was looking at 10 10 the position in the first half of 2003, I think. Q. If we bring up what Ms Andrich says in her witness 11 MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: I thought I saw December 2002 on 11 statement, {B/6/8}, you see there in paragraph 30 she 12 12 this document. Perhaps I got that wrong. 13 "Administration and custody, the core fund services 13 MR SMITH: If you go back to {N/737/6}, your Lordship may 14 14 we provided Primeo, were provided by staff in HSS in have seen the figure of -- the text at the bottom of 15 15 the page there. So I'm assuming that we're 20 20 looking now at organograms which represent the position 21 21 as at May 2003. Do you see that? I think from what you're saying 22 22 A. That's correct. that's perhaps not quite right, in that Mr Birgen's role 23 is not limited to business development as such, but he's 23 Q. You said a moment ago that there wasn't a risk function 2.4 24 responsible for the business of GFS; is that correct? at this stage. If we go back to Ms Andrich's statement, 25 A. That's correct. 25 paragraph 30 $\{B/6/8\}$, she says in the second sentence:

1 A. No, I don't recall that. A. I see that. 2 2 Q. Is that something you recall no discussion of at all at Q. Do you recall seeing this at the time? 3 3 this time? A. I'm not sure that I saw it at the time. 4 A. I don't recall that sort of discussion. 4 Q. Do you recall similar views being expressed within HSSL 5 Q. Just to complete the story, we know, because it's 5 from time to time? 6 6 a matter of record, you resigned as a director of Primeo A. Actually, within HSSL, the direct employees of HSSL, I'm 7 on 3 October 2006, and then you then also resigned as 7 not sure that I do. 8 a director of Alpha on 29 December 2006. I just want to 8 Q. What --9 9 ask you about a couple of matters from 2008 in which you A. Except Mr Thomson, obviously he's an employee of HSSL, 10 10 although he's from the traditional fund side. were involved. 11 If we can go first of all to $\{N/2572/1\}$, tab 310 of 11 Q. What about within HSS? 12 core bundle 5. You see you're sent an email by 12 A. Clearly -- if I take HSS to be the umbrella that 13 13 Mr Wilcockson on 12 August 2008 which is headed, includes the predecessor GFS? We've got Brian Wilkinson 14 "Madoff", and it says: 14 saying there could be risk, Paul Smith, to an extent 1.5 "Hi. 1.5 David Smith. 16 "Are you aware of an increasing level of nervousness 16 Q. What about Mr May? Did you hear him express any sort of 17 17 concerns? 18 And then you respond by saying: 18 A. No, I don't recall Mr May expressing concerns. 19 19 "Not aware but I'm not surprised." Q. Let's go on to tab 331 of the same bundle $\{N/2710/1\}$. 20 Can you explain why you weren't surprised that there 20 Can we start, please, at page $2 \{N/2710/2\}$. This is 21 was an increasing level of nervousness about Madoff? 21 an email which is sent from someone called Russell Ford 22 22 A. Because this had come up from time to time over at least to Mr May on 12 December 2008, so this is now Madoff has 23 the period since 2002, possibly slightly earlier. Every 23 now collapsed and the balloon had gone up, as it were. 24 24 now and then somebody takes a look at this and says, And Mr Ford says to Mr May: 25 "Maybe there's some inherent risks", and people start to 25 "Just in case Chris has not contacted you yet or you Page 117 Page 119 1 look at that and go, "Oh, yes, maybe -- maybe we need to 1 have read the papers, Madoff has been arrested on 2 2 look at it again". And I think we've seen it come up security fraud. 3 time and time again. 2002, 2005. So the fact that it 3 "Chris was due to be at home but is now coming into 4 4 periodically comes back up does not surprise me. the office and she is trying to get hold of Wilcockson, 5 5 Q. Really, Mr Fielding, it was because the issues had never do you have his mobile no?" 6 been resolved, had they? That's why they kept on coming 6 Then if we go back to the preceding page $\{N/2710/1\}$, 7 7 Mr May then responds at the bottom of the page: up time and time again? 8 8 A. Well, I think sometimes it's because new people are "Another case where all our suspicions were right." 9 coming in and looking at it. I mean, this is 9 Do you know what the other case might be he's 10 10 referring to there? He's obviously got something else August 2008. By this time, at least one KPMG review had 11 11 in mind which is similar to Madoff. Do you know what been done. I think the second one may have been done by 12 12 this time as well. And these reviews were way beyond that might be? 13 anything that was normal for a review, not necessarily 13 A. No, I don't. 14 unrealistic given some people's look at the risk. 14 Q. Does something called Sentinel ring a bell? 15 15 Q. Let's go on to the next document. It's tab 320 of core A. I've heard the word, but I can't remember what Sentinel 16 bundle $5 \{N/2633/1\}$. This is an email from someone 16 was about now. 17 called Gordon Thomson which he's sending to Mr May. 17 Q. Let's continue. He then goes -- Mr Ford then responds 18 18 And copied to Andrew Bastow, Brian Pettitt and in the middle of the page: 19 Christine Coe. Do you see, about halfway down the page, 19 "Indeed, the beauty of hindsight." 20 he sets out: 20 And then Mr May, at the top of the page: 21 21 "The items which make me concerned are: "Worse - we suspected but never pinned it down. Not 22 "'Too good to be true'." 22 even hindsight, just not enough courage to walk away 23 And then he sets out a couple of items, and then: 23 from what was not understood ..." 24 "'Unusual activity'." 24 Now, I think we know that Mr May was Managing 25 25 Director, wasn't he, of HSSL for much of the relevant Do you see that?

1 A. I see that. when I went to sort of learn -- when I went to see him, 2 2 Q. He's referring to Mr Smith's email we've just been that actually the pronunciation should be "made off". 3 3 talking about --Q. But there is, I would suggest, Mr Fielding, at least at 4 A. I think he could be referring to this whole chain of 4 the back of people's minds, the possibility that there 5 conversation as well as that. 5 is a risk to the assets here, isn't there? 6 6 A. Not at the back of my mind. Q. Well, he's referring to what Mr Smith said, isn't he, because he says, "I think Paul is absolutely correct"? 7 7 O. Really? 8 A. Yes, fair enough. 8 Well, let's --9 9 Q. Then if we go to $\{N/617/1\}$, I think you then in fact A. Other than the concern I had about him unduly enriching himself, which I felt I had done an adequate check on. 10 10 have a call with Mr Wilkinson on 30 September, and this 11 is presumably a call further to the email we've just 11 MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: How do you distinguish between 12 12 been looking at. And we see on the first page you issues surrounding segregation and issues surrounding 13 13 existence of the assets? Isn't segregation and exchange greetings. 14 14 If we go over the page $\{N/617/2\}$, it you say: existence interrelated? Don't you have to do 15 "... I just had a chat with Chris about this too, 15 completeness testing to satisfy yourself about 16 16 because he ... (?) it to me earlier in the day and he's segregation. 17 kind of a bit concerned in the sense that he doesn't 17 A. It depends how far you want to go. You can just view it 18 understand quite what the concern is ..." 18 from a process, which is really what I had done at that 19 19 Then at the bottom of the page, you say, do you see: point in my due diligence, of, are the answers to 20 20 the questions about segregation -- do they make sense "In fact Primeo are trying to open another account 21 with him. Let's see where they get to with that. 21 about how Madoff is doing the process, BLMIS is doing 22 22 the process? You can go further and say, "Let's "So I ... I, you know, everybody has some concerns 23 23 actually go and do an audit of all the assets", and in about Madoff, or 'made off' as he likes to call himself, 24 that we will also see that they're segregated. 24 which I think makes it even worse, 'made off with 25 25 MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: Right, but it seemed to me that it the money'." Page 77 Page 79 1 What would be concerns which everybody had about 1 would be difficult to do a systems-based audit when you 2 2 Madoff at this time? don't have three separate entities within the Madoff 3 A. I find that question very broad. "Everybody" being? 3 group. It's all done through one company and there's 4 4 I'm a bit -- it could be narrowed. only one account. 5 5 Q. Well, I think this is your statement in the telephone A. It is all done through one company. I actually --6 conversation. 6 I don't know behind the scenes how they were structured. 7 7 The broker-dealer arm was physically separate, and they A. Okay, so --8 8 Q. So what do you think you're likely to have been may have had their own systems, which I -- I didn't look 9 9 at or see any -- I don't know whether the statements we referring to there? 10 10 A. "Everybody" I'm referring to -- thank you for see come from that, or come from the investment 11 11 the clarification -- would be the -- those members of management operation, which was on another floor. So 12 12 the GFS Board that I have in the interaction, which there was some physical separation. 13 looks primarily like Paul, David and maybe Brian. 13 MR SMITH: Well, I do suggest, Mr Fielding, that an 14 14 Q. What do you think the concerns were then? independent audit of segregation of assets would 15 15 necessarily involve an audit of the existence of A. I think the concern is about -- actually, the initial 16 concern, it starts off with this segregation. I think 16 the assets as well, wouldn't it? 17 maybe some people are applying a little more to it and 17 A. It could do, as my Lord has said. But you could do an 18 18 saying, "Actually, it's -- it's maybe these multiple audit of the asset existence without necessarily looking 19 roles, maybe there's more to this". 19 at segregation, but you would see segregation in 20 Q. And I know you're jocular about it in this telephone 20 the process. 21 21 conversation, but clearly, at the back of your mind, Q. But in this context, and in respect of what was in mind 22 there is a possibility of a risk to the assets at 22 here, it was clearly contemplated, wasn't it, that there 23 23 would be an independent audit which would include Madoff, isn't there? 24 24 A. I didn't think that at the time. I actually used to confirming the assets held by BLMIS? 25 pronounce him as "mad off", and then I was told, I think 25 A. I think it might be relevant to go a bit further,

1 because I think this phone call is really Brian 1 A. It was my view that we had a sub-custodian agreement. 2 2 setting out his thoughts on what needs to be done. Q. Well, let's move on. 3 3 Q. Absolutely. And if we -- well, let's go on in the phone Then if we look towards the middle of the page, 4 call. Turn the pages, please, page 3 {N/617/3}. 4 Mr Wilkinson says: 5 5 There's then reference to what you were doing in "Would it be possible to get Ernst & Young since 6 6 they've already done it for your funds, rather than Luxembourg, do you see, and you say: 7 7 "... we actually have an audit confirmation from KPMG, I suggest to E&Y to go in and they've already done 8 Ernst & Young." 8 it and they just give us a clearance for all 9 9 Which I think you knew is what they'd based on what the accounts that we have there?" 10 10 they had internally received from Friehling & Horowitz, And then there's some discussion about that, but 11 11 then at the bottom of the page, you say: 12 A. I believe they had largely based it on that. I don't 12 "But if we want more independence and we want to 13 13 know what other checks they might have done. send our own auditor in regardless, I suppose what I'm 14 Q. And you say: 14 trying to think, and I don't know off of top of my head 1.5 "So we're quite happy with that ..." 1.5 what the answer is, do we ever send our external auditor 16 16 Then he refers to the position in Dublin where he in to our other sub-custodian to verify positions?" 17 thinks it would only go to the custodian or the 17 Do you see that? 18 sub-custodian. 18 A. I see that. 19 19 Then there's some reference to difference in Q. I'm sorry to keep repeating the point, Mr Fielding, but 20 20 you did clearly understand BLMIS was a sub-custodian, standards, "Laughing": 21 "BW: I could be wrong Nigel, and maybe I'll 21 22 22 investigate that, but I'm just covering all of our A. Here I'm talking about other sub-custodians. 23 backsides to make sure we've done everything possible if 23 Q. "... to our other sub-custodian ..." 24 24 So you regard BLMIS as a sub-custodian, don't you? this thing ever went up, you know. 25 "NF: Yeah, and I guess my ... I'm not saying we 25 A. I think I've explained on what basis I felt we had Page 81 Page 83 1 shouldn't do it, I guess I wanted the board to say we 1 entered into the agreement. 2 2 Q. Then, if we look down the page, you say: wanted to do it, having heard David rant and rave about 3 upsetting the guy before ..." 3 "You know our agreements of normal sub-custody 4 4 I suggest that David is David Smith, isn't it? agreements, they say that Madoff must maintain records, 5 5 A. Logically, it would be David Smith. he's liable if he loses anything, but they ... none of 6 Q. Then it continues, there's then some further discussion. 6 them, as far as I can see, say that we have the right to 7 7 inspect his books and records with an external audit If we go over to the next page, page $4 \{N/617/4\}$, 8 8 you discuss at the top of the page some of the responses firm." 9 9 Do you see that? And you were making the point you've got from Madoff, and Tom Young has raised 10 10 the question: there, weren't you, that the terms of the 11 11 "... his financial statements are not very detailed, Sub-Custody Agreements did not give Bank of Bermuda 12 12 you know, what really is his source of revenue, etc ... the right to send in an external audit firm; correct? 13 which I think is important to us, cause we're really 13 A. That's correct. And interestingly, I say BLMIS is 14 relying on the financial strength of Madoff, as well as 14 liable for everything. 15 15 Q. Yes, exactly. So far as HSSL's concerned, that's much as anything ... 16 "NF: ... as a sub-custodian." 16 exactly right, and that's because that arises under the 17 So you knew he was a sub-custodian, didn't you? 17 terms of the Sub-Custody Agreement, doesn't it? 18 18 A. As I've said before, I knew the agreement was there, A. That's not what I say here. I talk about "normal 19 I have a different view of the effect. 19 sub-custody" arrangements. He's liable to the client. 20 Q. You're very easily using in conversation with 20 Q. Well, no, Mr Fielding, he's liable to HSSL under 21 21 Mr Wilkinson the fact -- the term that BLMIS is the terms of the Sub-Custody Agreement, isn't he? 22 22 A. I don't read it that way. It's -- it's the same point a sub-custodian, aren't you? 23 23 again. I don't agree with that. A. I use the term there, yes. 24 Q. That's because that was your view, wasn't it, at this 24 Q. Well, I suggest that's exactly what you're referring to, 25 25 time? Mr Fielding.

Correct. 18 This is from someone called Peter Heaps, I think 18 Q. And I think, as we discussed previously, as part of its 19 19 being sent to Brian Wilkinson. audit, Ernst & Young sought something called a custody 20 If we go over the page, back to page 1, $\{N/1082/1\}$, 20 confirmation, didn't it, from HSSL? 21 you see Mr Wilkinson says: 21 A. I've been shown an email chain where E&Y approached 25 "My gut reaction is that this will not fly." 25 Mr Fiorino and he, in passing, came to me. Page 177 Page 179 1 First of all, why was Mr Heaps being sent in your 1 Q. I'm looking at the position now prior to 2005. I'm not 2 2 talking specifically about the BLMIS assets, but are you directing? 3 A. I think Mr Heaps was being sent in my direction because 3 aware that in the period prior to 2005, Ernst & Young 4 4 Brian knew I'd done the sub -- due diligence work on sought custody confirmations from HSSL in relation to 5 5 the assets in custody by HSSL for Primeo? 6 Q. Then why do you think Mr Wilkinson was saying "My gut 6 A. I imagine, yes, they would have come to us -- sorry, 7 7 recollection is that this will not fly"? I did think it was discussion or a question about BLMIS. 8 8 A. I think I know who this fund is, and I think you'll They would have also come to the bank because we had 9 9 notice on the prior page, it says "emphasis on custody". custody of the other assets. 10 10 Q. Correct. And so far as the BLMIS assets were concerned, I think this particular client wanted the bank to take, 11 11 in Dublin, some level of responsibility for the assets were you aware -- I think you were -- that Ernst & Young 12 12 at Madoff, at BLMIS, that they had at BLMIS, so it was obtained a confirmation directly from BLMIS in 13 going a step further. And therefore I think Brian --13 the period prior to 2005? 14 14 Brian was of the view that might not -- might not be A. I wasn't specifically aware at the time. A. I've seen -- I think I've seen this email in A. When I saw the emails in preparation for the trial I had 2 2 preparation, so this is Sav relaying to me something some recollection that this had come up. 3 3 that apparently E&Y have said. I don't recall E&Y Q. Well, this is not -- a rather significant event, because 4 talking to me -- and not --4 Ernst & Young were threatening potentially to resign as 5 Q. No one's --5 auditors at this point, weren't they? 6 6 A. -- I wasn't sure I recall meeting Sav on it. A. They were suggesting if they couldn't go through this 7 Q. No one's suggesting I think at this stage that E&Y were 7 whole process and get comfort, they would, and I do 8 meeting with you, but do you remember Mr Fiorino 8 think we looked at this yesterday and the outcome of it. 9 9 reporting to you that he had met with E&Y and they'd got Q. Was this not a rather significant event? 10 10 this issue with Madoff? A. I think, as I explained it yesterday, that E&Y were 11 A. I -- I don't recall it unless it's the other chain that 11 doing a review. This was after Mr Lockwood passed away, 12 12 then follows, but I -- I'm getting lost with the dates I think Michael had taken over as partner -- Ferguson --13 13 about where he -- he relays a meeting I think with E&Y I don't know whether they were doing a review of their 14 where they raised some concerns and they're thinking 14 entire book of clients, they were obviously reviewing 1.5 they may have to go and visit Madoff. 1.5 the ones that had invested in BLMIS anyway, amongst --16 Q. Let's look on, because there's a whole sequence of email 16 maybe amongst others, they were talking to relevant 17 chains, and the next one is {N/1163/3}, and in fact, 17 parties, fund promoters, advisors, custodians, other 18 actually, there's a better version of this which isn't 18 banks, and were obviously starting to say, you know, 19 19 redacted at {N/1161/3}. It's in tab 82 of my Lord's maybe we've got some questions marks here, we need to do 20 core bundle 3. This is the same email, but it's 20 a -- we need to just have a thorough look at it. 21 a better version because you see this copy is not 21 Q. Well, it goes absolutely beyond that, doesn't it, 22 redacted. And this is dated 24 February 2005, and you 22 really, Mr Fielding, because I suggest actually they 23 see it's coming from Mr Fiorino to you, copied to 23 were raising some quite serious concerns and were saying 24 24 if they couldn't be satisfied in relation to these 25 "We met with E&Y. Yesterday Michael F and Kerry 25 matters, they might have no alternative but to resign Page 185 Page 187 1 N spent some time with Nespolo of Genevalor. Outcome. 1 and possibly qualify the accounts; that's right, isn't 2 2 "- Nespolo supports they intention to go and meet 3 Madoff. 3 MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: Which fund were they talking 4 4 "- Nespolo does not know if Madoff will accept an 5 audit review or similar process. 5 A. They would've -- for themselves, E&Y were auditors, as 6 "- Nespolo understands the auditors concern and 6 I remember, of Primeo, Hermes, Alpha, I think --7 7 asked if their worries were based on the rumours (1) MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: So this must have been Hermes? 8 8 what is his real strategy, how on earth can he always A. But here, this is -- sorry, they're talking -- Nespolo 9 produce 12%pa (2) where are the assets and are there 9 of Genevalor, that's the promoter of -- well, actually 10 really assets or is it all fictitious. 10 it's the promoter of Hermes and also Thema. I think 11 "- E&Y are other Banks in Lux that have funds with 11 he's talking about Thema here, because he refers to 12 12 Madoff in it to discuss. 13 "- from there the plan is to pay a visit to Madoff." 13 MR SMITH: I'm not sure he has, because he knows PwC are 14 And if we go over the page: 14 the auditors of Thema, so I suggest he's talking about 15 15 "- if no satisfaction is received, E&Y may resign Hermes --16 and potentially qualify accounts Michael was not very 16 A. Yes. 17 clear on this point). 17 MR SMITH: -- isn't he? They met with Nespolo in 18 18 "- as expected, Nespolo's comments were that HSBC the context of their audit of Hermes. 19 must feel quite comfortable with Madoff, since for 19 A. Sorry, that would be correct. I stand corrected. 20 the Dublin fund we appointed them sub-custodian, hence 20 Q. But we also know at the same time, as you say, they're 21 21 the group must have done and will do a regular due also the auditors the Luxembourg funds, or the funds diligence on Madoff ..." 22 22 administered from Luxembourg, Primeo and Alpha, aren't 23 Now, if we go back to the start of that email on 23 24 page 3 {N/1161/3}, do you recall Mr Fiorino raising 24 A. Primeo, Alpha, Hermes. I don't know about the other 25 these issues with you? 25 Luxembourg ones that we've seen on that 2004 sub-custody

1 annex. 1 and are there really assets [at all] or is it all 2 2 Q. But when they're talking about resigning and potentially 3 3 qualifying the accounts, that relates to Primeo, Hermes A. We've heard all sorts of rumours about BLMIS, and --4 and Alpha, doesn't it? 4 here's Nespolo, who is Genevalor, who's had a fund with 5 5 A. Certainly those -- well -- would be -- if they were BLMIS for longer than Primeo, as I recall. You know, if 6 6 going to resign, one would expect they would resign from anybody would be concerned, genuinely concerned, it 7 7 all three, if their concerns were found to be the same would be him, and he's just saying there are these 8 on all three. 8 rumours flying around. 9 9 Q. I'm slightly curious why you don't seem to have any Q. Were you yourself aware of rumours in relation to BLMIS 10 10 as to whether the assets existed or whether it was all recollection of this matter, because it must have been 11 a very serious event, mustn't it, in the light of these 11 12 particular funds? 12 A. I don't remember whether I was for that one or not. 13 13 A. I don't know how much they -- I mean, obviously they'd Q. You can't remember in relation to BLMIS whether there 14 spoken to Nespolo, so he effectively represents one of 14 were rumours that the assets were fictitious? 15 1.5 the funds. I don't know whether they'd spoken to other A. I obviously saw this, so this is almost third or fourth 16 16 clients, although they say they're going to talk to hand. I don't remember reading press material. 17 others. I mean, they're doing a review, the concerns 17 Q. I'm not suggesting press material. Were you aware of 18 18 market rumours as to whether the assets with BLMIS were are --19 19 Q. Do you --20 20 A. No, not particularly market rumours other than people A. -- rumours and so on. You've got to remember, my role 21 at this point was relatively far away from 21 like this who would relay that something -- "We've seen 22 22 the day-to-day operations. I think -- when are we something in the market". 23 talking about now? This is February 2005. I'd become 23 Q. So were there any rumours at all as to whether 24 the Chief Administrative Officer for AFS. 24 the activity of Madoff was fictitious? 25 Q. That's right. Mr Fiorino and Mr Birgen are specifically 25 A. Well, you have got to believe if Nespolo says there Page 189 Page 191 1 reporting to you, aren't they? They've specifically 1 were, he must have seen those rumours. 2 2 brought you directly into the loop on this issue and Q. Were you aware of them yourself? 3 they're reporting back to you, in effect as their 3 A. I don't -- I don't recall, but it doesn't strike an 4 senior, aren't they? 4 accord that I was. 5 5 A. No. No, I don't believe they're doing it for that Q. Well, this must have come as a big surprise to you then. 6 reason. 6 Do you recall that? 7 Q. So, why do you think they're reporting to you? 7 A. No when I see it's from Nespolo, no. 8 A. I believe they're bringing it to my attention because 8 Q. Let's go to $\{L/2/84\}$ to $\{L/2/85\}$. Again, this is an 9 9 they know that I have done due diligence on BLMIS in extract of the Thema transcript referring to a document 10 10 the past. In fact, by this time it's -- we're about to which we looked at briefly yesterday, I just want to 11 do the handover, actually, to Brian Pettitt at this 11 show it to you again in its sequence. If you look down 12 12 again to line 18, you see there is reference to: 13 Q. And because you're still a director of Primeo, aren't 13 "... a note on HSBC files and it is in handwriting." 14 14 And counsel says: 15 15 A. I don't think they're bringing it to my attention as "And it has been typed out on the following page, 16 a director of Primeo. 16 Judge, and that is as much as I can say about it. But 17 Q. Sitting here now, do you have any recollection of 17 it is important because it is on the HSBC files. 'Ernst 18 discussing these concerns with Mr Birgen and/or 18 & Young have met Sav and Germain ... E&Y expressed 19 Mr Fiorino? 19 concern re transparency of Madoff activity'." 20 A. No, I don't remember talking to them about it. I think 20 And then the counsel comments that that's: 21 what I did if I remember this, is I went back to Sav 21 "... not in connection with the Thema fund, it is in 22 and -- I had some interest in it, clearly, "Let me know 22 connection with something else." 23 where it goes", is I think what I said. 23 Then over the page $\{L/2/85\}$: 24 Q. Really? Were you yourself aware of rumours as to where 24 "'Especially as Madoff audit firm (F&H) appears to 25 the assets -- "... where are the assets [held by BLMIS] 25 be a two person shop and partners related to Madoff

| 4 | We looked at this earlier, but do you now remember | 4 | basically. Does any of this ring any bells with you? |
| 5 | Mr Birgen or Mr Fiorino telling you that E&Y's proposal | 5 | A. Yes, I think I have seen this chain. I just couldn't |

| 9 | Mr Birgen or Mr Fiorino on this subject. | 9 | Q. If you look, for example, at page 5 {N/1192/5}, you see |
| 10 | Q. Let's go on then to $\{N/1192/1\}$, and this is tab 190 of | 10 | at the bottom of the page, Mr Smith says: |
| 11 | core bundle 3. This is a slightly curious email. It | 11 | "We need a way forward here. |
| 12 | appears to be dated probably some time around | 12 | "Firstly, Nigel, this is the first I have heard of |

| 21 | The problem with some of these emails is the text is | 21 | $\{N/1192/3\}$, there's an email from Paul Smith in |
| 22 | rather small. If you can't read any of it, just tell me | 22 | the middle of the page to various people, including you: |
| 23 | and I'll read it out to you. | 23 | "I am getting really really irritated with this. |
| 24 | A. No, I can. Sorry, it's just taken me time because it's | 24 | "Who knows the full story here? I am thoroughly fed |

| 6 | A. Thank you, my Lord. We may have to share it. | 6 | happens next." |
| 7 | MR SMITH: First of all, why do you think Mr Fiorino was | 7 | And then it's in this context that you then get |
| 8 | sending this to you then? | 8 | the email on page 1 $\{N/1192/1\}$, which goes from |
| 9 | A. I don't know whether it would be helpful to go over | 9 | Mr Fiorino to you, and I agree, it looks like it may be |
| 10 | the page, but it looks like something he's drafting to | 10 | a draft to be sent to Paul Smith, do you see that? |
| 11 | send to Paul, which I imagine is Paul Smith. | 11 | A. I see that, and I've seen that on the last page we |
| 12 | Q. Yes, there is a whole email chain, but none of it really | 12 | looked at that it's Germain who's asked Sav to brief |
| 13 | relates to E&Y. One has to go through, I'm afraid, to | 13 | Paul. |
| 14 | page 7 $\{N/1192/7\}$. Again, the text is very small, and | 14 | Q. No, it doesn't look like this was in fact ever sent to |
| 15 | it's not very helpful because there's been quite | 15 | Paul Smith. Do you know whether or not that's the case? |
| 16 | substantial redactions that have been made, but to give | 16 | A. I have no idea. |
| 17 | you the context, this is at the stage in March 2005 | 17 | Q. Now, just looking at the content of this email, do you |
| 18 | where it's proposed to do the first KPMG review, or at | 18 | see here it's put in terms of E&Y raising concerns about |
| 19 | least to send Mr Pettitt in originally, and I think it's | 19 | Madoff, including, 2: |
| 20 | roughly at the same time as you're having the meeting | 20 | "Segregation of assets and real existence of these |
| 21 | with Mr Pettitt in Luxembourg to brief him and I think | 21 | assets with Madoff." |
| 22 | he then goes off to BLMIS in New York at the start of | 22 | Now, do you remember it being of concern to you that |
| 23 | April 2005. | 23 | E&Y was raising concerns as to whether or not the assets |
| 24 | What's happening here is there is a sort of | 24 | held with Madoff actually existed? |
| 25 | discussion taking place within Bank of Bermuda as | 25 | A. This is quite lengthy third and fourth-hand. I must |

1 say, if the Nespolo email is in here, or I'd read it at 1 Q. Well, you were a director of Primeo. Didn't it concern 2 2 the same time, and that's where I thought this was you as a director that the auditors had raised 3 3 coming from, it would not have concerned me from the possibility of resigning because they were that 4 4 concerned? Nespolo. 5 5 Q. Really? Even though E&Y, as the auditors, were raising A. That's not the purpose he would have sent it to me for. 6 6 I think it's the same. He would have sent to me, most this as a concern themselves? 7 7 A. But is it E&Y because they've met Nespolo, which they likely, because he knew that I'd dealt with Madoff 8 obviously did? I -- it's really hard to tell from this. 8 before and I was dealing with handover to Brian. 9 9 Q. Well, we know E&Y have raised the concerns themselves, Q. Are you saying, Mr Fielding, really this was just of no 10 10 haven't they, because they've done a review and they concern to you? Notwithstanding you were a director of 11 then go to Nespolo and they go to Bank of Bermuda, 11 Primeo, it really didn't bother you that the auditors 12 12 amongst other people. So E&Y are the ones that have had raised these concerns and that they were saying they 13 13 initiated the concerns, aren't they? might resign? 14 A. This is Sav relaying E&Y's concerns. I'm not saving 14 A. It's okay for them to raise concerns, and to do their 1.5 it's not an important point, but from my own position, 1.5 own work to satisfy themselves. That's what I want to 16 16 I would have gone: okay, I've actually done the due know. I don't want rumour, I want to know what -- what 17 diligence twice, I'm satisfied, E&Y have been satisfied, 17 the conclusion is. 18 they've gone through procedures with the audits, we're 18 Q. So what steps, to your knowledge, were taken to deal 19 19 about to transfer it -- you know, I'm doing a very with these concerns, them having been raised? 20 20 A. I don't know what E&Y did. different job, we're about to transfer this to 21 Brian Pettitt, who is going to go, and if for some 21 Q. You don't know? 22 22 A. I know they got satisfied, because -- well, I assume reason -- you know, he does this day in day out, 23 sub-custody and sub-custody due diligence reviews, 23 they got satisfied, because they continued as 24 24 I would be very interested to see what he makes of it, the auditors for all these funds. 25 because he does this day in day out. 25 Q. Well, they got satisfied because HSBC provided them with Page 199 Page 197 1 Q. But you never tell him though, do you, about these 1 a custody confirmation about the BLMIS assets, didn't 2 2 concerns expressed by Ernst & Young? they? 3 A. I don't know. I don't know --3 A. But that wouldn't be enough to satisfy yourself; they're 4 4 Q. Well, you don't, do you? talking about a detailed review. And I know we might 5 5 A. -- whether I tell him or not. And actually it's Sav, get on to it, but we know those custody confirms are 6 and I think he meets with Say. I would expect Say, if 6 a bit of a -- an erroneous in some respects. 7 7 Sav was going to do that, to raise it with him. Q. I suggest they weren't erroneous, Mr Fielding, with 8 8 Q. Well, we've got the note of the meeting that took place respect. Actually they were fundamental to 9 with Mr Pettitt. There's no evidence, Mr Fielding, 9 Ernst & Young staying on as the auditors, weren't they? 10 whatsoever, that you tell Mr Pettitt either of 10 A. I have no idea what E&Y thought about all these strands 11 11 the concerns which E&Y have raised, or that they had of information they were getting from lots of different 12 12 raised the possibility they might have to resign as 13 auditors. You didn't do that, did you? 13 Q. Do you recall having any discussions with E&Y about 14 A. I don't remember raising that with Brian, no. 14 the basis on which they would stay on as auditors? 15 15 Q. Well, didn't you think it was an important matter to A. No, none at all. 16 raise with him, given he was about to go off and do 16 Q. So is this something we would have to speak to 17 the due diligence review at BLMIS the following month? 17 Mr Fiorino about? 18 18 A. I obviously didn't connect those dots, and I'm quite A. You would have to speak to E&Y about it, I think. 19 a long way away from this and this is third-hand from 19 Q. Well, who would have dealt with it at HSSL's end? 20 someone else. 20 A. Obviously Mr Fiorino was in contact. I guess Mr Birgen 21 21 Q. Well, you keep saying you're quite a long way away from was in contact as well. 22 22 Q. So we'd need to speak to them about this, is that what this, but it appears from these documents that 23 Mr Fiorino is treating you as the one he's reporting to 23 you're saying? 24 you on this, I'd suggest. 24 A. There were possibly others too. It could have gone to 25 A. I don't know why he shared it with me, to be honest. 25 -- to others who ran Fund Administration, or Custody

1 A. What they gave was -- was the core information. Now, it 1 Primeo, don't they? 2 2 was quite probable that there were much more detailed A. That was the general statement, that's absolutely right, 3 3 accounts sitting in Madoff but not available for, and I'm using the term specifically to simplify what the 4 you know, handing out to the general public, which, 4 nature of the relationships were. Remember, at that 5 again, was pretty consistent with Brown Brothers 5 time, it was May 2005 -- yes, May 2005 I wrote this, we 6 6 had not yet established all of the documentation from Harriman. The only reason that we had more information 7 7 on that was because we were their banker. the underlying funds. 8 Q. So, do you agree with my question or not, that 8 Q. Now, if we go indeed to $\{N/1286/1\}$, we see 9 9 the Madoff financial statements were rather lacking in the appendix 1 you refer to. It's been heavily 10 10 detail as compared with the financial statements you redacted. Well, this is the appendix to your discussion 11 would normally expect to see from a financial 11 paper? 12 institution of Madoff's purported size? 12 A. Yeah. 13 A. No, what I'm saying is that the documentation we were 13 Q. Ms Coe. And you see it says: 14 given was a summary document only. We didn't actually 14 "Primeo Fund." 1.5 have any full detailed financial statements which 15 And then you set out I think some references to 16 clearly underpinned that, but we didn't have that 16 facilities, and then there's "Total Revenue Before 17 information. And that was something -- I mean, we're 17 Costs". 18 talking March 2005 here -- something that we could have 18 A. Yes, that's correct. 19 looked for if we wanted to, but again, having said that, 19 Q. Can you recall how you put this schedule together? 20 the SEC get regular financial information, there would 20 A. No, I can't. It will have certainly been from 21 have been little benefit to me in terms of assessing 21 the credit facilities that had passed over my desk. 22 22 the risk because I was quite confident we knew what the May 2005 ... but there could be some omissions at the 23 key risks were, and the financial statements, over and 23 time. 24 24 above knowing what the capital of that firm was and its Q. Did you ask someone to identify the funds which were 25 profitability were, would have been of limited use to 25 invested with Madoff? Is that how you put this Page 161 Page 163 1 me, never mind to anyone else. 1 together? 2 2 Q. So you think the financial statements would have been of A. I would have asked my -- my manager on the credit team 3 limited use to you and what you saw was in the nature of 3 to try and identify what funds had got credit 4 a summary document; is that right? 4 facilities, but this was being predominantly the credit 5 5 A. What I saw was a summary document and I don't believe facilities, so I would have seen probably about four or 6 that if I had had 70 pages of financial assessment it 6 five by then and he may have seen another one. 7 7 would have made any difference to my assessment of Q. Just going back to $\{N/1285/1\}$, and the paragraph we were 8 8 the underlying risk. looking at, which is your paragraph, you say: 9 Q. Let's go on to the next document, {N/1285/1}, which is 9 "Essentially assets are placed with BLMIS under 10 tab 207 of core bundle 3. This is a discussion paper --10 a sub-custody agreement." 11 11 A. Yes. So you understood, didn't you, that in the case of 12 12 Q. -- which was produced by you --Primeo and the other funds, the assets were placed with 13 13 BLMIS under the Sub-Custody Agreement? 14 Q. -- in May 2005. Do you recall producing this discussion 14 A. I use the term "essentially", because, again, it was 15 15 getting very complicated to explain the various paper? 16 A. Yes, I do. 16 differences between the various funds in the various 17 Q. If we just look through it, firstly in paragraph 1, you 17 locations. 18 18 describe some background to BLMIS, and then, in Again, it's probably quite useful if I very briefly 19 paragraph 2, to the London company, Madoff Securities 19 just explain. This document was originally designed to 20 International Limited. 20 go to the HSS Management Committee, and the people that 21 21 sit on that committee would -- would neither have Then you see in paragraph 3 you say: 22 "HSS has a relationship with a number of funds ... 22 the time nor the understanding of the detail to -- to 23 that use BLMIS. Essentially assets are placed with 23 appreciate a four or five-page document that went into 24 BLMIS under a sub-custody agreement." 24 the various different structures. So that's why I used 25 25 the word "essentially". I was simplifying it and Now, the funds you're referring to there include

1 using "sub-custody" as a catch-all. round that committee for a very long time, it was my job 2 2 Q. This is an important point, isn't it? You were telling, to make sure those risks were constantly looked at again 3 3 you say, the HSS Management Committee that HSS was and reviewed, and that's what I was doing. 4 essentially in a sub-custodian relationship with BLMIS 4 Q. So if you're right, this is an important document, isn't 5 5 in relation to all funds set out in the appendix, it? You've prepared it for the HSS Management Committee 6 6 and you're identifying the risks for the benefit of that weren't you? 7 7 committee, aren't you? A. No, what I was doing was I was giving them background in 8 order to highlight a number of risks which I'd 8 A. That's correct. 9 9 identified to -- to pave the way to be able to get an --Q. And one of the risks which you identify is the risk to 10 10 an audit firm to go in to do a review, and that was HSS as custodian from assets being held by BLMIS, don't 11 a background paper which set out the risks, but before 11 you agree? 12 12 you can set out the risks, you have to have set out some A. No, what I'm -- what I was identifying was the fact that 13 13 background. we had a lot of credit out there, and we had to ensure 14 Also, the important thing is for the people on that 14 that we understood the nature of both the credit, we 1.5 committee is you have to speak in words that they --1.5 needed to understand the nature of our whole 16 16 relationship, and we had to do that on the background of they can understand and identify, and 17 the term "sub-custodian" would generally be understood 17 a series of risks that I identified. 18 to mean someone else has got the assets. It wouldn't 18 Q. Well, let's go over to the second page, {N/1285/2}, 19 19 because -- look at exactly what risks you identify. You necessarily describe the legal basis on which those 20 assets were held by that other party, it would just be 20 say: 21 a catch-all phrase to say someone else has got 21 "However, there is substantial risk, in the event 22 22 the assets. And that's the way we used it. It wasn't there is any question over the integrity of the process. designed to be legally precise, it was designed to get 23 23 The financial cost of appointing a sub-custodian that we 24 24 cannot exercise a level of due care over, could be 25 Q. Well, you say it's "designed to get attention", but 25 significant; equally so would be the reputational risk." Page 165 Page 167 1 1 there's a fundamental difference, isn't there, so far as So you specifically identify the risk of HSS 2 2 HSSL is concerned, between BLMIS holding the assets not appointing BLMIS as sub-custodian, don't you? 3 as sub-custodian and BLMIS holding the assets as 3 A. Again, it was one of the risks, and -- and it is 4 4 sub-custodian? That is a fundamental difference, isn't a catch-all, because there was also a risk if -- if we 5 5 it, so far as HSSL's liability is concerned? were classifying him as a prime broker, because that 6 A. It's a fundamental difference to the liability, but this 6 will equally carry a number of risks for us. 7 7 document was not designed to discuss liability, this Q. You agree then, do you, that one of the risks you were 8 8 document was designed to point out risks to senior identifying for the HSS Management Committee was 9 9 the risk and the financial cost of having appointed management to get backing to do a review. 10 10 BLMIS as sub-custodian? Q. I suggest, Ms Coe, you seem to be suggesting that 11 11 the label "sub-custodian" is used unthinkingly to cover A. Yes, but it wasn't the only risk. 12 12 a wide variety of situations, but there is a fundamental Q. I'm not saying it was the only risk. 13 distinction, isn't there, between entities which hold 13 A. There was lots of risks. 14 14 assets as sub-custodian for HSSL and entities which Q. I'm not saying it was the only risk, Ms Coe, but you 15 15 don't? agree, don't you, that one of the risks you were 16 A. I'm not suggesting that the legal basis is not 16 identifying for the HSS Management Committee was 17 different. What I'm saying is this document was 17 the risk and potential financial cost of having 18 18 designed for a completely different purpose to the one appointed BLMIS as sub-custodian for these funds? 19 that you're suggesting, and by no -- there's no 19 A. Yes, and I go on to say: 20 implication, I'm very clear in my own mind, the purpose 20 "... we cannot exercise a level of due care ..." 21 21 of this was to ensure that John Gubert was able to talk And that was very fundamental in Dublin with 22 22 to his management committee to get an understanding that 23 23 Q. So you knew, didn't you, that BLMIS had been appointed we needed to carry out a review because there were 24 a number of risks that we'd identified. And whilst 24 as sub-custodian, and that gave rise to risk for HSS, 25 those risks may have been known to a number of people 25 didn't it?

1 Q. If we go over the page to page 40 $\{K/5/40\}$, there's then 1 that the concern and the risk with Madoff is it's all 2 2 a comment at the top of the page: dependent on books and records created internally by 3 3 "But that's the normal thing that custodians do in Madoff, isn't it? 4 fact ..." 4 A. It's all dependent on the fact the whole thing was 5 5 And then it looks like you interject: a sham and he completely fabricated everything, which is 6 6 "Custodians take it that you can't validate that what I -- I explained yesterday --7 7 it's not fabricated piece of information. There is no Q. But that's exactly -- sorry, I don't want to interrupt 8 audit trail, and this is why we actually go to 8 you until you've finished your answer. But that's 9 9 the expense of having this external review, because ..." exactly what you've identified here, isn't it, it's 10 10 And then there's some interruption: the fact that he may just be doing the books and records 11 "... and just do books and records internally to 11 internally to show that this wonderful thing is 12 show that this wonderful thing is happening and because 12 happening, and because not everybody's taking out all 13 13 not everybody has taken their money out all at the same their money at the same time, he's able to keep the show 14 time that's why it is open to the potential for fraud. 14 on the road? 15 I mean it's a perfect structure for fraud." 15 A. Yes, of course. And as we discussed yesterday, what 16 And then Mr Yim tries to say something, but you then 16 I didn't say in this telephone call was the -- was the 17 17 flip side of that consideration, was: however, you will 18 "But It is, I mean it is, I am sorry it is and 18 need an army of people to do that, because it's not just 19 that's why we're all so like 'Woah'. 19 books and records which gives the impression that it's 20 20 "Unidentified Speaker: In a sense that's why we are a simple spreadsheet and it takes somebody about five 21 21 minutes to do, it's the sheer volume of the mechanics of 22 22 "Christine Coe: That's exactly why we're here." doing all of that over so many years, for so many funds, 2.3 23 Mr Yim says: for so many transactions, because it's not just 24 "Yeah, I know, but there is only so much we can 24 the custody side for his investment management 25 25 actually do." activities that would have to be fabricated, it would be 21 23 1 So the point you're making there in the large 1 everything in his broker-dealer operations. And he 2 2 section, I suggest, is there is a concern that Madoff would have to have some real trading, because otherwise 3 may just be creating books and records internally to 3 he wouldn't have the DTC terminal in the first place, he 4 give the impression that investment activity's 4 wouldn't have the type of paperwork that was being 5 5 happening, whereas in fact nothing is taking place; is generated from those terminals, he wouldn't know what 6 that right? 6 the statements from Fidelity or JP Morgan looked like. 7 A. The risk was exactly the same as it was in 1993 and it 7 So there had to be some regular reality going on in 8 8 was the risk that I identified in 2005. So -- so, yes, order for him to know what to replicate, because by law 9 9 of course it's right. The purpose of this tele -- this of averages, if someone goes in there and gets a piece 10 10 meeting was to ensure that the structured finance people of paper and thinks, "Hang on a minute, I know that's 11 understood that risk because they had not necessarily 11 not the current format", it would immediately raise 12 considered real risks in their evaluation, because if 12 alarm bells. 13 they did a performance review and a desktop look at 13 Q. But, Ms Coe, you've identified here, haven't you, 14 the way in which a return might be gained from however 14 the very fact that it may all be based on 15 15 they invested the money, they wouldn't necessarily go cooked up books and records and that BLMIS may be 16 through understanding what sits behind that, and that 16 a Ponzi scheme? 17 was the purpose of dragging them in. 17 A. I think we identified that back in -- in 2005, that one 18 18 of the possible options was that it was all a sham. And it was -- it was two-thirds into the -- to 19 the meeting before I think the penny finally dropped, 19 And, as I say, the protection that I tried to put in 20 that there's more to making investment than just looking 20 place to evaluate that was to see, as far as possible, 21 21 at returns, and so of course I had to be melodramatic, whether those transactions were being -- could be traced 22 22 but I wasn't telling myself or anybody anything that we through and we could get evidence as far as we possibly 23 hadn't known for years. This was always the risk. 23 could from the information that was in BLMIS, and that's 24 Q. I agree you had known this for years, Ms Coe. I don't 24 what I believe KPMG did. 25 25 dispute that. But the issue you've identified here is Q. But the point is, Ms Coe, it's a structural issue, isn't

1 it? As you say yourself, the issue is that it's 1 job. 2 the perfect structure for fraud? 2 Q. So you were looking at it with respect to HSBC's risk 3 3 A. When all roads lead to one person, of course it is. He exposure, weren't you? 4 has control over absolutely everything. And that would 4 A. In terms of the Fund clients, because I did not have 5 5 responsibility for the Structured Finance Group be no different whether it was BLMIS or anybody. And 6 6 as -- again, as I said yesterday, if he'd been a man of directly. 7 7 integrity, then this would have been the best thing Q. Well, you were looking at it in terms of HSBC's exposure 8 ever, because the flip side of -- of the risk, as far as 8 in terms of making lending to these client funds, 9 9 he's concerned, he's controlling something so no one weren't you? 10 else can defraud within his organisation because he has 10 A. That was my principal review, yes, of course. 11 such strong control over it. So, had he been honourable 11 Q. I suggest what you weren't looking at or taking into 12 and had it been genuine, it would have been the best 12 account was the interests of the funds and their 13 13 investment vehicle in the whole of -- in the whole of investors in placing assets into the hands of Madoff? 14 that 20 years. 14 A. Well, if it had -- I think one works to the other, 15 Q. But the point, Ms Coe, is it's a structural issue and 15 because if -- clearly, if we were comfortable to lend 16 16 you have to get to grips with the structure, don't you, credit, then, from the fund's point of view, (a) they 17 17 and do something to resolve the problem? had that credit available so they could still trade, 18 18 which they wouldn't have been able to do without A. Well, we identified what the structural issue was all 19 the way through, and what we -- what we did was to have 19 the credit, and secondly, because we'd been risk 20 20 those reviews done by KPMG for the checks and balances. evaluating it, then -- then there was that -- the -- we 21 We were perfectly aware from the information that I'd 21 had done our duty, I believe, in do -- going as far as 22 22 been given that you couldn't segregate accounts at we could to make sure that that was an operation which 23 23 the DTC, which frankly was the only thing that I believe was genuine. 24 would have helped. But if it's not possible to do that, 24 Q. But you knew these funds had pretty much all of their 25 25 then I was left with no other option than to take that assets held or purportedly held by Madoff, didn't you? 25 27 1 reasonableness approach from the information that --1 A. Well can I knew that some of them did, yes. 2 2 that we had available. Q. So what consideration did you give as to whether it was 3 Q. But the problem here, Ms Coe, is we're now at July 2008, 3 appropriate for those funds to continue with their 4 you have sent KPMG in, they've come back, and you 4 assets being held by Madoff in something which you 5 5 yourself recognise you're left with a situation which is recognise was the perfect structure for fraud? 6 a perfect structure for fraud, in your own words, and 6 A. Well, the managers of those funds were not -- were very 7 7 that it remains the case that there's a risk that Madoff experienced people themselves, and they -- they were all 8 8 is cooking up the books and records internally. Do you people who, from the information I had available, had 9 9 agree? actual wanted to deal with Madoff. And as we've seen 10 10 A. I agree. That was always the risk. from correspondence from people like David Smith and 11 Q. The KPMG report, as you recognised, has only gone so 11 Sonja Kohn, they had no intention of wanting to upset 12 far, hasn't it? The risk and the perfect structure for 12 that relationship. 13 fraud remains, doesn't it? 13 Now, the flip side is, if they were comfortable, 14 A. Yes, but it always did. And we knew there was 14 should I take comfort from that? Well, actually, 15 a limitation for how far KPMG would go, but as someone 15 I didn't. I said no. It is not their view which is 16 who manages risk, you have to make those decisions. And 16 important, it is our evaluation which is important. 17 as I said, in 2005, the environment was such that there 17 But it was quite clear to me that they had 18 18 didn't seem to be external pressures that could drive the necessary skills and they had the necessary 19 Madoff to do something unusual, or illegal, if it had 19 knowledge of Madoff to be able to make their own 20 been genuine. In 2008, that was quite different, and so 20 decisions. 21 21 of course I was upping the ante in 2008 because of Q. What consideration did you yourself give to HSBC's 22 22 everything else that was going on. duties and responsibilities as a custodian at this time? 23 23 Q. When you were assessing this, you were just look looking A. Well, I think that by doing the KPMG reports, we went 24 at it with your credit risk at hat on, weren't you? 24 further than anyone else would have done. I mean, 25 25 A. I was looking at it from credit risk, yes, that was my ordinarily, one would have expected to -- to have done

1 the reviews by your own personnel, and I went to 1 So, at the end of the day, the only thing that could be 2 2 considerable expense to get a forensic expert to go in done here, which is what we were having to do with other 3 3 there and -- and look and to do what I believed was investment banks, was literally trying to ring-fence 4 4 a good job. everything. And if that wasn't possible, as I was led 5 5 Q. Did you think you ought to be telling the funds that to believe, then exit would have been the only other 6 6 you'd formed the view that this was the perfect 7 7 structure for fraud? But of course I'd also got a duty that if we started 8 A. My personal point of view, the funds were well aware of 8 to do that -- and this had been the best thing in 9 9 the structure of Madoff, none of that had changed, and 20 years -- then -- then would those funds have -- have 10 as sophisticated people, who were managing this, then --10 then been saying that we had potentially prohibited them 11 they were well aware of the risks in 2008, they will 11 from making their return? You're a little bit damned if 12 have been alive to the fact that Bear Stearns had -- had 12 you do and damned if you don't sometimes. 13 13 had their problems in March 2008, they would surely not Q. But wasn't the appropriate course for you to go to 14 have been in the position that they were in in 14 the funds and say, "Look, we think there's this 15 the financial services sector if they hadn't got 15 structural issue, we've sent KPMG in, that only gives us 16 16 the capability of making those decisions for themselves. so much comfort, and what we need to do is have 17 We were not investment advisors, we were not investment 17 a separate account or withdraw"? 18 18 managers. A. As I said, all of these funds wanted to deal with 19 19 Q. But you were the custodian, weren't you? Madoff. All of these fund managers had made their own 20 20 A. Yes, and I believe we executed our duty as far as our investigation and evaluation about the Madoff structure. 21 custody relationship was concerned by doing these 21 It is for the Fund managers to advise their investors as 22 22 reviews to whether they believe that that was the right 2.3 23 Q. So, looking at HSBC's duties and position as custodian, investment. 24 I repeat, what consideration did you give as to whether 24 Q. Did you think it was appropriate for HSBC, as 25 25 it was appropriate for the Fund's assets to continue to administrator, to be calculating the NAV on the sole 29 31 1 be held with Madoff? 1 source of information from BLMIS in these circumstances? 2 2 A. Well, I think I've said that we did those reviews, and A. HSBC as administrator, as in other administrators, have 3 I think we went further than anyone else would ever have 3 a lot of funds where information is provided to them 4 4 by -- by the directors of funds. There were a lot of 5 5 Q. So you say you formed the view that it was appropriate assets which can't be priced from pricing sources. In 6 for these funds' assets to continue to be held with 6 this situation, at least we could check pricing. 7 7 Madoff notwithstanding the views you'd reached as Q. Well, but you knew, didn't you, by this stage that 8 8 expressed in this telephone conference? investors were buying in and out of the funds on 9 9 A. As I say, the views that I expressed in this telephone the basis of a NAV solely reliant on information from 10 10 conference were no different to the views I expressed BLMIS, where you yourself are concerned that the books 11 when I first saw this, and I believe that we took 11 and records may have been cooked up? 12 sufficient steps to ensure that the risks were 12 A. Well, they have been buying in and out of the Fund since 13 mitigated. I don't know what else I could have done. 13 1993 on exactly that basis. The risks were the risk, as 14 Q. Did you not think it was incumbent on you to investigate 14 I've said, since 1993. So nothing could actually --15 15 whether changes could be made to the structure so that changed apart from the external market. 16 it was no longer the perfect structure for fraud? 16 Q. What's changed is you yourselves have clearly realised 17 A. It was a little bit binary on the basis that if we 17 here, explicitly, about the fraud risk, haven't you, and 18 18 couldn't get a segregated account at the DTC, we -- we you've also realised that the KPMG report only gives you 19 would have to withdraw. I didn't -- I didn't 19 limited assurance? 20 consider -- and in fact this conversation goes on to --20 A. I don't believe this document says that suddenly 21 21 the light went on in 2008. What I was doing there was to evaluate whether there may be other options and -- by 22 22 putting all the HSBC funds into one account, and I think to share my concerns, my -- my risk evaluation, if you 23 23 I then go on to say, "Well, it might put them all like, in a pretty melodramatic way, because I felt that 24 together but it's still the same problem because it's 24 was the only way I could get across to the structured 25 25 still Madoff which is controlling the whole process". finance people the risks which they may be undertaking.

1 agree? 1 A. And because -- in the bank at that point, I was the --2 2 A. She's coming at broadly a similar issue. I --Brian had been -- Brian Pettitt had been once to see 3 3 I disagree that I had taken no steps with BLMIS, because Mr Madoff, I had -- I had had much more proximity. 4 I had done the due diligence. I had not done 4 Q. Let's have a look at what Mr Gubert was saying in 5 independent evidence, that -- that is clear. 5 the email to you and the others {N/1293/3}: 6 6 Q. Didn't it concern you when you read this that exactly "Thank you for the papers on the above. It strikes 7 the same issue that had previously been identified 7 me that the firm has reasonable capital ... has a solid 8 almost three years earlier was being raised yet again 8 reputation but that we have a flawed process. 9 9 and nothing had been done in the meantime to resolve it? "Although there is no reason to doubt the integrity 10 10 A. It was important -- when I read this again -- my role or professionalism of the Group, the reality is that: 11 was relatively removed at this point, but it was 11 "we do not have full control of the assets or 12 important to me when I saw this that here's somebody 12 real time sight of transaction flows. 13 saying, "There could be a risk, we want to do more 13 "the transactions are all internal to the family 14 work". I think I was particularly concerned on 14 firms and there is no proof of best execution or even 1.5 the credit front of the delay it might take to do 15 actual execution." 16 16 the work, but I was perfectly happy for the work to be And that reflected the fact, didn't it, that HSSL 17 carried out. 17 actually had no proof, other than what was coming from 18 Q. But you knew by this stage -- the issue had been raised 18 BLMIS, that the trades were actually being executed? 19 in October 2002, it had been raised in the 2002 Board 19 A. He's setting out a series of risks that -- that could be 20 meeting, it had been raised in the 2004 Board meeting, 20 there, looking at it with his eyes and his experience, 21 and now, in 2005, senior people within HSS are raising 21 without being close to it, a very similar -- that --22 22 exactly the same issue, aren't they, and in the meantime that particular item he identifies is a very similar one that the Primeo Board had -- had heard about from 23 you had done nothing to resolve it, had you? 23 24 24 A. As I say, I had done the work I had done and I -- I felt the internal control report of Bank Austria. 25 that the situation was okay. I had tried to assist 25 Q. Yes, exactly. It had been raised at the Board meeting, Page 65 Page 67 1 in 2002 by giving all the information to -- to 1 hadn't it, and you had been entirely reassuring to 2 2 Bill Jones, and I -- I think I -- it will be a question the Board on that occasion, hadn't you? 3 perhaps for Ms Coe, but I think I was very co-operative 3 A. I don't know whether this was yesterday or the day 4 in this to the extent I needed to be, given my role was 4 before, but I had given them some facts that I felt were 5 5 somewhat removed. pertinent to that discussion we were having. 6 Q. Well, I'm not sure you were all that co-operative, with 6 Q. Then Mr Gubert goes on: 7 7 respect, Mr Fielding, because if we go over to "the audit is undertaken by a firm that is not on 8 8 {N/1293/1}, we see what your response is. In fact, our recognised list of auditors." 9 9 let's start at page 3 of this document, $\{N/1293/3\}$, So this is someone else, isn't it, expressing doubt 10 10 which will be the first email in the email chain, which about relying on Friehling & Horowitz; do you agree? 11 is an email sent from Mr Gubert. If we go please to 11 A. I don't know that he's expressing doubt. I mean, 12 page 2 and just look at the bottom of that page 12 I think on the -- above he says we have "no reason to 13 {N/1293/2}, you see it's sent from Mr Gubert to Ms Coe, 13 doubt the integrity or professionalism of the Group". 14 and it's copied to Mr Smith, Mr Pettitt, and to you. So 14 I know he's not specifically referring to the auditors 15 15 why are you being copied in on this if you're so far there, he's referring to BLMIS as a whole. He's just 16 removed at this moment? 16 recognising that they're not one of the big four, as it 17 A. I am -- my day-to-day job is quite removed, but I --17 18 18 this is very shortly after I'd handed over it Q. Really? I think he's saying the audit's undertaken by 19 Brian Pettitt the sub due diligence process. 19 a firm that's not on the recognised list of auditors 20 Q. Let's go over to page 3 --20 at all, isn't he? 21 21 A. Plus, if I may, I was heavily involved from the credit A. That -- that is what he is saying, and I know from my 22 transition. 22 experience that there are a few other audit firms, but 23 Q. Is you think you were being copied in on this because 23 for funds, it's one of the big four that's normally --24 you were heavily involved in the credit transition; is 24 normally there, which actually it was for the funds 25 25 that right? anyway, it was E&Y, obviously.

1 Q. What he's saying, I suggest, Mr Fielding, is that is Q. What I suggest Mr Gubert was suggesting ought to be done 2 2 that: we don't know these auditors and there is an issue here was a process whereby spot checks are carried out 3 3 about relying on them. That's exactly what he's saying, of Madoff; do you agree? 4 isn't it? 4 A. We know where this goes, but he's saying: I want --5 A. He's identifying as one of the possible things that he's 5 one -- one option here is for our auditors to go in and 6 6 thinking about from a risk perspective: we don't know -do a review. And it's interesting that in this 7 7 we don't know anything about this audit firm. penultimate paragraph, what he's clearly talking about 8 Q. He's not just identifying it as a possible thing he's 8 is credit risk again. 9 9 thinking about, he's saying: this is a problem, isn't Q. Well, let's -- I'm sorry, Mr Fielding, you make that 10 10 point. Let's look a couple of paragraphs up: it, because we don't know who these auditors are and 11 there's an issue about relying on them? 11 "We appoint BLMIS as our sub custodian and expect 12 A. It's one of the factors he's taking into account in 12 them, according to the documentation, to exercise 13 13 the duty of care expected of a reasonable professional writing this email. 14 Q. If we go to the bottom of that page, the penultimate 14 sub custodian for hire. We appoint them from Dublin and 15 paragraph, you see he concludes: 1.5 appear to have a fiduciary duty to the underlying 16 16 "I cannot countenance this process - and investors." 17 17 He's not merely making a credit point, is he, he's I appreciate it is a major money earner - unless we can 18 adopt the process common in banking in the USA where 18 concerned about the fact that BLMIS has been appointed 19 19 liens (rather than absolute title and possession) are sub-custodian and HSSL has duties to the investors? 20 20 A. I think he's making the credit point in the penultimate adopted. Under that process, we - or our delegate -21 could arrive unannounced at the client office to assess 21 paragraph, because I -- I imagine Ms Coe has briefed him 22 22 that all security was in place as advised. I appreciate in -- in the paper -- I think we've seen the paper, that 23 23 Madoff does not like external 'intrusion' and am willing there are actually credit facilities to a large number 24 24 for this to be undertaken by our auditors (at our cost). of these funds. He does, it's correct, make the point 25 25 in relation to Dublin, which I guess -- I think may be "If this cannot be done, then we should exit Page 69 Page 71 1 the relationship." 1 just one fund -- that there may also be there, subject 2 2 A number of points on that. First of all, to looking at it, some sort of fiduciary duty. 3 the relationship with BLMIS was a major money earner, 3 Q. What I suggest Mr Gubert is suggesting ought to be 4 wasn't it, for HSS? 4 carried out here is an ability to undertake spot checks 5 5 A. It's not the relationship with BLMIS, it's of BLMIS; do you agree? 6 the relationship with the clients. 6 A. No. No, I don't agree. What he's saying is: I think we 7 Q. Well, the relationship with the clients that was 7 want to do a review. He's saying that we would need to 8 8 dependent on BLMIS was a major money earner for HSS, be able to turn up, if we wanted to, to get -- well, he 9 wasn't it? 9 says "turn up", maybe "issue instructions" might be 10 A. The clients who had appointed BLMIS, if you add them all 10 another way of putting it, to ensure we can get our 11 up, produced a reasonable income. Actually, in 11 security for our credit facilities. 12 the scale of HSS, it wasn't a massive amount, but 12 Q. So when he says: 13 I think I've seen somewhere it's around 4 million 13 "Under that process, we - or our delegate - could 14 14 arrive unannounced at the client office to assess that 1.5 15 Q. Well, Mr Gubert appears to regard it as a major money all security was in place as advised." 16 earner, doesn't he, for HSS? 16 You don't think that was a reference to unannounced 17 A. That's what he says. 17 spot checks, do you? 18 Q. When you say 4 million, that's pretty much all profit, 18 A. It's not suggest -- I don't think he's suggesting that 19 isn't it? The margin on this business is so high, that 19 they actually take place, but that that is something we 20 of the 4 million income, a huge proportion of that is 20 would want to have the right to do because the security 21 for the credit facilities is held there. But I'm not straightforward profit, isn't it? 21 22 A. I -- I think we've seen Thema and we've seen maybe 22 saying he's not suggesting that any form of review 23 23 Primeo have very good profit margins. shouldn't be taken. We clearly know that a review got 24 24 Q. It's an extremely profitable business this, isn't it? commissioned. 25 A. It's a good profit margin -- very good profit margin. 25 Q. I suggest what he's very clearly suggesting here,

1 Mr Fielding, is that a process ought to be put in 1 A. -- and look at it, because we -- we know Brian has been 2 2 applies whereby BLMIS agrees to unannounced spot checks in in -- I think it's April. We're now only in June. 3 3 taking place, and if that isn't done, there ought to be you know, there could become a risk of overload review, 4 an exit of the relationship. 4 BLMIS getting upset talking to the clients. So I simply 5 5 A. He's saying that it would be right to have a process in say, which I think is actually very helpful to 6 6 place, where we would arrive unannounced, if we wanted the review, let's talk to the clients. 7 7 Q. But what you're most concerned about, and I suggest this to, to check that the security was there. 8 Q. And no such arrangement was ever put in place, was it, 8 is a pervading theme, is about not upsetting the clients 9 9 with BLMIS? There was no arrangement agreed with BLMIS and not upsetting BLMIS; that's right, isn't it? 10 10 whereby HSBC or anyone on its behalf could make un A. Not upsetting the relationship that the clients have 11 announced spot checks, was there? 11 12 12 A. I actually don't know. Q. And that's the reason why you hadn't done anything 13 13 Q. If we go to $\{N/1293/1\}$, and we have your response to previously to obtain independent confirmation, isn't it? 14 Mr Smith and Mr Wilcockson: 14 A. No, I think I've answered this before, that I was 15 1.5 "Having spoken to Chris Coe, what she wants to do is satisfied with what I had done, I had helped Mr --16 send in another audit firm, eg KPMG, to perform an 16 Mr Jones -- to position him to do that review. 17 operations/security review at our cost. I think a key 17 Q. Now, you recall following this that the decision was 18 question is whether to inform clients and/or plan how to 18 then made to instruct KPMG to carry out a type of review 19 19 respond if Madoff calls them and they call our offices. in relation to BLMIS. I assume you remember that? 20 If I were Madoff I think I would have some difficulty 20 A. I do remember that. 21 understanding why after Brian did a review that HSBC 21 Q. And you commented, didn't you, on the draft letter of 22 22 want to send in another team to probe further and engagement to be sent to KPMG? 23 23 A. The primary carriage of this was with Chris Coe. She I would probably call my clients [someone] is 24 a particularly sensitive client when it comes to Madoff 24 sent it to me. I did have a quick look through it. 25 and I imagine him responding that he does not agree (not 25 I think I made one or two comments. Page 73 Page 75 1 that it is his choice). However, I suppose this is 1 Q. If we go to $\{N/1357/2\}$ we see your email to Chris Coe. 2 2 a better risk than having John insist we exit all I think this is in around, now, August 2005. We'll just 3 accounts where Madoff is sub-custodian. It would be 3 look at your comments and then we'll look at the version 4 better if the clients acknowledged [support] of 4 of the engagement letter in a moment. You see, 5 5 the action. If you agree, we have three main clients to under "Scope": 6 address." 6 "... not sure what the references to Madoff's 7 7 related sub-custodian entity relate to, did Brian So, first point, yet again, you're clearly of 8 8 the view that BLMIS is sub-custodian, aren't you? determine that Madoff has a sister entity involved? 9 9 A. No, I disagree. Also, I did not envisage we were getting all clients to 10 10 Q. Well, that's what you very clearly say in this email, consent, rather Paul and I would infer all 11 11 isn't it, Mr Fielding? the significant ones. As Madoff is contracted as 12 12 A. I used those words. We've started to use words like sub-custodian to us I don't believe we specifically need 13 that. What I'm saying is there is a sub-custodian 13 client consent, though clearly there support and 14 14 understanding is important in the situation." agreement. 15 15 So I suggest that your understanding at this time Q. Now, the other point is it's fair to say that you're 16 actually not particularly enthusiastic about Mr Gubert's 16 was that because there were sub-custodian agreements in 17 suggestion, are you? 17 place, and because BLMIS was the sub-custodian, you had 18 18 A. That's not correct. I -- I am putting a client reaction a right to carry out this work without the need to obtain client consent; do you agree? 19 hat on. I think we know from very early on the clients 19 20 are very sensitive to their relationship and maintaining 20 A. I think it's exactly as I state: because there was 21 21 the relationship with BLMIS, so all I'm saying is, a contract with BLMIS as sub-custodian, I think we could 22 22 go -- we could ask a firm to go in, but it would be you know, we've got to think about this both from 23 the clients and therefore their interaction with 23 better to talk to the clients, given the overall 24 BLMIS --24 25 25 Q. 1 his Lordship concludes that you did intend that. And my 1 subject? 2 2 question to you is that, in those circumstances, MR SMITH: Broadly. It would be convenient if you would 3 3 wouldn't a very important thing to have considered be like to break now, my Lord. 4 whether it would be possible to get independent 4 MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: Shall we take a break. We'll 5 confirmation of the information as to securities and 5 resume in 10 minutes. 6 6 trades. (11.24 am) 7 7 A. At the risk of repeating, I don't agree with (A short break) 8 the assumption. But working on the assumption we were 8 (11.37 am) 9 9 MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: Yes. trying to bring in the assets and be liable for them, 10 10 MR SMITH: Thank you, my Lord. I think we probably would have done more work. Whether 11 it would have been independent confirmation, or sending 11 Mr Fielding, I was about to ask you about the email 12 in -- getting a more detailed review done, exactly what 12 chain discovered to us yesterday, which I think you have 13 form I don't know. I do agree more work would -- would 13 a copy of in front of you, and I hope there's a copy in 14 probably have had to be done. 14 front of my Lord as well. 1.5 Q. What sort of detailed review do you think might have 15 MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: Yes, thank you. 16 16 been done? MR SMITH: Mr Fielding, just looking at that first of all, 17 A. I mean, we really are twisting away from the fact that 17 on the second page, do you see that, on 22 August, 18 he's a broker-dealer. Maybe we would have asked for 18 there's an email from Mr Young, who we know is in 19 19 a more thorough internal control review, or something Dublin, and you've obviously forwarded to him by this 20 like that. 20 stage a copy of the due diligence questionnaire you'd 21 Q. Done by a major accountancy firm? 21 obtained. Do you see that? 22 22 A. It could have gone towards what we later know as A. I see that. 23 the KPMG review. It's one option. There could have 23 Q. Then above that there's a further email from Mr Brady, 24 been a range of things. 24 who I think was managing director of the Irish business, 25 Q. But anyway, I think you say you would have looked at 25 wasn't he? Page 59 Page 57 1 addressing in some way the issue which arose from 1 A. I think he was Managing Director of the Bank of Bermuda 2 2 the fact that BLMIS was the sole source of information entities in Dublin. 3 as to the securities and trades; do you agree? 3 Q. What he was seeking, or what he thought ought to be 4 4 A. It's actually very difficult to address, because this is obtained, was independent confirmation that the Thema 5 5 the situation. He's the managed account manager. He is assets in custody are not commingled with Madoff's prime broker assets; do you see? 6 the sole source. That's the structure that was set up. 6 7 7 We know that structure exists in the market. Others do 8 8 it. So you -- you either have two choices: either you Q. I think, if we just follow the page over, there's then 9 go in and you do more detailed review work, or you 9 a further email from Mr Young at the bottom of the page. 10 10 actually stand back and say, "Actually, we need to Then, on 11th September, he emails you saying: 11 11 change this structure". "When you get back, maybe you could look at this 12 12 Q. Do you remember, following your visit in July 2002, that again. What is required is independent auditor's 13 certain parts of Bank of Bermuda were not happy with 13 confirmation that the assets are not commingled. 14 14 the due diligence which you had carried out in relation Madoff's representation is not enough annual audited 15 15 to BLMIS? accounts of Madoff." 16 A. I don't think I agree with that characterisation. 16 Now, it looks like, by this stage, you have been 17 I suspect it refers to Dublin. But I think they were 17 charged with responsibility for carrying out due 18 18 actually very happy that I'd gone to do due diligence, diligence on Madoff generally, haven't you? A. I haven't been charged with it per se, nobody asked me. 19 but they had some additional things they wanted. 19 20 Q. | 1 | for some further information. | 1 | were doing, an independent audit. |
|----|---|----|--|
| 2 | Q. Well, they're asking you to do more, aren't they? | 2 | MR SMITH: It is, exactly, taking a view about |
| 3 | A. They're setting out what they require. | 3 | Friehling & Horowitz, and one sees how it develops. |
| 4 | Q. What they're seeking, according to your email at the top | 4 | I don't want to jump ahead too far, but that's obviously |
| 5 | of the page, is some form of independent audit in | 5 | where we get to. |
| 6 | relation to the Thema assets; do you agree? | 6 | So what's being discussed at this stage, I think you |
| 7 | A. That's correct. | 7 | agree, is the possibility of some form of independent |
| 8 | Q. You say, in response to that question: | 8 | audit in relation to the Thema assets; correct? |
| 9 | "BTDL" | 9 | A. It is correct, to get some sort of independent audit of |
| 10 | Which we know is Bermuda Trust (Dublin) Limited: | 10 | segregation, and the question is specifically to ensure |
| 11 | " should request this via the client or the | 11 | that BLMIS is not commingling his own assets with client |
| 12 | external auditor. The external auditor of the Lux funds | 12 | assets. |
| 13 | with Madoff did this as a matter of course." | 13 | Q. It's not really a question of commingling, is it? An |
| 14 | Now, what was that a reference to? | 14 | independent audit necessarily involves some sort of |
| 15 | A. So that's a reference to me saying: if you've got | 15 | confirmation that the asset exists, doesn't it? |
| 16 | a fund, Thema, it's got an auditor I don't know which | 16 | A. That's not what it says in in this particular series |
| 17 | firm it was for Thema, exactly they should go and | 17 | of emails. I think Mr Brady's quite clear he's looking |
| 18 | and enquire about this, and I'm pointing out that in | 18 | at and I think Mr Young also says, he uses |
| 19 | Luxembourg for the clients that invest with BLMIS, | 19 | the word "commingling". |
| 20 | the external auditor of those funds, which is | 20 | Q. If we look at your response, you certainly understand |
| 21 | Ernst & Young, is is doing that, is getting that | 21 | this as an independent audit in relation to the Thema |
| 22 | confirmation from Madoff or Madoff's auditors. | 22 | assets, don't you, Mr Fielding? |
| 23 | Q. But what this is referring to, isn't it, is an | 23 | A. I'm responding in what's in the emails below, which is |
| 24 | independent audit of the assets held at Madoff; correct? | 24 | independent confirmation that the assets are segregated. |
| 25 | A. Correct. | 25 | Q. Well, I suggest any form of independent audit is going |
| 1 | Q. Ernst & Young had not carried out, had they, an | 1 | to involve some form of check that the assets actually |
| 2 | independent audit of the assets held at Madoff? | 2 | exist, doesn't it? |
| 3 | A. I don't know what they had done, but I do know they had | 3 | A. Not necessarily at this stage, because that's not what |
| 4 | followed a procedure to go to the auditor of BLMIS, | 4 | Dublin are asking. |
| 5 | which they presumably considered to be independent. | 5 | Q. Are you seriously suggesting that what was being |
| 6 | Q. Well, I think | 6 | contemplated here was simply instructing someone to go |
| 7 | MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: Mr Smith, we do know that at some | 7 | along to BLMIS, look at BLMIS' books, see that |
| 8 | stage they instructed Friehling & Horowitz, didn't they? | 8 | the assets were held in two separate ledgers and then |
| 9 | MR SMITH: We do. | 9 | report back? Is that seriously what you're saying was |
| 10 | That's my very next question. We know what they'd | 10 | in your mind at this stage. |
| 11 | done, in fact, was essentially to rely on | 11 | A. I don't know whether it would just have been looking at |
| 12 | Friehling & Horowitz, don't we? | 12 | BLMIS' records, or even going further than that, but |
| 13 | A. I don't know if that was the only thing, but yes, they | 13 | looking for the the segregation through the chain, to |
| 14 | did rely on that. | 14 | the extent it was right to segregate through the chain |
| 15 | MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: I mean, in principle, that is an | 15 | the asset pools. |
| 16 | independent audit, isn't it? | 16 | Q. Exactly. So the auditor would be looking at the chain |
| 17 | MR SMITH: What we're going to come to, my Lord, is just | 17 | of title, wouldn't he, to confirm the assets existed, |
| 18 | show the view that was reached within GFS in response to | 18 | and that there was appropriate segregation at each part |
| 19 | this email chain that that wasn't sufficient and what | 19 | of the chain? |
| 20 | they needed to do was send in the .bank's own auditors. | 20 | A. I don't know that they would necessarily go and |
| 21 | That's what this is leading up to. | 21 | double-check the assets themselves. They could do that, |
| 22 | MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: Right. But that's taking a view | 22 | but actually they may approach it from a control point |
| 23 | about Friehling & Horowitz. | 23 | of view and say let's say they went to |
| 24 | MR SMITH: It is, exactly. | 24 | Friehling & Horowitz or any independent party to |
| 25 | MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: But in principle that's what they | 25 | say: how is Madoff structured, does he keep things |

Sorry, you're quite right, I'm looking at the wrong 3 20 September back to Mr Young. In relation to the first 4 4 page. It begins with an email from Mr Young to you of pointers you say: 5 5 "I think I responded to your first point before. 19 September. 6 MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: Before we go on to that, have we 6 I fully agree it makes sense for each fund with Madoff 7 7 got a number for this email? to have audit certification of those assets run by 8 8 MR SMITH: We haven't at the moment --Madoff where they are material in the portfolio." 9 MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: But we will have in due course --9 What did you mean by "audit certification of those 10 MR SMITH: We will have, and I will let your Lordship know. 10 assets run by Madoff"? 11 11 I don't believe it's gone into --A. I could have been referring to segregation, or I could 12 MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: Don't worry about that now. 12 have been, again, thinking about what Ernst & Young did 13 MR SMITH: So, on 19 September, Mr Young emails you. He 13 in Luxembourg, going directly to Madoff's -- BLMIS' 14 14 auditors to get effectively a confirmation of 15 15 "On the basis that you are responsible for GFS due the assets, or certification of the assets. It could 16 diligence in relation to Madoff as Sub-Custodian ..." 16 have been either. 17 And one assumes that reads "Thema assets", do you 17 Q. Well, is that right? Because if we just look on, you 18 see that? 18 say: 19 19 A. I see that. "This is a matter for the relationship office to 20 Q. So, at this stage, he at least is of the view that 20 arrange. | 11 | MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: And who is it addressed to? | 11 | A. My understanding from the completion of |
| 12 | I think don't we need to go back to the previous | 12 | the questionnaire is that one of the one of the items |

| 15 | and at the bottom of the page, line 27, you see | 15 | again, my recollection was that the answer was there was |
| 16 | MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: So it's Ann Meehan to | 16 | a segregated account. Which was a very standard |
| 17 | Brian Pettitt. | 17 | question that we would ask in any due diligence |
| 18 | MR SMITH: Exactly. Ann Meehan, who is described as: | 18 | questionnaire, that there was a segregation between |

A. I see that. 1.5 A. I don't think I can say that. 1.5 Q. So at this stage Ernst & Young were expressing concern 16 16 about the reliability and independence of Q. So you think there is a difference; is that right? 17 A. I can't -- I can't clearly say whether there is. I took 17 Friehling & Horowitz. 18 guidance on what might be appropriate, I got the due 18 A. I think this is coming to me indirectly. It's not E&Y 19 19 diligence questionnaire, I had previous experience, and talking to me, this is Mr Fiorino relaying something 20 I -- I felt I was doing a good, proper due diligence. 20 that he had understood from a meeting he had apparently 21 Is it exactly the same as what somebody who was doing 21 had, or a conversation he'd had with E&Y. Now, one of the things we say they should have in 8 Tab 207 of the core bundle. You see in the first 8 fact have done is to carry out a SAS 70 review is to 9 9 send KPMG in to do that, exactly that, which would have and second paragraphs a certain description of BLMIS, 10 10 been the comprehensive review of the controls and and then in the third paragraph: 11 "HSS has a relationship with a number of funds 11 systems, and that's actually when she identifies here as 12 needs to be done. It wasn't in fact what was done. 12 (appendix 1) that use BLMIS." 13 13 Well, sadly the appendix hasn't been discovered, but One of the other interesting things about this, just 14 14 one assumes it would include Primeo: by way of aside, is that none of the individuals in 15 1.5 "Essentially assets are placed with BLMIS under Luxembourg appear to have told either Ms Coe or 16 16 Mr Gubert, or indeed Mr Pettitt, about the concerns a sub-custody agreement. Records of transactions by 17 client are sent by BLMIS to the HSS custodian so that 17 which had been expressed by Ernst & Young. Now, that 18 our books and records can be updated. This is NOT 18 was a relatively significant episode, in my submission, 19 19 which appears to have led to Ernst & Young expressing a real time process." 20 20 some concerns and about a change in the approach for And she then refers in the next paragraph to some of 21 the FX lines that are in place and refers to the fact 21 giving the custody confirmation essentially to allay 22 22 that they rely on a right to make a free of payment those concerns and to allow Ernst & Young to continue 23 delivery request to BLMIS to return assets to 23 with its audit and sign off the financial statements. 24 24 MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: Why do you infer the Bank Austria the charged custody account. 25 "BLMIS enters into a series of options ... Whilst we 25 personnel were not aware of those concerns? We made the application to 14 14 comfortable with a lack of real independent evidence of Mr Justice McMillan, he dismissed it, he took 15 15 a different view from your Lordship as to the law in the trading of clients assets. Further, given our duty 16 as custodian, are we potentially at risk from any 16 that respect 17 regulatory obligations we may have? 17 So far as the Bank Austria documents are concerned, 18 18 we will see what the Court of Appeal says about it, and "There are substantial relationships here, which 19 19 have operated with Bank of Bermuda for some time. It's much more useful to see the documents. instructed, but they weren't instructed either to carry 3 3 out an independent audit to confirm the assets managed What he seems to be saying is: well, the way to deal 4 with this is to have a right to be able to make by BLMIS, which is what the GFS board had identified as 5 unannounced spot check visits on BLMIS where you just 5 being required --MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: Only Madoff could instruct them to 6 6 come in unannounced and spot check the systems, which he seems to understand is this process common in banking in 7 7 8 the US where you can arrive to check your security, it 8 MR SMITH: Well, you would need Madoff's consent, certainly, 9 9 for that to be done, because you would need access to appears, and certainly that seems to be his 10 understanding, and what he seems to be proposing 10 information and documents to corroborate and confirm. 11 is: well, actually what we ought to be doing here is 11 But they didn't even try to do that, and KPMG also 12 weren't instructed to carry out a SAS 70 review, which 12 adopting that process and being able to arrive 13 13 unannounced at BLMIS's offices and do a check. is the other thing Ms Coe herself identified. 14 14 He then concludes: What they were instructed to carry out was a "review 1.5 "If this cannot be done, then we should exit 15 of fraud risks". That's what they were told to do. And 16 16 that's a big difference. And -the relationship." MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: Well, a SAS 70 would have been 17 Now, that was his conclusion therefore. He said: do 17 18 this or exit relationship. 18 a much longer process. 19 19 MR SMITH: Yes. There was then a telephone conversation that took 20 place on 6 June between Mr Fielding and Ms Coe, which is 20 MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: Which would have taken a lot of 21 in the next tab, tab 209, {N/1299/1}. It's very heavily 21 time and cost a lot more than that. 22 22 MR SMITH: Yes, it would have been a rigorous process. redacted, but when we get to page 6 {N/1299/6}, it looks 23 23 One of the points we'll come to is, in our like the discussion they're having then turns to 24 the question of BLMIS and Mr Madoff. And what Ms Coe 24 submission, it is normal for a sub-custodian to be 25 25 the subject to a SAS 70 review. That's something one says is: Page 193 Page 195 1 "The biggest single concern is the whole process, 1 ordinarily expects, in our submission, and I'll show 2 2 once it gets into Madoff's hands, is fairly incestuous your Lordship some materials on that. But 3 within Madoff and their internal control system, which 3 Bank of Bermuda obviously had their own SAS 70 reviews 4 is done by ... it's sort of a page and a half long, 4 carried out, and one sees the rigour, and it's 5 5 isn't it, it's not really SAS 70 or even FAC 21 level. a substantial operation. It is a substantial report, but that's the sort of thing that's required. 6 And it's also done by his mate, the accountant, it's not 6 7 7 Now, what happened instead, KPMG were instructed to really independent enough to give us a level of 8 8 independent comfort that we would ordinarily look to. carry out a review of fraud risks, and that, in our 9 9 submission, is a very big difference, and I'll show "So the suggestion that I put to John was, look, 10 10 this earns up 4 million or thereabouts, according to your Lordship in a moment the caveats on their report. 11 11 the figures which have been presented to us." It's also interesting, we've now got some evidence from 12 12 Then she goes on, we see in the next paragraph, to Mr Yim, who's one of the partners at KPMG who carried 13 refer to: 13 out the report. He didn't co-operate with us initially, 14 14 " ... Madoff may not want us crawling all over his we got an order from the English court that he provide 15 15 operation ... but would he be willing to allow an a witness statement. He has done that and put it in 16 independent firm to come in, not to divulge any 16 under a hearsay notice. It's very interesting --17 proprietary information to us, but to confirm that there 17 MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: I haven't read that yet. 18 18 is integrity within the process, a sufficient degree of MR SMITH: No, you won't have done. I mean, your Lordship 19 independence to say this is kosher, for want of a better 19 might want a copy overnight, perhaps, to have a look at, 20 word? And we could pay for it, because otherwise we 20 because it's a very interesting statement, because he 21 21 could be looking at losing 4 million dollars of revenue takes issue directly with a lot of what Ms Coe says in 22 and therefore to pay maybe 100 grand to KPMG or 22 his witness statement about what the KPMG report was 23 23 a PwC might be worthwhile." intending to do --24 24 So that's where they get to, and actually the way MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: I have Christine Coe's recent 25 25 witness statement that comments on what Mr Yim said -it's said to take it forward is: let's instruct KPMG to

So is the answer to my question yes, or is it no? 14 the expression that Madoff is the sub-custodian of HSS, 1.5 A. I was involved insofar as I would have started a process 1.5 because that's what you believed, wasn't it? 16 16 A. I used that language because people then can identify 17 Q. So you do remember being involved with this, is that 17 a sub-custodian holds assets and we don't, and it 18 right? 18 doesn't mean that those assets are part of a legal chain 19 19 A. Yes. or a legal contract, it just means he's got the assets, 20 O. If we look at a document, core bundle 5, tab 296. 20 we haven't, and therefore we have to do things. | 11 | I don't think we have. | 11 | bundle, my Lord. The following day, on 15th March, |
| 12 | So you see there, my Lord, Ernst & Young have come | 12 | Mr Fiorino sends an email to Mr Fielding, and you'll see |
| 13 | forward, they've raised some concerns, they've raised | 13 | what he says: |
| 14 | serious concerns, including as to whether it's all | 14 | "Nigel,. |
| 15 | fictitious and whether the assets actually exist. | 15 | "Spoke to Chris and Nigel. I wanted your opinion on |

| 18 | in fact dealt with was that the custody confirmation, | 18 | And then quotes in the next paragraph the email |
| 19 | rather than being sought from BLMIS, was to be sought | 19 | that's been received from Ernst & Young requesting |
| 20 | from HSBC going forwards. That was the way the matter | 20 | the confirmation which we saw a moment ago: |

| 1 | confirmation, so that E&Y didn't have to be worried | 1 | 'historically we didn't work this way' - which is |
| 2 | about relying on Friehling & Horowitz, because they | 2 | a stupid answer that will raise concerns and in conflict |
| 3 | could instead rely on a confirmation given by HSBC. | 3 | with the fact that. |
| 4 | You see this in the documents if we go, please, to | 4 | "- a sub Custody Agreement dated 2004 is is in place |
| 5 | $\{N/1178/1\}$, 184 of the core bundle. There's an email at | 5 | in which Madoff agrees to the sub-custodian's |
| 6 | the bottom of the page of 8 March from Ernst $&$ Young to | 6 | responsibilities and segregation of assets etc. |
| 7 | Mr Fiorino and the individual from Ernst & Young says | 7 | "- due diligence seems to have taken place in |
| 8 | this: | 8 | July 2002 and March 2004 (maybe more - I don't know)." |
| 9 | "Further to our discussions in relation to | 9 | That's a reference to the two Mr Fielding visits to |
| 10 | the Madoff accounts of several funds, I noted that HSBC | 10 | BLMIS, which we've seen: |
| 11 | (or Bank of Bermuda) has entered into a sub-custodian | 11 | "By signing we don't comment on the advisory/trading |
| 12 | agreement dated" | 12 | part of how they achieve profitability." |
| 13 | And I don't know why that's been redacted but it | 13 | And then over the page, {N/1184/6}: |
| 14 | has: | 14 | "Do you see an objection to us providing, for |
| 15 | " with Bernard Madoff for a number of funds that | 15 | the first time, custody confirmation for Madoff for |

1 that actually the person who was centrally involved was 1 Again, my Lord, this is a situation where we do 2 2 Mr Fiorino, and probably together with Mr Birgen and submit, in line with the authorities, your Lordship is 3 3 Mr Wilcockson. So that we do suggest is an important entitled to, and indeed required, to draw inferences 4 and somewhat remarkable feature of the evidence. We'll 4 both as to Mr May's state of mind and as to the state of 5 5 come to what its ramifications are. mind of his colleagues within the second defendant as to 6 6 the understanding of Mr May and Mr Fiorino when they My Lord, the decision not to call Mr May is equally 7 7 if not more remarkable. He's someone else who's signed the 2002 and 2004 Sub-Custody Agreements, that 8 currently an employee and a director at the second 8 they had both been signatories to those agreements, and 9 9 defendant, so there's no reason at all why he couldn't also as to the failure of Mr Fiorino to take any steps 10 10 have been called to give evidence. He was a managing to resolve Ernst & Young's concerns but instead to issue 11 director of the second defendant from 2001 to 2007. He 11 a custody confirmation to be sent out to Ernst & Young 12 was a member of the Credit Committee. Your Lordship 12 because, as he says, there was a sub-custody agreement 13 13 will have seen he received many of the relevant credit in place. So, my Lord, that is a very important aspect 14 application memoranda. He was a member of the GFS Board 14 of the evidence, and, my Lord, we're going to come back 1.5 involved in the decision in October 2002 to obtain 1.5 to that as we look at those particular matters. 16 16 MR JUSTICE ANDREW JONES: Well, I've got the point, the independent audit confirmation to be provided by 17 KPMG, and he was actually the very person whom 17 Mr Smith. 18 Mr Fielding told that he had in hand the carrying out of 18 MR SMITH: So, my Lord, that's all I really wanted to say 19 19 that decision to obtain independent audit confirmation. about the evidence. Let's turn on, then, to the next 20 He was then Ms Coe's deputy in London. And then, 20 topic, which is the analysis of the custodian and 21 my Lord, not only that, he was the author of the email 21 the Sub-Custody Agreements. 22 22 sent in December 2008, which your Lordship will see at My Lord, we deal with this really beginning at 23 23 paragraph 547, {P/23/180}, and onwards of our written {N/2710/1}, first of all. 24 Your Lordship will be familiar with these emails, 24 submission, because we submit the starting point is 25 which is an exchange that took place between Mr May and 25 the 1993 Custodian Agreement entered into in Page 9 Page 11 1 Mr Ford once the balloon had gone up in December 2008. 1 December 1993 and, as your Lordship knows, governed by 2 2 "Worse - we suspected but never pinned it down. Not Cayman Islands law. 3 even hindsight, just not enough courage to walk away 3 My Lord, if we just turn that up, just to remind 4 4 from what was not understood ..." ourselves of the relevant provisions, it's in bundle 5 And then at the bottom of the page: 5 F behind divider 3. {F/3/1}. So your Lordship has 6 "Another case where all our suspicions were right." 6 the document. It's dated 21 December 1993 between 7 7 And equally {N/2716/1}, you have the same exchange, Primeo and the second defendant. 8 8 this time with Mr Ford's response at the top: My Lord, just looking at the clauses, the critical 9 9 clause, in our submission, is clause 2 of the agreement, "Always too afraid to lose the revenue, but the 10 business should pay more attention to the view of Risk." 10 on the second page $\{F/3/2\}$, dealing with the appointment 11 11 We specifically pleaded those emails in of the custodian. My Lord, there's two critical 12 12 the statement of claim, we specifically identified features, we'd suggest, of that provision. Fairfield Sentry Limited ("Sentry") and Fairfield Sigma Limited ("Sigma"), by and through Kenneth Krys and Charlotte Caulfield (together with their predecessors, the "Foreign Representatives"), and Kenneth Krys and Charlotte Caulfield (together with Sentry and Sigma, the "Plaintiffs"), solely in their capacities as the Liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and the Foreign Representatives of the liquidation proceedings involving Sentry, Sigma, and Fairfield Lambda Limited ("Lambda," together with Sentry and Sigma, the "Funds" or the "Debtors") pending before the Commercial Division of the Eastern Caribbean High Court of Justice, British Virgin Islands (the "BVI Court"), for their complaint against Defendants, allege the following based on personal knowledge or information derived from the Funds' books and records or from other sources, including, inter alia, court filings and statements of governmental agencies and other parties.

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

- 1. This action and similar actions are brought by the Plaintiffs, with the approval of the foreign court having jurisdiction over the matter, to recover payments made to shareholders for the redemption of shares in the Funds prior to December 2008.
- 2. The Funds were created as a means for private investment in managed accounts with Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC ("BLMIS"), the brokerage business that Bernard L. Madoff used to perpetrate his massive Ponzi scheme. Sentry was the largest of all so-called "feeder funds" to maintain accounts with BLMIS. Sigma and Lambda were indirect BLMIS feeder funds established for foreign currency investments (respectively, Euro and Swiss Franc investments) through purchases of shares of Sentry. Sentry's account statements with BLMIS as of the end of October 2008 showed in excess of $6 billion of assets supposedly held by BLMIS for Sentry. As stated in their offering materials, the Funds' investment objective was to achieve capital appreciation of assets through investments in BLMIS (directly, in the case of Sentry; and indirectly, through Sentry, in the cases of Sigma and Lambda).

10-03635-jpm Doc 296 Filed 04/12/17 Entered 04/12/17 18:15:42 Main Document Pg 70 of 317

- 3. It is now known that these types of feeder funds were essential to the perpetration of Madoff's Ponzi scheme. In order for the Ponzi scheme to operate, Madoff required a continuous flow of new investors and investments to be able to satisfy redemption requests from early investors. Feeder funds, such as Sentry (which was a direct feeder fund into BLMIS), and Sigma and Lambda (which were indirect feeder funds, through Sentry, into BLMIS), brought new investors into this scheme, allowing Madoff to make payments to early investors and thereby creating and perpetuating the illusion that BLMIS was engaged in a successful investment strategy and actively trading securities.
- 4. From the Funds' inception until the disclosure of Madoff's fraud in December 2008, during most relevant times, substantially all cash, net of fees and expenses, raised by the Funds through the sale of their shares was transferred (either directly in the case of Sentry or indirectly, through Sentry, in the cases of Sigma and Lambda) to BLMIS for investment in accounts managed by Madoff. Prior to December 2008, the voting participating shares of Sentry ($.01 par value per share), Sigma (€.01 par value per share), and Lambda (CHF.01 par value per share) (the "Shares"), were redeemable for a price equal to the applicable Fund's "Net Asset Value." Net Asset Value was to be determined, in accordance with applicable accounting standards, as the value of the respective assets of Sentry, Sigma, and Lambda divided by the number of shares outstanding in each Fund, net of certain expenses ("Net Asset Value").
- 5. From time to time, in order to make payments to investors for the redemption of Shares ("Redemption Payments"), Sentry generally made withdrawals from its BLMIS accounts. On occasion, Sentry made Redemption Payments directly from amounts on hand invested by other subscribers in the Funds. At all relevant times, the Funds believed payments that Sentry received from BLMIS represented the proceeds of sales of securities and/or investments held by BLMIS for Sentry. The amount, per share, paid by the Funds to shareholders for each Share redeemed was to be equal to the per share Net Asset Value, which was calculated based principally on the assets that the Funds believed were being held, and investments that were being made, by BLMIS for Sentry's account.

- 6. As the world now knows, Madoff was operating a massive Ponzi scheme through BLMIS. Thus, at all relevant times, the money that Sentry transferred to BLMIS was not invested, but, rather, was used by Madoff to pay other BLMIS investors or was otherwise misappropriated by Madoff for unauthorized uses. Further, none of the securities shown on statements provided to Sentry by BLMIS were in fact purchased for Sentry. Additionally, none of the amounts withdrawn by Sentry from its accounts with BLMIS were proceeds of sales of securities or other investments. Instead, such amounts represented the monies of more recent investors into the Madoff scheme.
- 7. In light of the fraudulent nature of BLMIS and its operation as a massive Ponzi scheme, at all relevant times the assets purportedly held at BLMIS for Sentry were non-existent, and the Funds were insolvent at the time Redemption Payments were made or they were rendered insolvent by those payments. As a result, at all relevant times, the Net Asset Value of the Shares redeemed was miscalculated, and Redemption Payments were mistakenly made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at any relevant time.
- 8. At all relevant times, all payments made from BLMIS to Sentry and other feeder funds and investors were made by Madoff to perpetuate his Ponzi scheme and avoid detection of his fraud. Similarly, the Redemption Payments that the Funds made to redeeming shareholders were not made in the ordinary course of any business or for any legitimate purposes. Those Redemption Payments did not conform to or follow the terms of the Funds' Subscription Agreements, Articles of Association and/or other offering documents, they were based upon Net Asset Values that were not calculated based upon the true facts existing at any relevant time, and because, more generally, the Redemption Payments represented the proceeds arising from investment in BLMIS (or a substitute therefor, in the form of subscription monies from other investors in the Funds, used as a shortcut to investing subscription monies with BLMIS and simultaneously withdrawing monies from BLMIS), which the world now knows was operated by Madoff as a Ponzi scheme. These payments were crucial in perpetuating the Ponzi scheme and maintaining the illusion that Madoff was making actual investments and employing a successful investment strategy.

- 9. During the period from and after April 8, 2004 through November 16, 2008, following the receipt by Sentry and Sigma of notices of redemption, Sentry and Sigma made Redemption Payments to Defendant HSBC Securities Services (Luxembourg) SA ("HSBC SSL") aggregating USD $84,497,835.97.
- 10. At the time such payments were made, Sentry and Sigma mistakenly believed that such payments were in the amount of the Net Asset Value of the Shares tendered at the time of redemption. In fact, however, as stated, the Redemption Payments made to HSBC SSL far exceeded the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based on the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time. Moreover, these Redemption Payments did not, as Sentry and Sigma intended, represent the proceeds arising from the profitability of or to continue investment in BLMIS. Instead, any amounts obtained directly or indirectly by Sentry and Sigma from BLMIS to make Redemption Payments to HSBC SSL generally were proceeds of Madoff's Ponzi scheme, obtained from other BLMIS investors or other Sentry investors invested in BLMIS.

- 11. Accordingly, the Funds' actual assets are, and at relevant times were, far less than the amount needed to satisfy their liabilities and the claims that have been or may be asserted against them, and, at all relevant times, the Funds were unable to pay their debts as they fell or would fall due. Indeed, at the time the Redemptions Payments were made, the Funds had insufficient assets from which to pay debts as they fell or would fall due.
- 12. In particular, claims had been previously asserted against the Funds in actions commenced by Irving H. Picard, the Trustee appointed by the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York for the liquidation of BLMIS (the "BLMIS Trustee"), in an adversary proceeding pending before the United States Bankruptcy Court of the Southern District of New York, Picard v. Fairfield Sentry Limited, et al., No. 08-01789 (SMB) (the "BLMIS Adversary Proceeding"). As set forth in the complaint filed in the BLMIS Adversary Proceedings, the BLMIS Trustee sought to recover from the Funds, on preference and fraudulent transfer grounds, approximately $3.2 billion. This amount was alleged to have been transferred to the Funds from BLMIS, directly (in the case of Sentry), or indirectly (in the cases of Sigma and Lambda), during the six years preceding the December 2008 disclosure of the Madoff fraud. The BLMIS Trustee alleged that the monies transferred from BLMIS to the Funds were the misappropriated assets of other BLMIS investors. At all relevant times, monies that the Funds received from BLMIS, net of fees and expenses, were transferred to shareholders as Redemption Payments.
- 13. On July 13, 2011, pursuant to an agreement between the Foreign Representatives and the BLMIS Trustee dated May 9, 2011, the United States Bankruptcy

10-03635-jpm Doc 296 Filed 04/12/17 Entered 04/12/17 18:15:42 Main Document
Pg 74 of 317

Court for the Southern District of New York entered judgments against each of the Funds on the claims against the Funds asserted in the BLMIS Adversary Proceeding (the "Judgments") in the amount of $3,054,000,000 with respect to Sentry, $752,300,000 with respect to Sigma, and $52,900,000 with respect to Lambda. The Redemption Payments rendered the Funds unable to satisfy their liabilities to the BLMIS customers, the BLMIS Trustee, including on account of the Judgments, and other creditors of the Funds, and further increased the amount of those liabilities. In this way, the Redemption Payments caused the Funds to become insolvent and/or deepened their existing insolvency, in that, among other things, at all relevant times the Funds were unable to pay their debts as they fell or would fall due.

- 14. Upon information and belief, HSBC SSL has either retained the Redemption Payments made to it by Sentry and Sigma for its own account and benefit or, alternatively, paid all or some portion of such payments to or for the account of persons or entities, including but not limited to Banco Atlantico Panama SA, Momentum Client Account, Orbit Client Account, Orbit Perf. Strategies Ltd., Orbit US Strategy Fund, and Private Space, for whom HSBC SSL may have subscribed for shares of the Funds in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, nominee or custodian (individually, a "Beneficial Shareholder" and collectively, "Beneficial Shareholders," together with HSBC SSL, the "Defendants"). Based on Sentry and Sigma's records, some or all of the Redemption Payments may have been paid to an account holder or holders associated with reference identifiers PS and BASF.
- 15. Following the revelation of Madoff's fraud in December 2008, the Funds' boards of directors suspended any further redemptions of the Funds' shares and the calculation of each of the Funds' Net Asset Value. As of December 2008 and presently, Sentry, Sigma, and Lambda have, respectively, approximately 4.7 million, 3.9 million, and 0.2 million shares outstanding.

10-03635-jpm Doc 296 Filed 04/12/17 Entered 04/12/17 18:15:42 REDACTED WITH REDACT-IT

16. Unless Redemption Payments paid to shareholders are recovered for the Funds' estates, the Funds will be unable to satisfy their liabilities and claims that have been made or may be made against them; further, recoveries of Redemption Payments will increase distributions to the Funds' investors who have been harmed. Moreover, to the extent such liabilities and claims must be satisfied solely from the Funds' current assets, Defendants will have been unjustly enriched as they will not bear their proportionate share of such liabilities and claims, but rather will retain a windfall at the expense of other shareholders and creditors of the Funds.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

17. Jurisdiction is proper in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157(b) and 1334(b), as this adversary proceeding and the claims asserted by the Foreign Representatives herein arise under, arise in and/or relate to the Chapter 15 proceedings of the above-captioned Debtors, In re Fairfield Sentry Limited, et al., No. 10-13164 (SMB), pending in this Court. Additionally, pursuant to section 78eee(b)(2)(A)(iii) of the Securities Investor Protection Act ("SIPA"), which incorporates 28 U.S.C. § 1334(b) and applicable provisions of Title 11 of the United States Code, jurisdiction is also proper in this Court because this action also relates to the consolidated liquidation proceedings of BLMIS and Bernard L. Madoff, pending in this Court under the caption Securities Investor Protection Corp. v. Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC, SIPA Liquidation No. 08-1789 (SMB). Pursuant to the Amended Standing Order of Reference of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, dated January 31, 2012, all proceedings arising in, arising under and/or related to cases under

10-03635-jpm Doc 296 Filed 04/12/17 Entered 04/12/17 18:15:42 Main Document Pg 76 of 317

Title 11 of the United States Code (as amended, the "Bankruptcy Code") are referred to this Court for adjudication.

- 18. This is a core proceeding under 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2). Should the Court determine that this is a non-core proceeding, Plaintiffs consent to entry of final judgment and order by this Court.
- 19. This Court has jurisdiction over HSBC SSL and any Beneficial Shareholders pursuant to Rules 7004(d) and (f) of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure and New York Civil Practice Law & Rules § 302 (McKinney 2008) because HSBC SSL and the Beneficial Shareholders purposely availed themselves of the laws of the United States and the State of New York by, among other things, investing money with the Funds, knowing and intending that the Funds would invest substantially all of that money in New York-based BLMIS, and, upon information and belief, maintaining bank accounts in the United States, and in fact receiving Redemption Payments in those United States-based accounts. HSBC SSL and the Beneficial Shareholders selected U.S. dollars as the currency in which to invest and execute their transactions in Sentry, upon information and belief, designated United States-based bank accounts to receive their Redemption Payments from the Funds and actively directed Redemption Payments at issue in this action into those bank accounts. HSBC SSL and the Beneficial Shareholders thus knowingly accepted the rights, benefits, and privileges of conducting business and/or transactions in the United States and New York, derived significant revenue from New York, and maintained minimum contacts and/or general business contacts with the United States and New York in connection with the claims alleged herein. HSBC SSL and the Beneficial Shareholders should therefore reasonably expect to be subject to United States jurisdiction.

Although the District Court, in In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd., No. 1:11-mc-00224-LAP, 458 B.R. 665 (S.D.N.Y. 2011), held that causes of action alleged by the Plaintiffs in other cases before this Court—causes of action that are similar or the same as those alleged in this complaint—are not core proceedings, this determination may be subject to appeal. In any event, plaintiffs submit that the causes of action in this complaint, which include, inter alia, allegations regarding transfers of property that were directed into the territorial jurisdiction of the United States, render the claims asserted in this complaint core in accordance with the District Court's decision.

- 20. Moreover, this Court has jurisdiction over HSBC SSL and any Beneficial Shareholders by virtue of the legally binding and valid agreements and representations set forth in one or more agreements for the subscription of Shares that HSBC SSL entered into with Sentry and Sigma.
- 21. HSBC SSL, upon information and belief, entered into a Subscription Agreement with Sentry on or about February 24, 2005 (the "Initial Subscription Agreement") pursuant to which HSBC SSL subscribed for Shares. Subsequent to entering into the Initial Subscription Agreement, HSBC SSL, upon information and belief, entered into additional agreements (the "Subsequent Subscription Agreements") with Sentry and Sigma on or about February 28, 2005, March 29, 2005, June 24, 2005, June 28, 2005, September 30, 2005, December 31, 2005, March 27, 2006, May 26, 2006, May 31, 2006, June 30, 2006, September 27, 2006, September 28, 2006, September 30, 2006, December 21, 2006, December 27, 2006, March 31, 2007, June 30, 2007, August 29, 2007, December 21, 2007, and January 28, 2008, pursuant to which it subscribed for additional Shares on the same terms and conditions as those Shares subscribed for pursuant to the Initial Subscription Agreement. The Initial Subscription Agreement and Subsequent Subscription Agreements are collectively referred to herein as the "Subscription Agreements."
- 22. The Subscription Agreements provide for, inter alia, the irrevocable submission by HSBC SSL to the jurisdiction of the New York courts with respect to any proceeding with respect to said agreement and Sentry and Sigma and HSBC SSL's consent to service of process by the mailing of such process, as provided therein. In particular, the Subscription Agreements provide as follows:

New York Courts. Subscriber agrees that any suit, action or proceeding ("Proceeding") with respect to this Agreement and the Fund may be brought in New York. Subscriber irrevocably submits to the jurisdiction of the New York courts with respect to any Proceeding and consents that service of process as provided by New York law may be made upon Subscriber in such Proceeding, and may not claim that a Proceeding has been brought in an inconvenient forum. Subscriber consents to the service of process out of any New York court in any such Proceeding by the mailing of copies thereof, by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, addressed to Subscriber at the address of Subscriber then appearing on the Fund's records. Nothing herein shall affect the Fund's right to commence any Proceeding or otherwise to proceed against Subscriber in any other jurisdiction or to serve process upon Subscriber in any manner permitted by any applicable law in any relevant jurisdiction.

23. Furthermore, by executing the Subscription Agreements, HSBC SSL agreed to all terms and conditions contained therein, including the express provision that any agreement made by HSBC SSL in the Subscription Agreements would also apply to any other person for whom HSBC SSL was subscribing as trustee, agent, representative, or nominee — i.e., all Beneficial Shareholders. Moreover, by executing the Subscription Agreements, HSBC SSL represented that it had all requisite authority from Beneficial Shareholders to execute and perform any and all obligations on their behalf, and also agreed to indemnify Sentry and Sigma for any damages resulting from an assertion by a Beneficial Shareholder that HSBC SSL lacked proper authorization to enter into the Subscription Agreements or perform the obligations thereof. Specifically, the Subscription Agreements provide as follows:

If Subscriber is acting as a Representative. If Subscriber is subscribing as trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for another person (the "Beneficial Shareholder"), Subscriber agrees that the representations and agreements herein are made by Subscriber with respect to itself and the Beneficial Shareholder. Subscriber has all requisite authority from the Beneficial Shareholder to execute and perform the obligations hereunder. Subscriber also agrees to indemnify the

- Fund . . . for any and all costs, fees and expenses (including legal fees and disbursements, fines and amounts paid in settlement) in connection with any damages resulting from Subscriber's misrepresentation or misstatement contained here, or the assertion of Subscriber's lack of proper authorization from the Beneficial Shareholder to enter into this Agreement or perform the obligations hereof.
- 24. Venue is proper in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1409(a).

PARTIES

Plaintiffs

- 25. Sentry, a British Virgin Islands company, was organized in 1990 under the International Business Company Act of the British Virgin Islands and was subsequently reregistered as a business company under the BVI Business Companies Act 2004. Sentry's registered agent is Codan Trust Company (B.V.I.) located at Romasco Place, Wickhams Cay 1, Road Town, Tortola, BVI. Sentry is currently in liquidation in proceedings commenced on April 21, 2009 in the BVI Court.
- 26. Sigma, a British Virgin Islands company, was organized in 1990 under the International Business Company Act of the British Virgin Islands and was subsequently reregistered as a business company under the BVI Business Companies Act 2004. Sigma's registered agent is Codan Trust Company (B.V.I.) located at Romasco Place, Wickhams Cay 1, Road Town, Tortola, BVI. Sigma is currently in liquidation in proceedings commenced on April 23, 2009, in the BVI Court.
- 27. The Foreign Representatives were appointed by the BVI Court as Liquidators of the Funds to supervise the liquidation of the Funds' estates and, where necessary, commence proceedings in the name of and on behalf of the Funds or in their own official names. On April 23, 2009, the BVI Court issued an order appointing Christopher Stride as liquidator of

Lambda (the "Lambda Appointment Order"). On July 21, 2009, the BVI Court issued an order appointing Kenneth Krys and Mr. Stride as joint liquidators of Sentry and Sigma (the "Sentry & Sigma Appointment Order"). On September 6, 2010, the BVI Court issued notices acknowledging Mr. Stride's resignation and the appointment of Joanna Lau as joint liquidator with Mr. Krys of all three Funds (the "Supplemental Appointment Order"). On November 23, 2011, Ms. Lau resigned as joint liquidator of the Funds. On June 24, 2014, the BVI Court issued an order appointing Charlotte Caulfield as joint liquidator, with Mr. Krys, of all three Funds (the "Second Supplemental Appointment Order" and, together with the Lambda Appointment Order, the Sentry & Sigma Appointment Order, and the Supplemental Appointment Order, the "BVI Appointment Orders"). The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as Foreign Representatives and liquidators of the Funds, have been authorized by the foreign court having jurisdiction over the matter to bring this action and the claims herein, including the avoidance claims herein under the BVI Insolvency Act of 2003 (the "BVI Insolvency Act").

28. Pursuant to the BVI Appointment Orders, the Foreign Representatives are responsible for all aspects of the Funds' businesses, including, among other things, custody and control of the Funds' assets, the power to do all acts and execute, in the name and on behalf of the Funds, any deeds, receipts or other documents, and the power to compromise claims, commence litigation and to dispose of property. After obtaining BVI Court approval, the Foreign Representatives filed petitions in this Court in June of 2010, under Chapter 15 of Title 11 of the United States Code, seeking recognition of the BVI Liquidation Proceedings as "foreign main proceedings" under Chapter 15. On July 22, 2010, this Court issued an order (the "Recognition Order") granting that recognition.

10-03635-jpm Doc 296 Filed 04/12/17 Entered 04/12/17 18:15:42 REDACTED WITH REDACT-IT Pg 81 of 317

29. Pursuant to the Recognition Order, the Foreign Representatives were automatically afforded relief available under 11 U.S.C. § 1520, including application of the Bankruptcy Code's automatic stay to the Funds and their property located in the United States, as well as the ability to operate the Funds' business and exercise the rights and powers of a trustee under Sections 363 and 552 of the Bankruptcy Code. Moreover, the Bankruptcy Court specifically granted additional relief in the Recognition Order to the Foreign Representatives pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1521(a). Such relief includes, but is not limited to: (i) staying any actions, proceedings or execution against the Funds' assets to the extent not stayed under Section 1520; (ii) authorizing the Foreign Representatives to seek leave to conduct discovery concerning the Funds' assets, affairs, rights, obligations or liabilities; (iii) entrusting the Foreign Representatives with the administration and realization of the Funds' assets that are located within the United States, including all claims and causes of action belonging to the Funds; and (iv) otherwise giving full force and effect to the proceedings before the BVI Court.

Defendants

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

A. Role of Feeder Funds In Madoff Fraud

- 39. Sentry was the largest of all the so-called "feeder funds" to maintain accounts with BLMIS. Sigma and Lambda were indirect BLMIS feeder funds established for foreign currency (respectively, Euro and Swiss franc) investment through purchase of shares of Sentry. Sentry's account statements with BLMIS as of the end of October 2008 showed in excess of $6 billion of invested assets supposedly held by BLMIS. As stated in its offering materials, Sentry's investment objective was to achieve capital appreciation through investments in BLMIS.
- 40. As discussed above, Sentry, Sigma and Lambda were established for the purpose of making investments in BLMIS. It is now known that these types of feeder funds were a crucial part of Madoff's Ponzi scheme. The feeder funds brought new investors and new investments into the scheme, allowing Madoff to make payments to early investors who sought to liquidate their investments, and in this way, the feeder funds were used by Madoff to continue and perpetuate his fraud by maintaining the illusion that BLMIS was making active investments and engaging in a successful investment strategy.

B. Calculation of Net Asset Value and Shareholder Redemption Payments

- 41. Substantially all of the money (up to 95%) raised by the Funds from the sale of their Shares, net of fees and expenses, was turned over to and invested in BLMIS (by and/or through Sentry), and supposedly credited to accounts held in the name of Sentry with BLMIS, purportedly for use in the now infamous "split-strike conversion" investment strategy. In accordance with the Funds' Subscription Agreements, Articles of Association, offering materials and/or other relevant documents, from time to time, the Funds paid to shareholders, for each Share tendered for redemption, an amount that was based on each of the respective Funds' purported Net Asset Value, as it was then calculated.
- 42. In calculating each of the Funds' Net Asset Value, the Funds' administrators used and relied on account statements provided by BLMIS purportedly showing securities and investments, or interests or rights in securities and investments, held by BLMIS for the account of Sentry. Generally, all securities identified on BLMIS account statements were traded on public exchanges and had readily ascertainable market values, and those market values (in addition to, among other items, cash on hand that was identified in the Sentry account statement for the relevant time period) were used in accordance with the Funds' Subscription Agreements, Articles of Association, offering materials and/or other documents to calculate the Net Asset Value of the Shares.
- 43. In fact, at all relevant times, no securities were ever purchased or sold by BLMIS for Sentry and any stated cash on hand in the BLMIS accounts was based on misinformation and fictitious account statements. None of the transactions shown on the account statements provided by BLMIS to Sentry ever occurred. Indeed, no investments of any kind were ever made by BLMIS for Sentry. At all relevant times, all of the account statements that BLMIS provided to Sentry were entirely and utterly fictitious. Further, all amounts deposited by Sentry (or by Sigma and Lambda through Sentry) with BLMIS for investment and the purchase of securities to be held by BLMIS for the account of Sentry were used by Madoff to pay other BLMIS investors or were misappropriated by Madoff for other unauthorized uses.

- 44. From time to time, to make Redemption Payments, Sentry (and Sigma and Lambda through Sentry) made withdrawals from Sentry's BLMIS accounts (or utilized subscription monies of other investors on hand that were directed for investment in BLMIS). The Funds believed that the amounts provided in connection with such withdrawals represented the proceeds arising from the profitability of or to continue investment in BLMIS. In fact, however, payments made by BLMIS to Sentry purportedly representing the proceeds of sales of securities or other investment positions were nothing other than the deposits of other BLMIS investors or previous deposits made by Sentry, never invested but rather misused and misappropriated as part of Madoff's fraud. At all relevant times, payments made from BLMIS to Sentry were made by Madoff to continue and perpetuate his Ponzi scheme and avoid detection of his fraud. The payments from BLMIS to Sentry were not payments made in the ordinary course of or as part of any business, nor did they have a legitimate business purpose. Similarly, the Redemption Payments were not made for any legitimate purposes or in the ordinary course of any business.
- 45. Given the fraudulent nature of BLMIS and its operation as a massive Ponzi scheme, the money paid by the Funds (directly in the case of Sentry and indirectly in the cases of Sigma and Lambda) to BLMIS on account of Sentry was, at all relevant times and unknown to the Funds, misused and misappropriated by Madoff as part of his Ponzi scheme. At all relevant times, the Funds were insolvent when the Redemption Payments were made or were rendered insolvent, and/or their insolvency was deepened, as a result of the Redemption Payments.

C. Redemption Payments Made or Transferred to Defendants

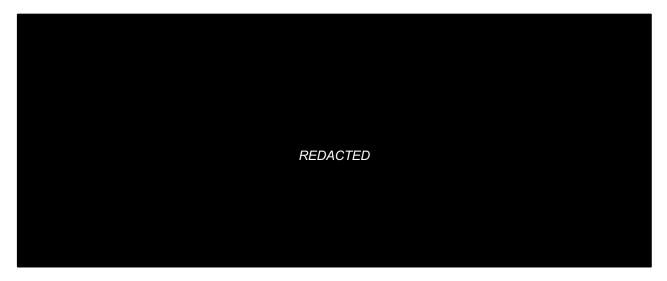

- 46. During the period from and after April 8, 2004 through November 16, 2008, HSBC SSL received Redemption Payments totaling USD $84,497,835.97 from Sentry and Sigma in respect of Shares tendered for redemption.
- 47. At HSBC SSL's directions and instructions, some or all of the Redemption Payments were received at, upon information and belief, designated United States-based bank accounts.
- 48. The dates and amounts of each Redemption Payment received by HSBC SSL from Sentry, and the HSBC SSL bank accounts to which each Redemption Payment was made, are set forth on Exhibit A. The dates and amounts of each Redemption Payment received by HSBC SSL from Sigma, and the HSBC SSL bank accounts to which each Redemption Payment was made, are set forth on Exhibit B.
- 49. At the time those Redemption Payments were made, the Funds had insufficient assets and were unable to pay their debts as they would fall due. In exchange for each Redemption Payment, each of which constitutes or forms part of a transaction between HSBC SSL and Sentry and Sigma, Sentry and Sigma received no consideration or consideration of a value that, in money or money's worth, was significantly less than the value, in money or money's worth, of the consideration provided by Sentry and Sigma.

50. Upon information and belief, HSBC SSL and/or the Beneficial Shareholders received Redemption Payments in excess of amounts paid by such person(s) for purchase of their Shares.

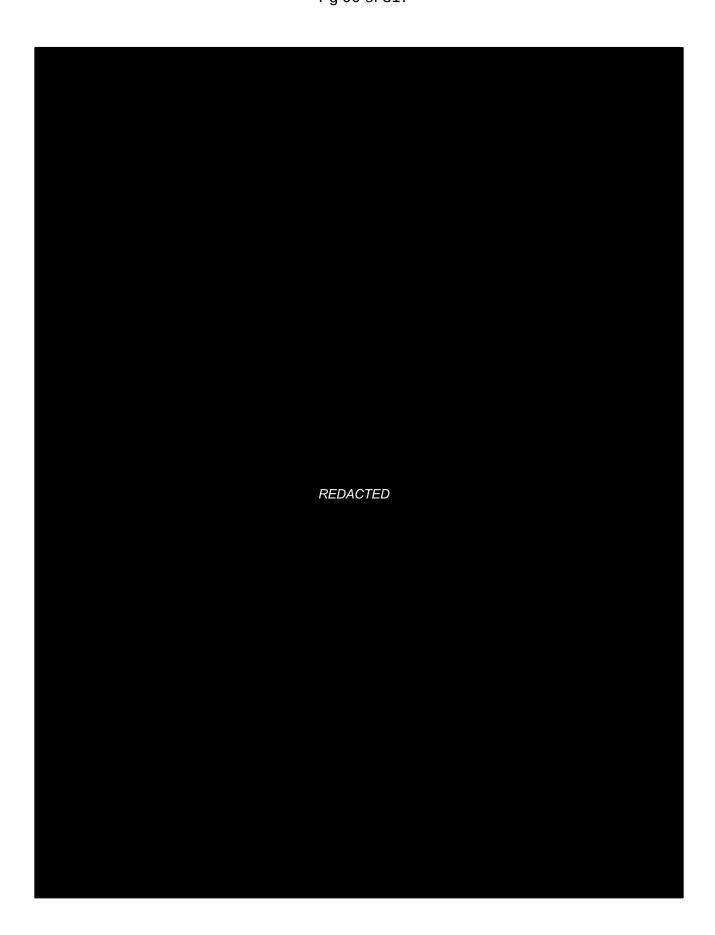

D. Citco Did Not Issue Any Certifications of Net Asset Value in "Good Faith"

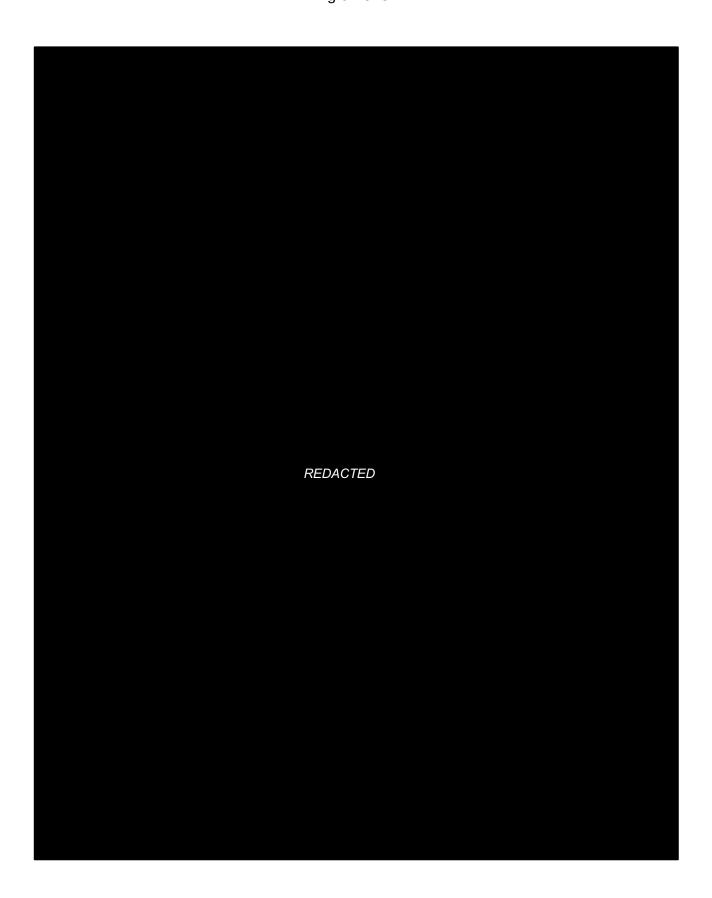

Asset Value per Share . . . given in good faith by or on behalf of the Directors shall be binding on all parties." During the relevant period, statements of the Net Asset Value were issued by the Funds' administrators, Citco Fund Services (Europe) B.V. and its delegatee Citco (Canada) Inc. (the "Administrators"). On April 16, 2014, the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council (the "Privy Council") issued a decision in which it held that certain statements of Net Asset Value, in particular, certain monthly emails, contract notes, and monthly account statements issued by the Administrators, constituted "certificates" for the purposes of Article 11 (the "Certificates"). The Privy Council did not, however, address whether such Certificates were given "in good faith." In carrying out this responsibility, the Administrators and affiliated Citco companies within Citco Group Limited (collectively, "Citco") acted with a lack of good faith in giving the Certificates.

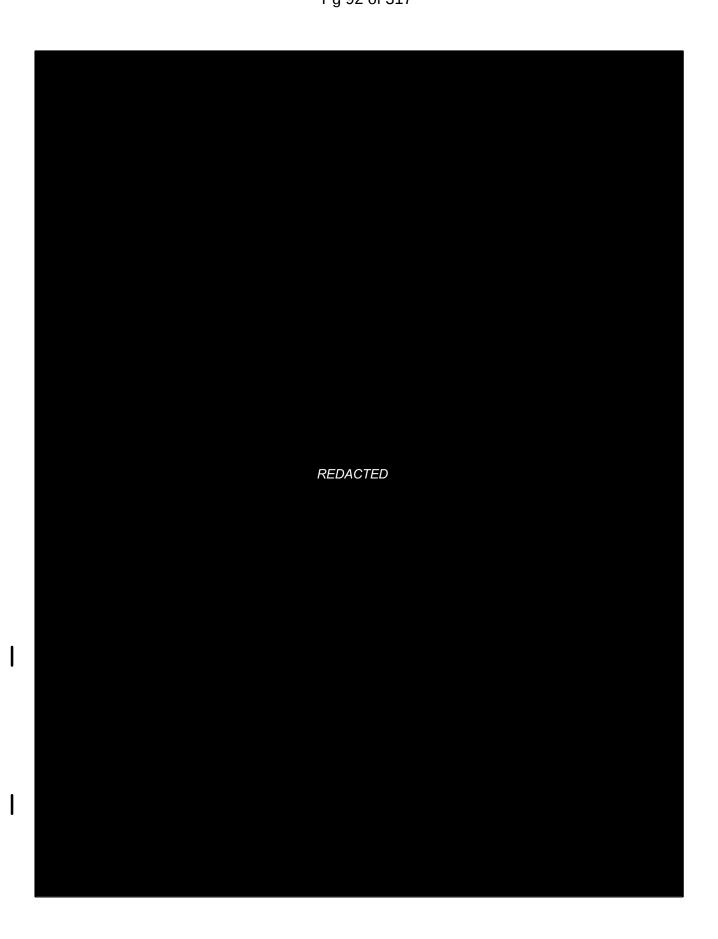

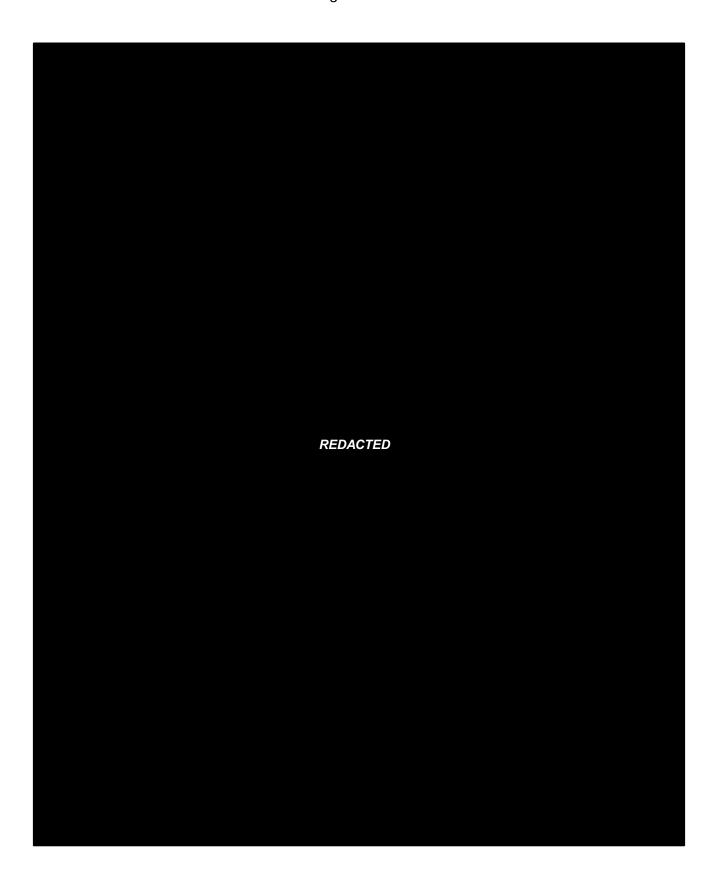

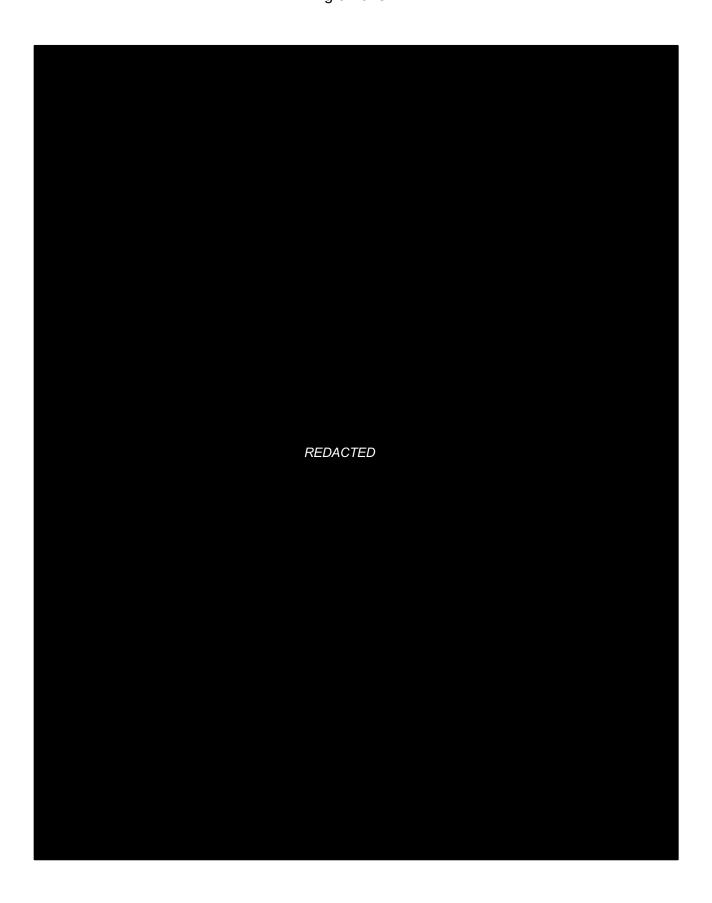

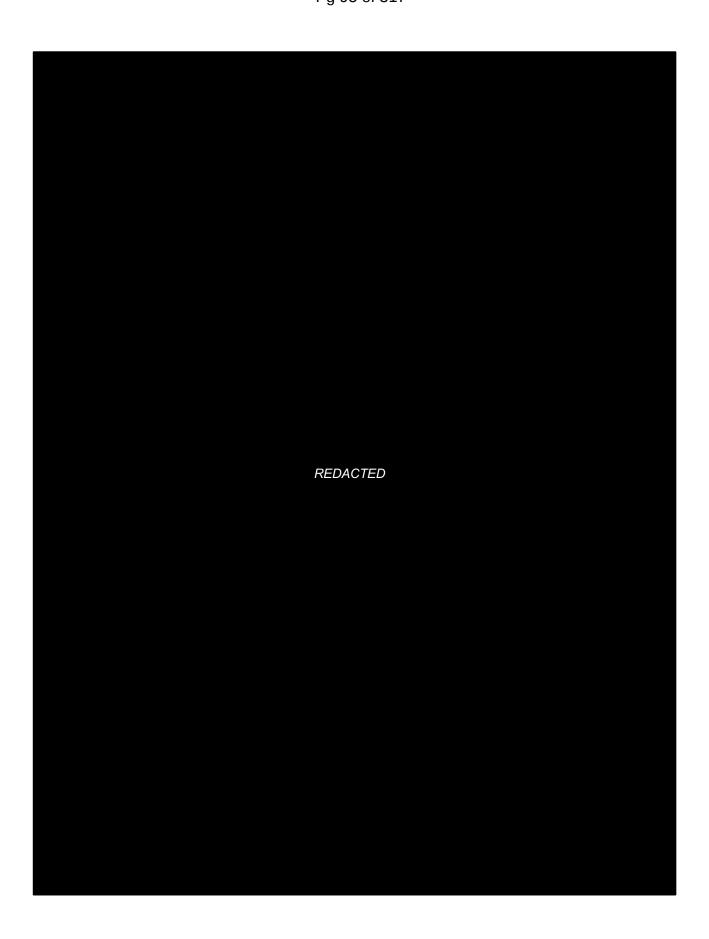

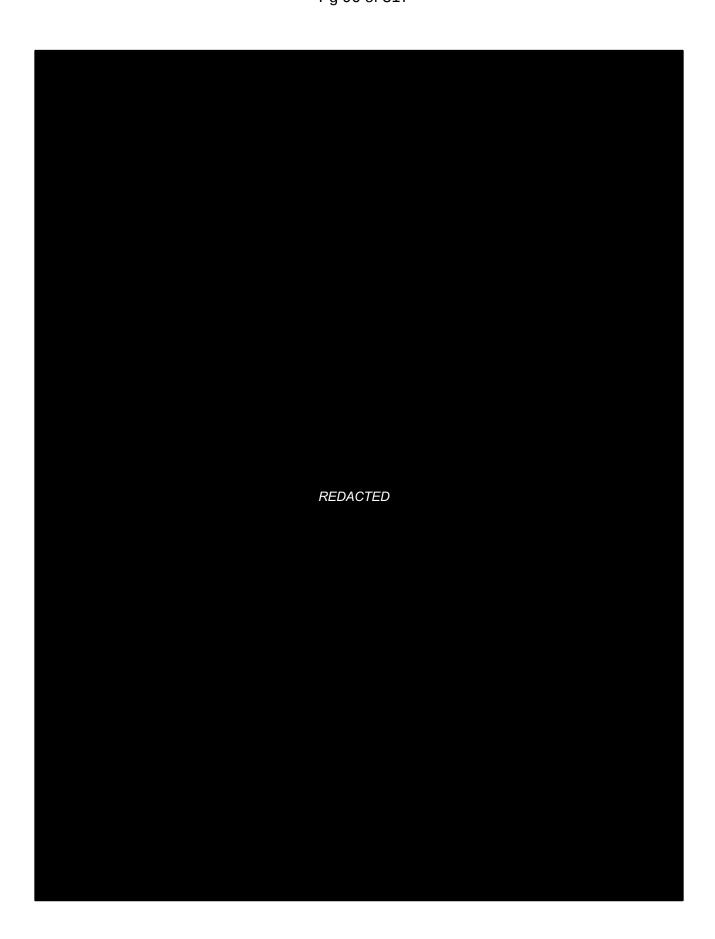

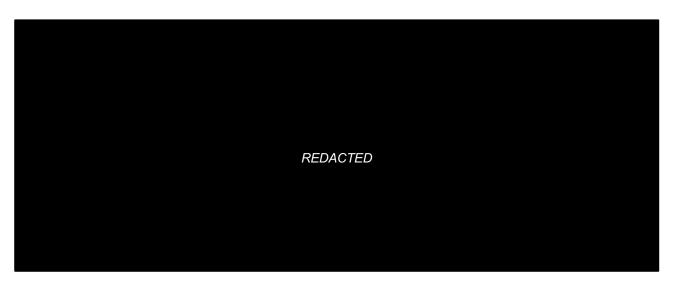

- 80. By virtue of the foregoing conduct, Citco issued the Certificates without good faith. The Funds were the primary victims of Citco's conduct and its lack of good faith in issuing the Certificates.
- E. HSBC SSL Knew or Should Have Known of, Was Willfully Blind to or Recklessly Disregarded the BLMIS Fraud²
- 81. Upon information and belief, all HSBC entities, including HSBC SSL, HSBC Bank USA, N.A., and HSBC Private Bank (Suisse) (collectively, the "HSBC Knowledge Defendants") worked collaboratively and freely shared information in connection with BLMIS-related matters. Moreover, upon information and belief, the free flow of information and coordination of action between various HSBC entities extended to the HSBC Knowledge Defendants.
- 81. In their due diligence reviews, HSBC SSL and its affiliates repeatedly pointed to BLMIS's role as a sub-custodian as a fraud risk. For example, HSBC SSL

² The allegations set forth in Paragraphs 8283 through 89 of this Complaint are made by the Foreign Representative upon information and belief based on allegations set forth in the complaint filed by the Madoff Trustee in Picard v. HSBC Bank PLC, 09-01364 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y.). Upon information and belief, the allegations of the BLMIS Trustee are based on an extensive investigation and the analysis of documentary evidence as well as other sources.

In August of 2008, Christine Coe, Global Head of Risk, HSBC (London), stated in an email to Chris Wilcockson ("Wilcockson"), Managing Director of Bank of Bermuda (Luxembourg) n/k/a HSBS Bank Bermuda and HSBC SSL, that she was concerned that Madoff was potentially using the fund's assets because "overall control [was] Madoff centric and there [were] opportunities for misleading or misappropriation to take place if he were so inclined," creating a "huge" fraud risk. HSBC SSL specifically identified as a risk the lack of "independent custody and verification of trading activity away from the investment manager (unlike a standard hedge fund that has a prime broker)." HSBC SSL identified this risk every year from at least 2003 2002 through 2008. At the end of September 2002, Paul Smith ("P. Smith") (head of Global Fund Services ("GFS") n/k/a HSBC Securities Services ("HSS")) expressed these concerns in an email sent to Nigel Fielding ("Fielding"), who served as (a) General Manager of Corporate Trust for Bank of Bermuda n/k/a HSBC Bank Bermuda until 2001, (b) Deputy Global Head of Client Services for Bank of Bermuda until December 2003, (c) Global Head of Business Services of GFS from January 2004, and (d) a Director of HSBC SSL_until November of 2015. In that email, P. Smith stated: "[W]e have a problem with him [Madoff]. He is the manager, broker and custodian to his accounts. In today's world this is a red flag."

HSBC SSL Affiliates Engaged KPMG to Assess

Fraud and Operational Risk at BLMIS and then HSBC SSL Ignores its Findings

83. 82. In September 2005, HSBC SSL affiliates engaged KPMG to review BLMIS for fraud and related operational risk. KPMG'sKPMG's review focused on fraud risks in BLMIS's methods of recording and reporting client funds held by BLMIS, HSBC SSL's and its affiliates' ability to detect suspected fraud or misconduct in client funds for which HSBC SSL and its affiliates served as primary custodian. KPMG'sKPMG's findings were encapsulated in a February 16, 2006 report, titled ""Review of fraud risk and related operational risks at Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC" (the ""2006 Report"). In the 2006 Report, KPMG identified a laundry list of fraud and related operational risks related to BLMIS's operations including:

- o falsification of client mandates;
- o embezzlement of client funds;
- o use of fabricated client instructions to disguise poor proprietary positions;
- o failure to segregate client funds from BLMIS funds;
- o diversion of client funds for Madoff's personal gain;
- o inaccurate allocation of reinvested funds from Fidelity across individual accounts;
- o manipulation of option prices to maximize commissions;
- use of BLMIS claim funds to settle options exercised against HSBC SSL;
- practice of exercising options without informing the client that the option was set to expire;
- use of client funds to make opportunistic trades that deviated from the SSC Strategy;
- o diversion of cash resulting from the sale of equities and Treasury bills;
- o systematic over-valuing of positions and the failure to report positions to HSBC SSL in order to manipulate control relationships;
- o stocks were not held in client names;
- o inflation of call values to disguise misappropriate or poor positions;
- o unauthorized trading in client accounts;

- o trades executions made by unauthorized BLMIS staff members;
- o sham trades to divert client cash;
- o front-running order flow in the market-making business;
- o false reporting of trades without execution to collect commissions; and
- o falsification of trade confirmations.
- 84. 83. KPMG was particularly concerned that it could not identify the owners of individual HSBC SSL client assets, and that controls in place at BLMIS might not prevent fraud or errors in client accounts.
- 85. 84. Despite the litany of fraud and operational risks identified by KPMG, HSBC SSL continued its relationship with Madoff, delegated custodial duties to BLMIS, and took no steps to implement KPMG's recommendations.

KPMG Engaged Again and Uncovers

- G. HSBC SSL's Failure to Heed Earlier Warnings
- 86. 85. After ignoring KPMG's KPMG's dire warnings in 2006, HSBC SSL and its affiliates asked KPMG to conduct another review of BLMIS in March 2008. The terms and scope of the review were identical to the 2006 review, except that KPMG was also asked to assess the risk of placing HSBC SSL and its affiliates' investments with BLMIS.
- 87. 86. KPMG's conclusions were contained in a September 8, 2008, report entitled "Review of fraud risk and related operational risks at Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC" (the "2008 Report"). KPMG wrote that, according to Madoff, HSBC SSL's and its affiliates' client investments represented an astonishing 33% of BLMIS's assets under management.

- 88. 87. In the 2008 Report, KPMG identified three additional fraud concerns at BLMIS, not previously identified in the 2006 Report:
 - O Client cash is diverted signatures falsified on client instruction in an attempt to legitimize an unauthorized transaction (i.e., redemption);
 - Madoff LLC claim funds have been used to settle options exercised against HSBC SSL and/or its affiliates; and
 - O Stocks are intentionally not allocated a fair price from the bulk trade.
- 89. 88.—HSBC SSL again ignored KPMG's Warnings and recommendations. HSBC SSL used the 2008 Report as a marketing tool to encourage additional investment in BLMIS. Upon information and belief, in mid-2008, HSBC SSL and/or its affiliates were asked to explain Madoff's investment strategy to Andreas Pirkner, an employee of Bank Medici. In response, HSBC SSL and/or its affiliates forwarded to Pirkner the 2008 Report with the comment that the Feeder Funds were in good shape.

- H. Internal Discussions Reveal That HSBC SSL Was More Concerned With Upsetting The Madoff Relationship And Losing Customers And Fees Than Properly Investigating Potential Fraud³
- 90. As early as 2000, Bank of Bermuda n/k/a HSBC Bank Bermuda was aware that Madoff's operational structure had the potential for fraud. Paula Downey, Head of ³ Paragraphs 90-111 and portions of paragraph 82 are derived from a transcript of testimony provided in a proceeding before the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands, styled Primeo Fund (in Official Liquidation) v. Bank of Bermuda (Cayman) Ltd. & HSBC Securities Services (Luxembourg) SA.

Compliance for Bank of Bermuda informed Gerry Brady, who upon information and belief served as Regional Managing Director and Country Head - Ireland for the Bank of Bermuda, of many concerns in this regard. Downey wrote to Brady in 2000, stating:

"I've been thinking about the issue you asked me to take a look at ahead of the Board meeting. How do Bermuda Trust Dublin Limited discharge their duties as master custodian to Thema and what checks are in place to ensure there are adequate checks and controls in relation to the sub-custodian

Madoff. It's a difficult one and many of the normal checks are not possible. The following is what I perceive to be the holes in the current procedure vis a vis other funds. We don't receive a trade ticket from the Client Investment Manager which matches the broker ticket. The Madoff ticket is effectively the composite of the two...

In addition, we generally receive confirmation of trades from the Investment Manager and the broker on their behalf. This protects us against receiving fictitious or incorrect trade details from the Investment Manager and broker confirmation match. This is not possible as Madoff is both Investment Manager and broker. While I do not dispute the good character and reputation of Madoff, the concern is that we have no independent confirmation that the trades they say they are doing are being done, or that the holdings we say the Fund has are indeed registered in the name of the Fund. We don't receive bank statements. What information would I like to see us receiving. Independent confirmation that the assets of Thema exist and are registered under the name of Thema."

91. In July 2002, Fielding made a visit to BLMIS as part of due diligence efforts for Bank of Bermuda. Following that visit, an employee with the credit desk of Bank of Bermuda Dublin, Tom Young ("Young"), raised questions about the Madoff structure with Fielding.

Those questions arose out of concerns with respect to the Primeo Fund ("Primeo"), which invested all or substantially all of its assets in BLMIS, and HSBC SSL served as custodian for that fund. Fielding, however, resisted further inquiry. For example, in one email, Young asked Fielding: "Would it be possible to get independent verification that the assets of [the Primeo] Fund] are segregated from other assets held by Madoff?" In response, Fielding stated: "[W]e decided not to request this so far. The review is finished and signed off for this year and I do not intend to do more unless the GFS Board supports it, risk versus cost versus relationship, etc."

- 92. On December 24, 2002, Fielding expressed to David Smith ("D. Smith"), also a Director of HSBC SSL, resistance to the desire of P. Smith to obtain due diligence on Madoff, with Mr. Fielding stating: "Paul seems hellbent on irritating Madoff with FIG." Upon information and belief, "FIG" refers to "Financial Institutions Group", an internal group within HSBC.
- 93. HSBC SSL also recognized that if HSBC's relationship with Madoff was damaged, the HSBC entities stood to lose customers and, in turn, fees from their custodian roles. On October 10, 2002, D. Smith expressed these concerns in an email he sent to Fielding, in which he stated: "Madoff is really cheesed off with us (BOB) and he may cut the umbilical if we go once more to the well. We may think our [redacted] has power in the market but he can replace that within a month. He may put us on the black list so we have to agree a plan of action. Perhaps we should discuss?"
- Dublin, Ireland in the fall of 2004, following which further diligence of BLMIS was proposed.

 Commenting on the proposed diligence, Brian Wilkinson ("Wilkinson"), who at the time served as (a) Head of Bank of Bermuda Global Fund Services in Ireland (which later became Alternative Fund Services within HSBC Securities Services), (b) Europe Head of Alternative Fund Services within HSS, and (c) a Member of GFS' Board Management Committee, communicated to P. Smith by e-mail: "The consequence of the trustee review of the sub-custodian Madoff will be both painful and, it would appear, fatal. Clearly I am not suggesting that GIS/HSBC should ignore their fiduciary responsibilities, however, we should all be aware of the potential fall-out."

- 95. In August 2008, Gordon Thomson, an employee of HSBC SSL, sent an email to Michael May ("May"), managing director of HSBC SSL in charge of operations, risk and compliance, copying Andrew Bastow (who, upon information and belief, was the Chief Technology and Services Officer of HSBC Ireland), Brian Pettitt (Deputy Head of Risk, HSBC (London)) and Coe. In that email, Mr. Thomson stated that Madoff investments were "too good to be true" and characterized them as involving "unusual activity."
- I. HSBC SSL Repeatedly Raised Specific and Substantial Concerns Regarding Madoff's "Real Strategy"
- 96. During a telephone call that occurred between September and October 2002 between Fielding and Wilkinson, those individuals made a number of statements reflecting their serious concerns regarding Madoff, including the following:
 - o Fielding: "So . . . I, you know, everybody has some concerns about Madoff, or 'made off' as he likes to call himself, which I think makes it even worse. 'made off with the money."
 - Wilkinson: "I could be wrong Nigel, and maybe I'll investigate that, but I'm just covering all of our backsides to make sure we've done everything possible if this thing ever went up, you know."
 - o Fielding: "Yeah, and I guess my ... I'm not saying we shouldn't do it, I guess I wanted the board to say we wanted to do it, having heard David rant and rave about upsetting the guy before ..."
 - Wilkinson: "His financial statements are not very detailed, you know, what really is his source of revenue, etc. ... which I think is important to us, cause we're really relying on the financial strength of Madoff, as well as much as anything . . ."

- 97. In December 2004, GFS, which by then had been acquired by or was a division within HSS, was approached about acting as custodian and administrator for a new Madoff related fund. In an email to Peter Heaps, who it appears was handling this request on behalf of the Madoff related fund, Wilkinson stated: "Please speak to Nigel Fielding on this. The whole Madoff issue is coming under focus now that we are part of HSBC. My gut reaction is that this will not fly."
- 98. In February 2005, Fielding was asked about concerns expressed by Primeo's auditors, Ernst & Young ("E&Y"), about Madoff that were raised in a meeting with Saverio Fiorino ("Fiorino"), who was a Director of HSBC SSL Valuation & Client Administration and Head of Alternative Fund Services (AFS) at HSBC SSL from September 2003 to March 2008. Fielding responded as follows: "Nespolo [managed Madoff feeder funds Hermes, Thema International, and Thema Fund] understands the auditors concern and asked if their worries were based on the rumors (1) what is his real strategy, how on earth can he always produce 12%pa (2) where are the assets and are there really assets or is it all fictitious."
- 99. In a Madoff discussion paper that Coe prepared for the HSS Board in 2005, Coe identified the risks associated with HSBC's diligence process as follows: "However, there is substantial risk, in the event there is any question over the integrity of the process. The financial cost of appointing a sub-custodian that we cannot exercise a level of due care over, could be significant; equally so would be the reputational risk." In fact, as early as 2005, Coe considered "that one of the possible options was that it was all a sham."
- 100. From 2005 to 2008, Fielding received emails from John Grubert ("Grubert"), Global Head of HSBC Securities Services, reflecting substantial concerns about BLMIS. In one email that Grubert sent to Coe, on which Smith, Pettitt and Fielding were copied, Grubert stated:

- o "Thank you for the papers on the above. It strikes me that the firm has reasonable capital ... has a solid reputation but that we have a flawed process. Although there is no reason to doubt the integrity or professionalism of the Group, the reality is that: we do not have full control of the assets or real time sight of transaction flows; the transactions are all internal to the family firms and there is no proof of best execution or even actual execution."
- o "[T]he audit is undertaken by a firm that is not on our recognised list of auditors...I cannot countenance this process – and I appreciate it is a major money earner."
- o "I appreciate Madoff does not like external intrusion and am willing for this to be undertaken by our auditors (at our cost). If this cannot be done, then we should exit the relationship."

J. Audits and Purported Diligence of Madoff's Investments Were Incomplete

- 101. During a presentation Bank of Bermuda made to Bank Austria in May 2003, requests were made for copies of the quarterly due diligence questionnaires. When these questionnaires were requested of Bank of Bermuda, Wilkinson commented as follows regarding the lack of due diligence on Madoff: "Quarterly due diligence, you have got to be joking!! The only due diligence we have on Madoff is what Nigel [Fielding] did some months ago."
- 102. In September of 2002, Tom Young sent an email to Fielding expressing concerns regarding the level and quality of the due diligence process. In that email, Young stated: "When you get back, maybe you could look at this again. What is required is independent auditor's confirmation that the assets are not comingled. Madoff's representation is not enough, annual audited accounts of Madoff."
- 103. Although a diligence questionnaire was completed by Madoff in March of 2004,

 Ann Meehan, who upon information and belief was the Compliance Manager for HSBC

Institutional Trust Services (Ireland) Ltd., stated to Pettitt in an early 2005 email as follows: "[T]here is no information on our file regarding the on-site visit, ie if checks were undertaken to confirm if assets are held in segregated accounts, completion of reconciliations etc."

- auditors Friehling and Horowitz CPA, and stated in that email: "[O]ver the last weeks, [Ernst & Young] raised some concerns about Madoff, as follows . . . (iii) reliability and independence of Friehling and Horowitz CPA (auditors of BMadoff). Apparently F&H are related to BMadoff. Responses to questions raised by E&Y to BM auditors were not clear."
- 105. Moreover, the discussion paper that Coe produced in 2005 for the HSS Board, described earlier, identified flaws and concerns with the Madoff structure and the diligence process relating to the investigation of that structure. Specifically, Coe remarked in that paper:

"Whilst we have carried out due diligence ... we have not been able to undertake (nor do we have the legal right to do so) an audit of the end to end process flow to confirm the integrity of the whole activity. It is questionable how much we can rely on the auditor produced control statement. Not only is it concise, the auditors are not one of the major independent accountancy groups. From a legal structure perspective, we can make the arrangements work around the need for a legal charge over assets in a custody, sub-custody arrangement. The real issue is are we satisfied with the integrity of the Madoff operations such that we are comfortable with a lack of real independent evidence of the trading of clients assets."

106. On June 6, 2005, Coe spoke on the phone with Fielding and voiced concerns regarding the review process. During that phone conversation, Coe stated: "The biggest single concern is the whole process, once it gets into Madoff's hands, is fairly incestuous within Madoff and their internal control system, which is done by . . . his mate, the accountant, it's not really independent enough to give us a level of independent comfort that we would ordinarily look to."

107. In August of 2008, following a further KPMG review of BLMIS that had been requested earlier that year, Coe stated in an email to Wilcockson, that she was concerned that Madoff was potentially using the fund's assets because "overall control [was] Madoff centric and there [were] opportunities for misleading or misappropriation to take place if he were so inclined," creating a "huge" fraud risk.

K. Any Indicia of Fraud That Was Unearthed During Due Diligence Was Generally Downplayed, Ignored and/or Avoided

108. In May of 2003, Fielding and Germain Birgen, Managing Director of HSBC Securities Services (Luxembourg) SA ("Birgen") gave a presentation to Bank Austria that presented a positive impression of the relationship with BLMIS, even though Fielding and Birgen were aware that the GFS Board had identified a major issue in relation to BLMIS and had decided to require independent audit confirmation from KPMG. Around the same time, Mr. Fielding, who was also on the Board of Primeo, played down any concerns regarding BLMIS that were raised by other members of the Primeo Board.

and Fiorino to discuss concerns regarding whether assets with BLMIS in fact existed.

Following that meeting, Fiorino told Fielding in an e-mail: "Germain and I just had a meeting with [Ernst & Young], can I speak to you when you have five minutes. They have a transparency issue with Madoff." Although these concerns were discussed by email, no action was taken by HSBC SSL or Bank of Bermuda to actually confirm either the existence of the assets or the validity of the BLMIS investments.

- 110. In October 2008, May raised concerns whether the recommendations of KPMG, following its most recent review of BLMIS, were in fact implemented. In an email May sent to Mr. Bastow during this time period, May stated: "I share your concern regarding Madoff and have raised this with Chris Coe & Brian Pettitt. I understand that KPMG made recommendations in their last visit and I am trying to obtain this reports so I can run an exercise to assess whether they were implemented." In another email sent during this time period, May stated: "Chris [Coe] made some recommendations in their audit and so we should see if they were implemented. Who has a copy of those recommendations? Both Lux & Dub are expressing unease about Madoff (which we all feel already)..."
- 111. In December 2008, shortly after Madoff's arrest, emails were exchanged between Russell Ford (upon information and belief, Global Head of Internal Control for HSBC) and May candidly acknowledging their lack of surprise by the arrest, due to their firmly grounded suspicions of the fraud. Those e-mails included the following:
 - Mr. Ford to Mr. May: "Just in case Chris has not contacted you yet or you have read the papers, Madoff has been arrested on security fraud."
 - Mr. May back to Mr. Ford: "Another case where all our suspicions were right."
 - Mr. Ford: "Indeed, the beauty of hindsight."

 - Mr. Ford: "Always too afraid to lose the revenue, but the business should pay more attention to the view of Risk."

L. HSBC SSL Acted On Behalf Of The Beneficial Owners

112. 89. HSBC SSL served as trustee, agent, representative, nominee or custodian for the Beneficial Owners in connection with their investments in the Funds, including, by:

subscribing to Shares of Sentry and Sigma on behalf of the Beneficial Owners, maintaining custody of the Shares as record shareholders, paying redemption proceeds from the Shares of Sentry and Sigma to the Beneficial Owners, and otherwise exercising control over the Shares of Sentry and Sigma.

- 113. 90. Further, each of the Subscription Agreements, executed by HSBC SSL, manifested the Beneficial Owners' consent for HSBC SSL to act on behalf of and subject to the Beneficial Owners' control.
- 114. 91. In executing the Subscription Agreements, HSBC SSL accepted and agreed to act on behalf of the Beneficial Owners.
- 115. 92. Accordingly, the Beneficial Owners had the same knowledge as HSBC SLSSL regarding all relevant matters relating to BLMIS and the Funds' Net Asset Values at all relevant times.

M. F. Exposure of Madoff's Fraud

- 116. 93.—On December 11, 2008, federal agents arrested Madoff for violation of federal securities laws. On that same day, the United States Attorney brought criminal charges against Madoff, alleging that Madoff ran a multi-billion dollar Ponzi scheme. See United States v. Madoff, No. 08-mj-2735 (S.D.N.Y., filed Dec. 11, 2008). Upon arrest, Madoff was reported to have told the agents that "there is no innocent explanation" for the fraudulent scheme he had orchestrated and confessed that he "paid investors with money that wasn't there."
- 117. 94. On December 11, 2008, the United States Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") filed an emergency action in the Southern District of New York to halt ongoing fraudulent offerings of securities and investment advisory fraud by Madoff and

d Dec. 11, 2008). On February

BLMIS. See SEC v. Madoff, No. 08-cv-10791 (S.D.N.Y. filed Dec. 11, 2008). On February 9, 2009, the SEC submitted to the Court a proposed partial judgment, to which Madoff consented, imposing a permanent injunction and continuing relief against him, including a permanent freezing of his assets.

118. 95. In March 2009, Madoff pleaded guilty to the criminal charges brought against him. In his plea allocution, Madoff confessed: "for many years up until my arrest on December 11, 2008, I operated a Ponzi scheme through the investment advisory side of my business, Bernard L. Madoff Securities LLC." As Madoff himself described how the scheme worked:

The essence of my scheme was that I represented to clients and prospective clients who wished to open investment advisory and individual trading accounts with me that I would invest their money in shares of common stock, options and other securities of large well-known corporations, and upon request, would return to them their profits and principal. Those representations were false because for many years up and until I was arrested on December 11, 2008, I never invested those funds in the securities, as I had promised. Instead, those funds were deposited in a bank account at Chase Manhattan Bank. When clients wished to receive the profits they believed they had earned with me or to redeem their principal, I used the money in the Chase Manhattan bank account that belonged to them or other clients to pay the requested funds.

119. 96. Madoff further confessed to covering up his fraud by fabricating false trade confirmation and account statements:

To further cover-up the fact that I had not executed trades on behalf of my investment advisory clients, I knowingly caused false trading confirmations and client account statements that reflected the bogus transactions and positions to be created and sent to clients purportedly involved in the split strike conversion strategy, as well as other individual clients I defrauded who believed they had invested in securities through me. The clients receiving trade confirmations and account statements had no way of knowing by reviewing these documents that I had never engaged in the transactions represented on the statements and confirmations.

120. 97. Madoff is now serving a 150-year sentence in federal prison.

N. G. The Funds' Estates in Liquidation

ı

ı

- 121. 98. Following the revelation of Madoff's fraud, the Funds' boards of directors suspended any further redemptions of Shares and the calculation of the Funds' Net Asset Values. As of December 2008 and presently, Sentry, Sigma, and Lambda had, respectively, approximately 4.7 million, 3.9 million, and 0.2 million shares outstanding.
 - 122. 99.—In 2009, the Funds were put into liquidation proceedings in the BVI.
- 123. 100. On February 27, 2009, a secured creditor of Lambda commenced proceedings in the BVI Court pursuant to the BVI Insolvency Act seeking the appointment of a liquidator over Lambda (the "Lambda Proceeding"). The Lambda Proceeding is pending in the BVI Court as claim number BVIHC(COM)2009/74.
- 124. 101. On April 21, 2009, ten shareholders applied to the BVI Court for the appointment of a liquidator over Sentry (the "Sentry Proceeding"). The Sentry Proceeding is pending in the BVI Court under claim number BVIHC(COM)2009/136.
- 125. 102. On April 23, 2009, a shareholder applied to the BVI Court for the appointment of a liquidator over Sigma (the "Sigma Proceeding" and collectively with the Lambda Proceeding and the Sentry Proceeding, the "BVI Liquidation Proceedings"). The Sigma Proceeding is pending in the BVI Court under claim number BVIHC(COM)2009/139.
- 126. 103. As alleged above, the BVI Court issued orders the BVI Appointment Orders –appointing the Foreign Representatives as liquidators of the Funds. Pursuant to the BVI Appointment Orders, the Foreign Representatives are responsible for all aspects of the Funds' business, including protecting, realizing, and distributing assets for the Funds' estates.

127. 104. The Redemption Payments that were made to Defendants were mistaken payments and constituted or formed part of avoidable transactions, and generally represent assets of Sentry and Sigma's estates that Defendants are not entitled to keep.

FIRST CLAIM (Unjust Enrichment - Against HSBC SSL)

- 128. 105. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 104 above as if set forth herein.
- 129. 106. As alleged above, to the extent amounts were withdrawn from BLMIS to make Redemption Payments to HSBC SSL, each of such payments consisted of monies deposited with BLMIS for investment, but never invested and instead misappropriated as part of Madoff's fraud. The source of these Redemption Payments was not, as Sentry and Sigma mistakenly believed, proceeds from the sale of securities or investments held by BLMIS for the account of Sentry.
- 130. 107. HSBC SSL did not provide valuable consideration to Sentry and Sigma in exchange for each of the Redemption Payments received by it, in that it received Redemption Payments made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 131. 108. By reason of its receipt of monies represented as amounts deposited by other BLMIS investors or monies deposited by the Funds' subscribers, for amounts far in excess of the amounts that it would have received had the Net Asset Value of Shares been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time, HSBC SSL has been unjustly enriched to the detriment of Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.

132. 109. It would offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit HSBCSSL to retain the Redemption Payments it received from Sentry and Sigma.

ı

ı

133. 110. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma, are entitled to recover from HSBC SSL an amount equal to the Redemption Payments received by it from Sentry and Sigma, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to the amount of all Redemption Payments received by HSBC SSL less the amount of redemption payments that HSBC SSL would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time.

SECOND CLAIM

(Unjust Enrichment - Against Beneficial Shareholders)

- 134. 111. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 110 above as if set forth herein.
- 135. 112. Upon information and belief, HSBC SSL may have subscribed to all or some portion of the Shares issued to it under the Subscription Agreements in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 136. 113. Upon information and belief, HSBC SSL may have paid to or credited some or all of the Redemption Payments received by it from Sentry and Sigma to accounts of the Beneficial Shareholders. These Redemption Payments did not, as Sentry and Sigma mistakenly believed, represent the proceeds arising from the profitability of or to continue investment in BLMIS. Instead, Redemption Payments were made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.

ı

- 137. 114. The Beneficial Shareholders did not provide valuable consideration to Sentry and Sigma in exchange for the Redemption Payments or any portion thereof received by them, in that they received Redemption Payments made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 138. 115. To the extent that a Beneficial Shareholder received any portion of the Redemption Payments paid to HSBC SSL in its capacity as trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for a Beneficial Shareholder, such Beneficial Shareholder has been unjustly enriched to the detriment of Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.
- 139. 116. It would offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit any Beneficial Shareholders to retain the Redemption Payments made by Sentry and Sigma.
- 140. 117. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma, are entitled to recover from any Beneficial Shareholders an amount equal to any portion of any Redemption Payments received by them, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to the amount of all Redemption Payments received by any Beneficial Shareholders less the amount of redemption payments that such Beneficial Shareholders would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time.

THIRD CLAIM (Money Had and Received - Against HSBC SSL)

- 141. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 117 above as if set forth herein.
- 142. 119. As alleged above, to the extent amounts were withdrawn from BLMIS to make Redemption Payments to HSBC SSL, each of such payments consisted of monies deposited with BLMIS for investment, but never invested and instead misappropriated as part of Madoff's fraud. The source of these Redemption Payments was not, as Sentry and Sigma mistakenly believed, proceeds from the sale of securities or investments held by BLMIS for the account of Sentry.
- 143. 120. HSBC SSL did not provide valuable consideration to Sentry and Sigma in exchange for each of the Redemption Payments received by it, in that it received Redemption Payments made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 144. 121. By reason of its receipt of monies which generally represented the proceeds arising from or to continue investment in BLMIS, which the world now knows was operated by Madoff as a Ponzi scheme, HSBC SSL has been unjustly enriched to the detriment of Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.
- 145. 122. Furthermore, HSBC SSL was not entitled to receive the Redemption Payments because the amounts of each of the Redemption Payments was based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value, which caused the payment received by HSBC SSL for its redemption of Shares to be in excess of the Net Asset Value of such Shares that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.

- 146. 123. To the extent that Redemption Payments are not recovered by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma, the loss will be disproportionately and unjustly borne by Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.
- 147. 124. It would offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit HSBCSSL to retain the Redemption Payments it received from Sentry and Sigma.
- 148. 125. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma, are entitled to recover from HSBC SSL an amount equal to the Redemption Payments received by it from Sentry and Sigma, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to the amount of all Redemption Payments received by HSBC SSL less the amount of redemption payments that HSBC SSL would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time.

FOURTH CLAIM

(Money Had and Received - Against Beneficial Shareholders)

- 149. 126. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 125 above as if set forth herein.
- 150. 127. Upon information and belief, HSBC SSL may have subscribed to all or some portion of the Shares issued to it under the Subscription Agreements in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders.

151. 128. Upon information and belief, HSBC SSL may have paid to or credited some or all of the Redemption Payments received by it to accounts of the Beneficial Shareholders. These Redemption Payments did not, as Sentry and Sigma mistakenly believed, represent the proceeds arising from the profitability of or to continue investment in BLMIS.

- 152. 129. The Beneficial Shareholders did not provide valuable consideration to Sentry and Sigma in exchange for the Redemption Payments or any portion thereof received by them, in that they received Redemption Payments made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 153. 130. To the extent that a Beneficial Shareholder received any portion of the Redemption Payments paid to HSBC SSL in its capacity as trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders, such Beneficial Shareholders have been unjustly enriched to the detriment of Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.
- 154. 131. Furthermore, the Beneficial Shareholders were not entitled to receive the Redemption Payments paid to HSBC SSL upon the redemption of Shares issued to it in its capacity as trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders because the amounts transferred by Sentry with respect to each of the Redemption Payments was based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value which caused the payment received for redemption of Shares to be in excess of the Net Asset Value of such Shares that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 155. 132. To the extent the Redemption Payments are not recovered by the ForeignRepresentatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry

ı

ı

and Sigma, the loss will be disproportionately and unjustly borne by Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.

- 156. 133. It would offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit the Beneficial Shareholders to retain the Redemption Payments made by Sentry and Sigma.
- 157. 134. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma, are entitled to recover from the Beneficial Shareholders an amount equal to any portion of any Redemption Payments received by them, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to the amount of all Redemption Payments received by the Beneficial Shareholders less the amount of redemption payments that such Beneficial Shareholders would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time.

FIFTH CLAIM (Mistaken Payment - Against HSBC SSL)

- 158. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 134 above as if set forth herein.
- 159. 136.—As described above, Sentry and Sigma made each of the Redemption Payments to HSBC SSL under the mistaken belief that the amounts paid to HSBC SSL represented the proceeds arising from the profitability of or to continue investment in BLMIS and were based upon the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed based upon the true facts at that time.
- 160. 137. Upon information and belief, however, BLMIS did not hold any securities or interests of securities on account for Sentry and the payments made by BLMIS to Sentry to fund Redemption Payments to HSBC SSL represented, in fact, money deposited with BLMIS by other BLMIS investors or previous deposits made by Sentry with BLMIS, never invested but rather misused and misappropriated as part of Madoff's fraud.

161. 138. The Redemption Payments, while benefiting HSBC SSL, were made to the detriment of Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.

ı

- 162. 139.—Additionally, HSBC SSL was not entitled to receive the Redemption Payments because, as was unknown to Sentry and Sigma, the amounts transferred with respect to each of the Redemption Payments was based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value, which caused the payment received by HSBC SSL for its redemption of Shares to be in excess of the Net Asset Value of such Shares that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time. In these circumstances, the Redemption Payments should be returned for the benefit of Sentry and Sigma, their creditors and the current holders of Shares in Sentry and Sigma.
- 163. 140. HSBC SSL did not provide valuable consideration to Sentry and Sigma in exchange for each of the Redemption Payments received by it, in that it received Redemption Payments made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 164. 141. To the extent the Redemption Payments are not recovered by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma, the loss will be disproportionately and unjustly borne by Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.
- 165. 142. It would thus offend principles of equity and good conscience to permitHSBC SSL to retain the Redemption Payments.

SIXTH CLAIM (Mistaken Payment - Against Beneficial Shareholders)

- 167. 144. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 143 above as if set forth herein.
- 168. 145.—As described above, Sentry and Sigma made each of the Redemption Payments to HSBC SSL under the mistaken belief that the amounts paid to HSBC SSL represented the proceeds arising from the profitability of or to continue investment in BLMIS.
- 169. 146. However, upon information and belief, BLMIS did not hold any securities or interests of securities on account for Sentry and the payments made by BLMIS to Sentry to fund Redemption Payments to HSBC SSL represented, in fact, money deposited with BLMIS by other BLMIS investors or previous deposits made by Sentry with BLMIS, never invested but rather misused and misappropriated as part of Madoff's fraud.
- 170. 147. Upon information and belief, HSBC SSL may have paid to or credited some or all of the Redemption Payments received by it to accounts of the Beneficial Shareholders. These Redemption Payments did not, as Sentry and Sigma mistakenly believed, represent the proceeds arising from the profitability of or to continue investment in BLMIS.

- 171. 148. Additionally, the Beneficial Shareholders were not entitled to receive the Redemption Payments received by HSBC SSL upon the redemption of Shares issued to it in its capacity as trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders because, as was unknown to Sentry and Sigma, the amounts transferred with respect to these Redemption Payments were based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value, which caused the Redemption Payments received by HSBC SSL for its redemption of Shares to be in excess of the Net Asset Value of such Shares that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 172. 149. The Beneficial Shareholders did not provide valuable consideration to Sentry and Sigma in exchange for the Redemption Payments or any portion thereof received by them, in that they received Redemption Payments made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 173. 150. The Redemption Payments, while benefiting any Beneficial Shareholder receiving any portion thereof, were made to the detriment of Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.
- 174. 151. To the extent are not recovered by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma, the loss will be disproportionately and unjustly borne and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.
- 175. 152. It would thus offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit any Beneficial Shareholder to retain the Redemption Payments.

176. 153. The Foreign Representatives in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma are entitled to recover from any Beneficial Shareholders an amount equal to any portion of any Redemption Payments received by them, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to the amount of all Redemption Payments received by any Beneficial Shareholders less the amount of redemption payments that such Beneficial Shareholders would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time.

SEVENTH CLAIM

(Constructive Trust - Against all Defendants)

- 177. 154. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 153 above as if set forth herein.
- 178. 155. As described above, upon receipt of a redemption request, Sentry and Sigma made each of the Redemption Payments to HSBC SSL based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value, which caused those Redemption Payments to be in excess of the Net Asset Value of redeemed Shares that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 179. 156. As alleged above, the Redemption Payments generally represented the proceeds arising from or to continue investment in what the world now knows was Madoff's Ponzi scheme. Accordingly, these Redemption Payments did not, as Sentry and Sigma mistakenly believed, represent the proceeds arising from the profitability of (or to continue investment in) BLMIS.

ı

ı

- 180. 157. Upon information and belief, HSBC SSL may have paid some or all of the Redemption Payments it received to the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 181. 158. By reason of their receipt of some or all of the Redemption Payments, Defendants have been unjustly enriched to the detriment of Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.
- 182. 159. Furthermore, Defendants were not entitled to receive the Redemption Payments because the amounts transferred with respect to each of the Redemption Payments was based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value, which caused the payment received by HSBC SSL for its redemption of Shares to be in excess of the Net Asset Value of such Shares that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 183. 160. It would offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit Defendants to retain the Redemption Payments.
- 184. 161. By reason of the foregoing, a constructive trust should be imposed on the Redemption Payments that were received by Defendants from Sentry and Sigma for the benefit of the Foreign Representatives and Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.

EIGHTH CLAIM

(Unfair Preference Pursuant to Section 245 of the BVI Insolvency Act - Against HSBC SSL)

185. 162. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as Foreign Representatives and liquidators of Sentry and Sigma, repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 161 above as if set forth herein.

- 186. 163. Section 245 of the BVI Insolvency Act provides:
- (1) Subject to subsection (2), a transaction entered into by a company is an unfair preference given by the company to a creditor if the transaction (a) is an insolvency transaction; (b) is entered into within the vulnerability period; and (c) has the effect of putting the creditor into a position which, in the event of the company going into insolvent liquidation, will be better than the position he would have been in if the transaction had not been entered into.
- (2) A transaction is not an unfair preference if the transaction took place in the ordinary course of business;
- (3) A transaction may be an unfair preference notwithstanding that it is entered into pursuant to the order of a court or tribunal in or outside the Virgin Islands.
- (4) Where a transaction entered into the by the company within the vulnerability period has the effect specific in subsection 1(c) in respect of a creditor who is a connected person, unless the contrary is proved, it is presumed that the transaction was an insolvency transaction and that it did not take place in the ordinary course of business.
- 187. 164. A creditor is defined in Section 9 of the BVI Insolvency Act as follows:
- (1) A person is a creditor of another person (the debtor) if he has a claim against the debtor, whether by assignment or otherwise, that is, or would be, an admissible claim in (a) the liquidation of the debtor, in the case of a debtor that is a company or a foreign company; or (b) the bankruptcy of the debtor, in the case of a debtor who is an individual.
- 188. 165. The BVI Insolvency Act further defines an "insolvency transaction" as a transaction that: "(a) is entered into at a time when the company is insolvent; or (b) . . . causes the company to become insolvent." BVI Insolvency Act § 244(2).
- 189. 166. For the purposes of assessing unfair preferences under Section 245 of the BVI Insolvency Act and undervalue transactions under Section 246 of the BVI Insolvency Act, a company is "insolvent" if: "(c) . . . (ii) the company is unable to pay its debts as they fall due." BVI Insolvency Act §§ 8, 244(3).
- 190. 167. For purposes of Section 245 and Section 246 of the BVI Insolvency Act, "vulnerability period" means "in the case of a transaction entered into with, or a preference given to, a connected person, the period commencing two years prior to the onset of insolvency and ending on the appointment of the administrator or, if the company is in liquidation, the liquidator" BVI Insolvency Act § 244(1).

- 191. 168. The "onset of insolvency" is defined as: "the date on which the application for the appointment of the liquidator was filed." BVI Insolvency Act § 244(1). Thus, the vulnerability period, for each of the Funds, is the period commencing two years prior to the application for the appointment of the Liquidators for each Fund and ending on the date of the appointment of the Liquidators of each Fund.
 - 192. 169. A "connected person" is:
 - (1) . . . one or more of the following:
 - (a) a promoter of the company;
 - (b) a director or member of the company or of a related company;
 - (c) a beneficiary under a trust of which the company is or has been a trustee;
 - (d) a related company;
 - (e) another company one of whose directors is also a director of the company;
 - (f) a nominee, relative, spouse or relative of a spouse of a person referred to in paragraphs (a) to (c);
 - (g) a person in partnership with a person referred to in paragraphs (a) to (c); and
 - (h) a trustee of a trust having as a beneficiary a person who is, apart from this paragraph, a connected person.

BVI Insolvency Act § 5 (emphasis added).

193. 170. Redemption Payments aggregating USD $21,119,098.95 were made by Sentry to HSBC SSL during the two-year period prior to the application for appointment of the Liquidators of Sentry in the BVI Liquidation Proceedings (the "Sentry Vulnerability Period").

194. 171.—During the Sentry Vulnerability Period, Sentry was insolvent or was rendered insolvent by the making of Redemption Payments.

ı

ı

- 195. 172. Each of the Redemptions and/or Redemption Payments made during the Sentry Vulnerability Period ("Vulnerability Period Payments") was an "insolvency transaction" within the meaning of Section 245 of the BVI Insolvency Act.
- 196. 173. HSBC SSL was a shareholder (i.e., a member) of Sentry during the Sentry Vulnerability Period and was, accordingly, a "connected person" as defined in the BVI Insolvency Act.
- 197. 174.—Each of the Vulnerability Period Payments put HSBC SSL in a better position than it would have been in had such Payment not been made.
- 198. 175.—Because HSBC SSL was a "connected person" as defined in the BVI Insolvency Act, there is a statutory presumption that the Redemptions and/or Vulnerability Period Payments were "insolvency transactions." Further, even were this not presumed, the Redemptions and/or Vulnerability Period Payments were "insolvency transactions" because at all material times the Funds were insolvent. This is because the Funds' assets were up to 95% invested with BLMIS and were only able to pay debts falling due either (i) with payments (including fictitious profits) from the Ponzi scheme BLMIS, i.e. using the proceeds of fraud, or (ii) by using incoming subscription monies (as a shortcut for investing those monies and also withdrawing monies from BLMIS to pay redeemers). Each time the Funds withdrew monies from BLMIS an equivalent liability immediately arose to the creditors of and investors in

BLMIS. On any commercial basis the Funds were insolvent on a cash flow basis at all material times.

ı

199. 176. In addition, there is a statutory presumption that the Vulnerability Period Payments were "not made in the ordinary course of any business" of Sentry. Even were this not presumed, the same would follow in that, among other things, each Vulnerability Period Payment represented a distribution of monies (including fictitious profits) from Madoff's Ponzi scheme or incoming subscription monies (which merely represented a shortcut for investing those monies and also withdrawing monies from BLMIS to pay redeemers), and it was no part of the ordinary course of business of the Funds to invest in and distribute profits of a Ponzi scheme.

200. 177. Each of the Vulnerability Period Payments was made following receipt by Sentry of a notice of redemption in respect of Shares, which triggered the redemption process under the Articles. Following the receipt by Sentry of a notice of redemption by HSBC SSL, HSBC SSL became a contingent creditor. Upon the subsequent redemption of HSBC SSL's shares and until such time as HSBC SSL received the Vulnerability Period Payment, HSBC SSL was a "creditor" of Sentry with an admissible claim against Sentry in any subsequent liquidation of Sentry had payment of the Redemption Price not been made, albeit that post-liquidation HSBC SSL would have been deferred to outside creditors.

201. 178. By reason of the foregoing, the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as Foreign Representatives and Liquidators of Sentry, are entitled to an order avoiding and setting aside the Vulnerability Period Payments and entitling the Foreign Representatives to recover from HSBC SSL an amount equal to the Vulnerability Period Payments received by HSBC SSL from Sentry.

NINTH CLAIM

(Unfair Preference Pursuant to Section 245 of the BVI Insolvency Act - Against Beneficial Shareholders)

- 202. 179. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as Foreign Liquidators of Sentry, repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 178 above as if set forth herein.
- 203. 180. Upon information and belief, HSBC SSL may have subscribed to all or some portion of the Shares issued to it under the Subscription Agreements in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 204. 181. Upon information and belief, HSBC SSL may have paid to or credited some or all of the Redemption Payments received by it to accounts of the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 205. 182. To the extent that any money that HSBC SSL received in connection with the Vulnerability Period Payments was transferred to the Beneficial Shareholders, the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as Foreign Representatives and Liquidators of Sentry, are entitled to avoid and set aside such further transfer by HSBC SSL to the Beneficial Shareholders and to recover from the Beneficial Shareholders an amount equal to any portion of any Vulnerability Period Payments received by them, and the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry, rely on, inter alia, section 249(2)(b) of the BVI Insolvency Act.

TENTH CLAIM

(Undervalue Transaction Pursuant to Section 246 of the BVI Insolvency Act - Against HSBC SSL)

- 206. 183. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as Foreign Representatives and liquidators of Sentry, repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 182 above as if set forth herein.
 - 207. 184. Section 246 of the BVI Insolvency Act provides that;
 - (1) Subject to subsection (2), a company enters into an undervalue transaction with a person if (a) the company makes a gift to that person or otherwise enters into a transaction with that person on terms that provide for the company to receive no consideration; or (b) the company enters into a transaction with that person for a consideration the value of which, in money or money's worth, is significantly less than the value, in money or money's worth, of the consideration provided by the company; and (c) in either case, the transaction concerned (i) is an insolvency transaction; and (ii) is entered into within the vulnerability period.
 - (2) A company does not enter into an undervalue transaction with a person if (a) the company enters into the transaction in good faith and for the purposes of its business; and (b) at the time when it enters into the transaction, there were reasonable grounds for believing that the transaction would benefit the company.
 - (3) A transaction may be an undervalue transaction notwithstanding that it is entered into pursuant to the order of a court or tribunal in or outside the Virgin Islands.
 - (4) Where a company enters into a transaction with a connected person within the vulnerability period and the transaction falls within subsection (1)(a) or subsection (1)(b), unless the contrary is proved, it is presumed that (a) the transaction was an insolvency transaction; and (b) subsection (2) did not apply to the transaction.
- 208. 185.—During the Sentry Vulnerability Period, all assets purportedly held by BLMIS for Sentry and other investors were non-existent, and Sentry was insolvent or rendered insolvent by the Vulnerability Period Payments, as alleged in paragraph 175 above. Thus, each of the Redemptions and/or Vulnerability Period Payments qualifies as an "insolvency transaction" within the meaning of Section 244 of the BVI Insolvency Act and for purposes of Section 246 of the BVI Insolvency Act.

ı

ı

ı

209. 186.—Sentry received no consideration for any of the Vulnerability Period Payments, or in the alternative, Sentry received, for each Vulnerability Period Payment, consideration, the value of which, in money or money's worth, was significantly less than the value, in money or money's worth, of the consideration provided by Sentry to HSBC SSL for each of the Vulnerability Period Payments.

210. 187. HSBC SSL was a shareholder (i.e., a member) of Sentry during the Vulnerability Period and was, accordingly, a "connected person" as defined in the BVI Insolvency Act.

211. 188. Because HSBC SSL was a "connected person" as defined in the BVI Insolvency Act, there is a statutory presumption that the Redemptions and/or Vulnerability Period Payments were "insolvency transactions." Further, there is a statutory presumption that the Vulnerability Period Payments were not made in good faith and for the purposes of the Funds' business with reasonable grounds to believe that they would benefit the Funds. Even were that not presumed, it is in any event clear that the purpose of the Funds was not to invest in and distribute fictitious profits from a Ponzi scheme such as BLMIS.

212. 189. By reason of the foregoing, the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as Foreign Representatives and liquidators of Sentry, are entitled to an order avoiding and setting aside the Vulnerability Period Payments and to recover from HSBC SSL an amount equal to the Vulnerability Period Payments received by HSBC SSL from Sentry.

ELEVENTH CLAIM

(Undervalue Transaction Pursuant to Section 246 of the BVI Insolvency Act - Against Beneficial Shareholders)

- 213. 190. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as Foreign Representatives and liquidators of Sentry, repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 189 above as if set forth herein.
- 214. 191. Upon information and belief, HSBC SSL may have subscribed to all or some portion of the Shares issued to it under the Subscription Agreements in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 215. Upon information and belief, HSBC SSL may have paid to or credited some or all of the Redemption Payments received by it to accounts of the Beneficial Shareholders.

216. 193. To the extent that any money that HSBC SSL received in connection with the Vulnerability Period Payments was transferred to the Beneficial Shareholders, the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as Foreign Representatives and liquidators of Sentry, are entitled to avoid and set aside such further transfer by HSBC SSL to the Beneficial Shareholders and to recover from the Beneficial Shareholders an amount equal to any portion of any Vulnerability Period Payments received by them, and the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry, rely on, inter alia, section 249(2)(b) of the BVI Insolvency Act.

TWELFTH CLAIM (Breach of Contract - Against HSBC SSL)

- 217. 194. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 193 above as if set forth herein.
- 195. HSBC SSL, upon information and belief, entered into a written agreement 218. or agreements with Sentry and Sigma on or about May 20, 1998, August 17, 1998, September 1, 1998, February 12, 1999, June 10, 1999, August 13, 1999, September 9, 1999, October 14, 1999, November 10, 1999, March 10, 2000, April 12, 2000, July 24, 2000, August 22, 2000, September 14, 2000, September 28, 2000, November 30, 2000, December 29, 2000, January 31, 2001, February 28, 2001, February 22, 2002, March 1, 2002, May 31, 2002, and June 24, 2002, pursuant to which HSBC SSL subscribed for Shares. Subsequent to entering into such agreements, HSBC SSL, upon information and belief, entered into the Initial Subscription Agreement with Sentry, on or about February 24, 2005 pursuant to which HSBC SSL subscribed for additional Shares. HSBC SSL's subscription for Shares was made pursuant to the terms of the Initial Subscription Agreement itself as well as the terms of the other documents referred to therein, namely; (i) Sentry's Private Placement Memorandum (as amended from time to time); and (ii) Sentry's Memorandum of Association and Articles of Association (the "Articles"). Subsequent to entering into the Initial Subscription Agreement, HSBC SSL, upon information and belief, entered into the Subsequent Subscription Agreements with Sentry and Sigma on or about March 29, 2005, June 24, 2005, June 28, 2005, September 30, 2005, December 31, 2005, March 27, 2006, May 26, 2006, May 31, 2006, June 30, 2006, September 27, 2006, September 28, 2006, September 30, 2006, December 21, 2006, December 27, 2006, March 31, 2007, June 30, 2007, August 29, 2007, December 21, 2007, and January 28, 2008, pursuant to which it subscribed for additional Shares on the same terms and conditions as those Shares subscribed for pursuant to the Initial Subscription Agreement. The Initial Subscription Agreement, together with the Subsequent Subscription Agreements, including all of the terms and provisions incorporated therein by reference to the Private Placement Memorandum (as amended from time to time) and the Articles, are collectively referred to herein as the "Fund Documents." HSBC SSL, as a subscriber in Sentry and Sigma, is bound by the Articles, as amended from time to time.

- 219. 196. The Fund Documents provide for the calculation of the redemption price for Shares (the "Redemption Price") based on the "Net Asset Value per Share." Net Asset Value per share is to be determined by the directors of Sentry and Sigma as of the relevant valuation day "by dividing the value of the net assets of [Sentry/Sigma] by the number of Shares then in issue [.]" Articles at 11(1).
- 220. 197. The Fund Documents provide that in determining the Net Asset Value per share for each class of shares issued, the value of the net assets of the Funds is to be adjusted "to take into account any dividends, distributions, assets or liabilities" attributable to such class of shares. Articles at 11(1). Pursuant to the Fund Documents, each subscriber, including HSBC SSL acknowledges that "the value of its Shares and redemptions thereof, and the performance of the Fund, may be based on unaudited and in some cases, estimated, valuations of the Fund's investment and that any valuation provided in Subscriber's account statement may be an unaudited, estimated value." See Initial Subscription Agreement ¶ 10.
- 221. 198.—With respect to the valuation of different types of assets, the Fund Documents prescribe methods of valuation that are, however, subject to the exercise of the judgment and discretion by the Directors of Sentry and Sigma. For example, with respect to the valuation of assets consisting of securities, the Fund Documents prescribe methods of valuation based on price and market data, provided however that "[i]f the Directors determine that [any of the prescribed methods of valuation] does not fairly represent its market value, the Directors shall value such securities as they determine and shall set forth the basis of such valuation in writing in the Company's records[.]" Articles at 11(3)(b).

222. 199. With respect to the value of any shares of stock held by Sentry and Sigma in an "investment company," the Fund Documents provide for valuation "in accordance with the manner in which such shares are valued by such investment company" provided however that "the Directors may make such adjustments in such valuations the Directors may from time to time consider appropriate." Articles at 11(3)(c).

- 223. 200. With respect to assets that have been "realised or contracted to be realised" the Fund Documents provide for the inclusion of the assets receivable in respect of such realization, provided however that "if the value of such assets is not then known exactly then its value shall be as estimated by the Directors." Articles at 11(3)(e).
- 224. 201. Additionally, the Fund Documents provide that "notwithstanding the foregoing, in the case of extraordinary circumstances which, in the Directors' sole discretion, warrant a different valuation of any securities, such securities will be valued at such prices as the Directors shall determine." Articles at 11(3)(f).
- 225. 202. The Fund Documents provide that any "certificate" as to the Net Asset Value per Share or as to the Redemption Price that is given in good faith by or on behalf of the Directors "shall be binding on all parties." Articles at 11(1).

226. 203. No Certificate was provided in good faith by or on behalf of the Directors to HSBC SSL in respect of any Net Asset Value determination made while HSBC SSL was a member of the Funds or in respect of any Redemption Payment made to HSBC SSL.

ı

227. 204.—Pursuant to the Fund Documents, at any time prior to the good faith issuance and receipt of a Certificate, the Redemption Price calculated in respect of the redemptions by HSBC SSL and paid to HSBC SSL remains subject to adjustment, recalculation and redetermination based on, inter alia, the foregoing identified provisions of the Fund Documents. Upon the true interpretation of the Fund Documents, the same contained an implied term for repayment of any over-payments, and/or such a term is to be implied on the basis of obviousness and/or as being necessary for the business efficacy of the Fund Documents and/or to give effect to the reasonable expectations of the parties.

228. 205. Upon information and belief, HSBC SSL received the Redemption Payments listed on Exhibit A and Exhibit B in respect of Shares submitted for redemption.

229. 206. Subsequent to December 8, 2008, Sentry and Sigma have determined that the Net Asset Value calculations upon which Redemption Payments were made to HSBC SSL included assets not held by or on behalf of Sentry and Sigma at the time of the making of such payments and, additionally, that such Net Asset Value calculations failed to account for and make appropriate deduction of liabilities of Sentry and Sigma existing at the time of such payments. For these and other reasons, such Net Asset Value calculation substantially overstated the net asset value of the assets of Sentry and Sigma.

230. 207. To the extent that HSBC SSL has received Redemption Payments in excess of the Net Asset Value of the Shares redeemed, HSBC SSL is contractually obligated to return amounts in excess of the Net Asset Value that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the relevant time.

ı

- 231. 208. Following determination by the Funds that Redemption Payments made to HSBC SSL had been calculated on the basis of an overstated Net Asset Value, demand has been made on HSBC SSL to return excess and overpaid Redemption Payments to the Funds.
- 232. 209. HSBC SSL has failed and refused to repay to the Funds the amount that, under the Fund Documents, it is contractually required to repay to the Funds.
- 233. 210. The failure of HSBC SSL to make the repayment requested constitutes a breach of the Fund Documents for which Sentry and Sigma are entitled to the award of damages.

THIRTEENTH CLAIM (Breach of Contract - Against Beneficial Shareholders)

- 234. 211. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 210 above as if set forth herein.
- 235. 212. Upon information and belief, HSBC SSL may have subscribed to all or some portion of the Shares issued to it under the Fund Documents in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 236. 213. Each Beneficial Shareholder authorized HSBC SSL to enter into the Fund Documents on his, her or its behalf and to bind the Beneficial Shareholder to the agreements and representations contained therein to the same extent as had the Beneficial Shareholder executed the Fund Documents on his, her or its, own behalf.

ı

ı

- 237. 214. Upon information and belief, HSBC SSL may have paid to or credited some or all of the Redemption Payments received by it from Sentry and Sigma to accounts of the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 238. 215. To the extent that any Beneficial Shareholder has received Redemption Payments in excess of the Net Asset Value of the Shares redeemed, such Beneficial Shareholder is contractually obligated to return amounts in excess of the Net Asset Value that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the relevant time.
- 239. 216. Following determination by the Funds that Redemption Payments made to HSBC SSL had been calculated on the basis of an overstated Net Asset Value, demand was made on the Beneficial Shareholders by demand on HSBC SSL for the return of excess and overpaid Redemption Payments.
- 240. 217. The Beneficial Shareholders have failed and refused to repay to the Funds the amounts that, under the Fund Documents, they are contractually required to repay to the Funds.
- 241. 218. The failure of the Beneficial Shareholders to make the repayment requested constitutes a breach of the Fund Documents for which Sentry and Sigma are entitled to the award of damages.

FOURTEENTH CLAIM

(Breach of Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing - Against HSBC SSL)

ı

- 243. 220. Following determination by the Funds that Redemption Payments to HSBC
 SSL had been made on the basis of an overstated Net Asset Value, demand was made to HSBC SSL to return excess and overpaid Redemption Payments to Sentry and Sigma.
- 244. 221. HSBC SSL has failed and refused to make the requested repayment to Sentry and Sigma.
- 245. 222. By retaining the Redemption Payments to which HSBC SSL is not entitled,HSBC SSL has deprived Sentry and Sigma of the benefit of their bargain and has subverted the Fund Documents.
- 246. 223. The failure of HSBC SSL to make the repayment requested constitutes a breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing that inheres in the Fund Documents for which Sentry and Sigma are entitled to the award of damages.

FIFTEENTH CLAIM

(Breach of Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing - Against Beneficial Shareholders)

- 247. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 223 above as if set forth herein.
- 248. 225. Upon information and belief, HSBC SSL may have subscribed to all or some portion of the Shares issued to it under the Fund Documents in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 249. Upon information and belief, HSBC SSL may have paid to or credited some or all of the Redemption Payments received by it from Sentry and Sigma to accounts of the Beneficial Shareholders.

- 250. 227. Following determination by the Funds that Redemption Payments made to HSBC SSL had been calculated on the basis of an overstated Net Asset Value, demand was made on the Beneficial Shareholders by demand on HSBC SSL for the return of excess and overpaid Redemption Payments.
- 251. 228. The Beneficial Shareholders have failed and refused to make repayment toSentry and Sigma.
- 252. By retaining the Redemption Payments to which they are not entitled, the Beneficial Shareholders have deprived Sentry and Sigma of the benefit of their bargain and have subverted the Fund Documents.
- 253. 230. The failure of the Beneficial Shareholders to make the repayment requested constitutes a breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing that inheres in the Fund Documents for which Sentry and Sigma are entitled to the award of damages.

SIXTEENTH CLAIM (Declaratory Judgment - Against All Defendants)

- 254. 231. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 230 above as if set forth herein.
- 255. 232. An actual and justiciable controversy exists between the Plaintiffs and the Defendants with respect to the obligation of the Defendants to repay to the Funds all or a portion of amounts received by them as excess or overpaid Redemption Payments under circumstances where:

- (i) the Net Asset Value per Share calculation upon which the Redemption Price was paid, directly or indirectly, to any Defendant has been subsequently adjusted, recalculated or redetermined in accordance with the Fund Documents;
- (ii) the resulting adjusted, recalculated and redetermined Redemption Price is less than the Redemption Price paid to the Defendant;
- (iii) prior to such adjustment, recalculation or redetermination, no binding Certificate has been issued by the Funds; and
- (iv) Citco issued no Certificates in good faith.
- 256. 233. The harm to Sentry and Sigma is real and immediate because, as a result of the failure and refusal of the Defendants to make repayment, Sentry and Sigma have become insolvent and are presently unable to pay its debts as they fall or will fall due.
 - 257. Plaintiffs have no adequate remedy at law.
- 258. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201 et. seq., Plaintiffs are entitled to a declaration by this Court declaring that, pursuant to the Fund Documents, each Defendant must repay Sentry and Sigma that portion of the Redemption Payments received by such Defendant representing the amount by which such Redemption Payments exceeded the Redemption Price as it has been subsequently adjusted, recalculated and redetermined by Sentry and Sigma.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, the Plaintiffs respectfully request the following relief:

A. On the First, Third and Fifth Claims, judgment in favor of Plaintiffs and against HSBC SSL allowing the Plaintiffs to recover an amount equal to the Redemption Payments received by HSBC SSL, plus interest, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to the amount of that HSBC SSL would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time, plus interest;

- B. On the Second, Fourth and Sixth Claims, judgment in favor of Plaintiffs and against the Beneficial Shareholders allowing the Plaintiffs to recover an amount equal to any portion of any Redemption Payments received by the Beneficial Shareholders, plus interest, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to any portion of the Redemption Payments received by the Beneficial Shareholders less the amount of such portion that such Beneficial Shareholders would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time, plus interest;
- C. On the Seventh Claim, imposition of a constructive trust on Redemption Payments;
 - D. On the Eighth and Ninth Claims:
 - i. a declaratory judgment in favor of the Foreign Representatives and against HSBC SSL and the Beneficial Holders that the Redemptions and/or Vulnerability Period Payments constitute Unfair Preferences under Section 245 of the BVI Insolvency Act;
 - ii. judgment pursuant to Section 249 of the BVI Insolvency Act, setting aside and avoiding the Redemptions and/or Vulnerability Period Payments; and
 - iii. judgment pursuant to Section 249 of the BVI Insolvency Act against HSBC SSL and the Beneficial Holders in the amount of the avoided Vulnerability Period Payments received by them or for their benefit, plus interest;

E. On the Tenth and Eleventh Claims:

i. a declaratory judgment in favor of the Foreign Representatives and against HSBC SSL and the Beneficial Holders that the Redemptions and/or Vulnerability Period Payments constitute Undervalue Transactions under Section 246 of the BVI Insolvency Act;

REDACTED WITH REDACT-IT Main Document 10-03635-jpm Doc 296 Filed 04/12/17 Entered 04/12/17 18:15:42 Pg 143 of 317

Payments; and judgment pursuant to Section 249 of the BVI Insolvency Act against iii. HSBC SSL and the Beneficial Holders in the amount of the avoided

Vulnerability Period Payments received by them or for their benefit, plus interest;

F. On the Twelfth and Fourteenth Claims, judgment against HSBC SSL and in favor of the Plaintiffs in an amount to be determined at trial;

G. On the Thirteenth and Fifteenth Claims, judgment against the Beneficial

Shareholders and in favor of the Plaintiffs in an amount to be determined at trial;

Η. On the Sixteenth Claim, a declaratory judgment against the Defendants and in favor of the Plaintiffs that, under the Fund Documents, the Defendants must repay that portion of the Redemption Payments received by such Defendant representing the amount by which such Redemption Payments exceeded the Redemption Price as it has been subsequently adjusted, recalculated and redetermined by Sentry and Sigma;

I. Awarding Plaintiffs the costs and disbursements of the action, including reasonable attorneys' fees and accountants' and experts' fees, costs and expenses; and Granting Plaintiffs such other and further relief as the Court deems just and J.

Fairfield Lambda Limited ("Lambda," together with Sentry and Sigma, the "Funds" or the "Debtors") pending before the Commercial Division of the Eastern Caribbean High Court of Justice, British Virgin Islands (the "BVI Court"), for their complaint against Defendants, allege the following based on personal knowledge or information derived from the Funds' books and records or from other sources, including, inter alia, court filings and statements of governmental agencies and other parties.

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

- 1. This action and similar actions are brought by the Plaintiffs, with the approval of the foreign court having jurisdiction over the matter, to recover payments made to shareholders for the redemption of shares in the Funds prior to December 2008.
- 2. The Funds were created as a means for private investment in managed accounts with Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC ("BLMIS"), the brokerage business that Bernard L. Madoff used to perpetrate his massive Ponzi scheme. Sentry was the largest of all so-called "feeder funds" to maintain accounts with BLMIS. Sigma and Lambda were indirect BLMIS feeder funds established for foreign currency investments (respectively, Euro and Swiss Franc investments) through purchases of shares of Sentry. Sentry's account statements with BLMIS as of the end of October 2008 showed in excess of $6 billion of assets supposedly held by BLMIS for Sentry. As stated in their offering materials, the Funds' investment objective was to achieve capital appreciation of assets through investments in BLMIS (directly, in the case of Sentry; and indirectly, through Sentry, in the cases of Sigma and Lambda).
- 3. It is now known that these types of feeder funds were essential to the perpetration of Madoff's Ponzi scheme. In order for the Ponzi scheme to operate, Madoff required a continuous flow of new investors and investments to be able to satisfy redemption requests from early investors. Feeder funds, such as Sentry (which was a direct feeder fund into BLMIS), and Sigma and Lambda (which were indirect feeder funds, through Sentry, into BLMIS), brought new investors into this scheme, allowing Madoff to make payments to early investors and thereby creating and perpetuating the illusion that BLMIS was engaged in a successful investment strategy and actively trading securities.

10-03635-jpm Doc 296 Filed 04/12/17 Entered 04/12/17 18:15:42 Main Document Pa 153 of 317

- 4. From the Funds' inception until the disclosure of Madoff's fraud in December 2008, during most relevant times, substantially all cash, net of fees and expenses, raised by the Funds through the sale of their shares was transferred (either directly in the case of Sentry or indirectly, through Sentry, in the cases of Sigma and Lambda) to BLMIS for investment in accounts managed by Madoff. Prior to December 2008, the voting participating shares of Sentry ($.01 par value per share), Sigma (€.01 par value per share), and Lambda (CHF.01 par value per share) (the "Shares"), were redeemable for a price equal to the applicable Fund's "Net Asset Value." Net Asset Value was to be determined, in accordance with applicable accounting standards, as the value of the respective assets of Sentry, Sigma, and Lambda divided by the number of shares outstanding in each Fund, net of certain expenses ("Net Asset Value").
- 5. From time to time, in order to make payments to investors for the redemption of Shares ("Redemption Payments"), Sentry generally made withdrawals from its BLMIS accounts. On occasion, Sentry made Redemption Payments directly from amounts on hand invested by other subscribers in the Funds. At all relevant times, the Funds believed payments that Sentry received from BLMIS represented the proceeds of sales of securities and/or investments held by BLMIS for Sentry. The amount, per share, paid by the Funds to shareholders for each Share redeemed was to be equal to the per share Net Asset Value, which was calculated based principally on the assets that the Funds believed were being held, and investments that were being made, by BLMIS for Sentry's account.

- 6. As the world now knows, Madoff was operating a massive Ponzi scheme through BLMIS. Thus, at all relevant times, the money that Sentry transferred to BLMIS was not invested, but, rather, was used by Madoff to pay other BLMIS investors or was otherwise misappropriated by Madoff for unauthorized uses. Further, none of the securities shown on statements provided to Sentry by BLMIS were in fact purchased for Sentry. Additionally, none of the amounts withdrawn by Sentry from its accounts with BLMIS were proceeds of sales of securities or other investments. Instead, such amounts represented the monies of more recent investors into the Madoff scheme.
- 7. In light of the fraudulent nature of BLMIS and its operation as a massive Ponzi scheme, at all relevant times the assets purportedly held at BLMIS for Sentry were non-existent, and the Funds were insolvent at the time Redemption Payments were made or they were rendered insolvent by those payments. As a result, at all relevant times, the Net Asset Value of the Shares redeemed was miscalculated, and Redemption Payments were mistakenly made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at any relevant time.
- 8. At all relevant times, all payments made from BLMIS to Sentry and other feeder funds and investors were made by Madoff to perpetuate his Ponzi scheme and avoid detection of his fraud. Similarly, the Redemption Payments that the Funds made to redeeming shareholders were not made in the ordinary course of any business or for any legitimate purposes. Those Redemption Payments did not conform to or follow the terms of the Funds' Subscription Agreements, Articles of Association and/or other offering documents, as they were based upon Net Asset Values that were not calculated based upon the true facts existing at any relevant time, and because, more generally, the Redemption Payments represented the proceeds arising from investment in BLMIS (or a substitute therefor, in the form of subscription monies from other investors in the Funds, used as a shortcut to investing subscription monies with BLMIS and simultaneously withdrawing monies from BLMIS), which the world now knows was operated by Madoff as a Ponzi scheme. These payments were crucial in perpetuating the Ponzi scheme and maintaining the illusion that Madoff was making actual investments and employing a successful investment strategy.

- 9. During the period from and after April 20, 2004, through November 21, 2008, following the receipt by Sentry and Sigma of notices of redemption, Sentry and Sigma made Redemption Payments to accounts held in the name of HSBC Private Bank Suisse SA ("HSBC Suisse") aggregating USD $124,301,366.68.
- 10. At the time such payments were made, Sentry and Sigma mistakenly believed that such payments were in the amount of the Net Asset Value of the Shares tendered at the time of redemption. In fact, however, as stated, the Redemption Payments made to HSBC Suisse far exceeded the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based on the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time. Moreover, these Redemption Payments did not, as Sentry and Sigma intended, represent the proceeds arising from the profitability of or to continue investment in BLMIS. Instead, any amounts obtained directly or indirectly by Sentry and Sigma from BLMIS to make Redemption Payments to HSBC Suisse generally were proceeds of Madoff's Ponzi scheme, obtained from other BLMIS investors or other Sentry investors invested in BLMIS.

- 11. Accordingly, the Funds' actual assets are, and at relevant times were, far less than the amount needed to satisfy their liabilities and the claims that have been or may be asserted against them, and, at all relevant times, the Funds were unable to pay their debts as they fell or would fall due. Indeed, at the time the Redemptions Payments were made, the Funds had insufficient assets from which to pay debts as they fell or would fall due.
- 12. In particular, claims had been previously asserted against the Funds in actions commenced by Irving H. Picard, the Trustee appointed by the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York for the liquidation of BLMIS (the "BLMIS Trustee"), in an adversary proceeding pending before the United States Bankruptcy Court of the Southern District of New York, Picard v. Fairfield Sentry Limited, et al., No. 08-01789 (SMB) (the "BLMIS Adversary Proceeding"). As set forth in the complaint filed in the BLMIS Adversary Proceedings, the BLMIS Trustee sought to recover from the Funds, on preference and fraudulent transfer grounds, approximately $3.2 billion. This amount was alleged to have been transferred to the Funds from BLMIS, directly (in the case of Sentry), or indirectly (in the cases of Sigma and Lambda), during the six years preceding the December 2008 disclosure of the Madoff fraud. The BLMIS Trustee alleged that the monies transferred from BLMIS to the Funds were the misappropriated assets of other BLMIS investors. At all relevant times, monies that the Funds received from BLMIS, net of fees and expenses, were transferred to shareholders as Redemption Payments.
- 13. On July 13, 2011, pursuant to an agreement between the Foreign Representatives and the BLMIS Trustee dated May 9, 2011, the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York entered judgments against each of the Funds on the claims against the Funds asserted in the BLMIS Adversary Proceeding (the "Judgments") in the amount of $3,054,000,000 with respect to Sentry, $752,300,000 with respect to Sigma, and $52,900,000 with respect to Lambda. The Redemption Payments rendered the Funds unable to satisfy their liabilities to the BLMIS customers, the BLMIS Trustee, including on account of the Judgments, and other creditors of the Funds, and further increased the amount of those liabilities. In this way, the Redemption Payments caused the Funds to become insolvent and/or deepened their existing insolvency, in that, among other things, at all relevant times the Funds were unable to pay their debts as they fell or would fall due.

- 14. Upon information and belief, HSBC Suisse has either retained the Redemption Payments made to it by Sentry and Sigma for its own account and benefit or, alternatively, paid all or some portion of such payments to or for the account of persons or entities, including, but not limited to, Capitalia and Pan International Limited, for whom HSBC Suisse may have subscribed for shares of the Funds in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, nominee or custodian (individually, a "Beneficial Shareholder" and collectively, "Beneficial Shareholders," together with HSBC Suisse, the "Defendants").
- 15. Following the revelation of Madoff's fraud in December 2008, the Funds' boards of directors suspended any further redemptions of the Funds' shares and the calculation of each of the Funds' Net Asset Value. As of December 2008 and presently, Sentry, Sigma, and Lambda have, respectively, approximately 4.7 million, 3.9 million, and 0.2 million shares outstanding.
- 16. Unless Redemption Payments paid to shareholders are recovered for the Funds' estates, the Funds will be unable to satisfy their liabilities and claims that have been made or may be made against them; further, recoveries of Redemption Payments will increase distributions to the Funds' investors who have been harmed. Moreover, to the extent such liabilities and claims must be satisfied solely from the Funds' current assets, Defendants will have been unjustly enriched as they will not bear their proportionate share of such liabilities and claims, but rather will retain a windfall at the expense of other shareholders and creditors of the Funds.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

17. Jurisdiction is proper in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157(b) and 1334(b), as this adversary proceeding and the claims asserted by the Foreign Representatives herein arise under, arise in and/or relate to the Chapter 15 proceedings of the above-captioned Debtors, In re Fairfield Sentry Limited, et al., No. 10-13164 (SMB), pending in this Court. Additionally, pursuant to section 78eee(b)(2)(A)(iii) of the Securities Investor Protection Act ("SIPA"), which incorporates 28 U.S.C. § 1334(b) and applicable provisions of Title 11 of the United States Code, jurisdiction is also proper in this Court because this action also relates to the consolidated liquidation proceedings of BLMIS and Bernard L. Madoff, pending in this Court under the caption Securities Investor Protection Corp. v. Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC, SIPA Liquidation No. 08-1789 (SMB). Pursuant to the Amended Standing Order of Reference of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, dated January 31, 2012, all proceedings arising in, arising under and/or related to cases under Title 11 of the United States Code (as amended, the "Bankruptcy Code") are referred to this Court for adjudication.

Although the District Court, in In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd., No. 1:11-mc-00224-LAP, 458 B.R. 665 (S.D.N.Y. 2011), held that causes of action alleged by the Plaintiffs in other cases before this Court—causes of action that are similar or the same as those alleged in this complaint—are not core proceedings, this determination may be subject to appeal. In any event, plaintiffs submit that the causes of action in this complaint, which include, inter alia, allegations regarding transfers of property that were directed into the territorial jurisdiction of the United States, render the claims asserted in this complaint core in accordance with the District Court's decision.

18. This is a core proceeding under 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2). Should the Court determine that this is a non-core proceeding, Plaintiffs consent to entry of final judgment and order by this Court.

19. This Court has jurisdiction over HSBC Suisse and any Beneficial Shareholders pursuant to Rules 7004(d) and (f) of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure and New York Civil Practice Law & Rules § 302 (McKinney 2008) because HSBC Suisse and the Beneficial Shareholders purposely availed themselves of the laws of the United States and the State of New York by, among other things, investing money with the Funds, knowing and intending that the Funds would invest substantially all of that money in New York-based BLMIS, and maintaining bank accounts in the United States at HSBC Bank USA, and in fact receiving Redemption Payments in those United States-based and/or New York-based accounts. HSBC Suisse and the Beneficial Shareholders selected U.S. dollars as the currency in which to invest and execute their transactions in Sentry, designated United States-based and/or New York-based bank accounts to receive their Redemption Payments from the Funds, and actively directed Redemption Payments at issue in this action into those accounts. HSBC Suisse and the Beneficial Shareholders thus knowingly accepted the rights, benefits, and privileges of conducting business and/or transactions in the United States and New York, derived significant revenue from New York, and maintained minimum contacts and/or general business contacts with the United States and New York in connection with the claims alleged herein. HSBC

Although the District Court, in In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd., No. 1:11-mc-00224-LAP, 458 B.R. 665 (S.D.N.Y. 2011), held that causes of action alleged by the Plaintiffs in other cases before this Court—causes of action that are similar or the same as those alleged in this complaint—are not core proceedings, this determination may be subject to appeal. In any event, plaintiffs submit that the causes of action in this complaint, which include, inter alia, allegations regarding transfers of property that were directed into the territorial jurisdiction of the United States, render the claims asserted in this complaint core in accordance with the District Court's decision.

Suisse and the Beneficial Shareholders should therefore reasonably expect to be subject to United States jurisdiction.

- 20. Moreover, this Court has jurisdiction over HSBC Suisse and any Beneficial Shareholders by virtue of the legally binding and valid agreements and representations set forth in one or more agreements for the subscription of Shares that HSBC Suisse entered into with Sentry and Sigma.
- 21. HSBC Suisse, upon information and belief, entered into a Subscription Agreement with Sentry on or about April 15, 1998 (the "Initial Subscription Agreement") pursuant to which HSBC Suisse subscribed for a total of 93,529.5700 Shares. Subsequent to entering into the Initial Subscription Agreement, HSBC Suisse, upon information and belief, entered into additional agreements (the "Subsequent Subscription Agreements") with Sentry and Sigma on or about April 24, 1998, June 10, 1998, June 16, 1998, June 22, 1998, August 17, 1998, September 1, 1998, October 1, 1998, October 2, 1998, October 5, 1998, November 12, 1998, December 8, 1998, December 11, 1998 December 31, 1998, January 13, 1999, February 10, 1999, April 13, 1999, April 23, 1999, May 12, 1999, May 14, 1999, May 17, 1999, June 10, 1999, July 9, 1999, August 10, 1999, August 23, 1999, September 9, 1999, October 14, 1999, November 10, 1999, December 8, 1999, December 9, 1999, January 11, 2000, January 31, 2000, February 8, 2000, March 10, 2000, April 12, 2000, May 12, 2000, May 24, 2000, May 29, 2000, April 30, 2001, June 9, 2000, July 12, 2000, August 15, 2000, August 22, 2000, September 19, 2000, September 20, 2000, September 28, 2000, October 31, 2000, November 30, 2000, December 29, 2000, January 31, 2001, March 30, 2001, April 4, 2001, April 30, 2001, May 1, 2001, May 31, 2001, June 29, 2001, July 31, 2001, September 4, 2001, October 31, 2001, November 30, 2001, December 3, 2001, January 3, 2003, April 8, 2002, June 27, 2002 June 28, 2002, August 26, 2002, August 30, 2002, September 23, 2002, December 23, 2002, July 31, 2003, October 2, 2003, October 28, 2003, November 28, 2003, December 30, 2003, March 24, 2004, March 25, 2004, April 26, 2004, May 25, 2004, November 24, 2004, January 27, 2005, March 28, 2005, April 25, 2005, April 26, 2005, April 29, 2005, January 26, 2006, March 28, 2006, May 12, 2006, July 27, 2006, August 22, 2006, August 28, 2006, August 29, 2006, October 27, 2006, October 30, 2006, November 27, 2006, December 22, 2006, January 26, 2007, February 23, 2007, February 26, 2007, March 27, 2007, March 28, 2007, April 24, 2007, April 26, 2007, May 29, 2007, July 26, 2007, June 27, 2007, August 29, 2007, September 26, 2007, October 26, 2007, October 29, 2007, November 28, 2007, December 24, 2007, January 28, 2008, February 26, 2008, February 27, 2008, March 26, 2008, March 28, 2006, April 25, 2008, May 29, 2008, June 24, 2008, July 31, 2008, and September 24, 2008 pursuant to which it subscribed for 330,009.1009 additional Shares on the same terms and conditions as those shares subscribed for pursuant to the Initial Subscription Agreement. The Initial Subscription Agreement and Subsequent Subscription Agreements are collectively referred to herein as the "Subscription Agreements."

22. The Subscription Agreements provide for, inter alia, the irrevocable submission by HSBC Suisse to the jurisdiction of the New York courts with respect to any proceeding with respect to said agreement and Sentry and Sigma and HSBC Suisse's consent to service of process by the mailing of such process, as provided therein. In particular, the Subscription Agreements provide as follows:

New York Courts. Subscriber agrees that any suit, action or proceeding ("Proceeding") with respect to this Agreement and the Fund may be brought in New York. Subscriber irrevocably submits to the jurisdiction of the New York courts with respect to any Proceeding and consents that service of process as provided by New York law may be made upon Subscriber in such Proceeding, and may not claim that a Proceeding has been brought in an inconvenient forum.

Subscriber consents to the service of process out of any New York court in any such Proceeding by the mailing of copies thereof, by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, addressed to Subscriber at the address of Subscriber then appearing on the Fund's records. Nothing herein shall affect the Fund's right to commence any Proceeding or otherwise to proceed against Subscriber in any other jurisdiction or to serve process upon Subscriber in any manner permitted by any applicable law in any relevant jurisdiction.

23. Furthermore, by executing the Subscription Agreements, HSBC Suisse agreed to all terms and conditions contained therein, including the express provision that any agreement made by HSBC Suisse in the Subscription Agreements would also apply to any other person for whom HSBC Suisse was subscribing as trustee, agent, representative, or nominee – i.e., all Beneficial Shareholders. Moreover, by executing the Subscription Agreements, HSBC Suisse represented that it had all requisite authority from Beneficial Shareholders to execute and perform any and all obligations on their behalf, and also agreed to indemnify Sentry and Sigma for any damages resulting from an assertion by a Beneficial Shareholder that HSBC Suisse lacked proper authorization to enter into the Subscription Agreements or perform the obligations thereof. Specifically, the Subscription Agreements provide as follows:

If Subscriber is acting as a Representative. If Subscriber is subscribing as trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for another person (the "Beneficial Shareholder"), Subscriber agrees that the representations and agreements herein are made by Subscriber with respect to itself and the Beneficial Shareholder. Subscriber has all requisite authority from the Beneficial Shareholder to execute and perform the obligations hereunder. Subscriber also agrees to indemnify the Fund . . . for any and all costs, fees and expenses (including legal fees and disbursements, fines and amounts paid in settlement) in connection with any damages resulting from Subscriber's misrepresentation or misstatement contained here, or the assertion of Subscriber's lack of proper authorization from the Beneficial Shareholder to enter into this Agreement or perform the obligations hereof.

24. Venue is proper in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1409(a).

PARTIES

Plaintiffs

- 25. Sentry, a British Virgin Islands company, was organized in 1990 under the International Business Company Act of the British Virgin Islands and was subsequently reregistered as a business company under the BVI Business Companies Act 2004. Sentry's registered agent is Codan Trust Company (B.V.I.) located at Romasco Place, Wickhams Cay 1, Road Town, Tortola, BVI. Sentry is currently in liquidation in proceedings commenced on April 21, 2009 in the BVI Court.
- 26. Sigma, a British Virgin Islands company, was organized in 1990 under the International Business Company Act of the British Virgin Islands and was subsequently reregistered as a business company under the BVI Business Companies Act 2004. Sigma's registered agent is Codan Trust Company (B.V.I.) located at Romasco Place, Wickhams Cay 1, Road Town, Tortola, BVI. Sigma is currently in liquidation in proceedings commenced on April 23, 2009, in the BVI Court.
- 27. The Foreign Representatives were appointed by the BVI Court as Liquidators of the Funds to supervise the liquidation of the Funds' estates and, where necessary, commence proceedings in the name of and on behalf of the Funds or in their own official names. On April 23, 2009, the BVI Court issued an order appointing Christopher Stride as liquidator of Lambda (the "Lambda Appointment Order"). On July 21, 2009, the BVI Court issued an order appointing Kenneth Krys and Mr. Stride as joint liquidators of Sentry and Sigma (the "Sentry & Sigma Appointment Order"). On September 6, 2010, the BVI Court issued notices acknowledging Mr. Stride's resignation and the appointment of Joanna Lau as joint liquidator with Mr. Krys of all three Funds (the "Supplemental Appointment Order"). On November 23,

10-03635-jpm Doc 296 Filed 04/12/17 Entered 04/12/17 18:15:42 Main Document Pa 164 of 317

2011, Ms. Lau resigned as joint liquidator of the Funds. On June 24, 2014, the BVI Court issued an order appointing Charlotte Caulfield as joint liquidator, with Mr. Krys, of all three Funds (the "Second Supplemental Appointment Order" and, together with the Lambda Appointment Order, the Sentry & Sigma Appointment Order, and the Supplemental Appointment Order, the "BVI Appointment Orders"). The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as Foreign Representatives and liquidators of the Funds, have been authorized by the foreign court having jurisdiction over the matter to bring this action and the claims herein, including the avoidance claims herein under the BVI Insolvency Act of 2003 (the "BVI Insolvency Act").

- 28. Pursuant to the BVI Appointment Orders, the Foreign Representatives are responsible for all aspects of the Funds' businesses, including, among other things, custody and control of the Funds' assets, the power to do all acts and execute, in the name and on behalf of the Funds, any deeds, receipts or other documents, and the power to compromise claims, commence litigation and to dispose of property. After obtaining BVI Court approval, the Foreign Representatives filed petitions in this Court in June of 2010, under Chapter 15 of Title 11 of the United States Code, seeking recognition of the BVI Liquidation Proceedings as "foreign main proceedings" under Chapter 15. On July 22, 2010, this Court issued an order (the "Recognition Order") granting that recognition.
- 29. Pursuant to the Recognition Order, the Foreign Representatives were automatically afforded relief available under 11 U.S.C. § 1520, including application of the Bankruptcy Code's automatic stay to the Funds and their property located in the United States, as well as the ability to operate the Funds' business and exercise the rights and powers of a trustee under Sections 363 and 552 of the Bankruptcy Code. Moreover, the Bankruptcy Court specifically granted additional relief in the Recognition Order to the Foreign Representatives pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1521(a). Such relief includes, but is not limited to: (i) staying any actions, proceedings or execution against the Funds' assets to the extent not stayed under Section 1520; (ii) authorizing the Foreign Representatives to seek leave to conduct discovery concerning the Funds' assets, affairs, rights, obligations or liabilities; (iii) entrusting the Foreign Representatives with the administration and realization of the Funds' assets that are located within the United States, including all claims and causes of action belonging to the Funds; and (iv) otherwise giving full force and effect to the proceedings before the BVI Court.

Defendants

- 30. HSBC Suisse was, at all relevant times, a member of Sentry and Sigma and a registered holder of Shares. Upon information and belief, HSBC Suisse is a corporate entity organized under the laws of Switzerland and having its registered address at 2 Quai General Guisan, P.O. Box 3580, CH-1211 Geneva, Switzerland. HSBC Suisse subscribed for the purchase of Shares by entering into one or more Subscription Agreements with Sentry and Sigma. All purchases of Shares by HSBC Suisse were subject to the terms of the Subscription Agreements.
- 31. Defendants "Beneficial Owners of the Accounts Held in the Name of HSBC Private Bank Suisse SA 1-1000" i.e., the Beneficial Shareholders, are, as noted, any persons or entities having a beneficial ownership or interests in Shares of Sentry and/or Sigma issued to HSBC Suisse and on whose behalf HSBC Suisse was acting as trustee, agent, representative, or nominee.
- 32. Based on Sentry and Sigma records, some or all of the Redemption Payments made to HSBC Suisse may have been paid to an account holder or holders associated with Capitalia. Upon information and belief, Capitalia is a corporate entity organized under the laws of Italy and has its registered address at Piazza Cordusio, 20123, Milano, Italy.

33. Based on Sentry and Sigma records, some or all of the Redemption Payments made to HSBC Suisse may have been paid to an account holder or holders associated with Pan International Limited.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

A. Role of Feeder Funds In Madoff Fraud

- 35. Sentry was the largest of all the so-called "feeder funds" to maintain accounts with BLMIS. Sigma and Lambda were indirect BLMIS feeder funds established for foreign currency (respectively, Euro and Swiss franc) investment through purchase of shares of Sentry. Sentry's account statements with BLMIS as of the end of October 2008 showed in excess of $6 billion of invested assets supposedly held by BLMIS. As stated in its offering materials, Sentry's investment objective was to achieve capital appreciation through investments in BLMIS.
- 36. As discussed above, Sentry, Sigma, and Lambda were established for the purpose of making investments in BLMIS. It is now known that these types of feeder funds were a crucial part of Madoff's Ponzi scheme. The feeder funds brought new investors and new investments into the scheme, allowing Madoff to make payments to early investors who sought to liquidate their investments, and in this way, the feeder funds were used by Madoff to continue and perpetuate his fraud by maintaining the illusion that BLMIS was making active investments and engaging in a successful investment strategy.

B. Calculation of Net Asset Value and Shareholder Redemption Payments

37. Substantially all of the money (up to 95%) raised by the Funds from the sale of their Shares, net of fees and expenses, was turned over to and invested in BLMIS (by and/or through Sentry), and supposedly credited to accounts held in the name of Sentry with BLMIS, purportedly for use in the now infamous "split-strike conversion" investment strategy. In accordance with the Funds' Subscription Agreements, Articles of Association, offering materials and/or other relevant documents, from time to time, the Funds paid to shareholders, for each Share tendered for redemption, an amount that was based on each of the respective Funds' purported Net Asset Value, as it was then calculated.

38. In calculating each of the Funds' Net Asset Value, the Funds' administrators used and relied on account statements provided by BLMIS purportedly showing securities and investments, or interests or rights in securities and investments, held by BLMIS for the account of Sentry. Generally, all securities identified on BLMIS account statements were traded on public exchanges and had readily ascertainable market values, and those market values (in addition to, among other items, cash on hand that was identified in the Sentry account statement for the relevant time period) were used in accordance with the Funds' Subscription Agreements, Articles of Association, offering materials and/or other documents to calculate the Net Asset Value of the Shares.

39. In fact, at all relevant times, no securities were ever purchased or sold by BLMIS for Sentry and any stated cash on hand in the BLMIS accounts was based on misinformation and fictitious account statements. None of the transactions shown on the account statements provided by BLMIS to Sentry ever occurred. Indeed, no investments of any kind were ever made by BLMIS for Sentry. At all relevant times, all of the account statements that BLMIS provided to Sentry were entirely and utterly fictitious. Further, all amounts deposited by Sentry (or by Sigma and Lambda through Sentry) with BLMIS for investment and the purchase of securities to be held by BLMIS for the account of Sentry were used by Madoff to pay other BLMIS investors or were misappropriated by Madoff for other unauthorized uses.

- 40. From time to time, to make Redemption Payments, Sentry (and Sigma and Lambda through Sentry) made withdrawals from Sentry's BLMIS accounts (or utilized subscription monies of other investors on hand that were directed for investment in BLMIS). The Funds believed that the amounts provided in connection with such withdrawals represented the proceeds arising from the profitability of or to continue investment in BLMIS. In fact, however, payments made by BLMIS to Sentry purportedly representing the proceeds of sales of securities or other investment positions were nothing other than the deposits of other BLMIS investors or previous deposits made by Sentry, never invested but rather misused and misappropriated as part of Madoff's fraud. At all relevant times, payments made from BLMIS to Sentry were made by Madoff to continue and perpetuate his Ponzi scheme and avoid detection of his fraud. The payments from BLMIS to Sentry were not payments made in the ordinary course of or as part of any business, nor did they have a legitimate business purpose. Similarly, the Redemption Payments were not made for any legitimate purposes or in the ordinary course of any business.
- 41. Given the fraudulent nature of BLMIS and its operation as a massive Ponzi scheme, the money paid by the Funds (directly in the case of Sentry and indirectly in the cases of Sigma and Lambda) to BLMIS on account of Sentry was, at all relevant times and unknown to the Funds, misused and misappropriated by Madoff as part of his Ponzi scheme. At all relevant times, the Funds were insolvent when the Redemption Payments were made or were rendered insolvent, and/or their insolvency was deepened, as a result of the Redemption Payments.

C. Redemption Payments Made or Transferred to Defendants

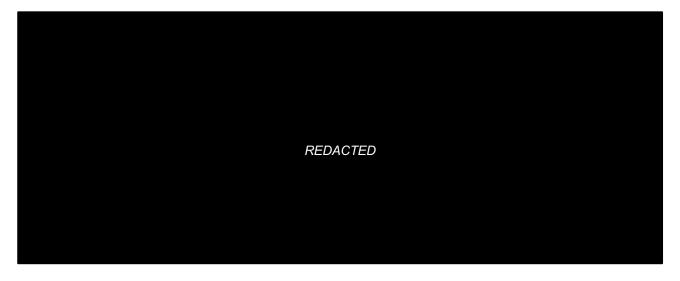

- 42. During the period from and after April 20, 2004, through November 21, 2008, HSBC Suisse received Redemption Payments totaling USD $124,301,366.68 from Sentry and Sigma in respect of Shares tendered for redemption.
- 43. At HSBC Suisse's directions and instructions, Redemption Payments totaling USD $115,525,744.52 were received at HSBC Suisse's bank account with HSBC Bank USA in New York.
- 44. The dates and amounts of each Redemption Payment received by HSBC Suisse from Sentry, and the bank accounts to which each Redemption Payment was made, are set forth on Exhibit A. The dates and amounts of each Redemption Payment received by HSBC Suisse from Sigma, and the bank accounts to which each Redemption Payment was made, are set forth on Exhibit B.
- 45. At the time those Redemption Payments were made, the Funds had insufficient assets and were unable to pay their debts as they would fall due. In exchange for each Redemption Payment, each of which constitutes or forms part of a transaction between HSBC Suisse and Sentry and Sigma, Sentry and Sigma received no consideration or consideration of a value that, in money or money's worth, was significantly less than the value, in money or money's worth, of the consideration provided by Sentry and Sigma.

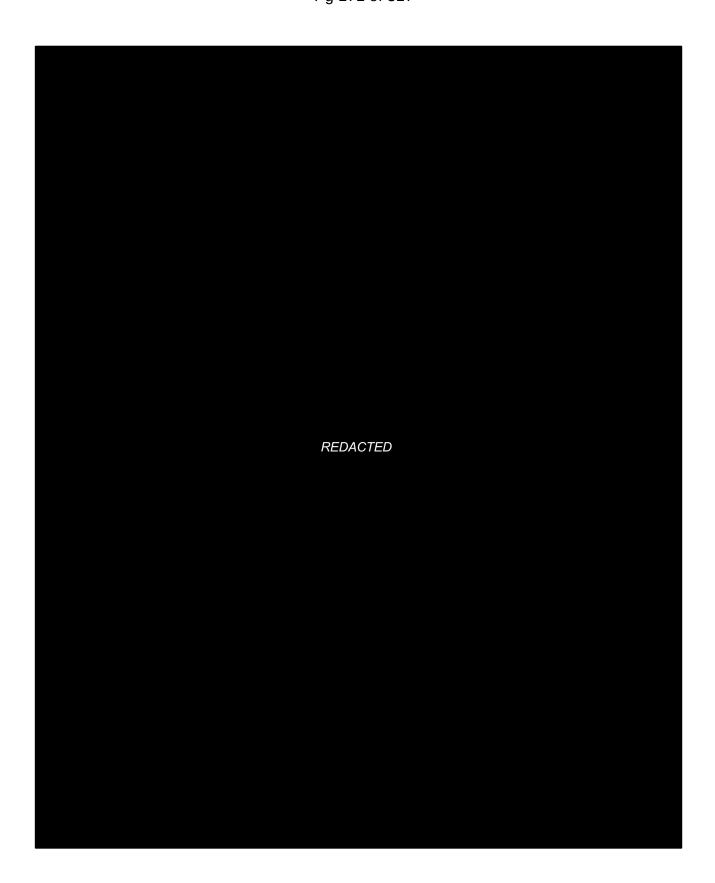

10-03635-jpm Doc 296 Filed 04/12/17 Entered 04/12/17 18:15:42 REDACTED WITH REDACT-IT Pg 170 of 317

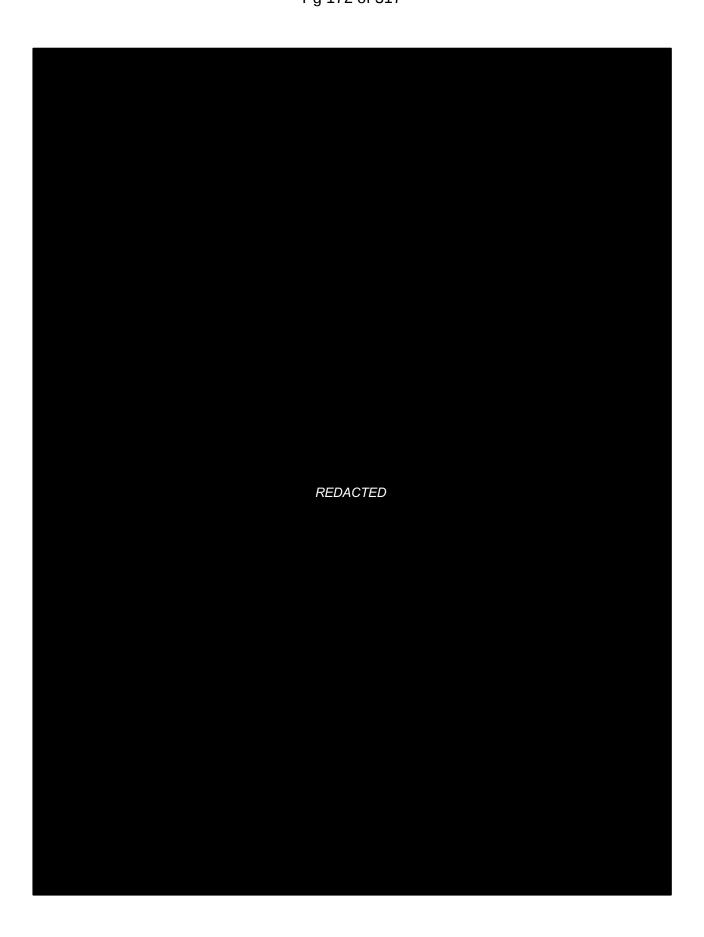

46. Upon information and belief, HSBC Suisse and/or the Beneficial Shareholders received Redemption Payments in excess of amounts paid by such person(s) for purchase of their Shares.

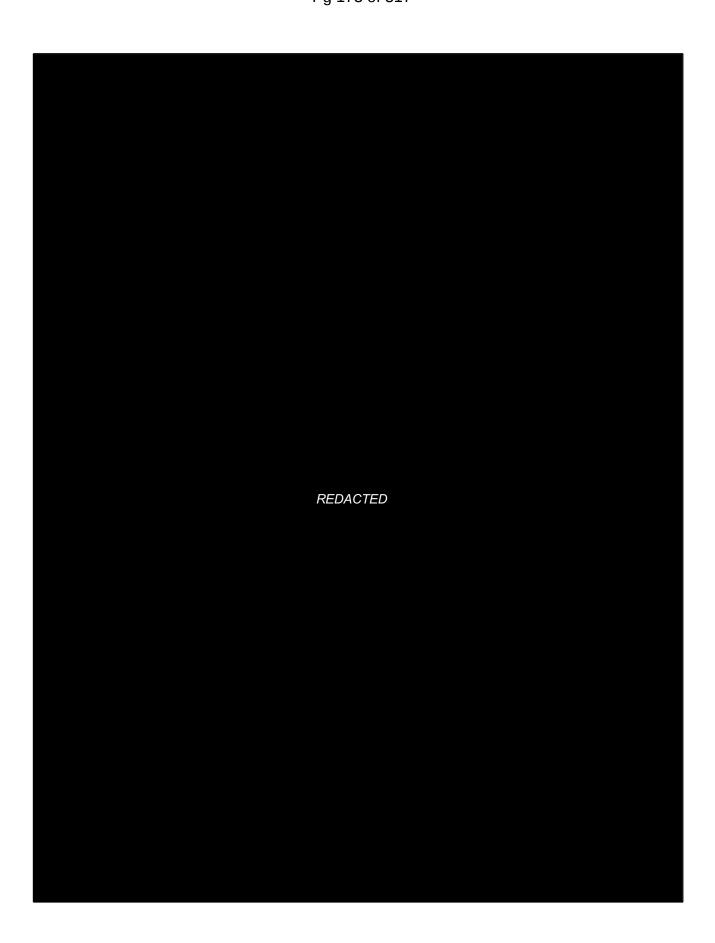

D. Citco Did Not Issue Any Certifications of Net Asset Value in "Good Faith"

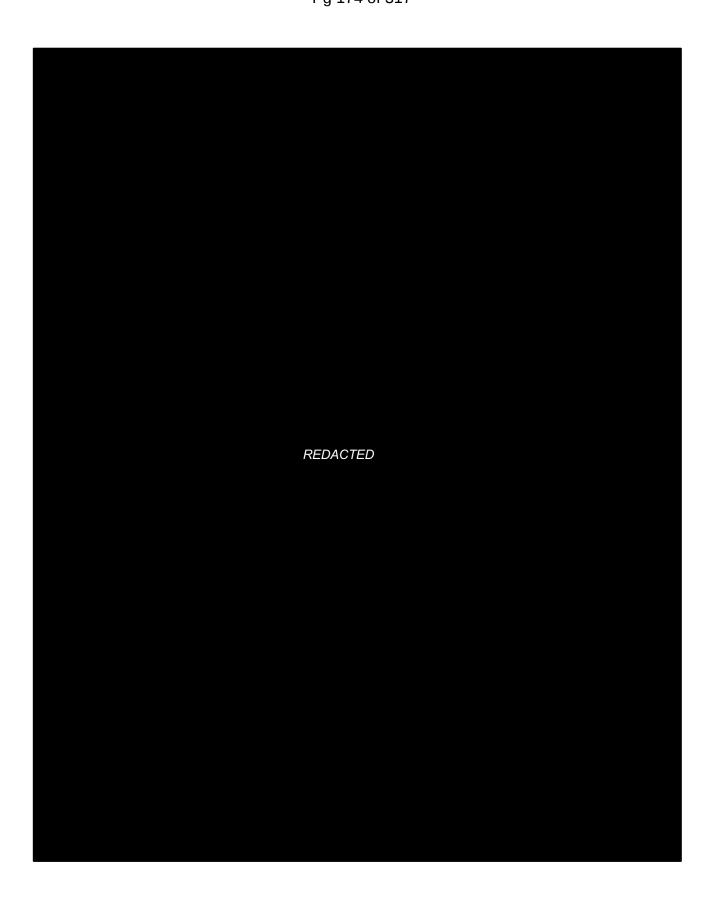

47. Article 11 of the Funds' Articles provides that "[a]ny certificate as to the Net Asset Value per Share . . . given in good faith by or on behalf of the Directors shall be binding on all parties." During the relevant period, statements of the Net Asset Value were issued by the Funds' administrators, Citco Fund Services (Europe) B.V. and its delegatee Citco (Canada) Inc. (the "Administrators"). On April 16, 2014, the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council (the "Privy Council") issued a decision in which it held that certain statements of Net Asset Value, in particular, certain monthly emails, contract notes, and monthly account statements issued by the Administrators, constituted "certificates" for the purposes of Article 11 (the "Certificates"). The Privy Council did not, however, address whether such Certificates were given "in good faith." In carrying out this responsibility, the Administrators and affiliated Citco companies within Citco Group Limited (collectively, "Citco") acted with a lack of good faith in giving the Certificates.

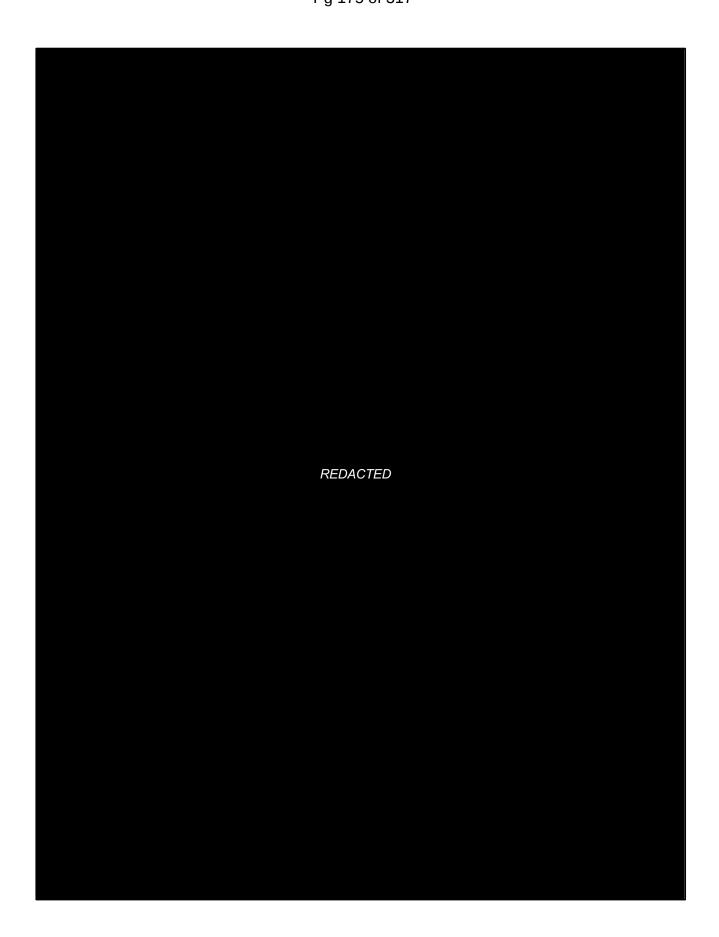

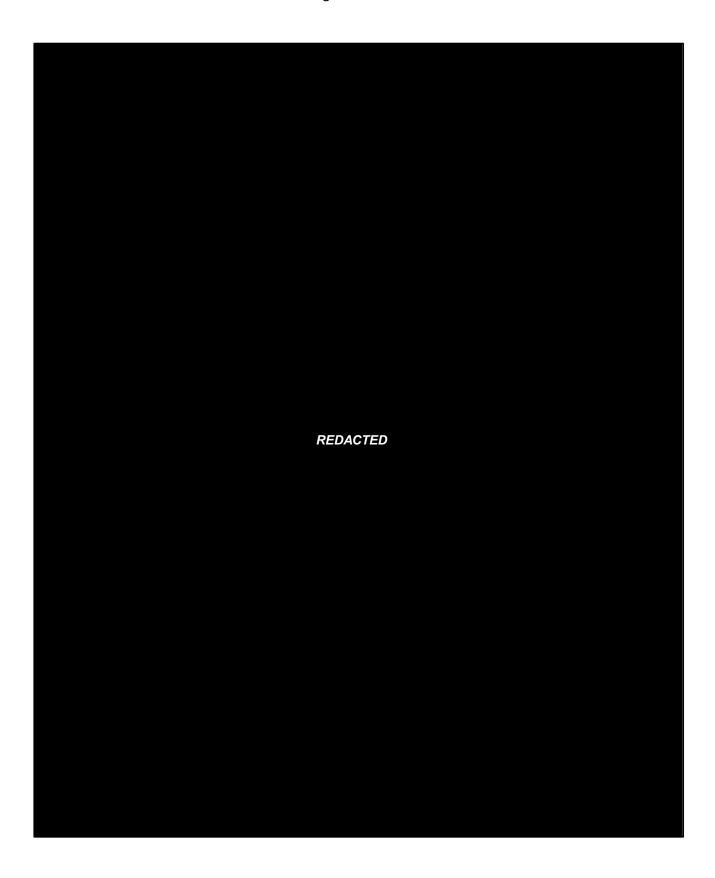

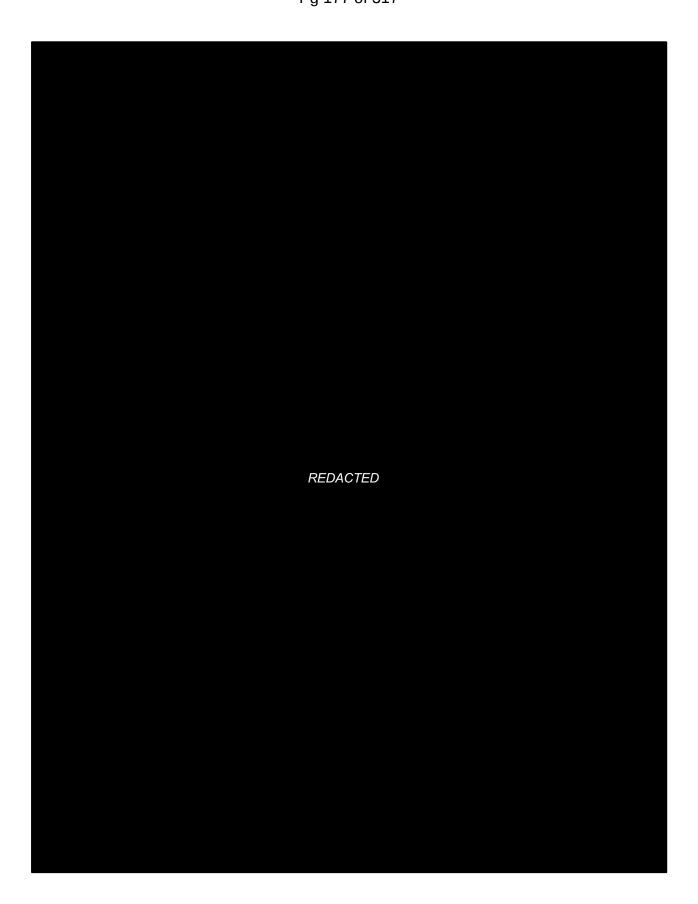

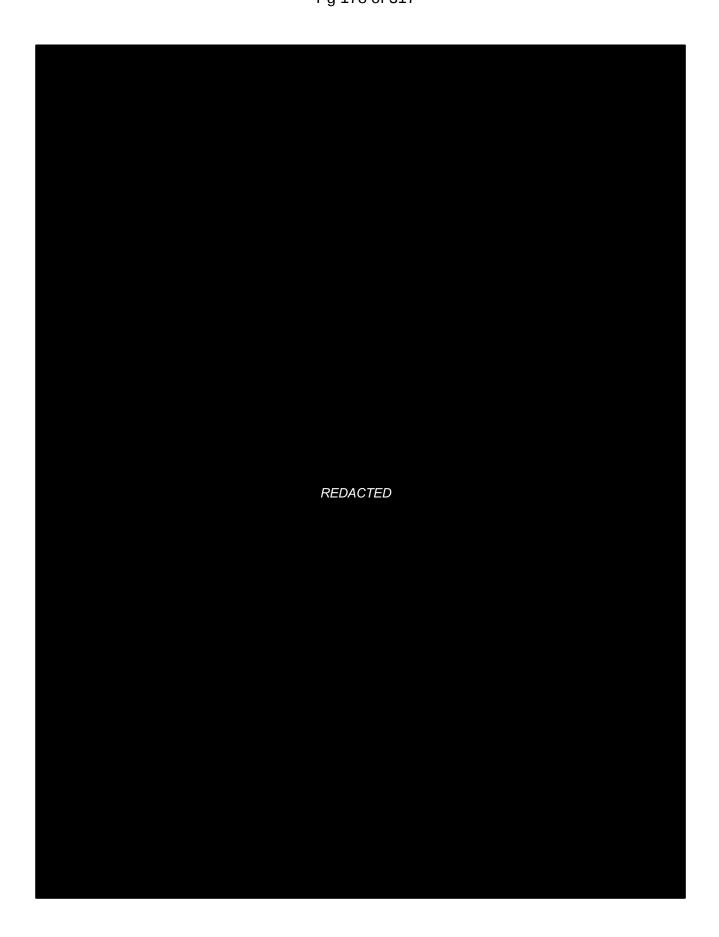

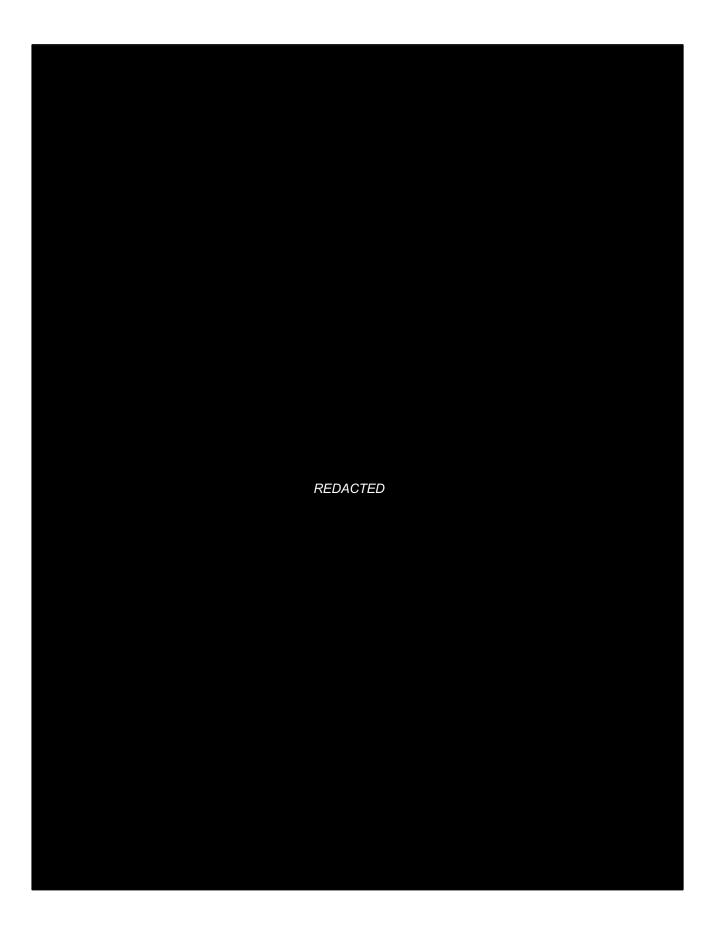

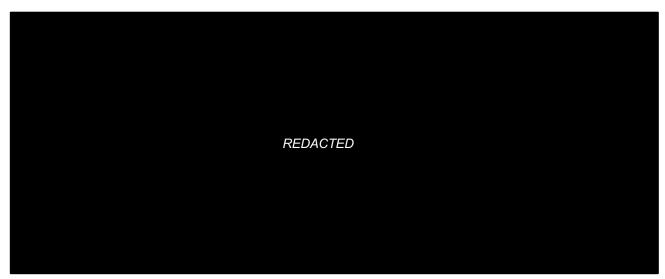

76. By virtue of the foregoing conduct, Citco issued the Certificates without good faith.

The Funds were the primary victims of Citco's conduct and its lack of good faith in issuing the Certificates.

E. HSBC Suisse Knew or Should Have Known of, Was Willfully Blind to or Recklessly Disregarded the BLMIS Fraud

77. HSBC Suisse served as trustee, agent, representative, nominee or custodian for the Beneficial Owners in connection with their investments in the Funds, including, by: subscribing to Shares of Sentry and Sigma on behalf of the Beneficial Owners, maintaining custody of the Shares as record shareholders, paying redemption proceeds from the Shares of Sentry and Sigma to the Beneficial Owners, and otherwise exercising control over the Shares of Sentry and Sigma.

78. Further, each of the Subscription Agreements, executed by HSBC Suisse, manifested the Beneficial Owners' consent for HSBC Suisse to act on behalf of and subject to the Beneficial Owners' control.

The allegations set forth in Paragraphs 47 through 57 of this Complaint are made by the Foreign Representative upon information and belief based on allegations set forth in the complaint filed by the Madoff Trustee in Picard v. HSBC Bank PLC, 09-01364 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y.). Upon information and belief, the allegations of the BLMIS Trustee are based on an extensive investigation and the analysis of documentary evidence as well as other sources.

- 79. In executing the Subscription Agreements, HSBC Suisse accepted and agreed to act on behalf of the Beneficial Owners.
- 80. Accordingly, the Beneficial Owners had the same knowledge as HSBC Suisse regarding all relevant matters relating to BLMIS and the Funds' Net Asset Values at all relevant times.
 - 77. 81. HSBC Suisse was well aware of the indicia of fraud surrounding BLMIS.
- 78. 82. In July 2001, HSBC Suisse's and its affiliates' due diligence team met with Fairfield Greenwich ("Fairfield") officers. At this meeting, Stephen Kinne, a high-ranking member of HSBC Suisse affiliate HSBC Bank USA's due diligence team, inquired about Madoff's choice to forego lucrative fees, the identities of the counterparties to Madoff's over-the-counter options transactions, and the percentage of securities that Madoff held at the Depositary Trust Corporation.
- 83.—On August 7, 2001, HSBC Bank USA issued a due diligence report on Sentry ("2001 Report"). The 2001 Report stated that the due diligence team had been unable to meet with Madoff and that, therefore, the team formed its "opinions" solely on the basis of meetings with Fairfield representatives and a MAR/Hedge article on Madoff. The 2001 Report noted that, without meeting Madoff, there was no way for HSBC Bank USA to assess Madoff's trading system, risk controls, or compliance procedures. As a result, HSBC Bank USA stated that it was "very difficult" to understand how Madoff was able to make money in such a consistent fashion. The 2001 Report also noted multiple concerns associated with Madoff, including his taking custody of securities and refusal to accept fees at the fund level.
- 80. 84. In January of 2003, HSBC Bank USA issued another due diligence report on Sentry, which noted many of the same concerns addressed in the 2001 Report. In 2007 an investor was informed by his HSBC Suisse adviser to "get out" because HSBC Suisse had conceded that it did not understand the investment strategy.

- 81. Upon information and belief, all HSBC entities, including HSBC Securities

 Services (Luxembourg) SA ("HSBC SSL"), HSBC Bank USA, N.A., and HSBC Private Bank

 (Suisse) (collectively, the "HSBC Knowledge Defendants") worked collaboratively and freely shared information in connection with BLMIS-related matters. Moreover, upon information and belief, the free flow of information and co-ordination of action between various HSBC entities extended to the HSBC Knowledge Defendants.

- 82. In their due diligence reviews, HSBC SSL and its affiliates repeatedly pointed to BLMIS's role as a sub-custodian as a fraud risk. In August of 2008, Christine Coe, Global Head of Risk, HSBC (London), stated in an email to Chris Wilcockson ("Wilcockson"), Managing Director of Bank of Bermuda (Luxembourg) n/k/a HSBC Bank Bermuda and HSBC SSL, that she was concerned that Madoff was potentially using the fund's assets because "overall control [was] Madoff centric and there [were] opportunities for misleading or misappropriation to take place if he were so inclined," creating a "huge" fraud risk. HSBC SSL specifically identified as a risk the lack of "independent custody and verification of trading activity away from the investment manager (unlike a standard hedge fund that has a prime broker)." HSBC SSL identified this risk every year from at least 2002 through 2008. At the end of September 2002, Paul Smith ("P. Smith") (head of Global Fund Services ("GFS") n/k/a HSBC Securities Services ("HSS")) expressed these concerns in an email sent to Nigel Fielding ("Fielding"), who served as (a) General Manager of Corporate Trust for Bank of Bermuda n/k/a HSBC Bank Bermuda until 2001, (b) Deputy Global Head of Client Services for Bank of Bermuda until December 2003, (c) Global Head of Business Services of GFS from January 2004, and (d) a Director of HSBC SSL until November of 2015. In that email, P. Smith stated: "[W]e have a problem with him [Madoff]. He is the manager, broker and custodian to his accounts. In today's world this is a red flag."

F. HSBC Suisse Affiliates Engaged KPMG to Assess Fraud and Operational Risk at BLMIS and then HSBC Suisse Ignores its Findings

- 83. 85. In September 2005, HSBC Suisse affiliates engaged KPMG to review BLMIS for fraud and related operational risk. KPMG's review focused on fraud risks in BLMIS's methods of recording and reporting client funds held by BLMIS, HSBC Suisse's and its affiliates' ability to detect suspected fraud or misconduct in client funds for which HSBC SSL and its affiliates served as primary custodian. KPMG's findings were encapsulated in a February 16, 2006 report, titled "Review of fraud risk and related operational risks at Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC" (the "2006 Report"). In the 2006 Report, KPMG identified a laundry list of fraud and related operational risks related to BLMIS's operations including:
 - o falsification of client mandates;
 - o embezzlement of client funds;
 - o use of fabricated client instructions to disguise poor proprietary positions;
 - o failure to segregate client funds from BLMIS funds;
 - o diversion of client funds for Madoff's personal gain;
 - inaccurate allocation of reinvested funds from Fidelity across individual accounts;
 - o manipulation of option prices to maximize commissions;
 - o use of BLMIS claim funds to settle options exercised against HSBC Suisse;

- o practice of exercising options without informing the client that the option was set to expire;
- use of client funds to make opportunistic trades that deviated from the SSC Strategy;
- o diversion of cash resulting from the sale of equities and Treasury bills;
- o systematic over-valuing of positions and the failure to report positions to HSBC Suisse in order to manipulate control relationships;
- o stocks were not held in client names;
- o inflation of call values to disguise misappropriate or poor positions;
- o unauthorized trading in client accounts;
- o trades executions made by unauthorized BLMIS staff members;
- o sham trades to divert client cash;
- o front-running order flow in the market-making business;
- o false reporting of trades without execution to collect commissions; and
- o falsification of trade confirmations.
- 84. 86. KPMG was particularly concerned that it could not identify the owners of individual HSBC Suisse affiliates' client assets, and that controls in place at BLMIS might not prevent fraud or errors in client accounts.
- 85. 87. Despite the litany of fraud and operational risks identified by KPMG, HSBC Suisse continued its relationship with Madoff, delegated custodial duties to BLMIS, and took no steps to implement KPMG's recommendations.
- G. KPMG Engaged Again and Uncovers HSBC Suisse's Failure to Heed Earlier Warnings
- 86. 88. After ignoring KPMG's dire warnings in 2006, HSBC Suisse and its affiliates asked KPMG to conduct another review of BLMIS in March 2008. The terms and scope of the review were identical to the 2006 review, except that KPMG was also asked to assess the risk of placing HSBC Suisse's and its affiliates' investments with BLMIS.

- 87. 89. KPMG's conclusions were contained in a September 8, 2008, report entitled "Review of fraud risk and related operational risks at Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC" (the "2008 Report"). KPMG wrote that, according to Madoff, HSBC Suisse's and its affiliates' client investments represented an astonishing 33% of BLMIS's assets under management.
- 88. 90. In the 2008 Report, KPMG identified three additional fraud concerns at BLMIS, not previously identified in the 2006 Report:
 - O Client cash is diverted signatures falsified on client instruction in an attempt to legitimize an unauthorized transaction (i.e., redemption);
 - Madoff LLC claim funds have been used to settle options exercised against HSBC Suisse and/or its affiliates; and
 - O Stocks are intentionally not allocated a fair price from the bulk trade.
- 89. 91.—Yet again, HSBC Suisse ignored KPMG's warnings and recommendations. HSBC Suisse, instead, used the 2008 Report as a marketing tool to encourage additional investment in BLMIS. Upon information and belief, in mid-2008, HSBC Suisse and/or its affiliates were asked to explain Madoff's investment strategy to Andreas Pirkner, an employee of Bank Medici. In response, HSBC Suisse and/or its affiliates forwarded to Pirkner the 2008 Report with the comment that the Feeder Funds were in good shape.

- H. Internal Discussions Reveal That HSBC SSL Was More Concerned With Upsetting The Madoff Relationship And Losing Customers And Fees Than Properly Investigating Potential Fraud³
- 90. As early as 2000, Bank of Bermuda n/k/a HSBC Bank of Bermuda was aware that Madoff's operational structure had the potential for fraud. Paula Downey, Head of Compliance for Bank of Bermuda informed Gerry Brady, who upon information and belief served as Regional Managing Director and Country Head Ireland for the Bank of Bermuda, of many concerns in this regard. Downey wrote to Brady in 2000, stating:

"I've been thinking about the issue you asked me to take a look at ahead of the Board meeting. How do Bermuda Trust Dublin Limited discharge their duties as master custodian to Thema and what checks are in place to ensure there are adequate checks and controls in relation to the sub-custodian

Madoff. It's a difficult one and many of the normal checks are not possible. The following is what I perceive to be the holes in the current procedure vis a vis other funds. We don't receive a trade ticket from the Client Investment Manager which matches the broker ticket. The Madoff ticket is effectively the composite of the two...

In addition, we generally receive confirmation of trades from the Investment Manager and the broker on their behalf. This protects us against receiving fictitious or incorrect trade details from the Investment Manager and broker confirmation match. This is not possible as Madoff is both Investment Manager and broker. While I do not dispute the good character and reputation of Madoff, the concern is that we have no independent confirmation that the trades they say they are doing are being done, or that the holdings we say the Fund has are indeed registered in the name of the Fund. We don't receive bank statements. What information would I like to see us receiving. Independent confirmation that the assets of Thema exist and are registered under the name of Thema."

³ Paragraphs 90-111 and portions of paragraph 82 are derived from a transcript of testimony provided in a proceeding before the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands, styled Primeo Fund (in Official Liquidation) v. Bank of Bermuda (Cayman) Ltd. & HSBC Securities Services (Luxembourg) SA.

- 91. In July 2002, Fielding made a visit to BLMIS as part of due diligence efforts for Bank of Bermuda. Following that visit, an employee with the credit desk of Bank of Bermuda Dublin, Tom Young ("Young"), raised questions about the Madoff structure with Fielding. Those questions arose out of concerns with respect to the Primeo Fund ("Primeo"), which invested all or substantially all of its assets in BLMIS, and HSBC SSL served as custodian for that fund. Fielding, however, resisted further inquiry. For example, in one email, Young asked Fielding: "Would it be possible to get independent verification that the assets of [the Primeo Fund] are segregated from other assets held by Madoff?" In response, Fielding stated: "[W]e decided not to request this so far. The review is finished and signed off for this year and I do not intend to do more unless the GFS Board supports it, risk versus cost versus relationship, etc."
- 92. On December 24, 2002, Fielding expressed to David Smith ("D. Smith"), also a Director of HSBC SSL, resistance to the desire of P. Smith to obtain due diligence on Madoff, with Mr. Fielding stating: "Paul seems hellbent on irritating Madoff with FIG." Upon information and belief, "FIG" refers to "Financial Institutions Group", an internal group within HSBC.
- 93. HSBC SSL also recognized that if HSBC's relationship with Madoff was damaged, the HSBC entities stood to lose customers and, in turn, fees from their custodian roles. On October 10, 2002, D. Smith expressed these concerns in an email he sent to Fielding, in which he stated: "Madoff is really cheesed off with us (BOB) and he may cut the umbilical if we go once more to the well. We may think our [redacted] has power in the market but he can replace that within a month. He may put us on the black list so we have to agree a plan of action. Perhaps we should discuss?"

94. Concerns regarding Madoff were also raised at a HSBC SSL Board meeting in Dublin, Ireland in the fall of 2004, following which further diligence of BLMIS was proposed.

Commenting on the proposed diligence, Brian Wilkinson ("Wilkinson"), who at the time served as (a) Head of Bank of Bermuda Global Fund Services in Ireland (which later became Alternative Fund Services within HSBC Securities Services), (b) Europe Head of Alternative Fund Services within HSS, and (c) a Member of GFS' Board Management Committee, communicated to P. Smith by e-mail: "The consequence of the trustee review of the subcustodian Madoff will be both painful and, it would appear, fatal. Clearly I am not suggesting that GIS/HSBC should ignore their fiduciary responsibilities, however, we should all be aware of the potential fall-out."

95. In August 2008, Gordon Thomson, an employee of HSBC SSL, sent an email to Michael May ("May"), managing director of HSBC SSL in charge of operations, risk and compliance, copying Andrew Bastow (who, upon information and belief, was the Chief Technology and Services Officer of HSBC Ireland), Brian Pettitt (Deputy Head of Risk, HSBC (London)) and Coe. In that email, Mr. Thomson stated that Madoff investments were "too good to be true" and characterized them as involving "unusual activity."

I. HSBC SSL Repeatedly Raised Specific and Substantial Concerns Regarding Madoff's "Real Strategy"

- 96. During a telephone call that occurred between September and October 2002 between Fielding and Wilkinson, those individuals made a number of statements reflecting their serious concerns regarding Madoff, including the following:
 - o Fielding: "So . . . I, you know, everybody has some concerns about Madoff, or 'made off' as he likes to call himself, which I think makes it even worse. 'made off with the money.'"
 - o Wilkinson: "I could be wrong Nigel, and maybe I'll investigate that, but I'm just covering all of our backsides to make sure we've done everything possible if this thing ever went up, you know."
 - o Fielding: "Yeah, and I guess my ... I'm not saying we shouldn't do it, I guess I wanted the board to say we wanted to do it, having heard David rant and rave about upsetting the guy before ..."
 - Wilkinson: "His financial statements are not very detailed, you know, what really is his source of revenue, etc. ... which I think is important to us, cause we're really relying on the financial strength of Madoff, as well as much as anything . . ."
- 97. In December 2004, GFS, which by then had been acquired by or was a division within HSS, was approached about acting as custodian and administrator for a new Madoff related fund. In an email to Peter Heaps, who it appears was handling this request on behalf of the Madoff related fund, Wilkinson stated: "Please speak to Nigel Fielding on this. The whole Madoff issue is coming under focus now that we are part of HSBC. My gut reaction is that this will not fly."
- 98. In February 2005, Fielding was asked about concerns expressed by Primeo's auditors, Ernst & Young ("E&Y"), about Madoff that were raised in a meeting with Saverio Fiorino ("Fiorino"), who was a Director of HSBC SSL Valuation & Client Administration and

Head of Alternative Fund Services (AFS) at HSBC SSL from September 2003 to March 2008. Fielding responded as follows: "Nespolo [managed Madoff feeder funds Hermes, Thema International, and Thema Fund] understands the auditors concern and asked if their worries were based on the rumors (1) what is his real strategy, how on earth can he always produce 12%pa (2) where are the assets and are there really assets or is it all fictitious."

- 99. In a Madoff discussion paper that Coe prepared for the HSS Board in 2005, Coe identified the risks associated with HSBC's diligence process as follows: "However, there is substantial risk, in the event there is any question over the integrity of the process. The financial cost of appointing a sub-custodian that we cannot exercise a level of due care over, could be significant; equally so would be the reputational risk." In fact, as early as 2005, Coe considered "that one of the possible options was that it was all a sham."
- 100. From 2005 to 2008, Fielding received emails from John Grubert ("Grubert"), Global Head of HSBC Securities Services, reflecting substantial concerns about BLMIS. In one email that Grubert sent to Coe, on which Smith, Pettitt and Fielding were copied, Grubert stated:
 - "Thank you for the papers on the above. It strikes me that the firm has reasonable capital ... has a solid reputation but that we have a flawed process. Although there is no reason to doubt the integrity or professionalism of the Group, the reality is that: we do not have full control of the assets or real time sight of transaction flows; the transactions are all internal to the family firms and there is no proof of best execution or even actual execution."
 - o "[T]he audit is undertaken by a firm that is not on our recognised list of auditors...I cannot countenance this process and I appreciate it is a major money earner."
 - o "I appreciate Madoff does not like external intrusion and am willing for this to be undertaken by our auditors (at our cost). If this cannot be done, then we should exit the relationship."

J. Audits and Purported Diligence of Madoff's Investments Were Incomplete

- 101. During a presentation Bank of Bermuda made to Bank Austria in May 2003, requests were made for copies of the quarterly due diligence questionnaires. When these questionnaires were requested of Bank of Bermuda, Wilkinson commented as follows regarding the lack of due diligence on Madoff: "Quarterly due diligence, you have got to be joking!! The only due diligence we have on Madoff is what Nigel [Fielding] did some months ago."
- 102. In September of 2002, Tom Young sent an email to Fielding expressing concerns regarding the level and quality of the due diligence process. In that email, Young stated: "When you get back, maybe you could look at this again. What is required is independent auditor's confirmation that the assets are not comingled. Madoff's representation is not enough, annual audited accounts of Madoff."
- Ann Meehan, who upon information and belief was the Compliance Manager for HSBC Institutional Trust Services (Ireland) Ltd., stated to Pettitt in an early 2005 email as follows:

 "[T]here is no information on our file regarding the on-site visit, ie if checks were undertaken to confirm if assets are held in segregated accounts, completion of reconciliations etc."
- 104. In March of 2005, Fiorino emailed Fielding regarding concerns about BLMIS' auditors Friehling and Horowitz CPA, and stated in that email: "[O]ver the last weeks, [Ernst & Young] raised some concerns about Madoff, as follows . . . (iii) reliability and independence of Friehling and Horowitz CPA (auditors of BMadoff). Apparently F&H are related to BMadoff. Responses to questions raised by E&Y to BM auditors were not clear."

105. Moreover, the discussion paper that Coe produced in 2005 for the HSS Board, described earlier, identified flaws and concerns with the Madoff structure and the diligence process relating to the investigation of that structure. Specifically, Coe remarked in that paper:

"Whilst we have carried out due diligence ... we have not been able to undertake (nor do we have the legal right to do so) an audit of the end to end process flow to confirm the integrity of the whole activity. It is questionable how much we can rely on the auditor produced control statement. Not only is it concise, the auditors are not one of the major independent accountancy groups. From a legal structure perspective, we can make the arrangements work around the need for a legal charge over assets in a custody, sub-custody arrangement. The real issue is are we satisfied with the integrity of the Madoff operations such that we are comfortable with a lack of real independent evidence of the trading of clients assets."

- 106. On June 6, 2005, Coe spoke on the phone with Fielding and voiced concerns regarding the review process. During that phone conversation, Coe stated: "The biggest single concern is the whole process, once it gets into Madoff's hands, is fairly incestuous within Madoff and their internal control system, which is done by . . . his mate, the accountant, it's not really independent enough to give us a level of independent comfort that we would ordinarily look to."
- 107. In August of 2008, following a further KPMG review of BLMIS that had been requested earlier that year, Coe stated in an email to Wilcockson, that she was concerned that Madoff was potentially using the fund's assets because "overall control [was] Madoff centric and there [were] opportunities for misleading or misappropriation to take place if he were so inclined," creating a "huge" fraud risk.

K. Any Indicia of Fraud That Was Unearthed During Due Diligence Was Generally Downplayed, Ignored and/or Avoided

108. In May of 2003, Fielding and Germain Birgen, Managing Director of HSBC Securities Services (Luxembourg) SA ("HSBC SSL") ("Birgen") gave a presentation to Bank Austria that presented a positive impression of the relationship with BLMIS, even though Fielding and Birgen were aware that the GFS Board had identified a major issue in relation to BLMIS and had decided to require independent audit confirmation from KPMG. Around the same time, Mr. Fielding, who was also on the Board of Primeo, played down any concerns regarding BLMIS that were raised by other members of the Primeo Board.

and Fiorino to discuss concerns regarding whether assets with BLMIS in fact existed.

Following that meeting, Fiorino told Fielding in an e-mail: "Germain and I just had a meeting with [Ernst & Young], can I speak to you when you have five minutes. They have a transparency issue with Madoff." Although these concerns were discussed by email, no action was taken by HSBC SSL or Bank of Bermuda to actually confirm either the existence of the assets or the validity of the BLMIS investments.

110. In October 2008, May raised concerns whether the recommendations of KPMG, following its most recent review of BLMIS, were in fact implemented. In an email May sent to Mr. Bastow during this time period, May stated: "I share your concern regarding Madoff and have raised this with Chris Coe & Brian Pettitt. I understand that KPMG made recommendations in their last visit and I am trying to obtain this reports so I can run an exercise to assess whether they were implemented." In another email sent during this time period, May stated: "Chris [Coe] made some recommendations in their audit and so we should see if they were implemented. Who has a copy of those recommendations? Both Lux & Dub are expressing unease about Madoff (which we all feel already) . . ."

- 111. In December 2008, shortly after Madoff's arrest, emails were exchanged between Russell Ford (upon information and belief, Global Head of Internal Control for HSBC) and May candidly acknowledging their lack of surprise by the arrest, due to their firmly grounded suspicions of the fraud. Those e-mails included the following:
 - Mr. Ford to Mr. May: "Just in case Chris has not contacted you yet or you have read the papers, Madoff has been arrested on security fraud."
 - o Mr. May back to Mr. Ford: "Another case where all our suspicions were right."
 - o Mr. Ford: "Indeed, the beauty of hindsight."
 - Mr. May: "Worse we suspected but never pinned it down. Not even hindsight, just not enough courage to walk away from what was not understood . . ."
 - Mr. Ford: "Always too afraid to lose the revenue, but the business should pay more attention to the view of Risk."

L. HSBC Suisse Acted on Behalf of the Beneficial Owners

- the Beneficial Owners in connection with their investments in the Funds, including, by:

 subscribing to Shares of Sentry and Sigma on behalf of the Beneficial Owners, maintaining custody of the Shares as record shareholders, paying redemption proceeds from the Shares of

 of Sentry and Sigma.
- 113. Further, each of the Subscription Agreements, executed by HSBC Suisse, manifested the Beneficial Owners' consent for HSBC Suisse to act on behalf of and subject to the Beneficial Owners' control.

- 114. In executing the Subscription Agreements, HSBC Suisse accepted and agreed to act on behalf of the Beneficial Owners.
- 115. Accordingly, the Beneficial Owners had the same knowledge as HSBC Suisse regarding all relevant matters relating to BLMIS and the Funds' Net Asset Values at all relevant times.

M. H. Exposure of Madoff's Fraud

- 116. 92. On December 11, 2008, federal agents arrested Madoff for violation of federal securities laws. On that same day, the United States Attorney brought criminal charges against Madoff, alleging that Madoff ran a multi-billion dollar Ponzi scheme. See United States v. Madoff, No. 08-mj-2735 (S.D.N.Y., filed Dec. 11, 2008). Upon arrest, Madoff was reported to have told the agents that "there is no innocent explanation" for the fraudulent scheme he had orchestrated and confessed that he "paid investors with money that wasn't there."
- 117. 93. On December 11, 2008, the United States Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") filed an emergency action in the Southern District of New York to halt ongoing fraudulent offerings of securities and investment advisory fraud by Madoff and BLMIS. See SEC v. Madoff, No. 08-cv-10791 (S.D.N.Y. filed Dec. 11, 2008). On February 9, 2009, the SEC submitted to the Court a proposed partial judgment, to which Madoff consented, imposing a permanent injunction and continuing relief against him, including a permanent freezing of his assets.
- 118. 94. In March 2009, Madoff pleaded guilty to the criminal charges brought against him. In his plea allocution, Madoff confessed: "for many years up until my arrest on December 11, 2008, I operated a Ponzi scheme through the investment advisory side of my business, Bernard L. Madoff Securities LLC." As Madoff himself described how the scheme worked:

The essence of my scheme was that I represented to clients and prospective clients who wished to open investment advisory and individual trading accounts with me that I would invest their money in shares of common stock, options and other securities of large well-known corporations, and upon request, would return to them their profits and principal. Those representations were false because for many years up and until I was arrested on December 11, 2008, I never invested those funds in the securities, as I had promised. Instead, those funds were deposited in a bank account at Chase Manhattan Bank. When clients wished to receive the profits they believed they had earned with me or to redeem their principal, I used the money in the Chase Manhattan bank account that belonged to them or other clients to pay the requested funds.

119. 95. Madoff further confessed to covering up his fraud by fabricating false trade confirmation and account statements:

To further cover-up the fact that I had not executed trades on behalf of my investment advisory clients, I knowingly caused false trading confirmations and client account statements that reflected the bogus transactions and positions to be created and sent to clients purportedly involved in the split strike conversion strategy, as well as other individual clients I defrauded who believed they had invested in securities through me. The clients receiving trade confirmations and account statements had no way of knowing by reviewing these documents that I had never engaged in the transactions represented on the statements and confirmations.

120. 96. Madoff is now serving a 150-year sentence in federal prison.

N. H. The Funds' Estates in Liquidation

- 121. 97. Following the revelation of Madoff's fraud, the Funds' boards of directors suspended any further redemptions of Shares and the calculation of the Funds' Net Asset Values. As of December 2008 and presently, Sentry, Sigma, and Lambda had, respectively, approximately 4.7 million, 3.9 million, and 0.2 million shares outstanding.
 - 122. 98. In 2009, the Funds were put into liquidation proceedings in the BVI.

ı

- 123. 99. On February 27, 2009, a secured creditor of Lambda commenced proceedings in the BVI Court pursuant to the BVI Insolvency Act seeking the appointment of a liquidator over Lambda (the "Lambda Proceeding"). The Lambda Proceeding is pending in the BVI Court as claim number BVIHC(COM)2009/74.
- 124. 100. On April 21, 2009, ten shareholders applied to the BVI Court for the appointment of a liquidator over Sentry (the "Sentry Proceeding"). The Sentry Proceeding is pending in the BVI Court under claim number BVIHC(COM)2009/136.
- 125. 101. On April 23, 2009, a shareholder applied to the BVI Court for the appointment of a liquidator over Sigma (the "Sigma Proceeding" and collectively with the Lambda Proceeding and the Sentry Proceeding, the "BVI Liquidation Proceedings"). The Sigma Proceeding is pending in the BVI Court under claim number BVIHC(COM)2009/139.
- 126. 102. As alleged above, the BVI Court issued orders the BVI Appointment Orders –appointing the Foreign Representatives as liquidators of the Funds. Pursuant to the BVI Appointment Orders, the Foreign Representatives are responsible for all aspects of the Funds' business, including protecting, realizing, and distributing assets for the Funds' estates.
- 127. 103. The Redemption Payments that were made to Defendants were mistaken payments and constituted or formed part of avoidable transactions, and generally represent assets of Sentry and Sigma's estates that Defendants are not entitled to keep.

FIRST CLAIM (Unjust Enrichment - Against HSBC Suisse)

- 129. 105. As alleged above, to the extent amounts were withdrawn from BLMIS to make Redemption Payments to HSBC Suisse, each of such payments consisted of monies deposited with BLMIS for investment, but never invested and instead misappropriated as part of Madoff's fraud. The source of these Redemption Payments was not, as Sentry and Sigma mistakenly believed, proceeds from the sale of securities or investments held by BLMIS for the account of Sentry.
- 130. 106. HSBC Suisse did not provide valuable consideration to Sentry and Sigma in exchange for each of the Redemption Payments received by it, in that it received Redemption Payments made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 131. 107.—By reason of its receipt of monies represented as amounts deposited by other BLMIS investors or monies deposited by the Funds' subscribers, for amounts far in excess of the amounts that it would have received had the Net Asset Value of Shares been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time, HSBC Suisse has been unjustly enriched to the detriment of Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.
- 132. 108. It would offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit HSBCSuisse to retain the Redemption Payments it received from Sentry and Sigma.
- 133. 109. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma, are entitled to recover from HSBC Suisse an amount equal to the Redemption Payments received by it from Sentry and Sigma, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to the amount of all Redemption Payments received by HSBC

Suisse less the amount of redemption payments that HSBC Suisse would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time.

SECOND CLAIM

(Unjust Enrichment - Against Beneficial Shareholders)

- 134. 110. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 109 above as if set forth herein.
- 135. H11. Upon information and belief, HSBC Suisse may have subscribed to all or some portion of the Shares issued to it under the Subscription Agreements in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 136. 112. Upon information and belief, HSBC Suisse may have paid to or credited some or all of the Redemption Payments received by it from Sentry and Sigma to accounts of the Beneficial Shareholders. These Redemption Payments did not, as Sentry and Sigma mistakenly believed, represent the proceeds arising from the profitability of or to continue investment in BLMIS. Instead, Redemption Payments were made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 137. 113. The Beneficial Shareholders did not provide valuable consideration to Sentry and Sigma in exchange for the Redemption Payments or any portion thereof received by them, in that they received Redemption Payments made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.

ı

- 138. 114. To the extent that a Beneficial Shareholder received any portion of the Redemption Payments paid to HSBC Suisse in its capacity as trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for a Beneficial Shareholder, such Beneficial Shareholder has been unjustly enriched to the detriment of Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.
- 139. 115. It would offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit any Beneficial Shareholders to retain the Redemption Payments made by Sentry and Sigma.
- 140. 116. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma, are entitled to recover from any Beneficial Shareholders an amount equal to any portion of any Redemption Payments received by them, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to the amount of all Redemption Payments received by any Beneficial Shareholders less the amount of redemption payments that such Beneficial Shareholders would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time.

THIRD CLAIM (Money Had and Received - Against HSBC Suisse)

- 141. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 116 above as if set forth herein.
- 142. 118. As alleged above, to the extent amounts were withdrawn from BLMIS to make Redemption Payments to HSBC Suisse, each of such payments consisted of monies deposited with BLMIS for investment, but never invested and instead misappropriated as part of Madoff's fraud. The source of these Redemption Payments was not, as Sentry and Sigma mistakenly believed, proceeds from the sale of securities or investments held by BLMIS for the account of Sentry.

- 143. 119. HSBC Suisse did not provide valuable consideration to Sentry and Sigma in exchange for each of the Redemption Payments received by it, in that it received Redemption Payments made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 144. 120. By reason of its receipt of monies which generally represented the proceeds arising from or to continue investment in BLMIS, which the world now knows was operated by Madoff as a Ponzi scheme, HSBC Suisse has been unjustly enriched to the detriment of Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.
- 145. 121. Furthermore, HSBC Suisse was not entitled to receive the Redemption Payments because the amounts of each of the Redemption Payments was based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value, which caused the payment received by HSBC Suisse for its redemption of Shares to be in excess of the Net Asset Value of such Shares that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 146. 122. To the extent that Redemption Payments are not recovered by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma, the loss will be disproportionately and unjustly borne by Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.
- 147. 123. It would offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit HSBCSuisse to retain the Redemption Payments it received from Sentry and Sigma.

148. 124. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma, are entitled to recover from HSBC Suisse an amount equal to the Redemption Payments received by it from Sentry and Sigma, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to the amount of all Redemption Payments received by HSBC Suisse less the amount of redemption payments that HSBC Suisse would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time.

FOURTH CLAIM

(Money Had and Received - Against Beneficial Shareholders)

- 149. 125. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 124 above as if set forth herein.
- 150. 126. Upon information and belief, HSBC Suisse may have subscribed to all or some portion of the Shares issued to it under the Subscription Agreements in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 151. 127. Upon information and belief, HSBC Suisse may have paid to or credited some or all of the Redemption Payments received by it to accounts of the Beneficial Shareholders. These Redemption Payments did not, as Sentry and Sigma mistakenly believed, represent the proceeds arising from the profitability of or to continue investment in BLMIS.
- 152. 128.—The Beneficial Shareholders did not provide valuable consideration to Sentry and Sigma in exchange for the Redemption Payments or any portion thereof received by them, in that they received Redemption Payments made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.

KEDACTED WITH REDACT-IT Main Document

154. Handlers were not entitled to receive the Redemption Payments paid to HSBC Suisse upon the redemption of Shares issued to it in its capacity as trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders because the amounts transferred by Sentry with respect to each of the Redemption Payments was based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value which caused the payment received for redemption of Shares to be in excess of the Net Asset Value of such Shares that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.

155. 131. To the extent the Redemption Payments are not recovered by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma, the loss will be disproportionately and unjustly borne by Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.

156. 132. It would offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit the Beneficial Shareholders to retain the Redemption Payments made by Sentry and Sigma.

157. 133. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma, are entitled to recover from the Beneficial Shareholders an amount equal to any portion of any Redemption Payments received by them, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to the amount of all Redemption Payments received by the Beneficial Shareholders less the amount of redemption payments that such Beneficial Shareholders would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time.

FIFTH CLAIM (Mistaken Payment - Against HSBC Suisse)

- 158. 134. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 133 above as if set forth herein.
- 159. 135. As described above, Sentry and Sigma made each of the Redemption Payments to HSBC Suisse under the mistaken belief that the amounts paid to HSBC Suisse represented the proceeds arising from the profitability of or to continue investment in BLMIS and were based upon the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed based upon the true facts at that time.
- 160. 136. Upon information and belief, however, BLMIS did not hold any securities or interests of securities on account for Sentry and the payments made by BLMIS to Sentry to fund Redemption Payments to HSBC Suisse represented, in fact, money deposited with BLMIS by other BLMIS investors or previous deposits made by Sentry with BLMIS, never invested but rather misused and misappropriated as part of Madoff's fraud.

- 161. 137. The Redemption Payments, while benefiting HSBC Suisse, were made to the detriment of Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.
- 162. 138. Additionally, HSBC Suisse was not entitled to receive the Redemption Payments because, as was unknown to Sentry and Sigma, the amounts transferred with respect to each of the Redemption Payments was based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value, which caused the payment received by HSBC Suisse for its redemption of Shares to be in excess of the Net Asset Value of such Shares that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time. In these circumstances, the Redemption Payments should be returned for the benefit of Sentry and Sigma, their creditors and the current holders of Shares in Sentry and Sigma.

- 163. 139. HSBC Suisse did not provide valuable consideration to Sentry and Sigma in exchange for each of the Redemption Payments received by it, in that it received Redemption Payments made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 164. 140. To the extent the Redemption Payments are not recovered by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma, the loss will be disproportionately and unjustly borne by Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.

- 165. 141. It would thus offend principles of equity and good conscience to permitHSBC Suisse to retain the Redemption Payments.
- 166. 142. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma, are entitled to recover from HSBC Suisse a sum in an amount equal to the Redemption Payments received by it from Sentry and Sigma, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to the amount of all Redemption Payments received by HSBC Suisse less the amount of redemption payments that HSBC Suisse would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time.

SIXTH CLAIM

(Mistaken Payment - Against Beneficial Shareholders)

- 167. 143. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 142 above as if set forth herein.
- 168. 144.—As described above, Sentry and Sigma made each of the Redemption Payments to HSBC Suisse under the mistaken belief that the amounts paid to HSBC Suisse represented the proceeds arising from the profitability of or to continue investment in BLMIS.
- 169. 145. However, upon information and belief, BLMIS did not hold any securities or interests of securities on account for Sentry and the payments made by BLMIS to Sentry to fund Redemption Payments to HSBC Suisse represented, in fact, money deposited with BLMIS by other BLMIS investors or previous deposits made by Sentry with BLMIS, never invested but rather misused and misappropriated as part of Madoff's fraud.
- 170. 146. Upon information and belief, HSBC Suisse may have paid to or credited some or all of the Redemption Payments received by it to accounts of the Beneficial Shareholders. These Redemption Payments did not, as Sentry and Sigma mistakenly believed, represent the proceeds arising from the profitability of or to continue investment in BLMIS.
- 171. 147.—Additionally, the Beneficial Shareholders were not entitled to receive the Redemption Payments received by HSBC Suisse upon the redemption of Shares issued to it in its capacity as trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders because, as was unknown to Sentry and Sigma, the amounts transferred with respect to these Redemption Payments were based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value, which caused the Redemption Payments received by HSBC Suisse for its redemption of Shares to be in excess of the Net Asset Value of such Shares that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.

ı

ı

- 172. 148.—The Beneficial Shareholders did not provide valuable consideration to Sentry and Sigma in exchange for the Redemption Payments or any portion thereof received by them, in that they received Redemption Payments made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 173. 149. The Redemption Payments, while benefiting any Beneficial Shareholder receiving any portion thereof, were made to the detriment of Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.
- 174. 150. To the extent the Redemption Payments are not recovered by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma, the loss will be disproportionately and unjustly borne by Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.
- 175. 151. It would thus offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit any Beneficial Shareholder to retain the Redemption Payments.
- 176. 152. The Foreign Representatives in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma are entitled to recover from any Beneficial Shareholders an amount equal to any portion of any Redemption Payments received by them, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to the amount of all Redemption Payments received by any Beneficial Shareholders less the amount of redemption payments that such Beneficial Shareholders would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time.

SEVENTH CLAIM (Constructive Trust - Against all Defendants)

- 177. 153. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 152 above as if set forth herein.
- 178. 154. As described above, upon receipt of a redemption request, Sentry and Sigma made each of the Redemption Payments to HSBC Suisse based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value, which caused those Redemption Payments to be in excess of the Net Asset Value of redeemed Shares that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 179. 155. As alleged above, the Redemption Payments generally represented the proceeds arising from or to continue investment in what the world now knows was Madoff's Ponzi scheme. Accordingly, these Redemption Payments did not, as Sentry and Sigma mistakenly believed, represent the proceeds arising from the profitability of (or to continue investment in) BLMIS.
- 180. Upon information and belief, HSBC Suisse may have paid some or all of the Redemption Payments it received to the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 181. 157. By reason of their receipt of some or all of the Redemption Payments, Defendants have been unjustly enriched to the detriment of Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.
- 182. 158. Furthermore, Defendants were not entitled to receive the Redemption Payments because the amounts transferred with respect to each of the Redemption Payments was based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value, which caused the payment received by HSBC Suisse for its redemption of Shares to be in excess of the Net Asset Value of such Shares that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.

- 183. 159. It would offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit Defendants to retain the Redemption Payments.
- 184. 160. By reason of the foregoing, a constructive trust should be imposed on the Redemption Payments that were received by Defendants from Sentry and Sigma for the benefit of the Foreign Representatives and Sentry and Sigma and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry and Sigma.

EIGHTH CLAIM

(Unfair Preference Pursuant to Section 245 of the BVI Insolvency Act - Against HSBC Suisse)

- 185. 161. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as Foreign Representatives and liquidators of Sentry and Sigma, repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 160 above as if set forth herein.
 - 186. Section 245 of the BVI Insolvency Act provides:
 - (1) Subject to subsection (2), a transaction entered into by a company is an unfair preference given by the company to a creditor if the transaction (a) is an insolvency transaction; (b) is entered into within the vulnerability period; and (c) has the effect of putting the creditor into a position which, in the event of the company going into insolvent liquidation, will be better than the position he would have been in if the transaction had not been entered into.
 - (2) A transaction is not an unfair preference if the transaction took place in the ordinary course of business;
 - (3) A transaction may be an unfair preference notwithstanding that it is entered into pursuant to the order of a court or tribunal in or outside the Virgin Islands.
 - (4) Where a transaction entered into the by the company within the vulnerability period has the effect specific in subsection 1(c) in respect of a creditor who is a connected person, unless the contrary is proved, it is presumed that the transaction was an insolvency transaction and that it did not take place in the ordinary course of business.

- 187. A creditor is defined in Section 9 of the BVI Insolvency Act as follows:
- (1) A person is a creditor of another person (the debtor) if he has a claim against the debtor, whether by assignment or otherwise, that is, or would be, an admissible claim in (a) the liquidation of the debtor, in the case of a debtor that is a company or a foreign company; or (b) the bankruptcy of the debtor, in the case of a debtor who is an individual.
- 188. 164. The BVI Insolvency Act further defines an "insolvency transaction" as a transaction that: "(a) is entered into at a time when the company is insolvent; or (b) . . . causes the company to become insolvent." BVI Insolvency Act § 244(2).
- 189. 165. For the purposes of assessing unfair preferences under Section 245 of the BVI Insolvency Act and undervalue transactions under Section 246 of the BVI Insolvency Act, a company is "insolvent" if: "(c) . . . (ii) the company is unable to pay its debts as they fall due." BVI Insolvency Act §§ 8, 244(3).
- 190. 166. For purposes of Section 245 and Section 246 of the BVI Insolvency Act, "vulnerability period" means "in the case of a transaction entered into with, or a preference given to, a connected person, the period commencing two years prior to the onset of insolvency and ending on the appointment of the administrator or, if the company is in liquidation, the liquidator" BVI Insolvency Act § 244(1).
- 191. 167. The "onset of insolvency" is defined as: "the date on which the application for the appointment of the liquidator was filed." BVI Insolvency Act § 244(1). Thus, the vulnerability period, for each of the Funds, is the period commencing two years prior to the application for the appointment of the Liquidators for each Fund and ending on the date of the appointment of the Liquidators of each Fund.

- 192. 168. A "connected person" is:
- (1) . . . one or more of the following:
 - (a) a promoter of the company;
 - (b) a director or member of the company or of a related company;
 - (c) a beneficiary under a trust of which the company is or has been a trustee;
 - (d) a related company;
 - (e) another company one of whose directors is also a director of the company;
 - (f) a nominee, relative, spouse or relative of a spouse of a person referred to in paragraphs (a) to (c);
 - (g) a person in partnership with a person referred to in paragraphs (a) to (c); and
 - (h) a trustee of a trust having as a beneficiary a person who is, apart from this paragraph, a connected person.

BVI Insolvency Act § 5 (emphasis added).

- 193. 169. Redemption Payments aggregating USD $59,204,140.83 were made by Sentry to HSBC Suisse during the two-year period prior to the application for appointment of the Liquidators of Sentry in the BVI Liquidation Proceedings (the "Sentry Vulnerability Period").
- 194. 170. Redemption Payments aggregating USD $8,264,422.14 were made by Sigma to HSBC Suisse during the two-year period prior to the application for appointment of the Liquidators of Sigma in the BVI Liquidation Proceedings (the "Sigma Vulnerability Period").

195. 171. During the Sentry Vulnerability Period and the Sigma Vulnerability Period (the "Sentry and Sigma Vulnerability Periods") Sentry and Sigma were insolvent or were rendered insolvent by the making of Redemption Payments.

ı

- 196. 172. Each of the Redemptions and/or Redemption Payments made during the Sentry and Sigma Vulnerability Periods ("Vulnerability Period Payments") was an "insolvency transaction" within the meaning of Section 245 of the BVI Insolvency Act.
- 197. HSBC Suisse was a shareholder (i.e., a member) of Sentry and Sigma during the Sentry and Sigma Vulnerability Periods and was, accordingly, a "connected person" as defined in the BVI Insolvency Act.
- 198. 174. Each of the Vulnerability Period Payments put HSBC Suisse in a better position than it would have been in had such Payment not been made.
- 199. 175.—Because HSBC Suisse was a "connected person" as defined in the BVI Insolvency Act, there is a statutory presumption that the Redemptions and/or Vulnerability Period Payments were "insolvency transactions." Further, even were this not presumed, the Redemptions and/or Vulnerability Period Payments were "insolvency transactions" because at all material times the Funds were insolvent. This is because the Funds' assets were up to 95% invested with BLMIS and were only able to pay debts falling due either (i) with payments (including fictitious profits) from the Ponzi scheme BLMIS, i.e. using the proceeds of fraud, or (ii) by using incoming subscription monies (as a shortcut for investing those monies and also withdrawing monies from BLMIS to pay redeemers). Each time the Funds withdrew monies from BLMIS an equivalent liability immediately arose to the creditors of and investors in BLMIS. On any commercial basis the Funds were insolvent on a cash flow basis at all material times.

10-03635-jpm Doc 296 Filed 04/12/17 Entered 04/12/17 18:15:42 REDACTED WITH REDACT-IT Pa 213 of 317

200. 176.—In addition, there is a statutory presumption that the Vulnerability Period Payments were "not made in the ordinary course of any business" of Sentry and Sigma. Even were this not presumed, the same would follow in that, among other things, each Vulnerability Period Payment represented a distribution of monies (including fictitious profits) from Madoff's Ponzi scheme or incoming subscription monies (which merely represented a shortcut for investing those monies and also withdrawing monies from BLMIS to pay redeemers), and it was no part of the ordinary course of business of the Funds to invest in and distribute profits of a Ponzi scheme.

201. 177. Each of the Vulnerability Period Payments was made following receipt by Sentry and Sigma of a notice of redemption in respect of Shares, which triggered the redemption process under the Articles. Following the receipt by Sentry and Sigma of a notice of redemption by HSBC Suisse, HSBC Suisse became a contingent creditor. Upon the subsequent redemption of HSBC Suisse's shares and until such time as HSBC Suisse received the Vulnerability Period Payment, HSBC Suisse was a "creditor" of Sentry and Sigma with an admissible claim against Sentry and Sigma in any subsequent liquidation of Sentry and Sigma had payment of the Redemption Price not been made, albeit that post-liquidation HSBC Suisse would have been deferred to outside creditors.

202. 178. By reason of the foregoing, the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as Foreign Representatives and Liquidators of Sentry and Sigma, are entitled to an order avoiding and setting aside the Vulnerability Period Payments and entitling the Foreign Representatives to recover from HSBC Suisse an amount equal to the Vulnerability Period Payments received by HSBC Suisse from Sentry and Sigma.

NINTH CLAIM

(Unfair Preference Pursuant to Section 245 of the BVI Insolvency Act - Against Beneficial Shareholders)

- 203. 179. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as Foreign Liquidators of Sentry and Sigma, repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 178 above as if set forth herein.
- 204. 180. Upon information and belief, HSBC Suisse may have subscribed to all or some portion of the Shares issued to it under the Subscription Agreements in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 205. 181. Upon information and belief, HSBC Suisse may have paid to or credited some or all of the Redemption Payments received by it to accounts of the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 206. 182.—To the extent that any money that HSBC Suisse received in connection with the Vulnerability Period Payments was transferred to the Beneficial Shareholders, the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as Foreign Representatives and Liquidators of Sentry and Sigma, are entitled to avoid and set aside such further transfer by HSBC Suisse to the Beneficial Shareholders and to recover from the Beneficial Shareholders an amount equal to any portion of any Vulnerability Period Payments received by them, and the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma, rely on, inter alia, section 249(2)(b) of the BVI Insolvency Act.

TENTH CLAIM

(Undervalue Transaction Pursuant to Section 246 of the BVI Insolvency Act - Against HSBC Suisse)

- 207. 183. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as Foreign Representatives and liquidators of Sentry and Sigma, repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 182 above as if set forth herein.
 - 208. 184. Section 246 of the BVI Insolvency Act provides that;
 - (1) Subject to subsection (2), a company enters into an undervalue transaction with a person if (a) the company makes a gift to that person or otherwise enters into a transaction with that person on terms that provide for the company to receive no consideration; or (b) the company enters into a transaction with that person for a consideration the value of which, in money or money's worth, is significantly less than the value, in money or money's worth, of the consideration provided by the company; and (c) in either case, the transaction concerned (i) is an insolvency transaction; and (ii) is entered into within the vulnerability period.
 - (2) A company does not enter into an undervalue transaction with a person if (a) the company enters into the transaction in good faith and for the purposes of its business; and (b) at the time when it enters into the transaction, there were reasonable grounds for believing that the transaction would benefit the company.
 - (3) A transaction may be an undervalue transaction notwithstanding that it is entered into pursuant to the order of a court or tribunal in or outside the Virgin Islands.
 - (4) Where a company enters into a transaction with a connected person within the vulnerability period and the transaction falls within subsection (1)(a) or subsection (1)(b), unless the contrary is proved, it is presumed that (a) the transaction was an insolvency transaction; and (b) subsection (2) did not apply to the transaction.
- 209. 185. During the Sentry and Sigma Vulnerability Periods, all assets purportedly held by BLMIS for Sentry and other investors were non-existent, and Sentry and Sigma were insolvent or rendered insolvent by the Vulnerability Period Payments, as alleged in paragraph 175 above. Thus, each of the Redemptions and/or Vulnerability Period Payments qualifies as an "insolvency transaction" within the meaning of Section 244 of the BVI Insolvency Act and for purposes of Section 246 of the BVI Insolvency Act.

ı

ı

- 210. 186.—Sentry and Sigma received no consideration for any of the Vulnerability Period Payments, or in the alternative, Sentry and Sigma received, for each Vulnerability Period Payment, consideration, the value of which, in money or money's worth, was significantly less than the value, in money or money's worth, of the consideration provided by Sentry and Sigma to HSBC Suisse for each of the Vulnerability Period Payments.
- 211. HSBC Suisse was a shareholder (i.e., a member) of Sentry and Sigma during the Vulnerability Period and was, accordingly, a "connected person" as defined in the BVI Insolvency Act.
- 212. 188. Because HSBC Suisse was a "connected person" as defined in the BVI Insolvency Act, there is a statutory presumption that the Redemptions and/or Vulnerability Period Payments were "insolvency transactions." Further, there is a statutory presumption that the Vulnerability Period Payments were not made in good faith and for the purposes of the Funds' business with reasonable grounds to believe that they would benefit the Funds. Even were that not presumed, it is in any event clear that the purpose of the Funds was not to invest in and distribute fictitious profits from a Ponzi scheme such as BLMIS.
- 213. 189. By reason of the foregoing, the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as Foreign Representatives and liquidators of Sentry and Sigma, are entitled to an order avoiding and setting aside the Vulnerability Period Payments and to recover from HSBC Suisse an amount equal to the Vulnerability Period Payments received by HSBC Suisse from Sentry and Sigma.

ELEVENTH CLAIM

(Undervalue Transaction Pursuant to Section 246 of the BVI Insolvency Act - Against Beneficial Shareholders)

- 214. 190. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as Foreign Representatives and liquidators of Sentry and Sigma, repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 189 above as if set forth herein.
- 215. 191. Upon information and belief, HSBC Suisse may have subscribed to all or some portion of the Shares issued to it under the Subscription Agreements in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 216. 192. Upon information and belief, HSBC Suisse may have paid to or credited some or all of the Redemption Payments received by it to accounts of the Beneficial Shareholders.

217. 193. To the extent that any money that HSBC Suisse received in connection with the Vulnerability Period Payments was transferred to the Beneficial Shareholders, the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as Foreign Representatives and liquidators of Sentry and Sigma, are entitled to avoid and set aside such further transfer by HSBC Suisse to the Beneficial Shareholders and to recover from the Beneficial Shareholders an amount equal to any portion of any Vulnerability Period Payments received by them, and the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma, rely on, inter alia, section 249(2)(b) of the BVI Insolvency Act.

TWELFTH CLAIM (Breach of Contract - Against HSBC Suisse)

- 218. 194. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 193 above as if set forth herein.
- 195.—HSBC Suisse, upon information and belief, entered into the Initial 219. Subscription Agreement with Sentry, on or about April 15, 1998, pursuant to which HSBC Suisse subscribed for a total of 93,529.5700 Shares. HSBC Suisse's subscription for shares was made pursuant to the terms of the Initial Subscription Agreement itself as well as the terms of the other documents referred to therein, namely; (i) Sentry's Private Placement Memorandum (as amended from time to time); and (ii) Sentry's Memorandum of Association and Articles of Association (the "Articles"). Subsequent to entering into the Initial Subscription Agreement, HSBC Suisse, upon information and belief, entered into the Subsequent Subscription Agreements with Sentry and Sigma on or about April 24, 1998, June 10, 1998, June 16, 1998, June 22, 1998, August 17, 1998, September 1, 1998, October 1, 1998, October 2, 1998, October 5, 1998, November 12, 1998, December 8, 1998, December 11, 1998 December 31, 1998, January 13, 1999, February 10, 1999, April 13, 1999, April 23, 1999, May 12, 1999, May 14, 1999, May 17, 1999, June 10, 1999, July 9, 1999, August 10, 1999, August 23, 1999, September 9, 1999, October 14, 1999, November 10, 1999, December 8, 1999, December 9, 1999, January 11, 2000, January 31, 2000, February 8, 2000, March 10, 2000, April 12, 2000, May 12, 2000, May 24, 2000, May 29, 2000, April 30, 2001, June 9, 2000, July 12, 2000, August 15, 2000, August 22, 2000, September 19, 2000, September 20, 2000, September 28, 2000, October 31, 2000, November 30, 2000, December 29, 2000,

The Initial Subscription Agreement, together with the Subsequent Subscription Agreements, including all of the terms and provisions incorporated therein by reference to the Private Placement Memorandum (as amended from time to time) and the Articles, are collectively referred to herein as the "Fund Documents."

220. 196. The Fund Documents provide for the calculation of the redemption price for Shares (the "Redemption Price") based on the "Net Asset Value per Share." Net Asset Value per share is to be determined by the directors of Sentry and Sigma as of the relevant valuation day "by dividing the value of the net assets of [Sentry/Sigma] by the number of Shares then in issue [.]" Articles at 11(1).

- 221. 197. The Fund Documents provide that in determining the Net Asset Value per share for each class of shares issued, the value of the net assets of the Funds is to be adjusted "to take into account any dividends, distributions, assets or liabilities" attributable to such class of shares. Articles at 11(1). Pursuant to the Fund Documents, each subscriber, including HSBC Suisse acknowledges that "the value of its Shares and redemptions thereof, and the performance of the Fund, may be based on unaudited and in some cases, estimated, valuations of the Fund's investment and that any valuation provided in Subscriber's account statement may be an unaudited, estimated value." See Initial Subscription Agreement ¶ 10.
- 222. 198.—With respect to the valuation of different types of assets, the Fund Documents prescribe methods of valuation that are, however, subject to the exercise of the judgment and discretion by the Directors of Sentry and Sigma. For example, with respect to the valuation of assets consisting of securities, the Fund Documents prescribe methods of valuation based on price and market data, provided however that "[i]f the Directors determine that [any of the prescribed methods of valuation] does not fairly represent its market value, the Directors shall value such securities as they determine and shall set forth the basis of such valuation in writing in the Company's records[.]" Articles at 11(3)(b).
- 223. 199. With respect to the value of any shares of stock held by Sentry and Sigma in an "investment company," the Fund Documents provide for valuation "in accordance with the manner in which such shares are valued by such investment company" provided however that "the Directors may make such adjustments in such valuations the Directors may from time to time consider appropriate." Articles at 11(3)(c).

225. 201. Additionally, the Fund Documents provide that "notwithstanding the foregoing, in the case of extraordinary circumstances which, in the Directors' sole discretion, warrant a different valuation of any securities, such securities will be valued at such prices as the Directors shall determine." Articles at 11(3)(f).

226. 202. The Fund Documents provide that any "certificate" as to the Net Asset Value per Share or as to the Redemption Price that is given in good faith by or on behalf of the Directors "shall be binding on all parties." Articles at 11(1).

227. 203. No Certificate was provided in good faith by or on behalf of the Directors to HSBC Suisse in respect of any Net Asset Value determination made while HSBC Suisse was a member of the Funds or in respect of any Redemption Payment made to HSBC Suisse.

228. 204.—Pursuant to the Fund Documents, at any time prior to the good faith issuance and receipt of a Certificate, the Redemption Price calculated in respect of the redemptions by HSBC Suisse and paid to HSBC Suisse remains subject to adjustment, recalculation and redetermination based on, inter alia, the foregoing identified provisions of the Fund Documents. Upon the true interpretation of the Fund Documents, the same contained an implied term for repayment of any over-payments, and/or such a term is to be implied on the basis of obviousness and/or as being necessary for the business efficacy of the Fund Documents and/or to give effect to the reasonable expectations of the parties.

ı

ı

- 229. Upon information and belief, HSBC Suisse received the Redemption Payments listed on Exhibit A and Exhibit B in respect of Shares submitted for redemption.
- 230. 206. Subsequent to December 8, 2008, Sentry and Sigma have determined that the Net Asset Value calculations upon which Redemption Payments were made to HSBC Suisse included assets not held by or on behalf of Sentry and Sigma at the time of the making of such payments and, additionally, that such Net Asset Value calculations failed to account for and make appropriate deduction of liabilities of Sentry and Sigma existing at the time such payments. For these and other reasons, such Net Asset Value calculation substantially overstated the net asset value of the assets of Sentry and Sigma.
- 231. 207. To the extent that HSBC Suisse has received Redemption Payments in excess of the Net Asset Value of the Shares redeemed, HSBC Suisse is contractually obligated to return amounts in excess of the Net Asset Value that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the relevant time.
- 232. 208. Following determination by the Funds that Redemption Payments made to HSBC Suisse had been calculated on the basis of an overstated Net Asset Value, demand has been made on HSBC Suisse to return excess and overpaid Redemption Payments to the Funds.
- 233. 209. HSBC Suisse has failed and refused to repay to the Funds the amount that, under the Fund Documents, it is contractually required to repay to the Funds.
- 234. 210. The failure of HSBC Suisse to make the repayment requested constitutes a breach of the Fund Documents for which Sentry and Sigma are entitled to the award of damages.

THIRTEENTH CLAIM

(Breach of Contract - Against Beneficial Shareholders)

- 235. 211. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 210 above as if set forth herein.
- 236. 212. Upon information and belief, HSBC Suisse may have subscribed to all or some portion of the Shares issued to it under the Fund Documents in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 237. Each Beneficial Shareholder authorized HSBC Suisse to enter into the Fund Documents on his, her or its behalf and to bind the Beneficial Shareholder to the agreements and representations contained therein to the same extent as had the Beneficial Shareholder executed the Fund Documents on his, her or its, own behalf.

ı

- 238. 214. Upon information and belief, HSBC Suisse may have paid to or credited some or all of the Redemption Payments received by it from Sentry and Sigma to accounts of the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 239. 215. To the extent that any Beneficial Shareholder has received Redemption Payments in excess of the Net Asset Value of the Shares redeemed, such Beneficial Shareholder is contractually obligated to return amounts in excess of the Net Asset Value that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the relevant time.
- 240. 216. Following determination by the Funds that Redemption Payments made toHSBC Suisse had been calculated on the basis of an overstated Net Asset Value, demand was made on the Beneficial Shareholders by demand on HSBC Suisse for the return of excess and overpaid Redemption Payments.

241. 217. The Beneficial Shareholders have failed and refused to repay to the Funds the amounts that, under the Fund Documents, they are contractually required to repay to the Funds.

ı

ı

١

242. 218. The failure of the Beneficial Shareholders to make the repayment requested constitutes a breach of the Fund Documents for which Sentry and Sigma are entitled to the award of damages.

FOURTEENTH CLAIM

(Breach of Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing - Against HSBC Suisse)

- 243. 219. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 218 above as if set forth herein.
- 244. 220. Following determination by the Funds that Redemption Payments to HSBC
 Suisse had been made on the basis of an overstated Net Asset Value, demand was made to HSBC Suisse to return excess and overpaid Redemption Payments to Sentry and Sigma.
- 245. 221. HSBC Suisse has failed and refused to make the requested repayment toSentry and Sigma.
- 246. 222. By retaining the Redemption Payments to which HSBC Suisse is not entitled, HSBC Suisse has deprived Sentry and Sigma of the benefit of their bargain and has subverted the Fund Documents.

247. The failure of HSBC Suisse to make the repayment requested constitutes a breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing that inheres in the Fund Documents for which Sentry and Sigma are entitled to the award of damages.

FIFTEENTH CLAIM

(Breach of Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing - Against Beneficial Shareholders)

- 248. 224. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 223 above as if set forth herein.
- 249. Upon information and belief, HSBC Suisse may have subscribed to all or some portion of the Shares issued to it under the Fund Documents in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 250. Upon information and belief, HSBC Suisse may have paid to or credited some or all of the Redemption Payments received by it from Sentry and Sigma to accounts of the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 251. 227. Following determination by the Funds that Redemption Payments made to HSBC Suisse had been calculated on the basis of an overstated Net Asset Value, demand was made on the Beneficial Shareholders by demand on HSBC Suisse for the return of excess and overpaid Redemption Payments.
- 252. 228. The Beneficial Shareholders have failed and refused to make repayment toSentry and Sigma.
- 253. 229. By retaining the Redemption Payments to which they are not entitled, the Beneficial Shareholders have deprived Sentry and Sigma of the benefit of their bargain and have subverted the Fund Documents.

254. 230. The failure of the Beneficial Shareholders to make the repayment requested constitutes a breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing that inheres in the Fund Documents for which Sentry and Sigma are entitled to the award of damages.

ı

SIXTEENTH CLAIM (Declaratory Judgment - Against All Defendants)

- 255. 231. Sentry and Sigma (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and Sigma and on behalf of Sentry and Sigma) repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 230 above as if set forth herein.
- 256. 232. An actual and justiciable controversy exists between the Plaintiffs and the Defendants with respect to the obligation of the Defendants to repay to the Funds all or a portion of amounts received by them as excess or overpaid Redemption Payments under circumstances where:
 - (i) the Net Asset Value per Share calculation upon which the Redemption Price was paid, directly or indirectly, to any Defendant has been subsequently adjusted, recalculated or redetermined in accordance with the Fund Documents;
 - (ii) the resulting adjusted, recalculated and redetermined Redemption Price is less than the Redemption Price paid to the Defendant;
 - (iii) prior to such adjustment, recalculation or redetermination, no binding Certificate has been issued by the Funds; and
 - (iv) Citco issued no Certificates in good faith.
- 257. 233. The harm to Sentry and Sigma is real and immediate because, a result of the failure and refusal of the Defendants to make repayment, Sentry and Sigma have become insolvent and are presently unable to pay its debts as they fall or will fall due.

- 258. Plaintiffs have no adequate remedy at law.
- 259. 235.—Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201 et. seq., Plaintiffs are entitled to a declaration by this Court declaring that, pursuant to the Fund Documents, each Defendant must repay Sentry and Sigma that portion of the Redemption Payments received by such Defendant representing the amount by which such Redemption Payments exceeded the Redemption Price as it has been subsequently adjusted, recalculated and redetermined by Sentry and Sigma.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, the Plaintiffs respectfully request the following relief:

- A. On the First, Third and Fifth Claims, judgment in favor of Plaintiffs and against HSBC Suisse allowing the Plaintiffs to recover an amount equal to the Redemption Payments received by HSBC Suisse, plus interest, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to the amount of the Redemption Payments received by HSBC Suisse less the amount of redemption payments that HSBC Suisse would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time, plus interest;
- B. On the Second, Fourth and Sixth Claims, judgment in favor of Plaintiffs and against the Beneficial Shareholders allowing the Plaintiffs to recover an amount equal to any portion of any Redemption Payments received by the Beneficial Shareholders, plus interest, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to any portion of the Redemption Payments received by the Beneficial Shareholders less the amount of such portion that such Beneficial Shareholders would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time, plus interest;

- C. On the Seventh Claim, imposition of a constructive trust on Redemption Payments;
 - D. On the Eighth and Ninth Claims:
 - i. a declaratory judgment in favor of the Foreign Representatives and against HSBC Suisse and the Beneficial Holders that the Redemptions and/or Vulnerability Period Payments constitute Unfair Preferences under Section 245 of the BVI Insolvency Act;
 - ii. judgment pursuant to Section 249 of the BVI Insolvency Act, setting aside and avoiding the Redemptions and/or Vulnerability Period Payments; and
 - iii. judgment pursuant to Section 249 of the BVI Insolvency Act against HSBC Suisse and the Beneficial Holders in the amount of the avoided Vulnerability Period Payments received by them or for their benefit, plus interest;
 - E. On the Tenth and Eleventh Claims:
 - i. a declaratory judgment in favor of the Foreign Representatives and against HSBC Suisse and the Beneficial Holders that the Redemptions and/or Vulnerability Period Payments constitute Undervalue Transactions under Section 246 of the BVI Insolvency Act;
 - ii. judgment pursuant to Section 249 of the BVI Insolvency Act, setting aside and avoiding the Redemptions and/or Vulnerability Period Payments; and
 - iii. judgment pursuant to Section 249 of the BVI Insolvency Act against HSBC Suisse and the Beneficial Holders in the amount of the avoided Vulnerability Period Payments received by them or for their benefit, plus interest;
- F. On the Twelfth and Fourteenth Claims, judgment against HSBC Suisse and in favor of the Plaintiffs in an amount to be determined at trial;
- G. On the Thirteenth and Fifteenth Claims, judgment against the Beneficial Shareholders and in favor of the Plaintiffs in an amount to be determined at trial;
 - H. On the Sixteenth Claim, a declaratory judgment against the Defendants and in favor of the Plaintiffs that, under the Fund Documents, the Defendants must repay that portion of the Redemption Payments received by such Defendant representing the amount by which such Redemption Payments exceeded the Redemption Price as it has been subsequently adjusted, recalculated and redetermined by Sentry and Sigma;

I. Awarding Plaintiffs the costs and disbursements of the action, including reasonable attorneys' fees and accountants' and experts' fees, costs and expenses; and

J. Granting Plaintiffs such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

Defendants.

Fairfield Sentry Limited ("Sentry"), by and through Kenneth Krys and Charlotte Caulfield (together with their predecessors, the "Foreign Representatives"), and Kenneth Krys and Charlotte Caulfield (together with Sentry, the "Plaintiffs"), solely in their capacities as the Liquidators of Sentry and the Foreign Representatives of the liquidation proceedings involving Sentry, Fairfield Sigma Limited ("Sigma"), and Fairfield Lambda Limited ("Lambda," together with Sentry and Sigma, the "Funds" or the "Debtors") pending before the Commercial Division of the Eastern Caribbean High Court of Justice, British Virgin Islands (the "BVI Court"), for their complaint against Defendants, allege the following based on personal knowledge or information derived from the Funds' books and records or from other sources, including, inter alia, court filings and statements of governmental agencies and other parties.

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

- 1. This action and similar actions are brought by the Plaintiffs, with the approval of the foreign court having jurisdiction over the matter, to recover payments made to shareholders for the redemption of shares in the Funds prior to December 2008.
- 2. The Funds were created as a means for private investment in managed accounts with Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC ("BLMIS"), the brokerage business that Bernard L. Madoff used to perpetrate his massive Ponzi scheme. Sentry was the largest of all so-called "feeder funds" to maintain accounts with BLMIS. Sigma and Lambda were indirect BLMIS feeder funds established for foreign currency investments (respectively, Euro and Swiss Franc investments) through purchases of shares of Sentry. Sentry's account statements with BLMIS as of the end of October 2008 showed in excess of $6 billion of assets supposedly held by BLMIS for Sentry. As stated in their offering materials, the Funds' investment objective was to achieve capital appreciation of assets through investments in BLMIS (directly, in the case of Sentry; and indirectly, through Sentry, in the cases of Sigma and Lambda).

- 3. It is now known that these types of feeder funds were essential to the perpetration of Madoff's Ponzi scheme. In order for the Ponzi scheme to operate, Madoff required a continuous flow of new investors and investments to be able to satisfy redemption requests from early investors. Feeder funds, such as Sentry (which was a direct feeder fund into BLMIS), and Sigma and Lambda (which were indirect feeder funds, through Sentry, into BLMIS), brought new investors into this scheme, allowing Madoff to make payments to early investors and thereby creating and perpetuating the illusion that BLMIS was engaged in a successful investment strategy and actively trading securities.
- 4. From the Funds' inception until the disclosure of Madoff's fraud in December 2008, during most relevant times, substantially all cash, net of fees and expenses, raised by the Funds through the sale of their shares was transferred (either directly in the case of Sentry or indirectly, through Sentry, in the cases of Sigma and Lambda) to BLMIS for investment in accounts managed by Madoff. Prior to December 2008, the voting participating shares of Sentry ($.01 par value per share), Sigma (€.01 par value per share), and Lambda (CHF.01 par value per share) (the "Shares"), were redeemable for a price equal to the applicable Fund's "Net Asset Value." Net Asset Value was to be determined, in accordance with applicable accounting standards, as the value of the respective assets of Sentry, Sigma, and Lambda divided by the number of shares outstanding in each Fund, net of certain expenses ("Net Asset Value").

- 5. From time to time, in order to make payments to investors for the redemption of Shares ("Redemption Payments"), Sentry generally made withdrawals from its BLMIS accounts. On occasion, Sentry made Redemption Payments directly from amounts on hand invested by other subscribers in the Funds. At all relevant times, the Funds believed payments that Sentry received from BLMIS represented the proceeds of sales of securities and/or investments held by BLMIS for Sentry. The amount, per share, paid by the Funds to shareholders for each Share redeemed was to be equal to the per share Net Asset Value, which was calculated based principally on the assets that the Funds believed were being held, and investments that were being made, by BLMIS for Sentry's account.
- 6. As the world now knows, Madoff was operating a massive Ponzi scheme through BLMIS. Thus, at all relevant times, the money that Sentry transferred to BLMIS was not invested, but, rather, was used by Madoff to pay other BLMIS investors or was otherwise misappropriated by Madoff for unauthorized uses. Further, none of the securities shown on statements provided to Sentry by BLMIS were in fact purchased for Sentry. Additionally, none of the amounts withdrawn by Sentry from its accounts with BLMIS were proceeds of sales of securities or other investments. Instead, such amounts represented the monies of more recent investors into the Madoff scheme.
- 7. In light of the fraudulent nature of BLMIS and its operation as a massive Ponzi scheme, at all relevant times the assets purportedly held at BLMIS for Sentry were non-existent, and the Funds were insolvent at the time Redemption Payments were made or they were rendered insolvent by those payments. As a result, at all relevant times, the Net Asset Value of the Shares redeemed was miscalculated, and Redemption Payments were mistakenly made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at any relevant time.

- 8. At all relevant times, all payments made from BLMIS to Sentry and other feeder funds and investors were made by Madoff to perpetuate his Ponzi scheme and avoid detection Similarly, the Redemption Payments that the Funds made to redeeming of his fraud. shareholders were not made in the ordinary course of any business or for any legitimate purposes. Those Redemption Payments did not conform to or follow the terms of the Funds' Subscription Agreements, Articles of Association and/or other offering documents, as they were based upon Net Asset Values that were not calculated based upon the true facts existing at any relevant time, and because, more generally, the Redemption Payments represented the proceeds arising from investment in BLMIS (or a substitute therefor, in the form of subscription monies from other investors in the Funds, used as a shortcut to investing subscription monies with BLMIS and simultaneously withdrawing monies from BLMIS), which the world now knows was operated by Madoff as a Ponzi scheme. These payments were crucial in perpetuating the Ponzi scheme and maintaining the illusion that Madoff was making actual investments and employing a successful investment strategy.
- 9. During the period from and after April 21, 2004, through August 14, 2006, following the receipt by Sentry of notices of redemption, Sentry made Redemption Payments to accounts held in the name of Zurich Capital Markets Company ("Zurich Capital") aggregating USD $15,142,755.05.
- 10. At the time such payments were made, Sentry mistakenly believed that such payments were in the amount of the Net Asset Value of the Shares tendered at the time of redemption. In fact, however, as stated, the Redemption Payments made to Zurich Capital far exceeded the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based on the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time. Moreover, these Redemption Payments did not, as Sentry intended, represent the proceeds arising from the profitability of or to continue investment in BLMIS. Instead, any amounts obtained directly or indirectly by Sentry from BLMIS to make Redemption Payments to Zurich Capital generally were proceeds of Madoff's Ponzi scheme, obtained from other BLMIS investors or other Sentry investors invested in BLMIS.

- 11. Accordingly, the Funds' actual assets are, and at relevant times were, far less than the amount needed to satisfy their liabilities and the claims that have been or may be asserted against them, and, at all relevant times, the Funds were unable to pay their debts as they fell or would fall due. Indeed, at the time the Redemptions Payments were made, the Funds had insufficient assets from which to pay debts as they fell or would fall due.
- 12. In particular, claims had been previously asserted against the Funds in actions commenced by Irving H. Picard, the Trustee appointed by the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York for the liquidation of BLMIS (the "BLMIS Trustee"), in an adversary proceeding pending before the United States Bankruptcy Court of the Southern District of New York, Picard v. Fairfield Sentry Limited, et al., No. 08-01789 (SMB) (the "BLMIS Adversary Proceeding"). As set forth in the complaint filed in the BLMIS Adversary Proceedings, the BLMIS Trustee sought to recover from the Funds, on preference and fraudulent transfer grounds, approximately $3.2 billion. This amount was alleged to have been transferred to the Funds from BLMIS, directly (in the case of Sentry), or indirectly (in the cases of Sigma and Lambda), during the six years preceding the December 2008 disclosure of the Madoff fraud. The BLMIS Trustee alleged that the monies transferred from BLMIS to the

Funds were the misappropriated assets of other BLMIS investors. At all relevant times, monies that the Funds received from BLMIS, net of fees and expenses, were transferred to shareholders as Redemption Payments.

- Representatives and the BLMIS Trustee dated May 9, 2011, the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York entered judgments against each of the Funds on the claims against the Funds asserted in the BLMIS Adversary Proceeding (the "Judgments") in the amount of $3,054,000,000 with respect to Sentry, $752,300,000 with respect to Sigma, and $52,900,000 with respect to Lambda. The Redemption Payments rendered the Funds unable to satisfy their liabilities to the BLMIS customers, the BLMIS Trustee, including on account of the Judgments, and other creditors of the Funds, and further increased the amount of those liabilities. In this way, the Redemption Payments caused the Funds to become insolvent and/or deepened their existing insolvency, in that, among other things, at all relevant times the Funds were unable to pay their debts as they fell or would fall due.
- 14. Upon information and belief, Zurich Capital has either retained the Redemption Payments made to it by Sentry for its own account and benefit or, alternatively, paid all or some portion of such payments to or for the account of persons or entities, including, but not limited to, Antonio Bacelar Carrehas, Banco Itau Europa Luxembourg, Bank Morgan Stanley AG, Bank Morgan Stanley SA, Banque Sudameris, Caprice International Group, Citibank (Switzerland) Zurich, Citivic Nominees Limited, Compagnie Bancaire Espiritu Santo SA n/k/a Banque Privee Espirito Santo SA, Desert Rose Limited, Edson Terra Cunha, Denise Bar, EFG Private Bank SA, Fabio Rodrigues Mendes, HSBC Bank USA, Merrill Lynch Bank, Morgan Stanley & Co. International PLC, Pine Cliffs Investments Limited, Safra National Bank of New York, ASBT Cayman Sub No. 82, ZCM Matched Funding Corp, and ZCM Asset Holding Co. Bermuda, for whom Zurich Capital may have subscribed for shares of the Funds in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, nominee or custodian (individually, a "Beneficial Shareholder" and collectively, "Beneficial Shareholders," together with Zurich Capital, the "Defendants").

- 15. Following the revelation of Madoff's fraud in December 2008, the Funds' boards of directors suspended any further redemptions of the Funds' shares and the calculation of each of the Funds' Net Asset Value. As of December 2008 and presently, Sentry, Sigma, and Lambda have, respectively, approximately 4.7 million, 3.9 million, and 0.2 million shares outstanding.
- 16. Unless Redemption Payments paid to shareholders are recovered for the Funds' estates, the Funds will be unable to satisfy their liabilities and claims that have been made or may be made against them; further, recoveries of Redemption Payments will increase distributions to the Funds' investors who have been harmed. Moreover, to the extent such liabilities and claims must be satisfied solely from the Funds' current assets, Defendants will have been unjustly enriched as they will not bear their proportionate share of such liabilities and claims, but rather will retain a windfall at the expense of other shareholders and creditors of the Funds.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

17. Jurisdiction is proper in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157(b) and 1334(b), as this adversary proceeding and the claims asserted by the Foreign Representatives herein arise under, arise in and/or relate to the Chapter 15 proceedings of the above-captioned Debtors, In re Fairfield Sentry Limited, et al., No. 10-13164 (SMB), pending in this Court. Additionally, pursuant to section 78eee(b)(2)(A)(iii) of the Securities Investor Protection Act

REDACTED WITH REDACT-IT Main Document

("SIPA"), which incorporates 28 U.S.C. § 1334(b) and applicable provisions of Title 11 of the United States Code, jurisdiction is also proper in this Court because this action also relates to the consolidated liquidation proceedings of BLMIS and Bernard L. Madoff, pending in this Court under the caption Securities Investor Protection Corp. v. Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC, SIPA Liquidation No. 08-1789 (SMB). Pursuant to the Amended Standing Order of Reference of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, dated January 31, 2012, all proceedings arising in, arising under and/or related to cases under Title 11 of the United States Code (as amended, the "Bankruptcy Code") are referred to this Court for adjudication.

- 18. This is a core proceeding under 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2). Should the Court determine that this is a non-core proceeding, Plaintiffs consent to entry of final judgment and order by this Court.
- 19. This Court has jurisdiction over Zurich Capital and any Beneficial Shareholders pursuant to Rules 7004(d) and (f) of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure and New York Civil Practice Law & Rules § 302 (McKinney 2008) because Zurich Capital and the Beneficial Shareholders purposely availed themselves of the laws of the United States and the State of New York by, among other things, investing money with the Funds, knowing and intending that the Funds would invest substantially all of that money in New York-based BLMIS, and maintaining bank accounts in the United States at Citibank NA, and in fact

Although the District Court, in In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd., No. 1:11-mc-00224-LAP, 458 B.R. 665 (S.D.N.Y. 2011), held that causes of action alleged by the Plaintiffs in other cases before this Court—causes of action that are similar or the same as those alleged in this complaint—are not core proceedings, this determination may be subject to appeal. In any event, plaintiffs submit that the causes of action in this complaint, which include, inter alia, allegations regarding transfers of property that were directed into the territorial jurisdiction of the United States, render the claims asserted in this complaint core in accordance with the District Court's decision.

10-03635-jpm Doc 296 Filed 04/12/17 Entered 04/12/17 18:15:42 Main Document Pg 250 of 317

receiving Redemption Payments in those United States-based and/or New York-based accounts. Zurich Capital and the Beneficial Shareholders selected U.S. dollars as the currency in which to invest and execute their transactions in Sentry, designated United States-based and/or New York-based bank accounts to receive their Redemption Payments from the Funds, and actively directed Redemption Payments at issue in this action into those bank accounts. Zurich Capital and the Beneficial Shareholders thus knowingly accepted the rights, benefits, and privileges of conducting business and/or transactions in the United States and New York, derived significant revenue from New York, and maintained minimum contacts and/or general business contacts with the United States and New York in connection with the claims alleged herein. Zurich Capital and the Beneficial Shareholders should therefore reasonably expect to be subject to United States jurisdiction.

- 20. Moreover, this Court has jurisdiction over Zurich Capital and any Beneficial Shareholders by virtue of the legally binding and valid agreements and representations set forth in one or more agreements for the subscription of Shares that Zurich Capital entered into with Sentry.
- 21. Zurich Capital, upon information and belief, entered into a Subscription Agreement with Sentry on or about January 31, 2003 (the "Initial Subscription Agreement") pursuant to which Zurich Capital subscribed for Shares. Subsequent to entering into the Initial Subscription Agreement, Zurich Capital, upon information and belief, entered into additional agreements (the "Subsequent Subscription Agreements") with Sentry on or about March 31, 2003, July 1, 2003, July 30, 2003, July 31, 2003, August 29, 2003, September 30, 2003, October 31, 2003, November 4, 2003, November 28, 2003, September 30, 2004, November 30, 2004, and April 29, 2005, pursuant to which it subscribed for additional Shares on the same terms and conditions as those shares subscribed for pursuant to the Initial Subscription Agreement. The Initial Subscription Agreement and Subsequent Subscription Agreements are collectively referred to herein as the "Subscription Agreements."

22. The Subscription Agreements provide for, inter alia, the irrevocable submission by Zurich Capital to the jurisdiction of the New York courts with respect to any proceeding with respect to said agreement and Sentry and Zurich Capital's consent to service of process by the mailing of such process, as provided therein. In particular, the Subscription Agreements provide as follows:

New York Courts. Subscriber agrees that any suit, action or proceeding ("Proceeding") with respect to this Agreement and the Fund may be brought in New York. Subscriber irrevocably submits to the jurisdiction of the New York courts with respect to any Proceeding and consents that service of process as provided by New York law may be made upon Subscriber in such Proceeding, and may not claim that a Proceeding has been brought in an inconvenient forum. Subscriber consents to the service of process out of any New York court in any such Proceeding by the mailing of copies thereof, by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, addressed to Subscriber at the address of Subscriber then appearing on the Fund's records. Nothing herein shall affect the Fund's right to commence any Proceeding or otherwise to proceed against Subscriber in any other jurisdiction or to serve process upon Subscriber in any manner permitted by any applicable law in any relevant jurisdiction.

23. Furthermore, by executing the Subscription Agreements, Zurich Capital agreed to all terms and conditions contained therein, including the express provision that any agreement made by Zurich Capital in the Subscription Agreements would also apply to any other person for whom Zurich Capital was subscribing as trustee, agent, representative, or nominee — i.e., all Beneficial Shareholders. Moreover, by executing the Subscription Agreements, Zurich Capital represented that it had all requisite authority from Beneficial Shareholders to execute and perform any and all obligations on their behalf, and also agreed to indemnify Sentry for any damages resulting from an assertion by a Beneficial Shareholder that Zurich Capital lacked proper authorization to enter into the Subscription Agreements or perform the obligations thereof. Specifically, the Subscription Agreements provide as follows:

If Subscriber is acting as a Representative. If Subscriber is subscribing as trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for another person (the "Beneficial Shareholder"), Subscriber agrees that the representations and agreements herein are made by Subscriber with respect to itself and the Beneficial Shareholder. Subscriber has all requisite authority from the Beneficial Shareholder to execute and perform the obligations hereunder. Subscriber also agrees to indemnify the Fund . . . for any and all costs, fees and expenses (including legal fees and disbursements, fines and amounts paid in settlement) in connection with any damages resulting from Subscriber's misrepresentation or misstatement contained here, or the assertion of Subscriber's lack of proper authorization from the Beneficial Shareholder to enter into this Agreement or perform the obligations hereof.

24. Venue is proper in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1409(a).

PARTIES

Plaintiffs

- 25. Sentry, a British Virgin Islands company, was organized in 1990 under the International Business Company Act of the British Virgin Islands and was subsequently reregistered as a business company under the BVI Business Companies Act 2004. Sentry's registered agent is Codan Trust Company (B.V.I.) located at Romasco Place, Wickhams Cay 1, Road Town, Tortola, BVI. Sentry is currently in liquidation in proceedings commenced on April 21, 2009 in the BVI Court.
- 26. The Foreign Representatives were appointed by the BVI Court as Liquidators of the Funds to supervise the liquidation of the Funds' estates and, where necessary, commence proceedings in the name of and on behalf of the Funds or in their own official names. On April 23, 2009, the BVI Court issued an order appointing Christopher Stride as liquidator of Lambda (the "Lambda Appointment Order"). On July 21, 2009, the BVI Court issued an order appointing Kenneth Krys and Mr. Stride as joint liquidators of Sentry and Sigma (the "Sentry & Sigma Appointment Order"). On September 6, 2010, the BVI Court issued notices acknowledging Mr. Stride's resignation and the appointment of Joanna Lau as joint liquidator with Mr. Krys of all three Funds (the "Supplemental Appointment Order"). On November 23, 2011, Ms. Lau resigned as joint liquidator of the Funds. On June 24, 2014, the BVI Court issued an order appointing Charlotte Caulfield as joint liquidator, with Mr. Krys, of all three Funds (the "Second Supplemental Appointment Order" and, together with the Lambda Appointment Order, the Sentry & Sigma Appointment Order, and the Supplemental Appointment Order, the "BVI Appointment Orders"). The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as Foreign Representatives and liquidators of the Funds, have been authorized by the foreign court having jurisdiction over the matter to bring this action and the claims herein, including the avoidance claims herein.

- 27. Pursuant to the BVI Appointment Orders, the Foreign Representatives are responsible for all aspects of the Funds' businesses, including, among other things, custody and control of the Funds' assets, the power to do all acts and execute, in the name and on behalf of the Funds, any deeds, receipts or other documents, and the power to compromise claims, commence litigation and to dispose of property. After obtaining BVI Court approval, the Foreign Representatives filed petitions in this Court in June of 2010, under Chapter 15 of Title 11 of the United States Code, seeking recognition of the BVI Liquidation Proceedings as "foreign main proceedings" under Chapter 15. On July 22, 2010, this Court issued an order (the "Recognition Order") granting that recognition.
- 28. Pursuant to the Recognition Order, the Foreign Representatives were automatically afforded relief available under 11 U.S.C. § 1520, including application of the

10-03635-jpm Doc 296 Filed 04/12/17 Entered 04/12/17 18:15:42 Main Document Pa 254 of 317

Bankruptcy Code's automatic stay to the Funds and their property located in the United States, as well as the ability to operate the Funds' business and exercise the rights and powers of a trustee under Sections 363 and 552 of the Bankruptcy Code. Moreover, the Bankruptcy Court specifically granted additional relief in the Recognition Order to the Foreign Representatives pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1521(a). Such relief includes, but is not limited to: (i) staying any actions, proceedings or execution against the Funds' assets to the extent not stayed under Section 1520; (ii) authorizing the Foreign Representatives to seek leave to conduct discovery concerning the Funds' assets, affairs, rights, obligations or liabilities; (iii) entrusting the Foreign Representatives with the administration and realization of the Funds' assets that are located within the United States, including all claims and causes of action belonging to the Funds; and (iv) otherwise giving full force and effect to the proceedings before the BVI Court.

NOTICE PURSUANT TO FED. R. CIV. P. 44.1

53. Certain of the substantive issues to be resolved in this case will be governed by the laws of the British Virgin Islands. Plaintiffs intend to rely upon the applicable laws of that territory.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

A. Role of Feeder Funds In Madoff Fraud

54. Sentry was the largest of all the so-called "feeder funds" to maintain accounts with BLMIS. Sigma and Lambda were indirect BLMIS feeder funds established for foreign currency (respectively, Euro and Swiss franc) investment through purchase of shares of Sentry. Sentry's account statements with BLMIS as of the end of October 2008 showed in excess of $6 billion of invested assets supposedly held by BLMIS. As stated in its offering materials,

10-03635-jpm Doc 296 Filed 04/12/17 Entered 04/12/17 18:15:42 REDACTED WITH REDACT-IT Pa 260 of 317

Sentry's investment objective was to achieve capital appreciation through investments in BLMIS.

55. As discussed above, Sentry, Sigma, and Lambda were established for the purpose of making investments in BLMIS. It is now known that these types of feeder funds were a crucial part of Madoff's Ponzi scheme. The feeder funds brought new investors and new investments into the scheme, allowing Madoff to make payments to early investors who sought to liquidate their investments, and in this way, the feeder funds were used by Madoff to continue and perpetuate his fraud by maintaining the illusion that BLMIS was making active investments and engaging in a successful investment strategy.

B. Calculation of Net Asset Value and Shareholder Redemption Payments

- 56. Substantially all of the money (up to 95%) raised by the Funds from the sale of their Shares, net of fees and expenses, was turned over to and invested in BLMIS (by and/or through Sentry), and supposedly credited to accounts held in the name of Sentry with BLMIS, purportedly for use in the now infamous "split-strike conversion" investment strategy. In accordance with the Funds' Subscription Agreements, Articles of Association, offering materials and/or other relevant documents, from time to time, the Funds paid to shareholders, for each Share tendered for redemption, an amount that was based on each of the respective Funds' purported Net Asset Value, as it was then calculated.
- 57. In calculating each of the Funds' Net Asset Value, the Funds' administrators used and relied on account statements provided by BLMIS purportedly showing securities and investments, or interests or rights in securities and investments, held by BLMIS for the account of Sentry. Generally, all securities identified on BLMIS account statements were traded on public exchanges and had readily ascertainable market values, and those market values (in addition to, among other items, cash on hand that was identified in the Sentry account statement for the relevant time period) were used in accordance with the Funds' Subscription Agreements, Articles of Association, offering materials and/or other documents to calculate the Net Asset Value of the Shares.

- 58. In fact, at all relevant times, no securities were ever purchased or sold by BLMIS for Sentry and any stated cash on hand in the BLMIS accounts was based on misinformation and fictitious account statements. None of the transactions shown on the account statements provided by BLMIS to Sentry ever occurred. Indeed, no investments of any kind were ever made by BLMIS for Sentry. At all relevant times, all of the account statements that BLMIS provided to Sentry were entirely and utterly fictitious. Further, all amounts deposited by Sentry (or by Sigma and Lambda through Sentry) with BLMIS for investment and the purchase of securities to be held by BLMIS for the account of Sentry were used by Madoff to pay other BLMIS investors or were misappropriated by Madoff for other unauthorized uses.
- Lambda through Sentry) made withdrawals from Sentry's BLMIS accounts (or utilized subscription monies of other investors on hand that were directed for investment in BLMIS). The Funds believed that the amounts provided in connection with such withdrawals represented the proceeds arising from the profitability of or to continue investment in BLMIS. In fact, however, payments made by BLMIS to Sentry purportedly representing the proceeds of sales of securities or other investment positions were nothing other than the deposits of other BLMIS investors or previous deposits made by Sentry, never invested but rather misused and misappropriated as part of Madoff's fraud. At all relevant times, payments made from BLMIS to Sentry were made by Madoff to continue and perpetuate his Ponzi scheme and avoid detection of his fraud. The payments from BLMIS to Sentry were not payments made in the ordinary course of or as part of any business, nor did they have a legitimate business purpose. Similarly, the Redemption Payments were not made for any legitimate purposes or in the ordinary course of any business.

60. Given the fraudulent nature of BLMIS and its operation as a massive Ponzi scheme, the money paid by the Funds (directly in the case of Sentry and indirectly in the cases of Sigma and Lambda) to BLMIS on account of Sentry was, at all relevant times and unknown to the Funds, misused and misappropriated by Madoff as part of his Ponzi scheme. At all relevant times, the Funds were insolvent when the Redemption Payments were made or were rendered insolvent, and/or their insolvency was deepened, as a result of the Redemption Payments.

C. Redemption Payments Made or Transferred to Defendants

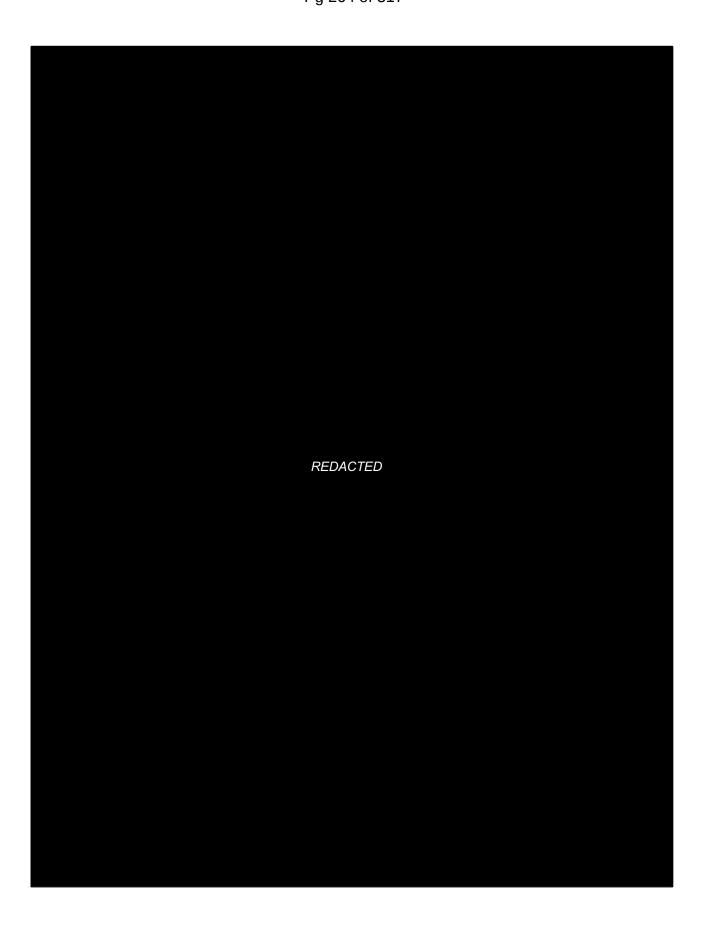

- 61. During the period from and after April 21, 2004, through August 14, 2006, Zurich Capital received Redemption Payments totaling USD $15,142,755.05 from Sentry in respect of Shares tendered for redemption.
- 62. At Zurich Capital's directions and instructions, Redemption Payments totaling USD $15,142,755.05 were received at Zurich Capital's bank account with Citibank NA in New York.
- 63. The dates and amounts of each Redemption Payment received by Zurich Capital from Sentry, and the bank accounts to which each Redemption Payment was made, are set forth on Exhibit A.

- 64. At the time those Redemption Payments were made, the Funds had insufficient assets and were unable to pay their debts as they would fall due. In exchange for each Redemption Payment, each of which constitutes or forms part of a transaction between Zurich Capital and Sentry, Sentry received no consideration or consideration of a value that, in money or money's worth, was significantly less than the value, in money or money's worth, of the consideration provided by Sentry.
- 65. Upon information and belief, Zurich Capital and/or the Beneficial Shareholders received Redemption Payments in excess of amounts paid by such person(s) for purchase of their Shares.

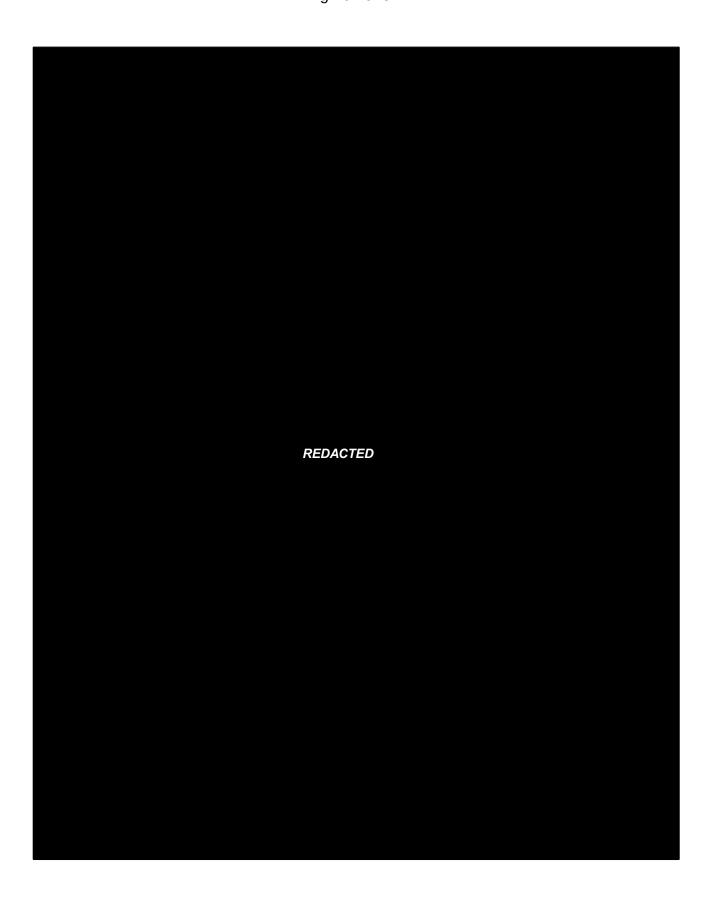

D. Citco Did Not Issue Any Certifications of Net Asset Value in "Good Faith"

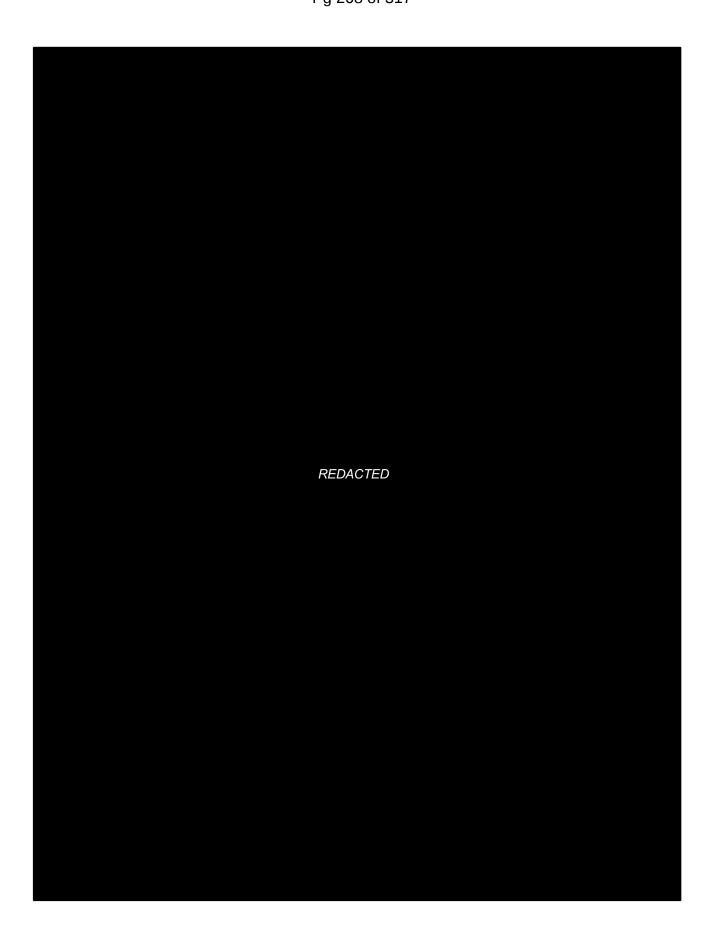

Asset Value per Share . . . given in good faith by or on behalf of the Directors shall be binding on all parties." During the relevant period, statements of the Net Asset Value were issued by the Funds' administrators, Citco Fund Services (Europe) B.V. and its delegatee Citco (Canada) Inc. (the "Administrators"). On April 16, 2014, the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council (the "Privy Council") issued a decision in which it held that certain statements of Net Asset Value, in particular, certain monthly emails, contract notes, and monthly account statements issued by the Administrators, constituted "certificates" for the purposes of Article 11 (the "Certificates"). The Privy Council did not, however, address whether such Certificates were given "in good faith." In carrying out this responsibility, the Administrators and affiliated Citco companies within Citco Group Limited (collectively, "Citco") acted with a lack of good faith in giving the Certificates.

REDACTED WITH REDACT-IT Main Document

- 95. By virtue of the foregoing conduct, Citco issued the Certificates without good faith. The Funds were the primary victims of Citco's conduct and its lack of good faith in issuing the Certificates.
- E. Zurich Capital Knew or Should Have Known of, Was Willfully Blind to or Recklessly Disregarded the BLMIS Fraud
- 96. Zurich Capital served as trustee, agent, representative, nominee or custodian for the Beneficial Owners in connection with their investments in the Funds, including, by: subscribing to Shares of Sentry on behalf of the Beneficial Owners, maintaining custody of the Shares as record shareholders, paying redemption proceeds from the Shares of Sentry to the Beneficial Owners, and otherwise exercising control over the Shares of Sentry.

- 97. Further, each of the Subscription Agreements, executed by Zurich Capital, manifested the Beneficial Owners' consent for Zurich Capital to act on behalf of and subject to the Beneficial Owners' control.
- 98. In executing the Subscription Agreements, Zurich Capital accepted and agreed to act on behalf of the Beneficial Owners.
- 99. Accordingly, the Beneficial Owners had the same knowledge as Zurich Capital regarding all relevant matters relating to BLMIS and the Funds' Net Asset Values at all relevant times.
- F. Merrill Lynch Knew or Should Have Known of, Was Willfully Blind to or Recklessly Disregarded the BLMIS Fraud²
- 100. Merrill Lynch & Co, Inc. ("MLCI"), which is Merrill Lynch's parent corporation, and Merrill Lynch were each presented with multiple opportunities to invest with Madoff and his "success" through Madoff Feeder Funds over the course of many years. MLCI, as a global organization, performed due diligence on certain Madoff Feeder Funds, as well as on Madoff and his purported split-strike conversion strategy. MLCI concluded that Madoff's structure serving simultaneously as the investment adviser, the prime broker and the custodian of assets lent itself to fraud and manipulation without adequate independent checks, that Madoff's returns were not generated by the claimed trading strategy, and that Madoff's investment advisory business might very well be fraudulent.

The allegations set forth in Paragraphs 100 through 103 of this Complaint are made by the Foreign Representative upon information and belief based on allegations set forth in the complaint filed by the Madoff Trustee in Picard v. Merrill Lynch Int'l & Co. C.V., 10-05346 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y.). Upon information and belief, the allegations of the BLMIS Trustee are based on an extensive investigation and the analysis of documentary evidence as well as other sources.

101. For some time, MLCI did not permit its own money or its clients' money to be used to invest directly or indirectly through BLMIS. MLCI consistently refused to provide leverage to institutional investors seeking to make levered investments in Madoff Feeder Funds through structured products like notes or swaps, and also regularly refused to direct investments to Madoff or Madoff Feeder Funds through, for example, funds of funds or single hedge fund wrap vehicles.

- Madoff Feeder Fund started no later than the late 1990's, and was directed by the highest authorities within MLCI. Fabio Savoldelli, a former senior executive at Merrill Lynch Investment Management, a subsidiary of MLCI, sounded the internal warning bell about Madoff within the global "Merrill Lynch" organization many years before BLMIS's collapse.
- 103. In July 2007, a Vice President for Latin America Structured Products from a "Merrill Lynch" entity contacted the Merrill Lynch International ("MLI") London desk asking whether MLI would be willing to structure a leveraged trade on Sentry and possibly another Madoff Feeder Fund. An MLI London desk employee answered promptly: "Both [funds] are related to Madoff. We can't provide leverage on these funds."
- G. HSBC Bank Knew or Should Have Known of, Was Willfully Blind to or Recklessly Disregarded the BLMIS Fraud³
 - 104. HSBC Bank was well aware of the indicia of fraud surrounding BLMIS.

The allegations set forth in Paragraphs 104 through 108 of this Complaint are made by the Foreign Representative upon information and belief based on allegations set forth in the complaint filed by the Madoff Trustee in Picard v. HSBC Bank PLC, 09-01364 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y.). Upon information and belief, the allegations of the BLMIS Trustee are based on an extensive investigation and the analysis of documentary evidence as well as other sources.

- 106. In January of 2003, HSBC Bank issued another due diligence report on Sentry, which noted many of the same concerns addressed in the 2001 Report. According to Research Committee Minutes, David Mullane, a member of the due diligence team, warned, "I would not invest in [Sentry] nor would I want investors to invest."
- 107. Also in 2003, HSBC Bank issued a due diligence report for Ascot Fund, another Madoff Feeder Fund. The report noted similarities between the investment strategies employed by Ascot Fund and Sentry. HSBC Bank gave Ascot Fund a 1 rating, the worst possible score.
- 108. In 2004, HSBC Bank issued yet another report regarding Sentry. In addition to the points noted above, HSBC Bank noted the concern that Madoff's track record was "[t]oo good to be true."
- 109. Upon information and belief, all HSBC entities, including HSBC Bank, HSBC Securities Services (Luxembourg) SA ("HSBC SSL") and HSBC Private Bank (Suisse) SA (collectively, the "HSBC Knowledge Defendants") worked collaboratively and freely shared information in connection with BLMIS-related matters. Moreover, upon information and belief, the free flow of information and co-ordination of action between various HSBC entities extended to the HSBC Knowledge Defendants.

110. In their due diligence reviews, HSBC SSL and its affiliates repeatedly pointed to BLMIS's role as a sub-custodian as a fraud risk. In August of 2008, Christine Coe, Global Head of Risk, HSBC (London), stated in an email to Chris Wilcockson ("Wilcockson"), Managing Director of Bank of Bermuda (Luxembourg) n/k/a HSBC Bank Bermuda and HSBC SSL, that she was concerned that Madoff was potentially using the fund's assets because "overall control [was] Madoff centric and there [were] opportunities for misleading or misappropriation to take place if he were so inclined," creating a "huge" fraud risk. HSBC SSL specifically identified as a risk the lack of "independent custody and verification of trading activity away from the investment manager (unlike a standard hedge fund that has a prime broker)." HSBC SSL identified this risk every year from at least 2002 through 2008. At the end of September 2002, Paul Smith ("P. Smith") (head of Global Fund Services ("GFS") n/k/a HSBC Securities Services ("HSS")) expressed these concerns in an email sent to Nigel Fielding ("Fielding"), who served as (a) General Manager of Corporate Trust for Bank of Bermuda until 2001, (b) Deputy Global Head of Client Services for Bank of Bermuda until December 2003, (c) Global Head of Business Services of GFS from January 2004, and (d) a Director of HSBC SSL_until November of 2015. In that email, P. Smith stated: "[W]e have a problem with him [Madoff]. He is the manager, broker and custodian to his accounts. In today's world this is a red flag."

H. HSBC Bank Affiliates Engaged KPMG to Assess Fraud and Operational Risk at BLMIS and then HSBC Bank Ignores its Findings

111. 109.—In September 2005, when HSBC Bank affiliates engaged KPMG to review BLMIS for fraud and related operational risk. KPMG's review focused on fraud risks in BLMIS's methods of recording and reporting client funds held by BLMIS, HSBC Bank's and its affiliates' ability to detect suspected fraud or misconduct in client funds for which HSBC SSL and its affiliates served as primary custodian. KPMG's findings were encapsulated in a February 16, 2006 report, titled "Review of fraud risk and related operational risks at Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC" (the "2006 Report"). In the 2006 Report, KPMG identified a laundry list of fraud and related operational risks related to BLMIS's operations including:

- o falsification of client mandates;
- o embezzlement of client funds;
- o use of fabricated client instructions to disguise poor proprietary positions;
- o failure to segregate client funds from BLMIS funds;
- o diversion of client funds for Madoff's personal gain;
- o inaccurate allocation of reinvested funds from Fidelity across individual accounts;
- o manipulation of option prices to maximize commissions;
- use of BLMIS claim funds to settle options exercised against HSBC Bank;
- o practice of exercising options without informing the client that the option was set to expire;
- use of client funds to make opportunistic trades that deviated from the SSC Strategy;

- o diversion of cash resulting from the sale of equities and Treasury bills;
- o systematic over-valuing of positions and the failure to report positions to HSBC Bank in order to manipulate control relationships;
- o stocks were not held in client names;
- o inflation of call values to disguise misappropriate or poor positions;
- o unauthorized trading in client accounts;
- o trades executions made by unauthorized BLMIS staff members;
- o sham trades to divert client cash;
- o front-running order flow in the market-making business;
- o false reporting of trades without execution to collect commissions; and
- o falsification of trade confirmations.
- 112. HOW Was particularly concerned that it could not identify the owners of individual HSBC Bank affiliates' client assets, and that controls in place at BLMIS might not prevent fraud or errors in client accounts.
- 113. 111. Despite the litany of fraud and operational risks identified by KPMG, HSBC Bank continued its relationship with Madoff, delegated custodial duties to BLMIS, and took no steps to implement KPMG's recommendations.

I. KPMG Engaged Again and Uncovers HSBC Bank's Failure to Heed Earlier Warnings

114. 112. After ignoring KPMG's dire warnings in 2006, HSBC Bank and its affiliates asked KPMG to conduct another review of BLMIS in March 2008. The terms and scope of the review were identical to the 2006 review, except that KPMG was also asked to assess the risk of placing HSBC Bank's and its affiliates' investments with BLMIS.

115. H3. KPMG's conclusions were contained in a September 8, 2008, report entitled "Review of fraud risk and related operational risks at Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC" (the "2008 Report"). KPMG wrote that, according to Madoff, HSBC Bank's and its affiliates' client investments represented an astonishing 33% of BLMIS's assets under management.

ı

- 116. 114. In the 2008 Report, KPMG identified three additional fraud concerns atBLMIS, not previously identified in the 2006 Report:
 - O Client cash is diverted signatures falsified on client instruction in an attempt to legitimize an unauthorized transaction (i.e., redemption);
 - Madoff LLC claim funds have been used to settle options exercised against HSBC Bank and/or its affiliates; and
 - O Stocks are intentionally not allocated a fair price from the bulk trade.
- ignored 115.—Yet again, HSBC Bank KPMG's warnings 117. and recommendations. HSBC Bank, instead, used the 2008 Report as a marketing tool to encourage additional investment in BLMIS. Upon information and belief, in mid-2008, HSBC Bank and/or its affiliates were asked to explain Madoff's investment strategy to Andreas Pirkner, an employee of Bank Medici. In response, HSBC Bank and/or its affiliates forwarded to Pirkner the 2008 Report with the comment that the Feeder Funds were in good shape. HSBC Bank continued to exploit their many relationships with Madoff and BLMIS, burying their heads in the sand, and effectively giving Madoff a "clean bill of health."

J. Internal Discussions Reveal That HSBC SSL Was More Concerned With Upsetting The Madoff Relationship And Losing Customers And Fees Than Properly Investigating Potential Fraud⁴ aware that Madoff's operational structure had the potential for fraud. Paula Downey, Head of Compliance for Bank of Bermuda informed Gerry Brady, who upon information and belief served as Regional Managing Director and Country Head - Ireland for the Bank of Bermuda, of many concerns in this regard. Downey wrote to Brady in 2000, stating:

"I've been thinking about the issue you asked me to take a look at ahead of the Board meeting. How do Bermuda Trust Dublin Limited discharge their duties as master custodian to Thema and what checks are in place to ensure there are adequate checks and controls in relation to the sub-custodian

Madoff. It's a difficult one and many of the normal checks are not possible. The following is what I perceive to be the holes in the current procedure vis a vis other funds. We don't receive a trade ticket from the Client Investment Manager which matches the broker ticket. The Madoff ticket is effectively the composite of the two...

In addition, we generally receive confirmation of trades from the Investment Manager and the broker on their behalf. This protects us against receiving fictitious or incorrect trade details from the Investment Manager and broker confirmation match. This is not possible as Madoff is both Investment Manager and broker. While I do not dispute the good character and reputation of Madoff, the concern is that we have no independent confirmation that the trades they say they are doing are being done, or that the holdings we say the Fund has are indeed registered in the name of the Fund. We don't receive bank statements. What information would I like to see us receiving. Independent confirmation that the assets of Thema exist and are registered under the name of Thema."

119. In July 2002, Fielding made a visit to BLMIS as part of due diligence efforts for Bank of Bermuda. Following that visit, an employee with the credit desk of Bank of Bermuda Dublin, Tom Young ("Young"), raised questions about the Madoff structure with Fielding. Those questions arose out of concerns with respect to the Primeo Fund ("Primeo"), which invested all or substantially all of its assets in BLMIS, and HSBC SSL served as custodian for that fund. Fielding, however, resisted further inquiry. For example, in one email, Young asked Fielding: "Would it be possible to get independent verification that the assets of [the Primeo Fund] are segregated from other assets held by Madoff?" In response, Fielding stated: "[W]e decided not to request this so far. The review is finished and signed off for this year and I do not intend to do more unless the GFS Board supports it, risk versus cost versus relationship, etc."

120. On December 24, 2002, Fielding expressed to David Smith ("D. Smith"), also a Director of HSBC SSL, resistance to the desire of P. Smith to obtain due diligence on Madoff, with Mr. Fielding stating: "Paul seems hellbent on irritating Madoff with FIG." Upon information and belief, "FIG" refers to "Financial Institutions Group", an internal group within HSBC.

121. HSBC SSL also recognized that if HSBC's relationship with Madoff was damaged, the HSBC entities stood to lose customers and, in turn, fees from their custodian roles. On October 10, 2002, D. Smith expressed these concerns in an email he sent to Fielding, in which he stated: "Madoff is really cheesed off with us (BOB) and he may cut the umbilical if we go once more to the well. We may think our [redacted] has power in the market but he can replace that within a month. He may put us on the black list so we have to agree a plan of action. Perhaps we should discuss?"

122. Concerns regarding Madoff were also raised at a HSBC SSL Board meeting in Dublin, Ireland in the fall of 2004, following which further diligence of BLMIS was proposed.

Commenting on the proposed diligence, Brian Wilkinson ("Wilkinson"), who at the time served as (a) Head of Bank of Bermuda Global Fund Services in Ireland (which later became Alternative Fund Services within HSBC Securities Services), (b) Europe Head of Alternative Fund Services within HSS, and (c) a Member of GFS' Board Management Committee, communicated to P. Smith by e-mail: "The consequence of the trustee review of the subcustodian Madoff will be both painful and, it would appear, fatal. Clearly I am not suggesting that GIS/HSBC should ignore their fiduciary responsibilities, however, we should all be aware of the potential fall-out."

123. In August 2008, Gordon Thomson, an employee of HSBC SSL, sent an email to Michael May ("May"), managing director of HSBC SSL in charge of operations, risk and compliance, copying Andrew Bastow (who, upon information and belief, was the Chief Technology and Services Officer of HSBC Ireland), Brian Pettitt (Deputy Head of Risk, HSBC (London)) and Coe. In that email, Mr. Thomson stated that Madoff investments were "too good to be true" and characterized them as involving "unusual activity."

K. HSBC SSL Repeatedly Raised Specific and Substantial Concerns Regarding Madoff's "Real Strategy"

- 124. During a telephone call that occurred between September and October 2002 between Fielding and Wilkinson, those individuals made a number of statements reflecting their serious concerns regarding Madoff, including the following:
 - o Fielding: "So . . . I, you know, everybody has some concerns about Madoff, or 'made off' as he likes to call himself, which I think makes it even worse. 'made off with the money.'"
 - o Wilkinson: "I could be wrong Nigel, and maybe I'll investigate that, but I'm just covering all of our backsides to make sure we've done everything possible if this thing ever went up, you know."
 - o Fielding: "Yeah, and I guess my ... I'm not saying we shouldn't do it, I guess I wanted the board to say we wanted to do it, having heard David rant and rave about upsetting the guy before ..."
 - Wilkinson: "His financial statements are not very detailed, you know, what really is his source of revenue, etc. ... which I think is important to us, cause we're really relying on the financial strength of Madoff, as well as much as anything . . ."
- within HSS, was approached about acting as custodian and administrator for a new Madoff related fund. In an email to Peter Heaps, who it appears was handling this request on behalf of the Madoff related fund, Wilkinson stated: "Please speak to Nigel Fielding on this. The whole Madoff issue is coming under focus now that we are part of HSBC. My gut reaction is that this will not fly."
- 126. In February 2005, Fielding was asked about concerns expressed by Primeo's auditors, Ernst & Young ("E&Y"), about Madoff that were raised in a meeting with Saverio Fiorino ("Fiorino"), who was a Director of HSBC SSL Valuation & Client Administration and Head of Alternative Fund Services (AFS) at HSBC SSL from September 2003 to March 2008.

Fielding responded as follows: "Nespolo [managed Madoff feeder funds Hermes, Thema International, and Thema Fund] understands the auditors concern and asked if their worries were based on the rumors (1) what is his real strategy, how on earth can he always produce 12%pa (2) where are the assets and are there really assets or is it all fictitious."

- 127. In a Madoff discussion paper that Coe prepared for the HSS Board in 2005, Coe identified the risks associated with HSBC's diligence process as follows: "However, there is substantial risk, in the event there is any question over the integrity of the process. The financial cost of appointing a sub-custodian that we cannot exercise a level of due care over, could be significant; equally so would be the reputational risk." In fact, as early as 2005, Coe considered "that one of the possible options was that it was all a sham."
- 128. From 2005 to 2008, Fielding received emails from John Grubert ("Grubert"), Global Head of HSBC Securities Services, reflecting substantial concerns about BLMIS. In one email that Grubert sent to Coe, on which Smith, Pettitt and Fielding were copied, Grubert stated:
 - o "Thank you for the papers on the above. It strikes me that the firm has reasonable capital ... has a solid reputation but that we have a flawed process. Although there is no reason to doubt the integrity or professionalism of the Group, the reality is that: we do not have full control of the assets or real time sight of transaction flows; the transactions are all internal to the family firms and there is no proof of best execution or even actual execution."
 - o "[T]he audit is undertaken by a firm that is not on our recognised list of auditors...I cannot countenance this process and I appreciate it is a major money earner."
 - o "I appreciate Madoff does not like external intrusion and am willing for this to be undertaken by our auditors (at our cost). If this cannot be done, then we should exit the relationship."

L. Audits and Purported Diligence of Madoff's Investments Were Incomplete

- 129. During a presentation Bank of Bermuda made to Bank Austria in May 2003, requests were made for copies of the quarterly due diligence questionnaires. When these questionnaires were requested of Bank of Bermuda, Wilkinson commented as follows regarding the lack of due diligence on Madoff: "Quarterly due diligence, you have got to be joking!! The only due diligence we have on Madoff is what Nigel [Fielding] did some months ago."
- 130. In September of 2002, Tom Young sent an email to Fielding expressing concerns regarding the level and quality of the due diligence process. In that email, Young stated: "When you get back, maybe you could look at this again. What is required is independent auditor's confirmation that the assets are not comingled. Madoff's representation is not enough, annual audited accounts of Madoff."
- 131. Although a diligence questionnaire was completed by Madoff in March of 2004,

 Ann Meehan, who upon information and belief was the Compliance Manager for HSBC

 Institutional Trust Services (Ireland) Ltd., stated to Pettitt in an early 2005 email as follows:

 "[T]here is no information on our file regarding the on-site visit, ie if checks were undertaken to confirm if assets are held in segregated accounts, completion of reconciliations etc."
- 132. In March of 2005, Fiorino emailed Fielding regarding concerns about BLMIS' auditors Friehling and Horowitz CPA, and stated in that email: "[O]ver the last weeks, [Ernst & Young] raised some concerns about Madoff, as follows . . . (iii) reliability and independence of Friehling and Horowitz CPA (auditors of BMadoff). Apparently F&H are related to BMadoff. Responses to questions raised by E&Y to BM auditors were not clear."

133. Moreover, the discussion paper that Coe produced in 2005 for the HSS Board, described earlier, identified flaws and concerns with the Madoff structure and the diligence process relating to the investigation of that structure. Specifically, Coe remarked in that paper:

"Whilst we have carried out due diligence ... we have not been able to undertake (nor do we have the legal right to do so) an audit of the end to end process flow to confirm the integrity of the whole activity. It is questionable how much we can rely on the auditor produced control statement. Not only is it concise, the auditors are not one of the major independent accountancy groups. From a legal structure perspective, we can make the arrangements work around the need for a legal charge over assets in a custody, sub-custody arrangement. The real issue is are we satisfied with the integrity of the Madoff operations such that we are comfortable with a lack of real independent evidence of the trading of clients assets."

- 134. On June 6, 2005, Coe spoke on the phone with Fielding and voiced concerns regarding the review process. During that phone conversation, Coe stated: "The biggest single concern is the whole process, once it gets into Madoff's hands, is fairly incestuous within Madoff and their internal control system, which is done by . . . his mate, the accountant, it's not really independent enough to give us a level of independent comfort that we would ordinarily look to."
- 135. In August of 2008, following a further KPMG review of BLMIS that had been requested earlier that year, Coe stated in an email to Wilcockson, that she was concerned that Madoff was potentially using the fund's assets because "overall control [was] Madoff centric and there [were] opportunities for misleading or misappropriation to take place if he were so inclined," creating a "huge" fraud risk.

M. Any Indicia of Fraud That Was Unearthed During Due Diligence Was Generally Downplayed, Ignored and/or Avoided

136. In May of 2003, Fielding and Germain Birgen, Managing Director of HSBC Securities Services (Luxembourg) SA ("Birgen") gave a presentation to Bank Austria that presented a positive impression of the relationship with BLMIS, even though Fielding and Birgen were aware that the GFS Board had identified a major issue in relation to BLMIS and had decided to require independent audit confirmation from KPMG. Around the same time, Mr. Fielding, who was also on the Board of Primeo, played down any concerns regarding BLMIS that were raised by other members of the Primeo Board.

and Fiorino to discuss concerns regarding whether assets with BLMIS in fact existed.

Following that meeting, Fiorino told Fielding in an e-mail: "Germain and I just had a meeting with [Ernst & Young], can I speak to you when you have five minutes. They have a transparency issue with Madoff." Although these concerns were discussed by email, no action was taken by HSBC SSL or Bank of Bermuda to actually confirm either the existence of the assets or the validity of the BLMIS investments.

138. In October 2008, May raised concerns whether the recommendations of KPMG, following its most recent review of BLMIS, were in fact implemented. In an email May sent to Mr. Bastow during this time period, May stated: "I share your concern regarding Madoff and have raised this with Chris Coe & Brian Pettitt. I understand that KPMG made recommendations in their last visit and I am trying to obtain this reports so I can run an exercise to assess whether they were implemented." In another email sent during this time period, May stated: "Chris [Coe] made some recommendations in their audit and so we should see if they were implemented. Who has a copy of those recommendations? Both Lux & Dub are expressing unease about Madoff (which we all feel already) . . ."

- 139. In December 2008, shortly after Madoff's arrest, emails were exchanged between Russell Ford (upon information and belief, Global Head of Internal Control for HSBC) and May candidly acknowledging their lack of surprise by the arrest, due to their firmly grounded suspicions of the fraud. Those e-mails included the following:
 - Mr. Ford to Mr. May: "Just in case Chris has not contacted you yet or you have read the papers, Madoff has been arrested on security fraud."
 - Mr. May back to Mr. Ford: "Another case where all our suspicions were right."
 - o Mr. Ford: "Indeed, the beauty of hindsight."
 - Mr. May: "Worse we suspected but never pinned it down. Not even hindsight, just not enough courage to walk away from what was not understood . . ."
 - Mr. Ford: "Always too afraid to lose the revenue, but the business should pay more attention to the view of Risk."

N. J. Exposure of Madoff's Fraud

- 140. 116. On December 11, 2008, federal agents arrested Madoff for violation of federal securities laws. On that same day, the United States Attorney brought criminal charges against Madoff, alleging that Madoff ran a multi-billion dollar Ponzi scheme. See United States v. Madoff, No. 08-mj-2735 (S.D.N.Y., filed Dec. 11, 2008). Upon arrest, Madoff was reported to have told the agents that "there is no innocent explanation" for the fraudulent scheme he had orchestrated and confessed that he "paid investors with money that wasn't there."
- 141. On December 11, 2008, the United States Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") filed an emergency action in the Southern District of New York to halt ongoing fraudulent offerings of securities and investment advisory fraud by Madoff and BLMIS. See SEC v. Madoff, No. 08-cv-10791 (S.D.N.Y. filed Dec. 11, 2008). On February 9, 2009, the SEC submitted to the Court a proposed partial judgment, to which Madoff consented, imposing a permanent injunction and continuing relief against him, including a permanent freezing of his assets.

142. 118. In March 2009, Madoff pleaded guilty to the criminal charges brought against him. In his plea allocution, Madoff confessed: "for many years up until my arrest on December 11, 2008, I operated a Ponzi scheme through the investment advisory side of my business, Bernard L. Madoff Securities LLC." As Madoff himself described how the scheme worked:

The essence of my scheme was that I represented to clients and prospective clients who wished to open investment advisory and individual trading accounts with me that I would invest their money in shares of common stock, options and other securities of large well-known corporations, and upon request, would return to them their profits and principal. Those representations were false because for many years up and until I was arrested on December 11, 2008, I never invested those funds in the securities, as I had promised. Instead, those funds were deposited in a bank account at Chase Manhattan Bank. When clients wished to receive the profits they believed they had earned with me or to redeem their principal, I used the money in the Chase Manhattan bank account that belonged to them or other clients to pay the requested funds.

143. 119. Madoff further confessed to covering up his fraud by fabricating false trade confirmation and account statements:

To further cover-up the fact that I had not executed trades on behalf of my investment advisory clients, I knowingly caused false trading confirmations and client account statements that reflected the bogus transactions and positions to be created and sent to clients purportedly involved in the split strike conversion strategy, as well as other individual clients I defrauded who believed they had invested in securities through me. The clients receiving trade confirmations and account statements had no way of knowing by reviewing these documents that I had never engaged in the transactions represented on the statements and confirmations.

144. 120. Madoff is now serving a 150-year sentence in federal prison.

O. K. The Funds' Estates in Liquidation

- 145. 121. Following the revelation of Madoff's fraud, the Funds' boards of directors suspended any further redemptions of Shares and the calculation of the Funds' Net Asset Values. As of December 2008 and presently, Sentry, Sigma, and Lambda had, respectively, approximately 4.7 million, 3.9 million, and 0.2 million shares outstanding.
 - 146. 122. In 2009, the Funds were put into liquidation proceedings in the BVI.
- 147. 123. On February 27, 2009, a secured creditor of Lambda commenced proceedings in the BVI Court pursuant to the BVI Insolvency Act seeking the appointment of a liquidator over Lambda (the "Lambda Proceeding"). The Lambda Proceeding is pending in the BVI Court as claim number BVIHC(COM)2009/74.
- 148. On April 21, 2009, ten shareholders applied to the BVI Court for the appointment of a liquidator over Sentry (the "Sentry Proceeding"). The Sentry Proceeding is pending in the BVI Court under claim number BVIHC(COM)2009/136.
- 149. 125. On April 23, 2009, a shareholder applied to the BVI Court for the appointment of a liquidator over Sigma (the "Sigma Proceeding" and collectively with the Lambda Proceeding and the Sentry Proceeding, the "BVI Liquidation Proceedings"). The Sigma Proceeding is pending in the BVI Court under claim number BVIHC(COM)2009/139.
- 150. 126.—As alleged above, the BVI Court issued orders the BVI Appointment Orders –appointing the Foreign Representatives as liquidators of the Funds. Pursuant to the BVI Appointment Orders, the Foreign Representatives are responsible for all aspects of the Funds' business, including protecting, realizing, and distributing assets for the Funds' estates.

151. The Redemption Payments that were made to Defendants were mistaken payments and constituted or formed part of avoidable transactions, and generally represent assets of Sentry's estate that Defendants are not entitled to keep.

FIRST CLAIM (Unjust Enrichment - Against Zurich Capital)

- 152. 128. Sentry (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry) repeats and alleges again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 127 above as if set forth herein.
- 153. 129. As alleged above, to the extent amounts were withdrawn from BLMIS to make Redemption Payments to Zurich Capital, each of such payments consisted of monies deposited with BLMIS for investment, but never invested and instead misappropriated as part of Madoff's fraud. The source of these Redemption Payments was not, as Sentry mistakenly believed, proceeds from the sale of securities or investments held by BLMIS for the account of Sentry.
- 154. 130. Zurich Capital did not provide valuable consideration to Sentry in exchange for each of the Redemption Payments received by it, in that it received Redemption Payments made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 155. 131. By reason of its receipt of monies represented as amounts deposited by other BLMIS investors or monies deposited by the Funds' subscribers, for amounts far in excess of the amounts that it would have received had the Net Asset Value of Shares been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time, Zurich Capital has been unjustly enriched to the detriment of Sentry and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry.

- 156. 132. It would offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit ZurichCapital to retain the Redemption Payments it received from Sentry.
- 157. 133. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry, are entitled to recover from Zurich Capital an amount equal to the Redemption Payments received by it from Sentry, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to the amount of all Redemption Payments received by Zurich Capital less the amount of redemption payments that Zurich Capital would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time.

SECOND CLAIM

(Unjust Enrichment - Against Beneficial Shareholders)

- 158. 134.—Sentry (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry) repeats and alleges again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 133 above as if set forth herein.
- 159. 135. Upon information and belief, Zurich Capital may have subscribed to all or some portion of the Shares issued to it under the Subscription Agreements in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 160. 136. Upon information and belief, Zurich Capital may have paid to or credited some or all of the Redemption Payments received by it from Sentry to accounts of the Beneficial Shareholders. These Redemption Payments did not, as Sentry mistakenly believed, represent the proceeds arising from the profitability of or to continue investment in BLMIS. Instead, Redemption Payments were made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.

- 161. 137. The Beneficial Shareholders did not provide valuable consideration to Sentry in exchange for the Redemption Payments or any portion thereof received by them, in that they received Redemption Payments made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 162. 138. To the extent that a Beneficial Shareholder received any portion of the Redemption Payments paid to Zurich Capital in its capacity as trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for a Beneficial Shareholder, such Beneficial Shareholder has been unjustly enriched to the detriment of Sentry and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry.
- 163. 139. It would offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit any Beneficial Shareholders to retain the Redemption Payments made by Sentry.
- 164. 140. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry, are entitled to recover from any Beneficial Shareholders an amount equal to any portion of any Redemption Payments received by them, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to the amount of all Redemption Payments received by any Beneficial Shareholders less the amount of redemption payments that such Beneficial Shareholders would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time.

THIRD CLAIM (Money Had and Received - Against Zurich Capital)

- 165. 141.—Sentry (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry) repeats and alleges again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 140 above as if set forth herein.
- 166. 142. As alleged above, to the extent amounts were withdrawn from BLMIS to make Redemption Payments to Zurich Capital, each of such payments consisted of monies deposited with BLMIS for investment, but never invested and instead misappropriated as part of Madoff's fraud. The source of these Redemption Payments was not, as Sentry mistakenly believed, proceeds from the sale of securities or investments held by BLMIS for the account of Sentry.
- 167. 143. Zurich Capital did not provide valuable consideration to Sentry in exchange for each of the Redemption Payments received by it, in that it received Redemption Payments made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 168. 144. By reason of its receipt of monies which generally represented the proceeds arising from or to continue investment in BLMIS, which the world now knows was operated by Madoff as a Ponzi scheme, Zurich Capital has been unjustly enriched to the detriment of Sentry and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry.
- 169. 145.—Furthermore, Zurich Capital was not entitled to receive the Redemption Payments because the amounts of each of the Redemption Payments was based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value, which caused the payment received by Zurich

Capital for its redemption of Shares to be in excess of the Net Asset Value of such Shares that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.

- 170. 146. To the extent that Redemption Payments are not recovered by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry, the loss will be disproportionately and unjustly borne by Sentry and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry.
- 171. 147. It would offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit ZurichCapital to retain the Redemption Payments it received from Sentry.
- 172. 148. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry, are entitled to recover from Zurich Capital an amount equal to the Redemption Payments received by it from Sentry, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to the amount of all Redemption Payments received by Zurich Capital less the amount of redemption payments that Zurich Capital would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time.

FOURTH CLAIM

(Money Had and Received - Against Beneficial Shareholders)

- 173. 149. Sentry (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry) repeats and alleges again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 148 above as if set forth herein.
- 174. 150. Upon information and belief, Zurich Capital may have subscribed to all or some portion of the Shares issued to it under the Subscription Agreements in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders.

176. 152. The Beneficial Shareholders did not provide valuable consideration to Sentry in exchange for the Redemption Payments or any portion thereof received by them, in that they received Redemption Payments made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.

177. 153. To the extent that a Beneficial Shareholder received any portion of the Redemption Payments paid to Zurich Capital in its capacity as trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders, such Beneficial Shareholders have been unjustly enriched to the detriment of Sentry and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry.

178. 154. Furthermore, the Beneficial Shareholders were not entitled to receive the Redemption Payments paid to Zurich Capital upon the redemption of Shares issued to it in its capacity as trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders because the amounts transferred by Sentry with respect to each of the Redemption Payments was based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value which caused the payment received for redemption of Shares to be in excess of the Net Asset Value of such Shares that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.

179. 155. To the extent the Redemption Payments are not recovered by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry, the loss

ı

ı

will be disproportionately and unjustly borne by Sentry and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry.

- 180. 156. It would offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit the Beneficial Shareholders to retain the Redemption Payments made by Sentry.
- 181. 157. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry, are entitled to recover from the Beneficial Shareholders an amount equal to any portion of any Redemption Payments received by them, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to the amount of all Redemption Payments received by the Beneficial Shareholders less the amount of redemption payments that such Beneficial Shareholders would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time.

FIFTH CLAIM

(Mistaken Payment - Against Zurich Capital)

- 182. 158.—Sentry (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry) repeats and alleges again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 157 above as if set forth herein.
- 183. 159. As described above, Sentry made each of the Redemption Payments to Zurich Capital under the mistaken belief that the amounts paid to Zurich Capital represented the proceeds arising from the profitability of or to continue investment in BLMIS and were based upon the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed based upon the true facts at that time.
- 184. Upon information and belief, however, BLMIS did not hold any securities or interests of securities on account for Sentry and the payments made by BLMIS to Sentry to fund Redemption Payments to Zurich Capital represented, in fact, money deposited with BLMIS by other BLMIS investors or previous deposits made by Sentry with BLMIS, never invested but rather misused and misappropriated as part of Madoff's fraud.

185. 161. The Redemption Payments, while benefiting Zurich Capital, were made to the detriment of Sentry and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry.

ı

ı

- 186. 162. Additionally, Zurich Capital was not entitled to receive the Redemption Payments because, as was unknown to Sentry, the amounts transferred with respect to each of the Redemption Payments was based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value, which caused the payment received by Zurich Capital for its redemption of Shares to be in excess of the Net Asset Value of such Shares that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time. In these circumstances, the Redemption Payments should be returned for the benefit of Sentry, their creditors and the current holders of Shares in Sentry.
- 187. 163. Zurich Capital did not provide valuable consideration to Sentry in exchange for each of the Redemption Payments received by it, in that it received Redemption Payments made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 188. 164. To the extent the Redemption Payments are not recovered by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry, the loss will be disproportionately and unjustly borne by Sentry and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry.
- 189. 165. It would thus offend principles of equity and good conscience to permitZurich Capital to retain the Redemption Payments.

190. 166. The Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry, are entitled to recover from Zurich Capital a sum in an amount equal to the Redemption Payments received by it from Sentry, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to the amount of all Redemption Payments received by Zurich Capital less the amount of redemption payments that Zurich Capital would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time.

SIXTH CLAIM (Mistaken Payment - Against Beneficial Shareholders)

- 191. 167. Sentry (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry) repeats and alleges again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 166 above as if set forth herein.
- 192. 168. As described above, Sentry made each of the Redemption Payments to Zurich Capital under the mistaken belief that the amounts paid to Zurich Capital represented the proceeds arising from the profitability of or to continue investment in BLMIS.
- 193. 169. However, upon information and belief, BLMIS did not hold any securities or interests of securities on account for Sentry and the payments made by BLMIS to Sentry to fund Redemption Payments to Zurich Capital represented, in fact, money deposited with BLMIS by other BLMIS investors or previous deposits made by Sentry with BLMIS, never invested but rather misused and misappropriated as part of Madoff's fraud.
- 194. 170. Upon information and belief, Zurich Capital may have paid to or credited some or all of the Redemption Payments received by it to accounts of the Beneficial Shareholders. These Redemption Payments did not, as Sentry mistakenly believed, represent the proceeds arising from the profitability of or to continue investment in BLMIS.

195. 171.—Additionally, the Beneficial Shareholders were not entitled to receive the Redemption Payments received by Zurich Capital upon the redemption of Shares issued to it in its capacity as trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders because, as was unknown to Sentry, the amounts transferred with respect to these Redemption Payments were based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value, which caused the Redemption Payments received by Zurich Capital for its redemption of Shares to be in excess of the Net Asset Value of such Shares that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.

196. 172. The Beneficial Shareholders did not provide valuable consideration to Sentry in exchange for the Redemption Payments or any portion thereof received by them, in that they received Redemption Payments made for amounts far in excess of the Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.

- 197. 173.—The Redemption Payments, while benefiting any Beneficial Shareholder receiving any portion thereof, were made to the detriment of Sentry and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry.
- 198. 174. To the extent the Redemption Payments are not recovered by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry, the loss will be disproportionately and unjustly borne by Sentry and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry
- 199. 175. It would thus offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit any Beneficial Shareholder to retain the Redemption Payments.

200. 176. The Foreign Representatives in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry are entitled to recover from any Beneficial Shareholders an amount equal to any portion of any Redemption Payments received by them, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to the amount of all Redemption Payments received by any Beneficial Shareholders less the amount of redemption payments that such Beneficial Shareholders would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time.

SEVENTH CLAIM (Constructive Trust - Against all Defendants)

- 201. 177. Sentry (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry) repeats and alleges again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 176 above as if set forth herein.
- 202. 178. As described above, upon receipt of a redemption request, Sentry made each of the Redemption Payments to Zurich Capital based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value, which caused those Redemption Payments to be in excess of the Net Asset Value of redeemed Shares that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 203. 179.—As alleged above, the Redemption Payments generally represented the proceeds arising from or to continue investment in what the world now knows was Madoff's Ponzi scheme. Accordingly, these Redemption Payments did not, as Sentry mistakenly believed, represent the proceeds arising from the profitability of (or to continue investment in) BLMIS.
- 204. Upon information and belief, Zurich Capital may have paid some or all of the Redemption Payments it received to the Beneficial Shareholders.

ı

- 205. 181. By reason of their receipt of some or all of the Redemption Payments, Defendants have been unjustly enriched to the detriment of Sentry and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry.
- 206. 182. Furthermore, Defendants were not entitled to receive the Redemption Payments because the amounts transferred with respect to each of the Redemption Payments was based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value, which caused the payment received by Zurich Capital for its redemption of Shares to be in excess of the Net Asset Value of such Shares that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at that time or any relevant time.
- 207. 183.—It would offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit Defendants to retain the Redemption Payments.
- 208. 184. By reason of the foregoing, a constructive trust should be imposed on the Redemption Payments that were received by Defendants from Sentry for the benefit of the Foreign Representatives and Sentry and other shareholders and creditors of Sentry.

EIGHTH CLAIM (Breach of Contract - Against Zurich Capital)

- 209. 185.—Sentry (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry) repeats and alleges again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 184 above as if set forth herein.
- 210. 186. Zurich Capital, upon information and belief, entered into a written agreement or agreements with Sentry on or about August 17, 2000, April 3, 2001, June 4, 2001, July 31, 2001, October 31, 2001, December 3, 2001, January 31, 2002, March 1, 2002, March 28, 2002, April 30, 2002, May 31, 2002, August 30, 2002, and December 31, 2002, pursuant to which Zurich Capital subscribed for shares. Subsequent to entering into such agreements, Zurich Capital, upon information and belief, entered into the Initial Subscription Agreement with Sentry, on or about January 31, 2003, pursuant to which Zurich Capital subscribed for additional Shares. Zurich Capital's subscription for shares was made pursuant to the terms of the Initial Subscription Agreement itself as well as the terms of the other documents referred to therein, namely; (i) Sentry's Private Placement Memorandum (as amended from time to time); and (ii) Sentry's Memorandum of Association and Articles of Association (the "Articles"). Subsequent to entering into the Initial Subscription Agreement, Zurich Capital, upon information and belief, entered into the Subsequent Subscription Agreements with Sentry on or about March 31, 2003, July 1, 2003, July 30, 2003, July 31, 2003, August 29, 2003, September 30, 2003, October 31, 2003, November 4, 2003, November 28, 2003, December 31, 2003, September 30, 2004, November 30, 2004, and April 29, 2005, pursuant to which it subscribed for additional shares on the same terms and conditions as those shares subscribed for pursuant to the Initial Subscription Agreement. The Initial Subscription Agreement, together with the Subsequent Subscription Agreements, including all of the terms and provisions incorporated therein by reference to the Private Placement Memorandum (as amended from time to time) and the Articles, are collectively referred to herein as the "Fund Documents." Zurich Capital, as a subscriber in Sentry, is bound by the Articles, as amended from time to time.

211. 187. The Fund Documents provide for the calculation of the redemption price for Shares (the "Redemption Price") based on the "Net Asset Value per Share." Net Asset Value per share is to be determined by the directors of Sentry as of the relevant valuation day

"by dividing the value of the net assets of [Sentry] by the number of Shares then in issue [.]"

Articles at 11(1).

- 212. 188. The Fund Documents provide that in determining the Net Asset Value per share for each class of shares issued, the value of the net assets of the Fund is to be adjusted "to take into account any dividends, distributions, assets or liabilities" attributable to such class of shares. Articles at 11(1). Pursuant to the Fund Documents, each subscriber, including Zurich Capital acknowledges that "the value of its Shares and redemptions thereof, and the performance of the Fund, may be based on unaudited and in some cases, estimated, valuations of the Fund's investment and that any valuation provided in Subscriber's account statement may be an unaudited, estimated value." See Initial Subscription Agreement ¶ 10.
- 213. 189.—With respect to the valuation of different types of assets, the Fund Documents prescribe methods of valuation that are, however, subject to the exercise of the judgment and discretion by the Directors of Sentry. For example, with respect to the valuation of assets consisting of securities, the Fund Documents prescribe methods of valuation based on price and market data, provided however that "[i]f the Directors determine that [any of the prescribed methods of valuation] does not fairly represent its market value, the Directors shall value such securities as they determine and shall set forth the basis of such valuation in writing in the Company's records[.]" Articles at 11(3)(b).
- 214. 190. With respect to the value of any shares of stock held by Sentry in an "investment company," the Fund Documents provide for valuation "in accordance with the manner in which such shares are valued by such investment company" provided however that "the Directors may make such adjustments in such valuations the Directors may from time to time consider appropriate." Articles at 11(3)(c).

ı

ı

- 215. 191. With respect to assets that have been "realised or contracted to be realised" the Fund Documents provide for the inclusion of the assets receivable in respect of such realization, provided however that "if the value of such assets is not then known exactly then its value shall be as estimated by the Directors." Articles at 11(3)(e).
- 216. 192.—Additionally, the Fund Documents provide that "notwithstanding the foregoing, in the case of extraordinary circumstances which, in the Directors' sole discretion, warrant a different valuation of any securities, such securities will be valued at such prices as the Directors shall determine." Articles at 11(3)(f).
- 217. 193. The Fund Documents provide that any "certificate" as to the Net Asset Value per Share or as to the Redemption Price that is given in good faith by or on behalf of the Directors "shall be binding on all parties." Articles at 11(1).
- 218. 194. No Certificate was provided in good faith by or on behalf of the Directors to Zurich Capital in respect of any Net Asset Value determination made while Zurich Capital was a member of the Fund or in respect of any Redemption Payment made to Zurich Capital.
- 219. 195.—Pursuant to the Fund Documents, at any time prior to the good faith issuance and receipt of a Certificate, the Redemption Price calculated in respect of the redemptions by Zurich Capital and paid to Zurich Capital remains subject to adjustment, recalculation and redetermination based on, inter alia, the foregoing identified provisions of the Fund Documents. Upon the true interpretation of the Fund Documents, the same contained an implied term for repayment of any over-payments, and/or such a term is to be implied on the basis of obviousness and/or as being necessary for the business efficacy of the Fund Documents and/or to give effect to the reasonable expectations of the parties.

ı

ı

- 220. 196. Upon information and belief, Zurich Capital received the Redemption Payments listed on Exhibit A in respect of Shares submitted for redemption.
- 221. 197. Subsequent to December 8, 2008, Sentry has determined that the Net Asset Value calculations upon which Redemption Payments were made to Zurich Capital included assets not held by or on behalf of Sentry at the time of the making of such payments and, additionally, that such Net Asset Value calculations failed to account for and make appropriate deduction of liabilities of Sentry existing at the time of such payments. For these and other reasons, such Net Asset Value calculation substantially overstated the net asset value of the assets of Sentry.
- 222. 198. To the extent that Zurich Capital has received Redemption Payments in excess of the Net Asset Value of the Shares redeemed, Zurich Capital is contractually obligated to return amounts in excess of the Net Asset Value that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the relevant time.
- 223. 199. Following determination by the Fund that Redemption Payments made to Zurich Capital had been calculated on the basis of an overstated Net Asset Value, demand has been made on Zurich Capital to return excess and overpaid Redemption Payments to the Fund.
- 224. 200. Zurich Capital has failed and refused to repay to the Fund the amount that, under the Fund Documents, it is contractually required to repay to the Fund.
- 225. 201. The failure of Zurich Capital to make the repayment requested constitutes a breach of the Fund Documents for which Sentry is entitled to the award of damages.

NINTH CLAIM (Breach of Contract - Against Beneficial Shareholders)

ı

ı

ı

- 226. Sentry (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry) repeats and alleges again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 201 above as if set forth herein.
- 227. Upon information and belief, Zurich Capital may have subscribed to all or some portion of the Shares issued to it under the Fund Documents in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 228. 204. Each Beneficial Shareholder authorized Zurich Capital to enter into the Fund Documents on his, her or its behalf and to bind the Beneficial Shareholder to the agreements and representations contained therein to the same extent as had the Beneficial Shareholder executed the Fund Documents on his, her or its, own behalf.
- 229. Upon information and belief, Zurich Capital may have paid to or credited some or all of the Redemption Payments received by it from Sentry to accounts of the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 230. 206.—To the extent that any Beneficial Shareholder has received Redemption Payments in excess of the Net Asset Value of the Shares redeemed, such Beneficial Shareholder is contractually obligated to return amounts in excess of the Net Asset Value that would have been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the relevant time.
- 231. 207. Following determination by the Fund that Redemption Payments made to Zurich Capital had been calculated on the basis of an overstated Net Asset Value, demand was made on the Beneficial Shareholders by demand on Apollo Nominees for Zurich Capital for the return of excess and overpaid Redemption Payments.

232. The Beneficial Shareholders have failed and refused to repay to the Fund the amounts that, under the Fund Documents, they are contractually required to repay to the Fund.

ı

233. 209. The failure of the Beneficial Shareholders to make the repayment requested constitutes a breach of the Fund Documents for which Sentry is entitled to the award of damages.

TENTH CLAIM

(Breach of Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing - Against Zurich Capital)

- 234. 210.—Sentry (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry) repeats and alleges again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 209 above as if set forth herein.
- 235. 211. Following determination by the Fund that Redemption Payments to Zurich Capital had been made on the basis of an overstated Net Asset Value, demand was made to Zurich Capital to return excess and overpaid Redemption Payments to Sentry.
- 236. 212. Zurich Capital has failed and refused to make the requested repayment toSentry.
- 237. 213. By retaining the Redemption Payments to which Zurich Capital is not entitled, Zurich Capital has deprived Sentry of the benefit of its bargain and has subverted the Fund Documents.
- 238. 214. The failure of Zurich Capital to make the repayment requested constitutes a breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing that inheres in the Fund Documents for which Sentry is entitled to the award of damages.

ELEVENTH CLAIM

(Breach of Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing - Against Beneficial Shareholders)

- 239. 215. Sentry (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry) repeats and alleges again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 214 above as if set forth herein.
- 240. 216. Upon information and belief, Zurich Capital may have subscribed to all or some portion of the Shares issued to it under the Fund Documents in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for the Beneficial Shareholders.

ı

- 241. Upon information and belief, Zurich Capital may have paid to or credited some or all of the Redemption Payments received by it from Sentry to accounts of the Beneficial Shareholders.
- 242. 218. Following determination by the Fund that Redemption Payments made to Zurich Capital had been calculated on the basis of an overstated Net Asset Value, demand was made on the Beneficial Shareholders by demand on Zurich Capital for the return of excess and overpaid Redemption Payments.
- 243. 219. The Beneficial Shareholders have failed and refused to make repayment to Sentry.
- 244. 220. By retaining the Redemption Payments to which they are not entitled, the Beneficial Shareholders have deprived Sentry of the benefit of its bargain and have subverted the Fund Documents.
- 245. 221. The failure of the Beneficial Shareholders to make the repayment requested constitutes a breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing that inheres in the Fund Documents for which Sentry is entitled to the award of damages.

TWELFTH CLAIM (Declaratory Judgment - Against All Defendants)

- 246. 222. Sentry (acting by the Foreign Representatives, in their capacities as liquidators of Sentry and on behalf of Sentry) repeats and alleges again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 221 above as if set forth herein.
- 247. 223. An actual and justiciable controversy exists between the Plaintiffs and the Defendants with respect to the obligation of the Defendants to repay to the Funds all or a portion of amounts received by them as excess or overpaid Redemption Payments under circumstances where:
 - (i) the Net Asset Value per Share calculation upon which the Redemption Price was paid, directly or indirectly, to any Defendant has been subsequently adjusted, recalculated or redetermined in accordance with the Fund Documents;
 - (ii) the resulting adjusted, recalculated and redetermined Redemption Price is less than the Redemption Price paid to the Defendant;
 - (iii) prior to such adjustment, recalculation or redetermination, no binding Certificate has been issued by the Fund; and
 - (iv) Citco issued no Certificates in good faith.

ı

- 248. 224. The harm to Sentry is real and immediate because, as a result of the failure and refusal of the Defendants to make repayment, Sentry has become insolvent and is presently unable to pay its debts as they fall or will fall due.
 - 249. Plaintiffs have no adequate remedy at law.
- 250. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201 et. seq., Plaintiffs are entitled to a declaration by this Court declaring that, pursuant to the Fund Documents, each Defendant must repay Sentry that portion of the Redemption Payments received by such Defendant representing the amount by which such Redemption Payments exceeded the Redemption Price as it has been subsequently adjusted, recalculated and redetermined by Sentry.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, the Plaintiffs respectfully request the following relief:

- A. On the First, Third and Fifth Claims, judgment in favor of Plaintiffs and against Zurich Capital allowing the Plaintiffs to recover an amount equal to the Redemption Payments received by Zurich Capital, plus interest, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to the amount of the Redemption Payments received by Zurich Capital less the amount of redemption payments that Zurich Capital would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time, plus interest;
- B. On the Second, Fourth and Sixth Claims, judgment in favor of Plaintiffs and against the Beneficial Shareholders allowing the Plaintiffs to recover an amount equal to any portion of any Redemption Payments received by the Beneficial Shareholders, plus interest, or, in the alternative, an amount equal to any portion of the Redemption Payments received by the Beneficial Shareholders less the amount of such portion that such Beneficial Shareholders would have received had the Net Asset Value been calculated based upon the true facts existing at the time, plus interest;
- C. On the Seventh Claim, imposition of a constructive trust on Redemption Payments;
- D. On the Eighth and Tenth Claims, judgment against Zurich Capital and in favor of the Plaintiffs in an amount to be determined at trial;

E. On the Ninth and Eleventh Claims, judgment against the Beneficial Shareholders and in favor of the Plaintiffs in an amount to be determined at trial;

F. On the Twelfth Claim, a declaratory judgment against the Defendants and in favor of the Plaintiffs that, under the Fund Documents, the Defendants must repay that portion of the Redemption Payments received by such Defendant representing the amount by which such Redemption Payments exceeded the Redemption Price as it has been subsequently adjusted, recalculated and redetermined by Sentry;

G. Awarding Plaintiffs the costs and disbursements of the action, including reasonable attorneys' fees and accountants' and experts' fees, costs and expenses; and

H. Granting Plaintiffs such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.
